SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1820.

THE following Addresses have been presented to His Majesty, on board the Royal George Yacht at Spithead, by Deputations from each of the respective places :

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the Town of Portsmouth, beg leave on this your Majesty's first visit off this Port, since your Majesty's accession to the Throne of this Kingdom, to approach your Royal Person, and to offer to your Majesty the renewed assurances of our inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government. We at the same time presume to express our humble but earnest prayer, that your Majesty may long continue to reign in the hearts of a loyal and affectionate people, and in the enjoyment of uninterrupted health, and every earthly blessing.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer :

" Gentlemen,

" I have great pleasure in receiving this constitutional and affectionate Address from the loyal Inhabitants of the ancient and renowned Sea Port Town of Portsmouth.

" Nothing can be more acceptable to my feelings than the expression of the inviolable sentiments of a loyal people, faithfully attached to the Crown and Constitution of the Realm, and sensible of the blessings which they enjoy under them.

" I cannot visit this great naval station without contemplating with just pride the numerous expeditions which have proceeded from its shore, whereof the brilliant achievements have shed such lasting glory on the navy of the United Kingdom, and so eminently contributed to the security of its vast empire.

" It will ever be a source of sincere gratification to me to know that the town, so usefully connected with this great warlike station, is additionally blessed with prosperity and happiness in its peaceful relations."

After the presentation of this Address, His Majesty was graciously pleased to confer the honour of Knighthood on Mr., now Sir George Garratt.

To His Most Excellent Majesty George the Fourth, KING of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of Ryde and its Vicinity, and the Visitors to that watering place, collected from various parts of your Majesty's Dominions, avail ourselves of the occasion of your Majesty's visit to the Isle of Wight, to offer to your Majesty our warmest sentiments of loyalty and affection to your Majesty's Person, of devotion to the illustrious House of Brunswick, and of attachment to the blessings of the British Constitution.

Your Majesty's naval excursions, while they prove a stimulus to various species of nautical and other industry, and encourage a spirit of emulation amongst all classes of the community to become familiar with the element on which Britain boasts her surest defence in her gallant navy, will we ardently hope be attended with the most beneficial effects to your Majesty's health, that the welfare of these kingdoms may continue to be promoted by your Majesty, and that we may long look up to your Majesty as the patron of all that is for the good of these realms.

At a period when disaffection and sedition lose no opportunity of raising their hydra heads, every loyal subject is imperatively called upon to evince his regard for the King and the Constitution, by upholding those establishments that have so long made Great Britain pre-eminent among all nations for wisdom, glory, commerce, and prosperity.

Animated by these considerations we beg, with the greatest humility and with the most heartfelt desire, that they may be favourably accepted, to offer to your Majesty our united sentiments of loyalty and attachment, and assurances of our continued prayers for the health, felicity, and prosperous reign of your Majesty.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

" Gentlemen,

" It is with the utmost satisfaction that I receive from the Inhabitants of Ryde, and the Visitors thereof, this dutiful and affectionate Address.

" I fully appreciate the loyal spirit which has called forth this declaration of their warm and affectionate feelings towards my Person and to the House of Brunswick; and I honour those sentiments which breathe so ardent and so devoted an attachment to our excellent Constitution.

" I rely with full confidence on the good sense of the people, knowing that at all times, and in all cases, evil-designing individuals may by artifices create partial and temporary delusions, but that the sterling sense and innate loyalty of the great body of the nation are ever guided by the all-ruling dictates of sound reason, and the influence of truth.

" I have derived great pleasure from witnessing and admiring that superior system of our naval service, which has maintained with so much glory the maritime pre-eminence of the empire in war, and so essentially contributed to its commercial prosperity in peace.

" I thank the good people of Ryde and its vicinity, for their cordial prayers for the conservation of that health which, under the blessing of Divine Providence, I hope to preserve for the benefit of my people, and the maintenance of the Constitution of the empire."

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsea, in the County of Southampton.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsea, beg leave to express the great pleasure which your Majesty's safe arrival in our neighbourhood has given us, to congratulate your Majesty thereon, and at the same time to offer the humble but sincere reassurance of our deep and unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person.

We are anxiously solicitous for the continuance of your Majesty's health, and we venture to hope that your Majesty's visits to our Coast, so flattering and gratifying to ourselves, will prove agreeable and beneficial to your Majesty.

Again we ask permission to lay at your Majesty's feet the declaration of our unshaken and ardent loyalty; and we pray God that your Majesty's reign over us may be long, happy, and in every thing accompanied by the Divine Blessing.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

" Gentlemen,

" I have great pleasure in receiving from the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsea, this Address of congratulation upon my visit to their maritime part of my dominions.

" It is ever a gratification to me to receive from my loyal subjects the assurance of their personal and constitutional attachment to me, it affords acceptable proofs of their inheriting the genuine feelings of their ancestors, emanating from principles, but calculated to maintain the honour and dignity of the Crown, the security of the State, and the prosperity of the Empire."

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Gosport, most respectfully request permission to approach your Majesty and to declare the sincere pleasure we experience in having the present opportunity of expressing our high gratification that your Majesty's health is re-established, and that we may in a certain measure ascribe it to those visits with which this part of your Majesty's maritime dominions has been honoured by your Majesty.

For the long continuance of that health we most anxiously pray, and with no ordinary feeling beg to assure your Majesty of our steady attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and the truly unfeigned interest we venture to assume in what ever is connected with your Majesty's health and happiness.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer:

" Gentlemen,

" This warm and affectionate Address from the Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Gosport is most welcome to my feelings, and I receive with the highest satisfaction these sincere and unfeigned expressions of their loyal and ardent attachment to my Person and Government."
