

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Vice-Presidents and Members of the Royal Dublin Society, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty to express our unfeigned sentiments of devotion to your Majesty's Person and Government, and our unalterable attachment to that glorious Constitution of which your Majesty is the head.

In addition to those sentiments which we entertain in common with all your Majesty's loyal subjects, we are impressed with feelings of the most lively gratitude for the distinguished favour which your Majesty has recently conferred on this Institution, by taking it under your immediate and gracious patronage.

W. M'Caulley, Assist. Secy.

December 28, 1820.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master, Officers, and Brethren of Lodge No. 13, of antient, free and accepted Masons, on the registry of Ireland, humbly approach your Majesty with most profound and sincere attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person, and the benign Constitution under which, in common with all your Majesty's subjects, we derive so many and such unexampled blessings.

While surrounding states fondly ambition, as their ultimate wish, the assimilation of their constitutions and laws to those of this favoured land; we behold with amazement the vain efforts resorted to by blind and infatuated men to sap, by blasphemy and sedition, the foundation of that glorious fabrick reared by the wisdom of ages, and hallowed by the approbation of an admiring world.

Deign, Sire, to accept the homage of our devotion! May the Divine Architect of the Universe shield our Prince, under whose auspicious rule the desolating stride of usurpation was first arrested, whose counsels led to victory and to conquest, restoring right to the oppressed, and preserving to Britons their existence as a people.

Signed, at the request of the Lodge,

Henry Watson, Master; J. A. Ingram and Cromwell Price, Wardens; Jas. Ewart, Treasurer; John Harrison, Secretary.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiff, Burgesses, and Freemen of the ancient Corporation of Dundalk, beg leave to approach your Majesty with renewed assurances of our unabated loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person. We have witnessed with sincere regret those active but pernicious principles which for some time past have been inculcated into the minds of our fellow subjects in the sister kingdom, where the exertion of a press, prostituted to the most impious and seditious purposes, has endeavoured to demoralize the country, and to bring into contempt all the constituted authorities of the realm.

We have seen with heartfelt sorrow the delusion that has been practised upon a considerable proportion of the people of England, and the discontent which has been engendered by laying hold of public events which have recently occurred, and making them an engine to entice the people from their loyalty, and to render them the dupes of evil-disposed persons whose object is the subversion of all Government, and the destruction of every moral and religious obligation.

We cannot but express our sincere gratification that if in this part of your Majesty's empire efforts have been made to produce a simultaneous feeling with that exhibited in some parts of England, they have proved altogether abortive, and we earnestly hope that your Majesty's subjects in this country will long evince their personal attachment to your Majesty, and their determination to resist the insidious allurements of those who would seduce them from their allegiance, and under the mask of reforming abuses would plunge your empire into anarchy and confusion.

We sincerely trust, that by firm and decided measures, your Majesty's Government will endeavour to check the progress of that spirit of insubordination, blasphemy, and infidelity, which has in too many instances manifested itself in some parts of the empire; but whilst we have to lament evils, which we hope are but casual and temporary, we feel a confidence that the Almighty who has visited your empire with so many and so great blessings, will continue to guide and direct your Majesty's councils, to protect your Royal Person and the people committed to your charge.

M. Forde, Bailiff.

By order,
S. Tallan, Town Clerk.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Free Burgesses, Common Council and Freemen of this ancient Corporation and Inhabitants of Bandon and its vicinity, beg leave to present to your Most Gracious Majesty our strongest assurance of fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We deeply lament and deprecate the dangerous machinations of a disloyal and wicked faction, encouraged and supported by a licentious press, for the manifest purpose of alienating the affections of your Majesty's faithful subjects, and bringing into contempt the Laws and Judges of the land.

At such a juncture we feel ourselves bound by every tie of interest and duty, as well as of gratitude and respect, to your sacred Majesty, to rally round the Throne, and to declare our fixed and steady determination to preserve and uphold to the utmost of our ability our happy and unrivalled Constitution in Church and State.

We beg to assure your Majesty that we have the fullest reliance on the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Council and Government to frustrate the designs of the disaffected; and we implore Almighty God that your Majesty may reign long in the hearts of a loyal, affectionate, and united people.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Sovereign, Recorder, Burgesses, and Freemen of the Corporation of the Town of New Ross, in Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

AT a time that infidelity and disloyalty have thrown off the mask, and entered into open and undisguised confederacy, the one to discredit, pull down, and destroy the glorious fabric of the Christian Faith, and of all religious establishments, the other to beard and insult Royalty itself, and to degrade and overturn the Throne and the Constitution; at this crisis, so awful and so appalling, when every loyal subject from the Prince to the peasant, is imperatively called on fearlessly to rally round the Altar and the Throne; we the Sovereign, Recorder, Burgesses, and Freemen of your ancient and ever loyal Town of New Ross, following the example, and faithful to the undeviating conduct of our predecessors in this Corporation, beg leave humbly to approach your Throne with the dutiful assurance of our unfeigned, unabated, and unalterable fidelity and allegiance to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government; to that Prince and to that Government whose wise, provident, and persevering counsels and measures have under Divine Providence, saved these realms from the dire effects of a sanguinary desolating revolution, and all Europe from an overwhelming subjugation and abject slavery.

That after such a career of true glory and such imperishable benefits conferred so recently on the civilized world, any portion of your subjects could be so dead to every sense of what constitutes the dignity of the British character as to deny to your Majesty that which even nations, formerly the foe of British prosperity and renown, so largely bestow on you, would transcend the boundaries of credibility, did not late experience unhappily as disgracefully evince it.

This ancient Borough-Town at various periods of our history, as the records of our corporate charters fully set forth, has had the good fortune under God, of having been instrumental and aiding in repelling and repressing insurrection and rebellion in this part of your Majesty's dominions, and to our good and gracious King, and to our glorious and unrivalled Constitution, we shall, like our predecessors, remain ever unalterably faithful and devoted. That the reign of the one may be long and happy, and the other prosperous and eternal is and ever shall be the humble, incessant, and ardent prayer and wish of your Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects and servants.

Charles Tottenham, jun. Sovereign

December 29, 1820.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of the Corporation of Weavers, Dublin, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the assurance of our devoted and unalterable attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

Convinced as we are of the great benefits which these countries have derived from the wisdom of your Majesty's councils, we should be wanting in the great characteristic of true loyalty, did we not come forward at the present crisis to express our abhorrence of the evil designs of those who, under the name of attachment to the Constitution, avail themselves of every opportunity which the command of a licentious press can afford them, to poison the minds of the unwary and thereby to detach the affections of your Majesty's people from the best of Monarchs.

But we are convinced that the high character of the British nation, which has so long been the admiration of the surrounding countries, will not allow a spirit of disaffection at home to destroy that peace which it has been so instrumental in procuring for the world.

We feel sincere satisfaction in expressing our belief that the great body of the wealth, intelligence, and industry of this part of the united kingdom, are not contaminated by those pernicious principles which have recently been disseminated with such industry through other parts of the united kingdom, and that therefore we do not here apprehend any serious participation in the attempts of those incendiaries to bring into disrepute and final overthrow that glorious Constitution, for the establishment of which our forefathers fought and bled, and for the maintenance of which we are determined, if necessary, to follow their bright example.

That your Majesty may long be preserved to reign over a loyal and faithful people, and continue to receive from them the best earnest of their affections, their resisting every effort of disaffection and infidelity to loose the bonds of religion, morality, and social order, is the humble, but sincere prayer of your Majesty's devoted and loyal subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of the Corporation of Weavers.

In testimony whereof, the common seal of said Guild is hereunto affixed.

Thomas Benj. Smithson, Master.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Limerick, duly assembled, beg leave to offer to your Majesty the earnest assurance of our entire attachment and devotion to your Majesty's Royal Person and Authority, and to the free Constitution under which we have the happiness to live.

At a time when impiety and sedition are active, under various pretexts, to agitate the public mind and to alienate it from the principles of the Christian Religion, from the duty and reverence which we owe to your Majesty, and from obedience to the Laws and Constitution of our country, we feel ourselves bound to express our abhorrence of such attempts, to declare the happiness which we feel in stating, that our country has not been contaminated by them, and most humbly to renew to your Majesty our professions of loyalty, zeal and devotion.

We feel it to be a duty which we owe to your Majesty and to our country to declare, that we will each and all, in our several stations, oppose, to the utmost of our power, that spirit of irreligion, licen-tiousness, and faction which has been in such active progress in other parts of the empire.

That your Majesty may long reign over a free, happy, and united people, is the sincere wish of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

Signed by order of the meeting,

Edward Willins, Sheriff County of Limerick,

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Stirling, met in Presbytery, beg leave, in these critical times, to approach your Majesty for the purpose of expressing our sincere and devoted attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family, and Government, and to the British Constitution.

It is with the most painful feelings that we contemplate the distracted state of the nation, and that we perceive the violence of political parties increasing in a degree fitted to excite the justest apprehension and alarm. Keeping aloof from feuds and strifes we deem it to be our duty as Christians, and as Office-bearers in the Church of Christ, to cultivate a spirit of meekness and gentleness, to present an example of willing submission to the constituted Authorities, and of cheerful obedience to the Laws, and to inculcate upon the people committed to our charge, the sacred obligations under which they are laid, to fear God and honour the King, and to lead quiet and peaceable lives in all godliness and honesty.

That the God of all grace may bless your Majesty with all spiritual blessings in Christ. That He may direct your Majesty's Counsellors to the adoption of such measures as shall, through the Divine blessing, prove effectual in healing the animosities which now so unhappily prevail. That the invaluable privileges, both religious and civil, with which we are blessed may be transmitted unimpaired to the latest posterity, and that your Majesty may long reign over a loyal, free, and religious people, are the earnest prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's your most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Stirling.

Signed at Stirling, this 10th day of January, 1821 years, in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by John Dempster, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Moderator.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Wigtown, in Council assembled, beg leave to approach the Throne with assurances of our affectionate attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person, and of our sincere veneration and devotion for the glorious Constitution of these Kingdoms, and to declare our firm resolution to support, maintain, and defend the same as by law established.

Beholding with the utmost satisfaction the numerous declarations of loyalty pouring in at the foot of the Throne from all parts of the kingdom, we feel it our bounden duty, at this particular period, to join our humble voice to the strong expressions of loyalty and attachment manifested so ardently to your Majesty's Person and our unrivalled Constitution.

We deeply lament that a few turbulent and misled individuals should endeavour to promote discord, disloyalty, or disregard for the Laws. But we repose in the most unqualified confidence upon the wisdom and energy of the Legislature to remove all our difficulties, and to transmit inviolate our inestimable privileges to the latest posterity.

That your Majesty's reign may be long and happy over a prosperous and affectionate people is our constant and fervent prayer.

Signed in our name and by our appointment, by our Chief residing Magistrate, and the common seal of the Burgh is hereunto appended the 10th January 1821. Stewart Gulline.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Galloway.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, the Minister, Charchwardens, Overseers, and Inhabitants of the Parish of Freshford, in the County of Somerset, whose names are hereunto subscribed, beg leave to assure your Majesty of our affection to your Person and Government, and of our sincere attachment to the established Constitution of this kingdom, the pride of our country and the admiration of the world.

We should have contented ourselves to have quietly endeavoured to discharge our duties in our respective stations, and to have shewn our loyalty in our actions rather than by profession, had not we been fully persuaded that times like the present call on every honest man to declare his real sentiments (the only apology we can offer for so humble a village tribute—resembling the widow's mite) in behalf of our King, our Country, our Constitution, and Laws.

Impressed with a lively conviction of the many blessings we enjoy under their protection, we feel ourselves called upon, from an imperious sense of duty, as well as affection, humbly and zealously to assure your Majesty, that we are ready to stand forward in defence of those signal dispensations of Divine Providence bestowed on our country, with heart and hand to oppose every species of faction excited by blasphemy and sedition, which we are truly sorry to observe too prevalent under various pretexts and pretensions emanating from the licentious prostitution of one of our essential privileges,—the liberty of the press.

With zealous affection we tender our utmost efforts in defence of that system which the wisdom of our forefathers handed down to us, and which, with the blessing of God Almighty, we trust the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Councils will preserve and carefully transmit unimpaired to posterity.

May every blessing attend your Majesty in all your undertakings for the welfare of your people, and may you long enjoy the reward of your endeavours to restore universal union throughout your dominions, and promote the happiness of those committed to your care.

May the Great Disposer of all events ever preserve and protect your Majesty in health and every blessing, long to reign over a loyal and affectionate people; and when called by Him from this earthly scene, full of years and good works, may an everlasting crown of glory await you in the eternal world, is the sincere prayer of your ever dutiful subjects.

Village of Freshford, January 9, 1821.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Delivered by Capt. William Parker, of the East India Company's Artillery.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the undersigned, the Provost, Magistrates, and Common Council of the Burgh of Campbeltown, beg leave to approach the Throne with renewed assurances of the most heartfelt loyalty, respect and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We contemplate with deep regret the workings of that spirit of insubordination and anarchy which, at the present moment, furnishes subject of alarm to the friends of order and of peace; and although it is a source of great satisfaction to us, that it has happily gained no ascendancy in this remote quarter of the empire, yet we are not insensible to the endeavours which wicked and designing men are making, to bring the laws and institutions of the Country into contempt, and to create disaffection amongst the community; and we are too deeply impressed with a sense of the inestimable advantages which we enjoy, not to express, in common with the rest of the virtuous and the loyal of our fellow subjects, our firm resolution to maintain their continuance, and by every means, in our respective spheres, to frustrate the designs of the disaffected, to preserve inviolate the laws, support the energies of the Constituted Authorities, and promote the tranquility and prosperity of the country, and so to transmit unimpaired to posterity, the innumerable and invaluable blessings of our unrivalled Constitution.

Signed at Campbeltown, the 26th of December 1820. Charles Campbell, Provost,

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the Provost.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Right Worshipful Master, Wardens, Office Bearers, and Brethren of the Lodge, Canongate, Kilwinning, in full Lodge assembled, fully sensible of the many blessings which, through Divine Providence, we, in common with your Majesty's other subjects, have so long enjoyed under your Majesty's Paternal Government, beg leave respectfully to approach your Majesty's presence, and to express the sincere love and steadfast loyalty which we bear to your Majesty's Royal Person, our unshaken attachment to the happy Constitution of these realms, and our firm determination to defend the one and the other from the attempts of open and avowed, or the more dangerous machinations of secret enemies, by every means in our power, and, if it should be necessary, with the last drop of our blood.

Far removed as our occupations, in a collective capacity, ever have been from the passing concerns of party politics, we deem it right to assure your Majesty of what we have every day the happiness to observe, that these internal distresses which gave sincere pain to none more than to your Majesty's Royal breast, are fast vanishing away; and to express our confidence that, along with these disturbances which have lately disgraced some parts of the country, discontent will soon give place to general tranquility and happiness, and that all men will feel more heartily than ever, that loyalty and gratitude to your Majesty which have so long distinguished this part of the United Kingdom.

That the great Architect of the Universe may, in his infinite power and wisdom, ever preserve the foundations of your Majesty's Throne, firmly established in the hearts of a free people, is the fervent and never ceasing prayer of your Majesty's most loyal and affectionate subjects, the Master, Wardens, Office Bearers and Brethren of the Lodge Canongate, Kilwinning, Signed, in our name, and by our appointment, by Alexander Robertson, Esquire, Clerk to His Majesty's Signet, Right Worshipful Master of the Lodge, Canongate, Kilwinning, and caused the Seal of our Lodge to be affixed hereto, at Edinburgh, this 26th day of December 1820. Alex. Robertson, Master.

[Transmitted by the Secretary.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and most dutiful subjects, the Magistrates, Council and whole body of the Inhabitants of the United Royal Burghs of Fortrose and Rosemarkie, would approach your Throne, humbly to renew the expression of our inviolable attachment and unfeigned affection for your Majesty and Government, under whom our persons and property, with all the advantages and blessings arising from our happy institutions, in Church and State, are protected and preserved to us.

It is with feelings of detestation and abhorrence that we witness the efforts made by desperate and revolutionary demagogues to delude the people, sparing no means, however, base, for withdrawing them from those habits of religion and morality by which society is bound and regulated, knowing that by the overthrow of religion the mind of man may be framed and fitted for the most depraved and sanguinary purposes.

And although this corner of your Majesty's dominions happily is untainted with irreligion or immorality, yet it is evident that the noxious vapour is in the blast, making progress onwards, and it becomes our imperious and bounden duty to guard against its baneful influence.

With pain and disgust we observe a daring and unprincipled faction disseminating at public meetings, and by means of a licentious press, sedition, anarchy and infidelity over the kingdom; and, with pernicious industry and zeal, propagating disaffection to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, while impudently and falsely, they arrogate to themselves the voice of the people, which we unite with your Majesty's loyal subjects, to repel with indignation and contempt.

With gratitude and confidence, we trust to your Majesty and your Ministers, who, by your measures and undeviating perseverance, in times of trying and arduous difficulties and dangers, so gloriously triumphed over the machinations of our most inveterate enemies; and we shall, in discharge of our duty and allegiance, be found at our post in union with the faithful and well-disposed of the nation.

While with our lives and all the means with which Providence has endowed us, our humble aid shall be contributed in support of our King, our country, our religion and our laws; we pray that the King of kings may shield and protect your Majesty, and prolong your days with health and happiness.

Signed, in name and at the desire of the meeting,

Rodk. Macfarquhar, Provost of the United Burghs of Fortrose and Rosemarkie.

Fortrose, 5th January 1821.

[Transmitted by George Cumming, Esq. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Royal Burgh of Campbeltown, humbly beg leave to express our sincere and inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and our zeal for the honour and prosperity of our country.

Happy in the experience of the many blessings, which we as Britons enjoy under our excellent Constitution, we view with alarm the arts of misguided men to delude and inflame the public mind, to bring your Majesty's Person and Government into disrepute, and which threaten to endanger the institutions and liberties of the country; we therefore deem it our duty at the present conjuncture to convey to the Throne, our unalterable determination by all the means in our power, to uphold by the spirit of loyalty the true principles of the British Constitution, and to defend at all hazards the stability of the Throne and the honour and independence of the empire.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the Senior Baillie of the Burgh.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the Parishes of Hurstperpoint, Albourne, Twineham, Clayton and Keymer, in the County of Sussex, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most solemn assurances of devoted attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, highly estimating, as we do, the numerous blessings which we enjoy under the Constitution, handed down to us by our forefathers, we behold with a mixture of indignation and regret the unceasing efforts of a desperate faction, aided by a licentious press to alienate the affections of your Majesty's subjects, to destroy all moral and religious principles and thereby to tear assunder the bonds of civil society; on such an occasion to be silent is to take the part of the disturbers of the public peace and security: we therefore think it our duty manfully to avow to your Majesty our determined resolution to rally round the Throne and the Altar, from a firm conviction, that whilst we support your Majesty in the just exercise of your Royal prerogatives, we at the same time secure to ourselves those rights and privileges which belong exclusively to Britons: we rely with undiminished confidence on the wisdom and energy of your Majesty's Councils, in the application of means necessary to check the licentiousness of the press, and enforce obedience to the existing laws, which afford protection equally to all; to the peasant as well as to the Prince, to the poor as well as to the rich.

That your Majesty may long reign over a loyal and affectionate people, is and shall be our continued and fervent prayer.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the Rev. Henry Halliwell.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry, Merchants and Inhabitants of Bridlington and Bridlington Quay, and the Vicinity, in the East Riding of the County of York, beg leave to approach your Royal presence with this declaration of our loyal and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Highly esteeming those principles which led to the accession of your illustrious Ancestors to the Throne of these Realms, gratefully acknowledging the many blessings we have hitherto enjoyed under the mild and benign influence of the British Constitution, and confiding in the known disposition of your Majesty for promoting the future welfare and happiness of these United Kingdoms, we beg leave to assure your Majesty that we will on all occasions dutifully, cheerfully and strenuously fulfil those obligations which we owe to our country and to you.

Impressed with these sentiments, we have beheld with indignation and abhorrence the many seditious and blasphemous publications which have lately issued from the press, tending to alienate the affections of the people, corrupt their morals, and eradicate every religious and virtuous principle, with a view of bringing into contempt your Majesty's Government, and all the venerable and sacred institutions of those Realms, both in Church and State.

May it please your Majesty to accept our sincere and fervent wishes that your life and reign may be long, prosperous, and happy, as well as our humble assurance that we shall be ready, on all occasions, to risk every thing dear to us in resisting any attempt that may be made derogatory from the dignity of your Crown, Royal Person, and Government, on which (under Divine Providence), the safety and tranquility of these Realms and the welfare and happiness of your subjects depend.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by Harrington Hudson, Esq. M. P.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, Inhabitants of the Vale of the Avon, between Sarum and Amesbury, in the County of Wilts, beg leave to approach your Majesty with an unanimous declaration of our unshaken attachment to your Majesty's Person, and to our established Constitution, in Church and State.

We deem it peculiarly incumbent upon us to offer to your Majesty this declaration at the present moment, when a desperate set of men, (whom their own profligacy has made beggars,) are labouring, by means of a licentious press, to alienate the minds of all classes from the principles of religion and social order and thereby to effect a revolution; but we trust, Sire, that the blessing of Providence, the firmness of your Majesty's Councils and the good sense of the nation, will bring to nought these nefarious designs; in our humble stations it shall be our duty to resist all such attempts, and to uphold to the utmost of our power that admirable Constitution, under which we have the happiness to live in peace and security, and to enjoy all the liberty that good men can desire.

We earnestly pray that your Majesty, treading in the steps of your great and good Father, may continue to rule over us with mild and equal sway, and that your Majesty's reign may like His be long and prosperous.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by Edward Hinxman, Esq.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Inhabitants of Eskdale, Dumfriesshire, consisting of the Parishes of Langholm, Canonbie, Ewes, Westerkirk, and Eskdalemuir, assembled at Langholm, on Wednesday the 10th day of January 1821.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Landholders, Clergy, Tenantry, and others, in the District of Eskdale, beg leave, at the present crisis, humbly to approach the Throne, with dutiful assurances of our unshaken loyalty and fidelity to your Majesty's Person and Government, and of our stedfast zeal and determination, in our several spheres, to support that unrivalled Constitution under which we enjoy such distinguished privileges and liberties, civil and religious.

While we deprecate that spirit of faction and sedition which has of late so daringly manifested itself in too many places of the United Kingdom, we have reason to rejoice in the experience of that peace, harmony and quiet subjection to the Constituted Authorities of the Country, which so eminently characterize the District where we have the happiness to dwell.

That the same spirit may prevail throughout the whole nation, and that your Majesty and your Royal Successors of the illustrious House of Brunswick, to latest ages, may continue to sway the Sceptre of these Realms, over a free, a loyal, and a happy people is our unanimous wish and fervent prayer.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by James Davidson, Esq.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal declaration of the Yeomen and other Principal Inhabitants of the adjoining Parishes of Preston, Sutton Pointz, Osington, Warmwell, Ringstead, Poxwell, on the Sea Coast of the County of Dorset.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, declare our unshaken attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, and to our established Constitution, in Church and State.

In common with the rest of your Majesty's subjects, we feel the depressed state of trade and agriculture produced by the late arduous struggle; but far from looking to faction and revolution for remedy, we are convinced that in the overthrow of our invaluable laws, we should be only exchanging temporary distress for irrecoverable ruin. Under your Majesty's revered Father this country enjoyed glory abroad, plenty at home: under his sway, every man reaped the fruits of his own labour in peace and security. Treading in his steps, we expect with patient confidence that your Majesty will, with the aid of the wisdom of Parliament, under the blessing of God's Providence, once more restore your faithful people to their former prosperity.

In the mean time, it shall be our duty to hold ourselves ready, in our humble stations, to protect your Majesty's Person, with our lives and property, against the wicked attempts of the disaffected, who, taking advantage of the unavoidable necessities of the times, would stir up the populace to rebellion, and re-establish their own broken fortunes on their country's ruin.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by Mr. Archdeacon Fisher.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the undersigned Nobleman, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Town of Northallerton, and its Vicinity, beg leave to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our dutiful and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, and our firm determination to support the Constitution as by law established.

It is with deep regret that we have viewed the proceedings at a late meeting, most incorrectly stating itself to be a meeting of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of Northallerton and its Vicinity, whose sentiments, as expressed at that meeting in their speeches and resolutions, and in the addresses and petition founded thereon, we disclaim, and against whose conduct on that occasion, we feel ourselves imperiously called upon firmly to protest. However unwilling we may be to impugn the motives of Gentlemen who differed from us in their view of the original object of a loyal meeting at Northallerton, and who, residing in distant parts of the North Riding, and entirely unconnected with Northallerton, have thought fit to obtrude upon your Majesty their opinions as the opinions of the Town of Northallerton and its Vicinity, we most distinctly disavow all participation in or sanction of such proceedings.

Our object in approaching your Majesty is not to enter upon subjects alike painful to your Majesty's feelings and our own, calculated to increase and not to allay the unhappy irritation that exists; but at this season of national anxiety, when the Throne and the Altar, and all that is sacred and venerable in Church and State is held up to scorn and menace, humbly to assure your Majesty of our zealous and devoted attachment to that excellent Constitution which we have received as the best gift of our forefathers, which we are ready to defend with our lives and properties, and which we hope to hand down, unimpaired, to posterity.

We implore the Almighty to grant that your Majesty, the constituted head and rightful guardian of this mighty empire, may long be spared to sway its Sceptre, protected by that invincible shield, the affections of a free and loyal people.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the Earl of Tyrconnel.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Bodmin, in the County of Cornwall.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, and undersigned Inhabitants of the Borough of Bodmin, in the County of Cornwall, beg leave to approach your Majesty with assurances of sincere attachment to your Majesty's Person and the Constitution of this realm, as established in Church and State.

We lament the unceasing efforts of many of your Majesty's subjects, to inflame the public mind, by the propagation of sedition and blasphemy in a variety of forms and through various channels, tending to degrade all our civil, religious and moral institutions, which the wisdom of ages has rendered venerable, and which are become dear to us by the blessings we enjoy under them.

Adhering to those constitutional principles which are the pride and glory of every true Briton, we beg leave to assure your Majesty that, "the King and Constitution," will be our invariable watchword upon every occasion when we shall be called upon to support either, against any attack from enemies, foreign or domestic.

We confide in the wisdom and vigilance of your Majesty's Government, and the energy of the laws, to counteract the designs of the factious and seditious.

And we pray the Almighty Ruler of events, long to permit your Majesty to reign in peace over a free and independent people.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by Lord De Dunstanville.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Worcester, beg to offer, at this peculiar crisis, our most dutiful assurances of allegiance and inviolable attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government; we say at this peculiar crisis, because in the annals of our history never were loyal subjects more strongly called upon to manifest their patriotism than at the present moment, when the fabric of our Constitution and the Throne itself are attacked by the assailing voice of our disaffected and misguided countrymen. Vice, Sire, never wears a more appalling aspect than when it assumes the mask of virtue; and under the specious pretext of the correction of those errors and imperfections to which the best of governments must be liable, (though none more free from them than the one under which we enjoy our individual good, and the greatest public happiness), we view with horror and disgust the object of designing men in the daily perversion of that liberty which was granted to the press by one of our most ancient and invaluable charters. We would not willingly or precipitately see the privileges of that constitutional liberty abridged; but we do deprecate, with fearful abhorrence, the efforts which, under its protection, have been daringly made by unprincipled and crafty assailants to undermine, by blasphemy and libel, the Religion and the Constitution of the realm. Against such perverted liberty and its consequences are we determined to make a firm and united stand; and, by the humble influence of our declaration, we hope to remind those who have been seduced from their allegiance, that to be happy they must love God and honour the king; hastily arousing from their dream of delusion to the reality of that true happiness invariably waiting upon a proper course.

In venturing to approach your Majesty with firm assurances of steadfast adherence to our ancient laws, and of inviolable attachment to your sacred Person, it is not our desire to impugn the loyalty of others, but to make to your Majesty an undisguised and faithful avowal of our own; and whilst we have the protecting hand of Providence over us, and a Monarch who tempers his councils with wisdom, and his prerogative with moderation, by his Government, and our glorious Constitution, will we stand; fearlessly supporting the honour of our King and Country, at the hazard even of our lives and property.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by the High Sheriff.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bailiff, Justice, Aldermen, Common Council, Clergy and other Inhabitants of the the Town and Neighbourhood of Kidderminster, deem it especially incumbent upon us in these eventful times to renew our assurance of fidelity to your Royal Person, and of devotion to our invaluable Constitution.

Proud of this Constitution, the gradual result of the wisdom and valour of ages, and the admiration of foreigners, we have beheld with indignation the malignant efforts of designing, and with regret the unconscious co-operation of deluded Britons to impair or destroy this inestimable blessing; in these efforts we recognize the operation of that revolutionary principle which has already deluged with blood a great part of Europe, and has long been diffusing its pestiferous poison through these realms, principally by means of blasphemous and seditious writings and harangues, but assuming various forms accomodated to the peculiar circumstances of the time, and rendering every incident of national difficulty or distress subservient to its constant purposes of degrading the constituted Authorities, confounding the gradations of society, and seducing the people from their allegiance to their King, their Country and their God.

But whatever partial triumph the devisors or abettors of these machinations may have obtained for awhile over the minds of the timid and unwary, we trust, that the time has arrived when delusion is passing away, and when the good and reflecting of all denominations will rally round the Throne, and unite in defending the Constitution against the assaults of blasphemy, treason and anarchy.

For ourselves, we beg to assure your Majesty of our unabated attachment, and of our determination to exert ourselves in rectifying the deluded, confirming the loyal, and repressing the factious.

We heartily pray that your Majesty may live happily and reign long in the hearts of a faithful and grateful people.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Delivered by Joseph Newcomb, Esq.]