SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Ely, feel ourselves particularly called upon to avow our firm and unshaken attachment to your Royal Person and Government at this crisis, when, in defiance of every loyal, moral and religious principle, desperate and designing men, aided by a licentious press, are using their utmost efforts to excite and diffuse throughout the kingdom a spirit of insubordination and disaffection.

We, Sir, have not so soon forgotten, nor can we ever forget, from what dangers this country has been rescued, and to what an unexampled height of honour and glory it has been raised under your Majesty's auspicious rule; and in proportion to our gratitude for benefits received, so will be our endeavours to uphold and support that Government from which (under Providence), these benefits have been derived. After having witnessed the dreadful calamities in which a neighbouring country has been involved, it might have been supposed that while these revolutionary horrors were still fresh in our remembrance, we could have nothing to apprehend from any attempts of a similar description; but we can no longer indulge so pleasing an expectation, when we observe the unceasing efforts which are made to propagate systems of infidelity and immorality, when we remark the rancorous malignity with which the constituted Authorities of the realm are vilified, and the insolent attacks which are made upon every venerable and sacred institution. Most deeply, Sir, do we regret that the high and moral character of the nation, without which all human laws and restraints are inefficient, should have been thus degraded.

In this hour of "trouble, rebuke and blasphemy," we consider it our bounden duty to endeavour, by every means in our power, to stem the torrent of impiety and disloyalty. We therefore beg leave to assure your Majesty that no exertion shall be wanting, on our parts, to disseminate such principles as may best tend to counteract these evils, and to inculcate with all possible earnestness the truly Christian doctrine, "fear God, and honour the King."

B E. Ely.

[Transmitted by the Bishop.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Parishes of Kirbymoorside and Helmsley, in the North Riding of Yorkshire.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, being principal Inhabitants of the Parishes of Kirbymoorside and Helmsley, and their Vicinity, consider it our duty, at this crisis of difficulty and peril, to approach your Majesty with the greatest humility, and to offer our earnest assurances of attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and to the Religion and Laws of our country.

Impressed with veneration for our civil and religious establishments, we cannot but observe, with the deepest concern, the unparalleled efforts of the unprincipled and disaffected that are daily employed to withdraw the unwary from allegiance to their Sovereign, with a view ultimately to disorganize and overthrow our justly admired Constitution. For this base purpose, calumnies of the most mischievous tendency have been directed against all the constituted Authorities of the realm: the Parliament, the Courts of Judicature, the Altar and the Throne have alike been the objects of profligate abuse and insulting derision.

We feel, Sire, that with a view of frustrating the mischievous designs of the infatuated and seditious, it becomes the bounden duty of your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects at once to come forward and avow their determination to support the principles of the British Constitution, to rally round the Throne, and to guard the Religion and Laws of the country from outrage and insult.

We therefore, Sire, are most anxious to testify to the country at large, our resolution to defend the Monarchy as well as all the other branches of the Constitution, and to our utmost endeavour, under the sanction of the laws, to transmit to posterity the blessings which we have derived from the wisdom and bravery of our ancestors.

We pray that your Majesty, as the legitimate source of authority, may long continue, in peace and happiness, to be the guardian of our liberties and laws; and that we may be ever impressed with a due sense of the blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government.

[Transmitted by Charles Duncombe, Esq.]

The Declaration of the Inhabitants of Wolverhampton, December 13, 1820.

WE, the undersigned Clergymen, Gentlemen, Merchants, Manufacturers and other Inhabitants of the Town of Wolverhampton, viewing with deep regret and abhorrent indignation, the Throne, the Altar, and all the constituted Authorities assailed by the turbulent and factious, and insulted by the most seditious and blasphemous publications ever issued from a profligate and licentious press, misleading the ignorant and inciting the lawless to acts of violence and destruction, feel it our duty unequivocally to declare that we are attached by the strongest ties of gratitude and unalterable affection to His Majesty's most sacred Person; that we will strenuously oppose, by every means in our power, the dangerous designs of the seditious and disaffected against all the ancient and valuable institutions of the Government; that we will unite our firmest energies to insure the peace and security of the Realm, the stability of the Throne, the blessings of our established Religion, and the perpetuity of our unrivalled Constitution; and we do resolve, that the Members for the County be requested to transmit the above declaration to the Right Honourable Lord Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, beseeching him to convey to His Majesty the sentiments contained herein, in the way he shall deem most proper.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, Gentlemen, Clergy and Inhabitants of Blandford, in the County of Dorset, and its Neighbourhood, beg to approach your Majesty with this assurance of our unaltered attachment to your Majesty's Throne and Government.

To be silent in cases of impending national danger, is in some degree to be criminal; and now that infidelity and sedition are no longer confined to the closets of speculative men, but have become almost the watchwords of the populace; now that they stalk abroad and force their way into the cottages of the poor, stirring them up to disloyalty and irreligion, we feel it necessary thus publicly to declare our sentiments, and to enter our protest against the nefarious arts by which our most sacred institutions are endangered.

We are aware that the strength of the designing increases with the supineness of the loyal, and therefore while wicked men leave no artifice untried to accomplish their object, it becomes doubly incumbent on the loyal and well disposed part of your Majesty's subjects to emulate their zeal though in a better cause, to rally round the Altar and the Throne, and to pledge themselves to the most strenuous and effective support of such measures as are now imperiously requisite for checking the growing evil.

At this crisis we rely on the wisdom of your Majesty's Councils, and we presume to express a hope that they will meet with suitable energy the exigences of the times, and thus afford a pledge that, under the Divine blessing, we may be enabled to transmit unimpaired to our posterity that admirable Constitution which provides at once for the liberty of the subject, the dignity of the Throne, and the honour of God.

[Transmitted by the Bailiff.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the Borough of King's Lynn, in the County of Norfolk, in Council assembled, beg permission to approach your Throne with sentiments of the most perfect loyalty and attachment to your Royal Person, and to the illustrious House of Brunswick.

Alike adverse to those factious and seditious spirits whose sole desire is to seize opportunities for turbulence and disorder, and to that venal tribe who on public questions move only at the beck of those in power; we take the liberty of declaring our firm determination to support the Constitution and Government of our country as by law established, to respect and, to the utmost of our ability, cause to be respected, all its institutions and authorities, confident that what has been framed and fostered by the wisdom and patriotism of our ancestors is the safest guide for our happiness and prosperity.

We request, however, that in thus assuring your Majesty of our unfeigned attachment to your Royal Person and the Constitution of our country, we may not be supposed to express any opinion on the inquiry which has lately occupied the attention of Parliament, or upon the general measures of administration.

With hearts warmly glowing for the honour and prosperity of our country, and with every sentiment of faithful devotion to your Majesty, we fervently hope that your Majesty may long continue the Constitutional King of a free and loyal people.

Given under our common seal, at our Guild Hall, the 21st day of December, in the year of our Lord 1820.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Orford.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of Bradford Peverell, in the County of Dorset, do most humbly approach your Majesty: and, at a moment like the present, when the enemies of civil order, disguising their private views under a specious but deceptive mask, are endeavouring to inflame and mislead the public mind, to the utter subversion of our happy Constitution in Church and State; we humbly beg leave to assure your Majesty that we are ready, with our lives and fortunes, to defend your Majesty's Person and Government on all occasions; thus securing to ourselves and our posterity, in the only effectual manner, that happiness, liberty, and prosperity resulting from a Constitution which has long been the pride of every Englishman, and the admiration of the whole world; and though our list is neither decorated with title nor (from the smallness of our Parish), recommended by numbers, yet it is the unequivocal expression of our sentiments.

Dated at Bradford Peverell, this 26th day of December 1820.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Shaftesbury.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and other Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Guildford, in the County of Surrey, should consider ourselves unworthy the name of Englishmen were we not at this momentous and important crisis (when we view so large a portion of your Majesty's subjects embracing revolutionary principles inculcated by a licentious and seditious press, when we find even your Majesty's sacred Person and all that is great and truly valuable in our glorious Constitution, both in Church and State, calumniated and reviled, and when we feel the liberties of our country to be in danger) humbly to approach your Majesty with the assurance of our inviolable attachment and fidelity to your Majesty's Person, and to the Government of these realms as by law established, our firm determination to rally round the Throne and Altar, and to stand forward, should necessity require it, in the defence of our King, our Country, and Constitution.

We cannot but lament the endeavours that are making, by wicked and evil-disposed persons, to delude the unwary and to undermine and destroy our happy Constitution, nevertheless, we are persuaded, that in the hearts of Britons truth and good sense will prevail over the clamours of the factious, and that the loyal and well disposed will unite in fidelity to the Laws, and an unshaken resolution to maintain unimpaired our happy establishment in Church and State.

We sincerely pray to God, that your Majesty may enjoy a long and prosperous reign, secure from the machinations of the disaffected, and guarded by the affections of your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects.

William Sparkes, Mayor.

[Delivered by the Mayor and Town Clerk.]

A 2

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, Freeholders, and Inhabitants of Ulverston and its Vicinity, in the County Palatine of Lancaster, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne, impressed with every sentiment of unshaken allegiance to your august Person, and attachment to the invaluable Constitution inherited from our ancestors.

We are anxious, Sire, at a moment when blasphemy and treason threaten the very foundation of our civil and religious liberties, to express our unqualified abhorrence at the efforts made by a desperate and unprincipled faction to delude and inflame the worst passions of the ignorant, and to intimidate the more peaceable and well disposed classes of your Majesty's subjects.

At such a juncture, we consider it a sacred duty fearlessly to avow our fixed determination to oppose, by every means in our power, the designs of the disaffected, whose ultimate object is, we are persuaded, the destruction of every thing dear and venerable to us as Englishmen.

We pray that your Majesty may long reign over us; and trusting, under Providence, in the energy of your Councils, the wisdom of Parliament, and the zealous co-operation of every loyal subject, we confidently look forward to the speedy re-establishment of public tranquility, of obedience to the Laws, and reverence for our holy Religion.

[Transmitted by T. Richmond G. Braddyll, Esq.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Vicar, Churchwardens, and the undersigned Inhabitant Householdors of the Parish of Westham, in the County of Essex, beg permission to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our devoted attachment to your sacred Person, and to the Laws of our country.

Deeply impressed with the value and excellence of our Constitution which affords impartial protection to every rank of your Majesty's subjects, we behold with grief and abhorrence the unceasing efforts of unprincipled and designing men, by the perversion of our most invaluable privileges into instruments of sedition and rebellion, to alienate the affections of the people from your Majesty's Person, to insult and intimidate the Administrators of Justice in the discharge of their important duties, and to bring the Ministers and even the doctrines of the Christian Religion into derision and contempt.

At such a time when all that we hold dear and valuable is in danger, we feel it our especial duty publicly to declare our confidence in the firmness of your Majesty to counteract these daring attempts, our reliance on the wisdom of the Houses of Lords and Commons, and the unimpeachable integrity of our Judges; and solemnly to record our determination to uphold legal authority and the preservation of the public peace by every means in our power.

And we beg leave to assure your Majesty, that there exists in the great body of your Majesty's subjects a spirit of loyalty too firm to be moved by the clamour of disaffection, and too brave to yield but with existence to the violence and tyranny of lawless anarchy.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Magistrates, Clergy, Merchants, Manufacturers, and other Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Birmingham, humbly approach your Majesty with our earnest expressions of zealous and unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We have watched, with disgust and alarm, the dissemination of principles which directly tend to the subversion of all that is dear to Britons, to the destruction of our Church, and the overthrow of our happy Constitution. We have seen the effect of these principles in the riotous conduct of an unruly and misguided populace, in outrages offered to the venerable Heads of our ecclesiastical establishment, in the menaces and insults with which the most illustrious of our Nobles have been pursued in the public streets of the Metropolis, and in the unmeasured and highly disrespectful language which has been addressed to your Majesty on a late occasion. We feel it to be the duty of every loyal subject to stand up in opposition to such principles and to avow his unmingled abhorrence of such conduct. And we humbly assure your Majesty of our fixed determination to maintain inviolate the Laws and the Altars of our country, and of our unchangeable resolution to resist and repel every attack that may be made upon them, under whatever guise it may be meditated, and from whatever quarter it may come.

We earnestly implore that all-wise and watchful Providence, which has hitherto protected this favoured country from foreign enemies and from domestic treason, still to extend its sheltering arm over your Majesty's valuable life, and so to controul and defeat the counsels of the turbulent and seditious, that your Majesty may long continue to reign over a free, happy and united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most faithful and dutiful subjects, the Dean, Archdeacon, Precentor, Canons Residentiary and Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church of Hereford, in general Chapter assembled, observing how necessary it is in the present juncture to manifest that allegiance which is the ordinance of God, beg leave to assure your Majesty of our unshaken loyalty to your Person and Government.

When faction in various ways is attempting to subvert the sound constitutional principles of your liege subjects, as derived from our forefathers;

when calumny, not sparing the highest or the best, lends her cankering aid, and sophistry tries its spirit of delusion to misapply the best feelings of the British heart; when infidelity steals into every channel of information, and misrepresentation of causes and effects has aggravated a hundred fold the general distress, which the sins and irreligion of the nation have, doubtless, required for its correction; then should the real well wishers to their country present every lawful and expedient restraint to such overflowings of licentiousness.

We therefore pledge to your Majesty our utmost endeavours in our public and private stations to inculcate the fear of God, by which men depart from evil, and honour the constituted Authorities, to detect and expose the fallacies, and resist the advances of infidelity and sedition, and to support the due execution of our wise and excellent Laws, those bases of social order, peace and happiness.

And we implore the Almighty Ruler of the Universe to continue in your Majesty's Government that vigilance which has hitherto guarded the public weal and security, that firmness which has preserved the equal and undaunted administration of justice, and defeated the desperate designs of traitors, and that wisdom and fortitude which have raised this nation to unparalleled grandeur and glory.

And we trust the same Almighty Ruler of hearts as well as nations, who is the God of order, not of confusion, will speedily restore to such Englishmen as are deceived or misguided their characteristic good sense; will restore to contaminated morals their consistent purity and integrity, and to our true religion its due influence, together with its wonted dignity and respect.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto unanimously set our Chapter seal, this 22d day of December, in the first year of your Majesty's reign, and in the year of our Lord 1820.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Chancellor, Rector, Principal and Professors of the University and King's College of Aberdeen.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Chancellor, Rector, Principal and Professors of the University and King's College of Aberdeen, approach your Royal presence, humbly tendering the renewed assurance of our unshaken fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We deeply lament the existence of that restless spirit of innovation which, contemning the substantial blessings long enjoyed by the people of your realms, under the influence of our free and well tried Constitution, seeks its gratification in political changes essentially unconstitutional; and which rests the success of its visionary schemes on the degradation of long revered institutions, sacred and civil, and the dissolution of all those religious and moral obligations which form the only true safeguard of public order, of political rights, and of domestic happiness. And we cannot but view with detestation all attempts by which the measures of your Majesty's Government and the proceedings of the legislative and judicial Authorities of the Kingdom are systematically misrepresented, for the purpose of bringing into public contempt the establishments of the country.

The continual recurrence of such attempts, with the partial agitations to which they give rise, renders it, in our opinion, the duty, may it please your Majesty, of your faithful subjects of all ranks, to embrace every proper opportunity of publicly declaring these sound principles and feelings by which the community at large has ever been influenced, and which require but to be roused into active exertion, in order effectually to exhibit the ultimate hopelessness of all designs formed against the Government of these Kingdoms.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Viander, Minister, undersigned Electors, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Newport, in the County of Cornwall.

May it please your Majesty,

UNDER the present momentous circumstances, when we cannot but perceive, with the deepest concern, that the emissaries of faction and delusion are actively employed in undermining the foundations of Government, and even bringing our most holy religion into contempt.

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, beg leave to approach the Throne, to declare our determined resolution to support the Constitution under which we have enjoyed so many blessings, and our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and affectionate subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Assistants and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Leeds, feel called upon, by the peculiar circumstances of the times, again to approach the Throne with the assurance of our unshaken loyalty and attachment.

When we recently hailed your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms, we joyfully anticipated a happy reign, distinguished by a mild, equal, and constitutional sway on the part of your Majesty, and by a free, dutiful, and loyal obedience on that of the people. Whilst we continue to experience your Majesty's paternal rule and unremitted care for the public weal, we deeply lament that foul attempts are basely and systematically made to draw the people from their allegiance and fealty.

A corrupt and licentious press, a chief engine of mischief, dares to propagate, in no ambiguous terms, principles tending to the subversion of all religion and morals, as a sure step to the ultimate object, the destruction of good government and social order, whilst wicked professors and teachers of sedition, in bold defiance of the laws, openly affront and calumniate the constituted Authorities, the high Tribunals of the country, blasphemously ridicule our holy faith, and traitorously vilify and traduce your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

We grieve to add that our invaluable right of petitioning the Throne and the Legislature in public meeting, has been abused by frequent assemblies of the people, for purposes in which no good subjects could join, and from which men of the soundest judgment and highest character were excluded, by their unwillingness to subject themselves to the certain insult offered to all who oppose popular clamour. Public meetings can therefore no longer be respected as conveying a legitimate expression of the general voice ; they are convened and multiplied at the pleasure of factious demagogues as convenient occasions for diffusing political poison among the multitude, and for overawing all the measures of Government. Although our minds are duly impressed with this view of the state of the country, we beg leave to express our conviction that your Majesty's ancient Borough of Leeds still abounds in loyal hearts, glowing with sincere attachment to your Majesty's Person, and to assure your Majesty that we are animated with a strong resolve to defend our Sovereign, and the invaluable blessings of our glorious Constitution, against all opposers.

Proceed, Sire, firm in the love of your faithful subjects, to confound the malice of your enemies, by a prudent, vigilant, and constitutional administration of the high duties of the Crown ; and may the Almighty long preserve and protect your Majesty with his favourable kindness, and bless your Majesty's Government to the prosperity and happiness of a loyal people. William Hey, Mayor.

Leeds, December 12, 1820.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Merchants House of the City of Glasgow, approach the Throne with renewed expressions of loyal and respectful attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Unwilling as we are to interfere with your Majesty's undoubted prerogative of appointing the servants of the Crown, yet in the circumstances of the country, we feel it our duty to declare, after reviewing the history of Europe, from the commencement of the French revolution, that in our opinion the general course of policy pursued by your Majesty's Ministers, has contributed to maintain the honour, to advance the character and to promote the prosperity of the country ; and therefore that they are entitled to our confidence and to that of the nation at large.

We observe with deep concern the attempts daily making by factious and designing men, to seduce your Majesty's subjects from their allegiance, and by the degradation and abuse of one of our highest privileges, the liberty of the press, to instill into their minds principles leading not only to discontent but even to insubordination and rebellion.

We therefore feel ourselves called upon to express to your Majesty our determined resolution to oppose and discountenance such wicked practices, by the exertion of our influence to support the just prerogatives of the Crown, as well as the lawful rights of the people, and to preserve to our children the inestimable advantages, we and our fathers have enjoyed under the auspicious sway of the Princes of the House of Brunswick.

Signed, in name, in presence and by the appointment of the Merchants House; the Corporation seal of the said House being hereto affixed at Glasgow, the 26th day of December, in the year of our Lord 1820.

Wm. Smith, Dean of Guild.

[Transmitted by the Dean of Guild.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bailiff, Jurats and Commonalty of the Town and Corporation of Lydd, in the County of Kent, together with the Vicar and principal Inhabitants thereof.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Bailiff, Jurats and Commonalty of the Town and Corporation of Lydd, with the Vicar and other principal Inhabitants, humbly beg leave to lay at the foot of your Throne the unfeigned expressions of our attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and dutiful obedience to your Government.

Your Majesty's never-to-be-forgotten declaration, at your accession to the Throne, that you would tread in the steps of your Royal Father, is to us an ample pledge and security that we shall remain in undisturbed possession of those blessings we have so long enjoyed under the auspices of your illustrious House, together with the maintenance of that Constitution which, by the Providence of God, has raised this kingdom and nation to a height of prosperity, power and glory unparalleled, we believe, in the annals of the world. Hence we view with the utmost abhorrence and detestation the conduct of those wicked men, whom we daily see endeavouring, under the specious pretext of reform, to sap the foundations of that Constitution, and, through the medium of a licentious and venal press, to eradicate the principles of religion and morality from the minds of the lower classes, and thus to render them fit instruments for their flagitious purposes.

Under such circumstances we humbly conceive it to be the duty of the inhabitants not only of every county and populous town and city, but of every village, however inconsiderable, to stand forward at the present crisis with an open declaration of their abhorrence of all such pernicious principles and practices, and of unshaken loyalty to your Majesty's Throne and Government.

And we feel confident that the general voice thus pronounced would be more than sufficient to drown the clamours of faction, and utterly to discomfit the machinations of the enemies of your Throne and of your Majesty's loyal subjects.

That your Majesty may long live to reign, as you now do, in the hearts of a free and loyal people we offer up our fervent prayers to the Almighty Disposer of all events, and that He will be mercifully pleased to avert every thing which may tend, in the remotest degree, to disturb the public tranquility or affect your Majesty's personal prosperity and happiness.

Given under the seal of the Corporation of the Town of Lydd aforesaid, the 26th day of December 1820.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Bailiff, Burgesses and Commonalty and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Daventry.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiff, Burgesses, Commonalty and other Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Daventry, impressed with a deep sense of the manifold blessings we enjoy, in common with the rest of our fellow subjects, under the inestimable Constitution of our country, presume to approach your Majesty's Throne with renewed assurances of our firm and loyal attachment to your Royal Person, and of our inflexible determination to maintain, to the utmost of our power, in every emergency and through every danger, that Constitution which excites the admiration of other nations, and which is every way adapted, in its free and undisturbed exercise, to be the fruitful source of domestic happiness and public prosperity to our country.

It is but too obvious that the most daring hostility to order and good government is now openly avowed and artfully encouraged by factious and designing men, and we cannot but deeply lament and strongly deprecate the present licentious abuse of that freedom of the press, hitherto justly esteemed one of our most valuable privileges, which is unhappily made the medium of attempts to overthrow all religious, moral and constitutional principles.

Under such circumstances therefore, we consider it our bounden duty at this momentous crisis, as lovers of our country and defenders of its laws, humbly to express to your Majesty our entire detestation of such designs, and to declare our resolution at all times to stand forward firmly and fearlessly in defence of those institutions, both civil and religious, which have for a long series of years promoted the prosperity and glory of this great empire.

And we pray the Almighty Disposer of events, that your Majesty may continue to be administrator to a loyal and affectionate people the inestimable blessings of our unrivalled Constitution.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Magistrates, Gentry, Clergy, Merchants and other Inhabitants, Householders within the Town and Neighbourhood of Lancaster.

SIRE,

AT a period when extraordinary efforts are making to excite contempt for all the constituted Authorities of the realm, we, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Gentry, Clergy, Merchants and other Inhabitants, Householders within the Town and Neighbourhood of Lancaster, humbly approach your royal presence to express our genuine feelings of unshaken fidelity to your Person and unalterable attachment to our glorious Constitution.

We, in common with others of your Majesty's faithful subjects, most deeply lament that the boasted privileges of our country, which should be its pride and safeguard, are likely to become its bane and destruction, a licentious press has for years been circulating its ingredients of sedition and blasphemy to seduce inflame and corrupt the minds of the ignorant and unreflecting, and from thence to involve this free and happy country in anarchy and confusion.

We devoutly trust that the period is fast approaching when the firmness of your Majesty's Government and the wisdom of Parliament, with the united loyalty of the land, may stem this torrent of popular phrenzy, delusion and infidelity, and restore to England its true and wonted character.

We look forward with a pleasing hope that your Majesty may long reign over the hearts of a loyal and grateful people, and we fervently pray that your sacred Person, our envied Constitution, the Altar and the Throne may be preserved to us under the Almighty protection and guardian arm of Him, by whom Kings reign and empires rise and fall.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of the Borough of Tewkesbury, in the County of Gloucester, and the Neighbourhood thereof.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Borough of Tewkesbury, and its Neighbourhood, your Majesty's very loyal and dutiful subjects, humbly approach your Majesty to express our faithful attachment to your Royal Person and Government, and the devotion of our exertions and lives to the maintenance and protection of our Constitution in Church and State.

We are loudly called upon to make this open declaration to your Majesty, when factious and turbulent men are disseminating, with unwearied and too successful industry, the baleful principles of infidelity and disloyalty; when irreligion, under the cloak of morality and truth, with alarming confidence is dividing the chain which connects earth with heaven, and depriving us of all that can sanctify prosperity or soften afflictions; when sedition and disaffection stalk forth under the specious mask of reform, to alienate the minds of the well-disposed from their allegiance to your Majesty and the established Constitution of the realm; at a time so critical, momentous and alarming, we have deemed it our bounden duty to make this public avowal of our abhorrence of the doctrines and practices of those men, who are endeavouring to eradicate from amongst us every principle of religion and every feeling of loyalty; it is a duty we owe your Majesty as the rightful Sovereign of these realms; it is a duty we owe our ancestors who sealed our religious and civil liberties with their dearest blood, and transmitted them unsullied to our care; it is a duty we owe posterity, to bequeath them inviolate to our children's children, as an invaluable inheritance in the preservation of which, in undiminished excellence and purity, our very existence, characters and future fame are essentially involved.

Deeply impressed with those sentiments and feelings, we beg leave to assure your Majesty of our unalterable loyalty and attachment; of our firm determination to aid in stemming the tide of blasphemy and sedition, which threatens to subvert the Altar and the Throne; of our undiminished reverence for the Constitution under which we live; of our unabated confidence in the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Councils; and of our unshaken resolution, even amid the cheerless theories of impiety and the wildest uproar of sedition, to uphold the honour of our God, and to support and defend your sacred Person, Authority and Government, on which depend and with which the best interests, liberties, glory and happiness of your Majesty's subjects are inseparably connected.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Mayor, Burgesses and Commonalty of the Borough of Wallingford, in the County of Berks, humbly approach the Throne with our unfeigned assurances of dutiful attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, reverence for the Laws, and devotion to the unrivalled Constitution of these realms.

In common with all loyal men we lament the present debased and licentious state of a portion of the public press, the aim of which is, by stirring up the worst passions of the multitude to excite them, to a contempt of all that is dear and valuable in society, sacred in religion and venerable in the laws, to loosen the bonds of the social compact, in order to promote effects the most disastrous, and to calumniate with the hope of impairing the constituted Authorities of the land.

Appreciating as highly as any of your Majesty's subjects the blessings of a free press, we lament to see that press in many instances prostituted to the basest purposes of blasphemy and sedition.

We confide in the protection of Almighty God, for a speedy deliverance from the machinations of the seditious, the re-establishment of order and a return to the exercise of loyalty, of all that have been deluded by artifice or misled by faction; and we humbly assure your Majesty of our firm adherence to the Constitution of these realms, of our determination faithfully to defend your Majesty's Person and Government, and to uphold the honour and stability of the Throne to the utmost of our power.

Given under our common seal, at a Court of Common Council, the 29th day of December, in the first year of your Majesty's reign.

John A. Hedges, Town Clerk.

[Transmitted by the Town Clerk.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Inhabitants of the City of Peterborough, beg leave to approach your Throne with renewed assurances of fidelity and attachment to your Royal Person and august Family.

At this eventful period when every art is employed, by means of a licentious and seditious press to seduce the minds of the people from their allegiance, and to bring into contempt the civil and religious establishments of the country, we feel it our duty to declare our abhorrence of such practices, and to express our determination to support, by our influence and example, that excellent Constitution under which we have enjoyed so much happiness as individuals and attained so much glory as a nation.

We are persuaded that the sentiments which we entertain are those of a large proportion of your Majesty's subjects, and we trust that the avowal of them, at this moment, will become so general as to restrain the turbulent and silence the disaffected.

We earnestly pray that the Almighty Disposer of every event will continue His protection to this favoured land, and so calm the passions of mankind that the peace which has been so nobly won by the wisdom of your Majesty's Councils and the valour of your armies may not be disturbed by foreign enemies or domestic foes, and that in mercy to us and our posterity He will be graciously pleased to grant your Majesty a long and happy reign over a dutiful and affectionate people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Provost, Baillies, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Inverury.

May it please your Majesty,

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Baillies, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Inverury, in Council assembled, beg leave to approach the Throne with expressions of our unvarying love and attachment to your Majesty's Person, and our respect for the Constitution and Government of the country.

We are particularly anxious at this moment to address your Majesty, when many of your people, misled by the intrigues of wicked and factious men, are attempting to poison the public mind with opinions subversive of all government, and highly prejudicial to the best interests of this free and happy kingdom.

We approach your Majesty with the deepest reverence for your Royal Person, and for the British Constitution, which confer upon all your subjects so many blessings.

We will continue to use our utmost exertions to support your Throne, and of that Constitution which we believe to be the best ever devised by human wisdom.

That your Majesty may long continue to reign peaceably and prosperously over a loyal and happy people, is the sincere wish of your attached subjects, who have now the honour of laying their sentiments at the foot of the Throne.

Signed, in name and by appointment, and in our presence, and the seal of the said Burgh is hereto affixed, this 13th day of December 1820 years,

Wm. Robinson, Provost.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Banff.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Banff, beg leave to approach your royal presence with renewed assurances of our most inviolate attachment to your sacred Person and Government, and to avow our undiminished love and admiration of that unrivalled Constitution from which we have enjoyed so many inestimable blessings.

Impressed with these sentiments, we contemplate with feelings of the utmost astonishment and abhorrence the unprincipled efforts of the disaffected to poison the public mind with opinions subversive of all government, and highly prejudicial to the best interest of this free and happy kingdom; and we beg leave to assure your Majesty of our firm determination to use our utmost endeavours by our example and influence to support, under every emergency, the dignity of the Throne and the integrity of the Constitution; and we rejoice in being able to assure your Majesty that we are joined in these sentiments by the most respectable and better informed part of this community, and in praying that your Majesty, as the legitimate source of authority, may long continue in peace and happiness to be the guardian of our liberties and laws, and that we may be ever impressed with a due sense of the blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government.

Signed, in our name, by our appointment, and in our presence, and the seal of the said Royal Burgh is hereto affixed, this 23d day of December 1820.

Geo. Robinson, Provost.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Fife.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County of Roxburgh, feel ourselves called upon by the present state of public affairs to approach your Majesty's Throne with renewed assurances of our fidelity and allegiance to your Majesty's Person and Government.

The circumstances which have occurred since the restoration of peace, have disappointed the pleasing hopes excited by that desirable event. Instead of pious gratitude and exultation on account of the success and glory achieved, under an auspicious Providence, by your Majesty's counsels and arms, a spirit of discontent and insubordination has broken out among the lower orders of the people; inflamed and extended by the diffusion of falsehoods and misrepresentations, by delusive projects of reform, and by licentious outrage, that spirit has attained boldness and activity inconsistent with social order and domestic tranquillity.

Duly appreciating our extended privileges, sacred and civil, we are determined at every hazard to defend that Constitution on which they are grafted, against all the attacks of unprincipled and misguided men.

We confidently rely on your Majesty's wisdom in adopting prompt and effectual measures to restrain the progress of sedition, profaneness, and immorality, and to maintain the just prerogatives of the Crown, no less essential than the other component members of the Legislature, to the integrity of the Constitution and the safety of the British Empire.

We offer up our fervent prayers that your Majesty may long enjoy the continuance of health, and continue to reign over a prosperous and happy people.

Signed, in our name and by our appointment, at Jedburgh, the 22d day of December 1820 years. John Rulherfurd, Preses.

[Transmitted by the Marquess of Lothian.]

To His Sacred Majesty George the Fourth, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishops of the Episcopal Church of Scotland, most humbly beg leave to assure your Majesty of our steady attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government; and of utter abhorrence of that spirit of impiety and disaffection which has gone abroad among our fellow-subjects, leading many of them to confound right and wrong, and to "call evil good, and good evil," and to insult at once the decencies of civil life, the Constitution of their country, and the laws of their God.

We are very far from thinking that this spirit pervades the public at large, or that even the majority of those who thus "glory in their shame," and threaten that Government which has raised the British empire to an eminence among the nations to which it had never before attained, are aware of the issue to which their projects of reform would infallibly conduct them. We believe the misjudging multitude to have been misled by a few turbulent and ambitious men, and to have had their principles rather overwhelmed, than swept away, by those torments of blasphemy and sedition which, as they issue daily from the press, so cloud the perspicacity of the people as to prevent them from perceiving that the vigorous exercise of the constitutional prerogatives of the Crown is as necessary for the preservation of the liberties of the subject, as even the impartial administration of justice itself; and that, without the consolations of religion, happiness would be unattainable under any form of government which it hath entered into the heart of man to conceive.

We trust that very few of those who have been placed under our pastoral care have imbibed the spirit of either anarchy or irreligion; and it shall be our unceasing endeavour "the Lord being our helper," to preserve them from the deadly contagion, and to convince them that it is their duty to rally round the Throne. We are indeed fully aware that "except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain"; and, therefore, that your sacred Majesty, to whom the Government of this great empire has been committed by the King of kings, may be enabled, by "Him who stilleth the raging of the sea and the madness of the people," to divert that storm with which we are threatened, and that you may then reign long over a free, a happy, and an united people, is the daily prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishops of the Episcopal Church of Scotland.

Geo. Gleig, Premier, Bishop,

Stirling, December 1820.

[Transmitted by Bishop Gleig.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Lord Provost, Dean of Guild, Magistrates, and Council of the ancient City of St. Andrew's, in Council assembled, beg leave to approach the Throne, to renew the expression of our unfeigned and inviolable attachment, loyalty, and respect to your Majesty's Person and Government.

With regret we have beheld the insidious attempts which have of late been made to mislead the unwary, to alienate the affections of a portion of your Majesty's hitherto faithful and attached subjects, to bring into contempt your Majesty's Ministers, to subvert those excellent and venerable institutions by which this country has long been so pre-eminently distinguished, and to undermine and annihilate that unrivalled Constitution from which so inestimable blessings have been derived. We are alike disposed to lament and condemn the prevalence of that phrenzy which conceals from many of your Majesty's subjects the blessings they actually enjoy, and creates a desire for others which are only ideal. We trust, however, that such a spirit actuates only a part of your Majesty's people, and that the great body of them, deeply sensible of those important privileges which they possess under your Majesty's mild and paternal sway, are zealously attached to that excellent Constitution under which they live, and convinced that regular government and submission to those equitable laws which it prescribes, are the best securities for their rights and liberties, both civil and sacred, are determined to resist and frustrate every attempt that may be made by the factious and designing to invade or impair them.

We beg leave most respectfully to assure your Majesty, that we repose implicit confidence in the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Councils, satisfied that, under Divine Providence, they will continue to conduct the affairs of this great empire, so as to advance and promote its best and most important interest, and thereby transmit those liberties and privileges which we enjoy unimpaired to the latest posterity.

Impressed with these sentiments, we fervently pray that your Majesty may long live to wield the sceptre over a free, a happy, and a loyal people.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, at St. Andrew's, the 18th day of December 1820, and the common seal of the said City is hereunto affixed,

Robt. Meldrum, Provost

[Transmitted by the Hon. Hugh Lindsay, M. P.]

To His Most Excellent Majesty the KING.

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Parish of Saint Giles, Camberwell, viewing with hearty detestation the attempts which are making by disloyal and disaffected men to bring our admirable Constitution into hatred and contempt, deem it to be incumbent on us thus openly to declare that it is our firm purpose to support and maintain it, to the utmost of our power, in all its branches, as it has descended to us from our ancestors.

We consider this Constitution as having hitherto preserved to the people of this country the most perfect possession of civil liberty and of individual security; as men and as Britons we cannot tamely acquiesce in encountering the hazard of losing these manifest advantages, merely to gratify an attachment to speculative theories, which, if successful, will involve the destruction of the Throne and the Altar, together with every established institution, whether of property or privilege, which has become sanctified by age, or venerable as the result of practical wisdom.

The most nefarious designs have been steadily pursued under every untoward circumstance which has arisen in public affairs, the most rancorous abuse of our Sovereign and his Government has taken place, until at length every part of the Constitution is unblushingly vilified and held up to public scorn, with the avowed intention to procure its overthrow. We daily see that the chief machinery by which these designs are to be achieved, is a corrupt and licentious press. Although we consider a free press to be an inestimable blessing, yet we apprehend that its present seditious and blasphemous tendency is most baneful and poisonous.

We therefore pledge ourselves to use our utmost vigilance, and will individually and collectively make every exertion to maintain and uphold the mild and paternal government of our rightful King, and also the high functions of the other branches of the Constitution as are now by law established, which Constitution is a blessing to this, and an object of imitation to other nations, and which we are most anxious to transmit, unimpaired, to the latest posterity.
