Published by Authority.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1820.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the City of Bristol, in Common Council assembled, humbly offer to your Majesty the renewed assurance of that invariable and firm allegiance for which this antient City has always been conspicuous.

Whilst every incitement to sedition and anarchy is held out by a desperate faction, by the promulgation of doctrines equally subversive of our religion, our laws, and our unrivalled Constitution, we feel it a duty incumbent on us to declare to your Majesty our firm determination to use every exertion in our respective stations to counteract the efforts of the seditious, and recal the misled to a proper sense of their duty and real interest.

We confidently trust that British loyalty will always prevail; and that the enviable blessing of your Majesty's constitutional Government will be transmitted to our posterity in unimpaired integrity.

That your Majesty may long reign in peace and happiness over a loyal and united people, is our earnest prayer.

[Transmitted by R. H. Davis and H. Bright, Esqrs.
M. M. P. for the City of Bristol.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Parish of Saint Paul, in the City of Bristol, consider it our duty at a period, when every engine of disaffection and irreligion is daily put in motion, for the purpose of exciting a spirit of resistance to your Government, and a feeling of disloyalty towards your sacred Person, to stand forward and boldly avow our sentiments of attachment to the Throne, and a resolute determination, by every means in our power, to maintain inviolate its just rights and legitimate prerogatives; deeply sensible of the manifold blessings and advantages which the people of this highly favoured kingdom have, for more than a century, enjoyed under the benignant sway of your Majesty's Royal Ancestors, we beg to approach your Majesty with renewed assurances of our inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Person, and our unshaken reverence for the laws and religion of the empire.

[Transmitted by R. H. Davis and H. Bright, Esqrs.
M. M. P. for the City of Bristol.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of Norwich.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of the City of Norwich, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our assurances of loyalty and attachment to your Person and Government.

When we consider how short a period of time has elapsed since we last paid our homage to your Majesty, and tendered, in common with our fellow subjects, our congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms, we fear that so early a repetition of our professions may be deemed importunate, or at best superfluous; but when we behold the unceasing attacks of evil-minded men upon our most venerable institutions, when we see your Majesty's sacred person reviled, your measures held up to derision, when sedition is daily poured forth from the press, and dispersed through the land in the name of the Queen Consort of these realms, who has thus become the instrument of a desperate and dangerous faction, we cannot refrain from expressing our abhorrence of such proceedings, from disclaiming all participation in them, and declaring before your Majesty and our fellow subjects, our determination to hold fast our allegiance.

We therefore humbly entreat your Majesty to accept these our renewed assurances of our duty and affection, and to believe that your faithful citizens of Norwich are duly sensible of the many blessings enjoyed under the Government of your Majesty, of our late lamented and venerated Sovereign, and your renowned Ancestors; are sincerely attached to the laws and institutions of their forefathers, and desirous to transmit, unimpaired, to posterity the noble fabric of the British Constitution.

May the King of Kings continue His blessing and protection to your Majesty, unite the hearts of your subjects in loyalty and obedience, and grant your Majesty a long and happy reign over a free and contented people.

Given under the common seal of the said City the 1st day of December in the first year of your Majesty's reign, and in the year of our Lord 1820.

[Transmitted by Charles Harvey, Esq. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects (being Gentlemen, Clergymen, and Householders of the City and Vicinity of York), consider it our duty at this crisis of menace and difficulty, to approach your Majesty with assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and to the Religion and Laws of our Country.

We view with feelings of unfeigned regret, the efforts of those who, regardless of the unexampled privileges of every class of Britons, seize with avidity every opportunity to bring all constituted authority into contempt; who, through the means of an infidel and seditious press, are labouring incessantly to disparage both our Government and Religion; and, by a system of intimidation, to obstruct the due administration of the laws. Such efforts, we confidently trust, through the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's Councils, and the general loyalty and good principles of your subjects, will be frustrated, and judgment, as well as mercy, remain an attribute of the British Throne.

We are solicitous also to avow our continued approbation of your Majesty's present Ministers, and our decided opinion, that their removal from office would be an irreparable public misfortune. To the wise and energetic measures of these Ministers, this country, we are persuaded, was recently, during a contest of unparalleled difficulty, in a high degree indebted for its salvation, and was raised under these measures, sanctioned by your Majesty, to a pitch of glory and pre-eminence among nations wholly unexampled at any former period of our history; and now, whatever amelioration of the public condition is really practicable, whatever becoming retrenchment and economy may contribute to this end, whatever experienced wisdom, indefatigable exertion, and long-tried patriotism can effect, will not, we firmly hope, be neglected.

At all events, nothing but an utterly insupportable augmentation of calamity could result from the overthrow of our glorious Constitution; this, therefore, we are resolved firmly to support. It is at the same time our sincere prayer, that Divine Providence may direct your Majesty's Councils, "to order and settle all matters upon the best and surest foundations;" that all classes of men may be disposed suitably to co-operate with them in their endeavours, and that present perplexities being removed or alleviated, your Majesty may long reign over a free, prosperous, and united people.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of the City of Rochester, in the County of Kent, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of your ancient City of Rochester, desirous at all times to testify our loyalty to our Sovereign, and our veneration for the established Constitution of this country, feel ourselves now more peculiarly called upon to avow our attachment to those principles which hitherto have maintained our national glory, and which cannot be subverted without the greatest danger to the State.

While the aims of infidelity are directed against our holy religion, and every attempt is made to erase from the mind all regard to the honour of God, the efforts of sedition are equally strenuous in exciting discontent, and in encouraging insubordination and tumult; to resist and counteract those united exertions, ought to be the endeavour of all who wish for the general welfare. Upon this ground we beg to assure your Majesty, that no means shall be wanting on our parts to remove those delusions which unhappily are now too prevalent, and to convince our fellow-subjects that they cannot more fatally destroy their own interests, than by wantonly decrying that system of Government which has been the envy of surrounding nations, and which is framed for the purpose of maintaining the rights, the property, and the peace, both of the public and of individuals.

Conscious that we are as ardent in the cause of liberty as any of the loudest declaimers in favour of it, we are convinced at the same time that nothing is so likely to be destructive to real liberty, as to abet resistance to the law, and to degrade the authority of the Magistracy. And while under your Majesty's mild and equitable sway, we are sensible that we possess every security for our best rights and privileges which the true patriot can desire, we cannot but deprecate that spirit of licentiousness which strives to annihilate all distinctions, and to bring legal Government into contempt.

Confident then that your Majesty will pursue such measures as are most likely to advance the public welfare, we declare our readiness to submit to your counsels; as well from motives of due allegiance, as from a conviction that these have been wisely directed; and praying for a continuance of your health, we anxiously hope that you may long preside over a people sensible of the happiness that they enjoy, and determined not to endanger it by attending to the clamours of factious discord, or by adopting visionary and wild schemes of improvement.

Given under the common seal of the said city, this 11th day of December 1820, in the first year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Aberdeen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the City of Aberdeen, beg leave, at this important crisis, to approach your Majesty with assurances of our loyal and inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

We cannot conceal from ourselves, that, in this happy country, there exists at present a faction of licentious and unprincipled men, who, by laying hold on every passing event, endeavour to enflame the minds of the lower classes of the people against whatever bears the name and stamp of lawful authority; thus exposing to imminent danger the glorious Constitution, in Church and State, to which we ascribe the envied pre-eminence of our country.

While, under these circumstances, we rejoice in assuring your Majesty of the loyal and peaceable disposition of the inhabitants of this city and community; we feel ourselves imperiously called upon to tender to your Majesty, with all humility and respect, our best exertions for the preservation of the existing Laws and Constitution of these realms; and also to express our firmest reliance on the wisdom, vigour, and promptitude of the measures which your Majesty's Government may adopt, for the important purpose of defeating the traitorous attempts of all the enemies of our King and country.

That your Majesty may be long preserved to reign in the hearts of a grateful and affectionate people, and to continue those blessings to the nation, which have been enjoyed for such a length of time, under the reigns of your Majesty's illustrious Progenitors, is our most sincere and ardent prayer.

Signed, in name and by appointment of the said City Council, in Council assembled, and the common City seal hereto affixed, at Aberdeen, the 5th day of December 1820 years, by Gavin Hadden, Provost.

[Transmitted by the Provost.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of Borough of Preston, in the County-Palatine of Lancaster, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of unfeigned loyalty and attachment.

We have seen with deep concern the violent and unconstitutional means that have lately been employed by turbulent and discontented individuals, to keep the public mind in a continued state of ferment and agitation; and we have observed, with still greater detestation, the infamous attempts that have been made both by infidel and licentious publications, and by seditious and inflammatory harangues to corrupt the morals of the people, to lead the ignorant and unwary astray, to vilify the most sacred institutions, and to undermine the very foundations of all social order and domestic happiness.

When the Throne and the Altar are equally assaulted and brought into danger, those who are really interested in the welfare of their country, will no longer allow themselves to be divided on points of minor importance; they will feel it to be their duty to come forward with a public declaration of their sentiments, and will call forth and unite their utmost exertions in resisting attempts which, if not timely and effectually opposed, must soon involve this country, in all the evils of civil discord and public confusion.

Under these alarming circumstances, we beg leave to approach the Throne with the assurances of unalterable fidelity to your Majesty's Person and Family, and of warmest attachment to our most excellent Constitution, and of our readiness at all times to support the just administration of the laws, and preserve the public peace.

That your Majesty's reign over these kingdoms may be long and prosperous, and that your councils may be always directed by a gracious Providence, to promote your Majesty's honour, and the welfare and happiness of your people, is the fervent prayer of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the said Borough.

Given under the common seal of the said Borough, the 6th day of December, in the first year of your Majesty's reign, Thomas Miller, Mayor, in open Council.

[Transmitted by the Mayor.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Recorder of the Borough of Shaftesbury, the Clergy and Gentry and Inhabitants of the said Borough and its vicinity beg leave to approach your Majesty with the present declaration of our unalterable sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

Such sentiments in less momentous times, we might feel ourselves justified in confining to our own breasts, to our own homes and firesides, or to the little circle of our particular influences. On ordinary occasions we should willingly leave our loyalty to be manifested rather by our actions than our words, but when the very existence of your Majesty's Government and the prosperity of all we have been accustomed to hold dear, seem to be at stake, we dare not remain silent.

Deploing as we do the activity of the disaffected and the infatuation of too many of our fellow subjects, we fear, should we now hold back, lest hereafter we should have to reproach ourselves with having, by apparent indifference or culpable silence, contributed to evils which might have been averted by a timely expression of those sentiments on the part of the loyal and well disposed.

To the final issue indeed of that struggle which, if not begun, seems preparing, for every object that interests us as men and as Christians, we look with the less apprehension, relying as we do under that Almighty Providence which has hitherto so conspicuously protected this favoured country, on the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's counsels, and the yet uncorrupted loyalty of the great body of your people. For ourselves we venture to express the hope that our best exertions will never individually be wanting in the maintenance of the peace and good order of our respective neighbourhoods, and in the support of those laws by which our invaluable Constitution, in Church and State, has been so long and so gloriously upheld.

That your Majesty may long reign in the affections of a free, happy, and loyal people, we shall ever earnestly pray.

[Transmitted by the Mayor.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Inhabitant of Bath, in the County of Somerset and its immediate Neighbourhood, beg leave to approach your Majesty with dutiful assurances of most sincere attachment to your Majesty's illustrious House, and with every sentiment of thankfulness for the blessings which our ancestors and ourselves have enjoyed under the protecting rule.

We beg to assure your Majesty, that we have witnessed with the deepest sorrow and indignation the spirit of disaffection which has been excited by disloyal and ungodly men among your Majesty's subjects.

We beg to assure your Majesty of our firm determination to resist and discourage by all lawful means every attempt to excite the spirit of faction and sedition against your Majesty's paternal Government, and of our resolution to counteract to the utmost of our power the efforts of disloyalty, united as they are with irreligion in these realms. We therefore humbly approach your Majesty to offer our hearty pledge, that we will now and ever, in obedience to the precept of our holy religion and laws, shew ourselves resolved to fear God and to honour our King. And we now declare that we will, with our lives and fortunes, be prepared and ready to maintain to the utmost our firm allegiance to your Majesty's Royal Person and House, and a dutiful submission to those laws, of which we are convinced that they will, under the protection of the Almighty, secure to us and to our children the benefits of civil and religious liberty, with the enjoyment of which we have long been and still are blessed above all nations of the whole world.

[Transmitted by Sir T. B. Lethbridge, Bart. M. P.]

To His Most Gracious Majesty George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING.

AT a period like the present, when the press teems with infidelity, when attempts are making, under the most specious garbs, to seduce the unwary from their allegiance, to vilify and abuse the persons and conduct of all in authority, and to sap and undermine the foundations of our most holy religion, we, the Mayor, Deputy Recorder, Aldermen, Minister, Freeman, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Dunheved, otherwise Launceston, in the County of Cornwall, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne to express our sincere and loyal attachment to your Royal Person and Family, and our firm determination to support the constituted authorities of this kingdom, as well against the effects of delusion, as against the secret, but no less dangerous, efforts of faction.

Dated 6th December 1820.

The humble Address of the States of the Island of Jersey.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the States of your Majesty's Island of Jersey, beg leave to approach your Majesty, in these portentous times, with renewed assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Royal Person and Government.

We view, with feelings of inexpressible abhorrence, the wicked endeavours daily used to bring into contempt, by blasphemous and inflammatory speeches and writings, the sacred and venerable institutions, both civil and religious, under which the British Empire has flourished for ages, and become the wonder and admiration of the world.

To counteract these factious proceedings, to defeat these pernicious designs, which, under various pretences, aim at the introduction of misrule and anarchy, and which, on some recent occasions, have so materially affected the public tranquillity, is a duty incumbent upon every faithful subject, and this desirable end can only be attained by the union, the zeal, the vigilance, and the example of the loyal supporters of good order, and of our ancient establishments in Church and State.

It is the boast of the inhabitants of this island, that your Majesty's Royal Progenitors have deigned, in their several charters, to bestow the highest commendations on their inviolable fidelity to their Sovereigns in every circumstance and vicissitude. Be it permitted us to say, that this hereditary virtue has descended to us unimpaired, and that it will ever be proof against every attempt, if any such were made, to shake its stability, or weaken its energy.

May the Almighty, in whose hands are the issues of life and death, long, very long, preserve unto us the blessings of your Majesty's benignant and paternal sway, and crown your reign, to its latest period, with uninterrupted happiness and prosperity.

By order of the States,

Frs. Godfray, Greffr.

Jersey, November 25, 1820.

[Transmitted by General Lord Beresford, G. C. B.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Town of Christchurch and its neighbourhood, seeing with the deepest regret and indignation the unwearied and increasing efforts of the enemies of our existing Constitution, to seduce your Majesty's subjects from their duty and allegiance, beg leave humbly to renew the assurances of our inviolable fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We are sensible that during a long period, and especially since the happy accession of your Majesty's illustrious House to the Throne of these realms, the subjects of this great Monarchy have enjoyed under their ancient institutions a larger share of practical liberty than has fallen to the lot of other the most favoured nations.

We feel therefore that the stability of your Majesty's Throne is inseparably connected with the maintenance of our laws, our freedom, and our religion, and we think we owe it at a moment like the present, when the liberty of the press is perverted to the purposes of anarchy and atheism, to your Majesty and to the country to declare our steady resolution to uphold the constituted authorities of the realm, and above all, as we would preserve our liberties inviolate, to defend the Throne from insult.

We may then be permitted to hope that as by the signal prowess and glory of your Majesty's arms, we enjoy the blessing of peace abroad, so by the wisdom of our laws, and the loyalty of the great mass of your Majesty's subjects, we may be protected from discord at home; and your Majesty long continue to reign over a happy, prosperous, and united people.

[Delivered by the Right Hon. W. S. Bourne, M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Town and County of the Town of Poole, beg leave most respectfully to offer to your Majesty this pledge of our attachment to your Royal Person, our confidence in the integrity of your Majesty's Government, and our esteem and veneration for this our invaluable Constitution.

Aware of the attempts of disaffected persons to excite a spirit of tumult and insubordination in all classes of your Majesty's subjects, we owe it a duty to ourselves and to our country fearlessly to come forward at this alarming crisis, to join the peaceable and loyal in stemming the torrent of disaffection, and to endeavour to the utmost of our power to counteract the baneful effects which such wicked attempts may produce upon weak and thoughtless minds.

While we feel, in the knowledge of our own strength, a firm conviction that we shall ever successfully resist, as we have hitherto resisted, the attacks of our foreign enemies; we cannot but fervently implore the Almighty in his infinite mercy to avert the evils of anarchy and confusion with which we are now threatened, and we earnestly hope that this hitherto happy isle which has so proudly defied the attacks of united Europe, may now enjoy a calm and dignified repose unruffled by civil discord or the efforts of a lawless faction.

We cannot forget as Britons the pre-eminence which we now enjoy among the civilized nations of the world; we cannot forget that our arts, our arms, our manufactures are unrivalled, that our civil and religious institutions are unequalled, and we trust we never shall forget that we owe this proud pre-eminence in a great measure to the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Government.

We beg to assure your Majesty of our firm determination to support the Laws and Constitution of these realms, and we most sincerely wish your Majesty may long enjoy a prosperous and happy reign over a free, loyal, and contented people.

Given under our common seal, this 8th day of December 1820.

Signed, on behalf of the meeting.

Geo. W. Ledgard, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Exmouth, and its Vicinity, humbly solicit permission to lay before your Majesty our sentiments of unshaken loyalty and inviolable attachment to your Royal Person and Government. We deem an expression of our firm attachment to the established principles of the Constitution to be more particularly necessary at this period, when a portion of that public press which heretofore has been instrumental in promoting truth and liberty, is become a fatal engine for disseminating error, licentiousness and anarchy, and thus the very means which, under the Providence of God, have been conducive to enlighten and civilize the world, are, by the machinations of designing men, perverted to facilitate the overthrow of religion, liberty and law.

Deeply impressed as we are with the conviction that your Majesty's Government will use its utmost vigilance to frustrate the traitorous designs of a revolutionary faction, we are solicitous to assure your Majesty, that we appreciate as we ought to do the blessings which are derived from the free enjoyment of our invaluable Constitution, and to protest earnestly against that organized system of deception which seeks to mislead the ignorant and unwary to their own destruction.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor and Aldermen, of the Town or Borough of Kingston-upon-Hull, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Aldermen of the Town or Borough of Kingston-upon-Hull, beg to approach the Throne with sentiments of profound respect to your august Person, and of attachment to our invaluable Constitution.

We should not presume to address your Majesty on the present occasion, did we not conceive ourselves imperiously called upon to declare our indignation at the daring and insidious measures which are pursued by wicked and designing men, to vilify and degrade every thing that is venerable, both in Church and State.

We feel grateful for the inestimable benefits which we enjoy under your Majesty's Government, and beg to express our unshaken confidence in the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's counsels, which have enabled this country, through Divine Providence, to withstand the dangers of foreign war, and to obtain the blessings of victory and peace.

We beg to assure your Majesty, that it shall ever be our study to promote a spirit of loyalty to our Sovereign, submission to the laws, and reverence to our holy religion.

Given under our common seal, the 5th day of December, in the first year of your Majesty's reign. Henry Thompson, Mayor.

[Transmitted by John Mitchell, Esq., M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Inhabitants and Visitors of Dawlish, in the County of Devon, humbly present to your Majesty this solemn declaration of our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, as well as to our invaluable Constitution in Church and State.

The arts and machinations of a disloyal and desperate faction, aided by the unbridled licentiousness of a profligate press, exerted with unceasing activity to seduce the people from their allegiance, to eradicate all moral and religious principles, and all reverence for our Laws and Constitution, call aloud on every loyal subject to unite with a firm and determined spirit in frustrating their wicked designs.

We doubt not but, that protected by Providence, your Majesty's Royal Authority, anxiously administered for the public good and supported by all who value the prosperity and the glory of their country, will remain unshaken and invulnerable against all the attacks of disaffection and sedition.

That your Majesty may long reign over us as the Guardian of our liberties and laws, and the Sovereign of a great and loyal people, is our fervent and unceasing prayer.

[Transmitted by Lieutenant-Colonel Chapman, Chairman of the Meeting]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council, of the Royal Burgh of Newburgh, in Fife, in Council assembled, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne, with sentiments of our sincere love and unvarying attachment to your Majesty's Person, and our respect for the Constitution and Government under which we have the happiness to live.

We are very anxious at this moment to address your Majesty, when many of your people are misled by the intrigues of wicked and designing men, who are attempting to poison the public mind with inflammatory speeches, tumults and opinions subversive of all Government, and highly prejudicial to the best interests of this free and happy kingdom; we approach your Majesty with the deepest reverence for your Royal Person and for the British Constitution; which confer upon all your subjects so many blessings.

We will continue to use our utmost endeavours by every means in our power, to support your Majesty's Throne and the Constitution, which we believe to be the best ever devised by human wisdom; that your Majesty may long continue to reign peaceably and prosperously over a loyal and happy people, is the sincere wish of your attached subjects, who have now the honour of laying their sentiments at the foot of the Throne.

Signed, in our name, by our appointment, and in our presence, and the seal of the said Royal Burgh is hereto affixed, this 9th day of December 1820.

John Adamson, Chief Magistrate.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Minister, Churchwardens, Inhabitants and Householdors of Clifton, in the County of Gloucester.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of Clifton, in the County of Gloucester, humbly tender to your gracious acceptance this homage of our fidelity to your Throne and sacred Person.

We are, Sire, among those of our fellow subjects, who love and revere the Monarchy of our ancestors, as the best safeguard of our invaluable Constitution.

Faction and sedition have clamoured unheeded by us, except as they may have strengthened and enlarged our public affections, and have taught us the more earnestly to look to the Throne for our protection, and to perceive that on your Majesty's security, and the due dignity of your Crown, our religion, our laws, and our liberties are the most safely and the most permanently established.

Our loyalty rests upon unfailling foundations, upon every principle that reason and religion, as well as grateful feeling can inspire.

May it be the will of Heaven that your Majesty may long live to rule us, and may we also your free and happy people, never cease to cherish the persuasion that our own felicity and our importance among the nations, are linked in an unchangeable alliance to your Majesty's power, safety and honour.

[Transmitted by Major-General Lord Edward Somerset, K. C. B. and M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of New Shoreham, and its vicinity, beg permission to approach your Majesty's presence, to testify our assurances of faithful attachment to your Majesty's sacred Office and Person. A review of your Majesty's past conduct, since the reins of Government have been confided to your care, cannot fail of being accompanied by the recollection that the whole of its-progress has been marked by every anxious endeavour to promote the happiness and welfare of your people. And the consideration of the very arduous difficulties which your Majesty has had invariably to encounter, leads us to contemplate with pleasure and admiration the wise and prudent exercise of your Majesty's royal power, which has preserved unimpaired the integrity of the laws and the liberty of the subject. The conscientious discharge which has distinguished every part of your Majesty's Regal Office, in conformity to the principles of our glorious and excellent Constitution by which such invaluable blessings are derived to the nation, calls loudly for the praise, the gratitude, and support of every true Briton. Prompted by these sentiments, we embrace the present opportunity of offering our tribute of just acknowledgements for the zealous affection and parental solicitude so eminently displayed by your Majesty for the best interests of the subject, and preservation of the Constitution both in Church and State. We moreover avow our settled determination, at this awful crisis, to uphold and maintain, by our most diligent efforts, your Majesty's royal authority and dignity, and the Constitution of this land, as handed down to us by our forefathers, against the dark and treacherous designs of infidelity and sedition, and to encourage the same laudable spirit of duty in others. And while we express our fidelity to your Majesty's Throne and Person, as the grand representative of the nation, we prefer our petitions to Heaven that your Majesty may be blessed with a long and prosperous reign, and always live revered and beloved in the hearts of a grateful people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the City and Royal Burgh of Perth, in Common Council assembled, beg to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the most profound respect and attachment to renew the assurance of our allegiance.

We duly appreciate the blessings which we enjoy under our unrivalled Constitution, the noblest monument of national liberty ever exhibited to mankind, the work of ages, and the admiration of the world.

We deeply lament the delusion which seems to be abroad among the people, tending to the injury, if not the total destruction, of our happy Constitution; and we detest the arts, from whatever quarter proceeding, by which this delusion has been propagated.

We beg to assure your Majesty, that our allegiance remains firm and undiminished, both towards your Majesty's Person and Government; and that we are resolved, by all the means in our power, to support the Constitution, and the equitable administration of the laws under that Constitution which has conferred so many blessings on this country.

Signed, in name and by appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council, by me, Lord Provost of Perth, this 5th day of December 1820, and the City seal appended, Robert Ross, Provost.

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, Merchants, Ship-Owners, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Kingston-upon-Hull.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, beg to approach your Throne with assurances of our firm attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Deprecating the systematic spirit by which every expedient is resorted to, and every pretext made use of, to degrade and vilify the legislature, to bring the Courts of Justice into contempt, and to excite the people to acts of tumult and sedition, despising the threats of those who have denounced revolution as the consequence of opposition to their factious dictates, and firmly relying on the wisdom of Parliament, and on the integrity of our Courts of Justice, we assure your Majesty we are determined to unite in support of the Constitution as by law established, whereby we can alone expect to maintain the stability of the Throne, the perfect security of our liberties, and the power, prosperity, and happiness of the British Empire.

[Transmitted by John Mitchell, Esq. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Bolton-le-Moors, beg leave to address your Majesty at this important crisis of public affairs.

And here we would assure your Majesty, that we are not seeking to imitate the example of those who have dared to approach your Royal Presence with professions of loyalty and duty on their lips, but with far other purposes at heart; we are desirous of declaring our unfeigned affection for your Majesty's Person, and our undiminished zeal and veneration for your Majesty's Government.

Not that we lightly esteem the valuable privilege of presenting to your Majesty our humble petitions as suitable occasions may require, but we hope never so far to forget ourselves, as to convert this privilege into an instrument of wounding the royal ear with impertinence and invective.

Into the merits of that momentous question which has recently agitated the nation, we presume not to enter, nor can we sufficiently express our abhorrence of the indecorous and artful and violent manner in which the public mind has been prejudiced and excited against it; and we are also anxious to disclaim all participation in the insolent revilings against that august parliamentary tribunal, in whose honour and integrity we implicitly confide, of that high-minded Nobility, which is the most distinguished ornament and the firmest support of your Majesty's throne and dominions.

It is impossible not to perceive that the populace are deluded and inflamed upon this subject by designing and unprincipled men, who have ulterior objects in view; who have torn off the mask from their revolutionary projects, have even drawn the sword and thrown away the scabbard. And it is equally to our surprise and sorrow, that so many of the Aristocracy, which has hitherto been the pride and glory of our land, should have unnaturally combined for any political purpose with the encouragers of deism and atheism, of rebellion and anarchy; we had fondly imagined, that they would rather have fallen victims to their allegiance and fidelity, than have knowingly given countenance, even by implication, to those incendiaries who are hurling their firebrands at the Altar and the Throne.

Placing the fullest reliance upon your Majesty's Counsels, and unwilling to contemplate the necessity of any additional restraint upon British freedom, we forbear to suggest to your Majesty any remedies or safeguards in these mischievous and eventful times; but the times have convinced us, we may be permitted to say, that too much liberty is quite as dangerous as too little.

We pledge ourselves to prove our sincere attachment to your Majesty's Person, in whatever way our services may be useful; and sooner would we sacrifice our property and lives in the defence of your Royal Government, than retain them under the precarious tenure of republican caprice. We trust, moreover, that all the loyal part of the community will rally round your Majesty's Throne, will present themselves as an effectual barrier against that deluge of impiety and sedition which threatens to overwhelm the land, and will thus preserve and perpetuate to us the blessings of our invaluable Constitution.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and devoted subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Devizes and its Neighbourhood, beg leave, at the present crisis, to lay at your Majesty's feet the cordial assurances of our unshaken loyalty.

Ever mindful of the national glory and happiness, which have been enjoyed since the accession of your Majesty's illustrious Family to the Throne of these realms, we implore your Majesty to believe, that we will continue to evince our sense of these blessings, by an ardent attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Viewing with abhorrence the profligate attempts of abandoned men to substitute the gloom of atheism for the consolations of true religion, and the horrors of anarchy for the blessings of equal laws, we declare it to be the firm purpose of our minds to exert our utmost power to frustrate their vile intentions, and to uphold and defend, against every foe, our admirable Constitution in Church and State, the source and protection of public and private freedom, and of which your Majesty forms so important a part.

And we fervently pray, that the Almighty Disposer of events, "by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice," may grant your Majesty a long and prosperous life, enable you to triumph over every foreign and domestic enemy, and bless all your efforts to promote the welfare of an affectionate, brave, and loyal people.
