

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the undersigned Freeholders, and other Inhabitants of Clapham, in the County of Surrey, and its Vicinity.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, presume, at this present important crisis, to approach your Majesty's Throne, humbly offering the declaration of our unfeigned attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and of our unshaken allegiance to the British Constitution.

It is with sentiments of indignation and abhorrence that we have witnessed the recent attempts to propagate in this favoured country maxims of an iniquitous and revolutionary character, in the dissemination of which maxims it is too notorious that an audacious Faction has laboured with restless and remorseless activity.

Perverting the names of Liberty and Religion, and abusing the privileges of a Free Press, it has been their uniform design to inspire the people with a hatred of their existing Institutions, whether sacred or secular, and to withdraw their attachment from every thing they have hitherto loved and valued.

In a word, a spirit is abroad, dark, daring, and malignant; a spirit which aims to unsettle all that is fixed, to vilify all that is good, and to degrade and desecrate all that is great, venerable, and holy.

At such a moment, Sir, and amidst attempts like these, we are impelled to cherish with a warmer devotion, and to honour with a peculiar and conspicuous homage, those better lessons which we have been taught by the most admirable system of Law and Government that ever existed upon earth, and by a Religion which came down from Heaven:

a Religion which enjoins us to fear God, and honour the King, to obey the constituted Authorities, and to reverence the ministrations of the Altar.

To these true and ancient principles of the British Constitution, the bequest of our Fathers, and the inheritance of our Children, we severally pledge our firm and devoted support; and this solemn and spontaneous pledge we publicly record, in the face of our Sovereign, our Country, and our God.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Freemen, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Helleston and its Vicinity, in the County of Cornwall, deeply impressed with a sense of the great and invaluable Privileges with which we have long been blessed under the mild Government of your Majesty's Illustrious House, beg leave to offer to your Majesty our renewed assurance of loyalty and fidelity, and to declare our attachment to that inestimable Constitution upon which our Liberties, as a nation, and our public and individual happiness entirely depend.

At a time when the Abettors of Treason and Blasphemy are with unabated perseverance labouring, with the aid of a Licentious Press, to sap the foundation of every Institution, Civil and Religious, that has been transmitted to us by our ancestors, and convinced that the design and object of such persons are to effect a total overthrow of the blessings this country has enjoyed beyond all others, we consider it our duty to express our firm determination to resist every attempt at Insubordination or Insurrection, and to exert our best endeavours in support of the Laws, and for the preservation of our Holy Religion.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,
Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses and other Inhabitants of the Town of Northampton, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of loyalty and fidelity to your Majesty's most sacred Person, and to express our unalterable attachment to that invaluable Constitution which secures to every class of your Majesty's subjects equal protection and security.

We cannot but express our abhorrence and detestation of those blasphemous and pernicious doctrines and sentiments, aided by a licentious press, which, at this awful and momentous crisis, inculcate contempt for religion, traduce the constituted Authorities of the realm, and threaten to involve the country in ruin and desolation.

We beg leave to assure your Majesty of our loyal and dutiful attachment, and of our best efforts to support the rights of the Crown, and the just and equitable balance of the Constitution, nor shall we cease to offer our most fervent prayers, that your Majesty may long reign in the hearts and affections of a happy, free and united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Alcester, in the County of Warwick, humbly beg permission to offer to your Majesty this solemn declaration of our sincere and ardent devotion to your Royal Person and Government.

In these awful and perilous times, when the most strenuous efforts are made by the turbulent and seditious, to confound and degrade all the duties which as men, christians and subjects, we are bound to perform; when loyalty is termed slavery, when a due submission to the laws is denominated servility, when reverence for our holy religion is railed at as bigotry and superstition, when evil is called good and good evil, we feel ourselves especially impelled thus publicly to declare our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, and our firm determination, collectively and individually, to maintain and defend the venerable institutions of our country, as by law established.

It is with the greatest possible satisfaction that we offer to your Majesty these sentiments of our affection and loyalty, as we feel the firmest conviction that they are also entertained by a large majority of your Majesty's subjects throughout the united dominions, and we beg to assure your Majesty that, (notwithstanding the dangers, by which to human eyes, we appear to be surrounded,) we still rely, with unabated confidence, on the high patriotism by which your Majesty is so eminently distinguished; on the sound sense of your Majesty's people, and above all, on the protection of Divine Providence for continuing to us and to our posterity that glorious form of Government, which has for so many ages been the blessing of our country, and the admiration of the civilized world.

That your Majesty may long reign in prosperity and health, in the hearts of a free, united and happy people, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's faithful, devoted and loyal subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Gentlemen, Clergy, Farmers and other Inhabitants of the Parishes of Boxford, Assington, Milden and Grotton, in the Hundred of Babergh, in the County of Suffolk, humbly beg to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our loyal and dutiful attachment to your Majesty's sacred Office and Person.

We consider it our duty at all times to stand forward in protection of our sacred Religion and the Throne, but especially at the present, when the overthrow of both are so openly menaced, when the press is made the vehicle for blasphemy and sedition, and every endeavour is making by the disloyal to encrease the present distress of the country:

That the agricultural part of us are indeed struggling with considerable difficulties is most true, which we consider the result of a state of peace after a long and expensive war. That that war has been brought to so glorious a close, we have to ascribe to the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty, and we feel confident, that when the proper time arrives that the same relief will be extended to us which has been to the other classes of your Majesty's subjects, and we pledge ourselves, as true and loyal subjects, to be ready, at all times, to stand forward in support of the Altar, the Throne and the Laws with our lives and fortunes.

We earnestly pray, that it may please Almighty God, long to continue to your Majesty, an happy and glorious reign over an attached and faithful people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the ancient Royal Burgh of Stirling, beg to approach the Throne with the humble assurance of our unshaken loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's most sacred Person, and to that mild and paternal Government which has characterised the reign of your Majesty, in common with the other Sovereigns of your august House.

We have seen with the deepest regret, that factious men, from motives which we cannot forbear to call base and criminal, have made use of recent events to inflame the passions and mislead the judgments of the unthinking, and perhaps ill-informed part of our fellow subjects; and appreciating as we do those blessings which our happy Constitution, as by law established, has hitherto bestowed upon the people of these realms, we must view with suspicion, if not with serious alarm, those attempts at innovation which the rude hands of wild and unprincipled agitators would introduce into that glorious fabric which has been reared and nurtured in the wisdom of successive ages.

We therefore feel it to be the duty of all classes of your Majesty's subjects to resist and counteract, by every means in their power, this dangerous and licentious spirit; and we beg humbly to assure your Majesty, that we ourselves shall continue to cherish, and shall endeavour to impress upon the minds of all others within the humble sphere of our influence, a steady and unfeigned reverence for those Institutions, and obedience to those Laws, under which our country has been rendered happy and prosperous, and a devoted attachment to your Majesty's Person, by whose wise and energetic Councils her glory has been raised to a height without parallel in the history of nations.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Elgin, in Council assembled, beg to approach your Majesty's Throne with the assurance of attachment to your Royal Person, and to our invaluable Constitution.

We have heard, with the utmost concern, of the attempts that have been made by designing men, in various parts of the country, to corrupt the public mind, thereby tending to destroy all lawful Authority, and to turn into contempt the Religion of our country.

While we lament that such proceedings have taken place in the kingdom, we beg leave to assure your Majesty, that neither disloyalty, sedition, nor infidelity have appeared in this corner of your Majesty's dominions. Highly sensible of the blessings we enjoy under the British Constitution, we fervently hope that your Majesty may long continue to reign over these realms, for the good of your people, and for the preservation of that Constitution which has been handed down to us by our ancestors, and which we are determined to maintain and defend by every lawful means in our power.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment of the Council, Alex. Innes, Provost.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, Members of the Loyal and Independent Grand Lodge of Ancient Druids of the Town of Nottingham, humbly presume to offer to your Majesty our solemn assurances of inviolable fidelity and devotion to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Duly appreciating the invaluable blessings arising from the wholesome exercise of a free press, we nevertheless, view with indignation the factious and licentious abuse of that important privilege, in the attempts recently adopted, through the medium of the prostituted portion of that press, to overawe the administration of justice, and subvert our established religion, and in the base and groundless calumnie^s levelled indiscriminately against the constituted Authorities of this kingdom, not excepting even your Majesty's most sacred Person, propagated for the sole purpose of alienating the affections, inflaming the passions, and subverting the loyal principles of the unwary part of your Majesty's subjects.

Whatever dangers may threaten your Majesty's Person, or our glorious Constitution, whether assailed by foreign enemies or domestic faction, we beg leave to assure your Majesty of our determination at all times openly and fearlessly to perform our duty as good and loyal subjects.

And we most sincerely implore the Supreme Disposer of all events long to continue to us the blessings of your Majesty's mild and paternal Government.

[To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,]

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Rector, Curate, Churchwardens, Overseers, and Inhabitants of the Parish of Wold, in the County of Northampton, beg leave most humbly to approach the Throne and tender to your Majesty the homage of our allegiance and affection.

We are truly sensible of the blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's paternal Government; and we believe that no Constitution ever existed which was more conducive to the happiness and welfare of mankind, than that under which it is our boast to live.

Impressed with such feelings, we have witnessed with disgust and detestation the base means that have been used to tear down this venerable fabric, and foment rebellion in this happy isle; the insults that have been offered to the Throne; the insidious and open attacks that impiety has levelled at Religion; and the attempts that have been made to turn faith into faction, and liberty into licentiousness.

We solemnly declare that it is the duty of every loyal subject to stand forth in defence of his rights; that we will contribute our mite towards stopping the progress of impiety, sedition, and anarchy; and that we will never cease to remember, and to inculcate upon others, the fear which is due to God, and the honour which we owe to the King.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Magistrates, Clergy, and Inhabitants of Wellington, in the County of Somerset, and its neighbourhood, deeply sensible of the inestimable blessings which we have long enjoyed under the mild sway of your Majesty's illustrious House, beg leave, at this eventful crisis, to approach your Throne with assurances of our fidelity to your Majesty's Person, and our unalterable attachment to that Constitution which has ever been the just object of our admiraⁿ.

tion, the foundation of our liberties, the security of our property, and the guard of our persons.

It is with deep concern we observe that the abettors of sedition and blasphemy, by the aid of a licentious press, are more systematically and effectually than ever, uniting their efforts to bring into contempt every institution that has been handed down to us by our ancestors as venerable or holy.

No branch of the Legislature has escaped their malevolence, none of the constituted Authorities have been unassailed by their calumnies. Convinced that revolution is the final object at which this faction aims, and that our best security against their treasonable efforts is to be found in a firm support of the dignity and constitutional privileges of the Crown. We deem it an imperative duty to assure your Majesty, with all humility, of our unalterable determination to defend the Throne from impending danger, and to unite our best exertions in maintaining a due submission to the Laws and Government of the country.

That your Majesty may long live the venerated Head of a great and free people, and may ever experience in the attachment of your subjects, the same defence which supported your Revered Sire, during the political tempests of a long and arduous reign, is our most fervent prayer.

To the KING's Most Gracious Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of Paisley, in Common Council assembled, humbly beg leave, at this important crisis, to renew our assurance of unaltered regard for your Majesty's Person and Family, of undiminished attachment to the Constitution of our country, and of our determination to uphold the dignity of that Crown, to maintain the Authority of the Laws, to defend the rights and liberties of the people, as thereby defined and established, and to co-operate with your Majesty's other loyal subjects in preserving peace and public tranquility.

We pray that the Throne of the United Kingdom may ever remain unshaken, and that your Majesty and august Family may long sway the Scepter over a loyal, religious, and prosperous people.

Signed and sealed in our name, and in our presence, this 17th day of January 1821.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Minister, Churchwardens, and undersigned Inhabitants of the Parish of Much Wenlock, in the County of Salop, and the neighbourhood thereof, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most cordial feelings of attachment to your august Person, and the Constitution of these realms.

Justly proud of our position in a county eminent for its zealous loyalty to the Throne, we cannot at a moment like the present, when the standard of sedition has been unfurled, and every attempt made to delude the unthinking from their allegiance, omit the declaration of our unshaken devotion to your Majesty's sacred Person, and to that establishment so long the admiration and envy of surrounding nations.

Long may that glorious Constitution be preserved from the traitorous machinations which have presumed to threaten its destruction, and long may the Almighty guard our Church from the blasphemous designs of those who would seek in its overthrow the subversion of all legal Authority, and the dissolution of those holy ties which can alone bind society together.

Whilst we pledge ourselves to rally, heart and hand, round the Altar and the Throne, we humbly pray that your Majesty may long reign over a loyal and grateful people, the bulwark of those blessings and privileges which have been for ages their glory and their pride.

To the KING Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Borough of East Looe, in the County of Cornwall, and the Clergy and Inhabitants of the Parish of Saint Martin's, near Looe, Duloe, and Talland, also in the said County, having already approached your Majesty with our congratulations on your happy accession to the Throne of these realms, are again induced, by the eventful circumstances of the times, most respectfully to assure your Majesty of our unshaken loyalty to your august Person, and of our firm attachment to our Laws and excellent Constitution.

It is with sorrow and indignation we have observed the designs of those agitators of the public mind, who, taking advantage of every occasion to disturb the tranquility of the nation, have manifested too clearly their desire to overthrow the wise institutions of our ancestors.

Actuated by these feelings, we beg leave to repeat to your Majesty our unalterable resolution to defend, with our utmost abilities and exertions, that glorious Constitution under which this kingdom has so long flourished, anxious to transmit its blessings unimpaired to the latest posterity.

May it Please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Bradford, in the County of Wilts, beg leave with assurances of firm attachment to your Person and Royal House, most respectfully to offer to your Majesty the declaration of our sentiments at this momentous crisis. While the storm of disloyalty and infidelity is gathering around, and every baneful engine is in full activity to arrest the attention and excite the passions of the unreflecting multitude, we deem it incumbent on us to rally round the Throne, and to avow our determination to support to the utmost of our power our most excellent Constitution from the secret conspiracies of designing men, and from the fearful consequences of the blasphemous effusions of an inflammatory press.

Fully persuaded, Sire, that our national and individual welfare depends on the permanency of our civil and religious Institutions. We implore the Great Disposer of human affairs, to turn the hearts of those who are wickedly spreading through your dominions principles of impiety, rebellion, or discord; as also that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy in the affections of a loyal and again united people, who are truly sensible of the inestimable blessing of living in a free country, and grateful for your Majesty's protection and encouragement of its agriculture, arts, manufactures, and commerce.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the undersigned Inhabitants of the Town of Derby and its neighbourhood, being the Patrons, the President, Vice-President, Chaplain, and Members of the Derbyshire Loyal True Blue Club, duly sensible of the many blessings we enjoy under our most excellent and unrivalled Constitution; and viewing with abhorrence and indignation the attempts, made through a venal, licentious, and prostituted press, to disseminate doctrines of a most pernicious tendency, to circulate calumnies against all the constituted Authorities of the realm, and by the most indefatigable exertions to excite a spirit of disaffection, and to alienate all ranks of His Majesty's subjects from their duty to their God, and their allegiance to their King, feel it our duty, at this perilous and alarming crisis, to convey to the Throne a declaration of our loyalty, and an assurance of our firm attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

We have seen with deep and serious concern the majesty and dignity of the Throne insulted, our Holy Religion derided, and its sacred doctrines exposed to the ridicule and contempt of the profane; and convinced that the effects of that spirit of faction, which has of late been too prevalent, and been extending far and wide through the country, must, if not counteracted, be dangerous to the public welfare, must aggravate the difficulties we have to contend with, and will ultimately tend to the overthrow of the Constitution and destruction of the country.

We, therefore, beg leave, with all respect and humility, to renew to your Majesty a solemn pledge of our unshaken loyalty, and to avow our determination to rally round the Throne, in this hour of danger, to maintain to the utmost of our power our Laws and our Religion from the attacks of treason, sedition, and infidelity, and to give every support to our most gracious Sovereign, who is only anxious to guard our liberties, to protect the dearest interests of our country, and to promote the happiness and welfare of his subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE the Inhabitants of the Division of Wrington, in the County of Somerset, comprising the Hundreds of Winterstoke, Bempstone, and Brent-cum-Wrington, beg leave to approach your Majesty with our most sincere and fervent assurances of our attachment to your Majesty's Person, our veneration for the Religion, Laws, and Establishments of our country, and our acknowledgment of the blessings we derive from the excellent Constitution of these realms.

We consider it a duty, at a period when every engine of disaffection and irreligion is studiously put in motion for the purpose of exciting a spirit of resistance to your Government, and a feeling of disloyalty to your sacred Person, to stand forward and boldly avow our attachment to the Throne, to the Church, and to the State at large, and to assure your Majesty of our firm resolution to discourage and resist, individually and collectively, that spirit of blasphemy and sedition which daily manifests itself in the wicked endeavours of the enemies of all civil and social order.

We feel ourselves alive to the wanton and insidious attacks which are daily made against our Religion and our Laws, and though we view such proceedings with indignation and disgust, yet so long as the present pillars of our Church establishment shall continue to support its doctrines, and our venerable Judges shall exercise that dignity and firmness with the patience, mildness, and forbearance which they at present shew in their investigation of such charges of blasphemy and sedition, and we experience the numerous blessings and advantages which we are continually enjoying under the mild administration of your Majesty's Government, we shall not be dismayed by the attempts of a desperate and unprincipled faction.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the High Sheriff and Freeholders of the County of Denbigh, beg leave to offer to your Majesty the humble yet determined expression of our attachment and allegiance to your Royal Person, and of our resolution to support your Majesty and the Legislative Authorities of your realm in the just exercise of your ancient and established powers.

We conceive ourselves to be called upon by no duty to advert to the painful question which has lately occupied the attention of the Legislature, and our respect for your Majesty's personal feelings, and regard for the public tranquility equally militate against reviving a subject so distressing; but we contemplate with the utmost indignation the public avowal of doctrines the most inflammatory, and principles the most subversive of the Constit-tion, for which those proceedings have afforded a pretext.

We have observed, during a long period, the unremitting efforts of the disaffected to bring into contempt every institution which protects or supports the religion, monarchy, and constitutional liberty of the British nation; but upon the present occasion these flagitious designs have been pursued with increased activity and unexampled audacity by means of a licentious and prostituted press.

Against evils so tremendous in their nature and extensive in their operations we trust that the utmost vigour of the law will, without delay, be exerted, and we are anxious to assure your Majesty of our active and zealous co-operation in our several stations to promote your Majesty's endeavours towards this desirable purpose.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

John Lloyd Salisbury, High Sheriff.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the undersigned Bishop, Dean, Archdeacon, Rural Deans, Prebendaries, and Parochial Clergy of and within the Diocese of Chichester, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sincere feelings of respect and attachment to your Royal Person.

We have seen with real concern and apprehension that a spirit of infidelity, prophaneness, and insubordination too generally prevails; and being firmly of opinion that at such a time it is the imperative duty of all those that duly appreciate the blessings of our admirable Constitution in Church and State, and especially of the Ministers of religion, to exert themselves strenuously in its support, we entreat your Majesty to believe that we are ready and determined, in our respective stations, to use our utmost efforts to repress that spirit by enforcing the true principles of religion, and inculcating a steady obedience to the laws; and thus while engaged in our official and parochial duties to prove ourselves your Majesty's most loyal and faithful subjects

The humble Address of the undersigned Subdean and Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church of Durham.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Subdean and Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church of Durham, stedfast in loyalty to the Crown and Constitution, and faithfully attached to the Government and Person of your Majesty, deem this public avowal of our sentiments a sacred duty at the present juncture, when we observe around us the progress of disaffection and the visible decay of morals and religion.

We cannot contemplate without dismay this declension of English manners, persuaded as we are, that the blessings bestowed upon this nation by the bounty of Providence can only be insured, because they can only be deserved by piety and virtue.

In recurring to the history of other times, we have viewed indeed periods of turbulence and faction, and have remarked their calamitous effects; but also have remarked that those calamities were checked by the upright and pious habits of the people. To disorganize the State by dissolving the elements of society was an enterprize unknown to our progenitors, and peculiar to the age in which we live; and the energy with which that project is pursued equals the audacity with which it was conceived.

In addition to our fears for the peace and safety of our country, in which we participate with the best and wisest of our fellow subjects, we feel a deeper concern as Ministers of Christ at the efforts made in licentious publications to corrupt the religious and moral sense by which this nation was heretofore exalted, to extinguish all reverence for laws, both human and divine, and to bring the word of God into disrepute. And although we trust that these attempts will be finally defeated, and that "the gates of hell shall not prevail" against the Gospel, we know that an abjuration of the Christian faith, leaving the conscience without a guide, and the passions without control, must vitiate the apostates, and render them pernicious to the common weal; for in the order established by Divine Wisdom, irreligion depraves the heart, and depravity leads to wretchedness and ruin.

Alarmed by the union of impiety and discord, and shocked by the applause and adulation lavished upon vice, the established clergy will not be wanting in fidelity and diligence to rebuke the profligate, and to vindicate the truth of revelation. But their efforts will be unavailing if unsupported; and, next to the succour of Almighty God, we rely upon the firm and prudent councils of your Majesty, in conjunction with the zeal of Parliament, to suppress an evil which threatens the overthrow of every institution that we have been taught to venerate as Britons, and of every blessing to which we are attached as men.

We implore the Almighty to avert the impending danger, to heal the troubles of our country, and to grant to your Majesty a long and prosperous, and happy reign.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Biggor, met in Presbytery, embrace this opportunity of expressing to your Majesty our high respect and affection for your Person and Family. We revere the principles which called your Majesty's Family to the Throne of these realms, and it shall be our constant endeavour in that sphere, in which, under the Providence of God, we are placed, to inculcate those principles which the religion of Jesus Christ enjoins, that every soul be subject to the higher powers. For there is no power but of God. The powers that be are ordained of God. Whosoever, therefore, resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God. We lament that unhappy spirit which would trample on the laws of nations or pour contempt on our holy religion. Enjoying full liberty of conscience in those concerns which must ever be dear to rational and accountable creatures, we look up to your Majesty with filial regard, and trust that our high privileges, civil and sacred, will ever be preserved inviolate. We deprecate that restless disposition which would excite dissaffection and commotion among your loyal people, and threaten destruction to that excellent and admirable Constitution which our forefathers reared at the expense of their blood. It shall be our zealous effort to instil into the minds of the people committed to our care, those sound and salutary doctrines which exhort men to lead quiet and peaceable lives in all godliness and honesty. We consider it our duty at this juncture of affairs to express to your Majesty our firm determination to adhere to the excellent Constitution of our country as by law established, and we regard your Majesty as the Father and Friend of his people. That Almighty God may bless your Majesty and prosper your reign, and that the Crown of these realms may be transmitted in a succession of Princes of your Royal House to the latest generations, are the sincere and fervent prayers of, may it please your Majesty, your most faithful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Biggor.

Signed in our name, and at our appointment, by William Watson, Moderator.

Biggor, 16th of January 1821.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Citizens and Inhabitants of Rochester and neighbourhood, humbly approach your Majesty's Throne with sentiments of unfeigned attachment to your Royal Person, and with a full determination to support, to the utmost of our power, those civil and religious institutions of our country, which are the foundation of social order, and the source of public prosperity and individual happiness.

At a period like the present, when the wicked, the designing, and the factious, aided by the unbridled licentiousness of a corrupt and venal press, are directing their combined efforts to sap the foundation of our religious faith, and to subvert the fabric of our glorious Constitution, we feel ourselves imperiously called upon to express, in the most decided and unequivocal manner, our utter abhorrence of that blasphemy which is levelled at the one, and of that sedition which would overthrow the other.

Our own observation and experience convince us beyond a doubt, that a faction exists in the kingdom, actuated by the most dangerous and malignant principles, whose sole object is to diminish the attachment of the people to the Throne, and to undermine the Constitution. We observe this faction incessantly occupied in fomenting discords, in aggravating domestic difficulties, and in exciting the subjects of your Majesty to a hatred and contempt of the Laws, in order to introduce a revolution, under the plausible but insidious pretext of redressing grievances and reforming abuses. Influenced no less by these awful considerations than stimulated by a sense of duty, we solemnly pledge ourselves to defend, as far as we are able, the Altar of our God from the impious attacks of daring infidels, and the Throne of our Monarch from the secret and open assaults of restless and disaffected disturbers of the public tranquillity.

While the agitators of mischief pursue their nefarious designs with the most pernicious industry, we will be equally assiduous in exposing the absurdity, and in pointing out the mischievous tendency of those seditious harangues which are sometimes addressed to tumultuous and nocturnal assemblies illegally convened, and calculated merely to inflame the turbulent passions of the vulgar, to mislead the ignorant and unwary, and to inspire the infatuated audience with a contempt for every thing which wise men admire and good men venerate; nor shall we be less strenuous in our endeavours to suppress all blasphemous publications and infidel productions of whatever description, to calm the disturbed, to undeceive the deluded, and, in short, to convince our fellow-citizens and neighbours that their personal security, as well as their social happiness, depend essentially on loyalty to their Sovereign, on uniform obedience to the Laws, and a due subordination to all legitimate Authority.

Relying with perfect confidence on the wisdom and vigour of your Majesty's Councils for protection and defence against the machination of evil designing men, we conclude with our earnest prayers that your Majesty, after having long reigned over a free, happy, and united people, may transmit unimpaired to the latest posterity, that unrivalled Constitution of Government, which is our truest glory and proudest boast.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Vicars, Churchwardens and Inhabitants of the Parish of Bampton, in the County of Oxford, beg leave to convey to your Majesty our strongest expressions of respect and attachment, and to declare our firm determination, at this season of threatened danger, to uphold, as far as our means extend, the Throne which we honour, the constitutional liberties under which we prosper, and the established national religion, which we deem equally essential to the stability of the Government and the happiness of the people.

Placed, as we are, amidst the quiet occupations of agriculture, it may at first, perhaps, appear unnecessary that we should obtrude ourselves upon your Majesty's notice, but when the poison of infidelity and sedition, no longer confined to large and populous towns, penetrates into the most remote hamlets, and is artfully administered to the quiet and contented peasant, for the purpose of converting him into an unbeliever and a rebel, we feel ourselves strongly called upon to express our abhorrence of an attempt which, if successful, would deprive our peaceable population of their surest means of happiness in this life; and of all their better hopes in that which is to come.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Clifton Dartmouth Hardness, impressed with a deep sense of the blessings we enjoy under the inestimable Constitution of our country, presume again to approach your Majesty's Throne with renewed assurances of our firm and loyal attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family.

In making these assurances, we humbly beg leave to express to your Majesty that we have observed, with the greatest anxiety and concern, a party of men in this country, the great object of whose lives, if we may judge from their conduct, is to overthrow the Constitution so long the admiration and envy of the world, and availing themselves of the advantage which a free press affords them, regardless of truth, they paint every public event in colours that best suit the objects they have in view; scoffing at the religious institutions of their country, they address themselves to the passions of their unguarded fellow-subjects, believing, that if they can succeed in overthrowing the Altar the Throne will fall in its ruins.

Fearful, unless precedents are of no value, and the page of history a fiction, that we are fast advancing to that state of anarchy which has before hurled a Monarch from the Throne of this country, and deluged the land with the best blood of its inhabitants, we humbly beg leave to assure your Majesty that we will use our best endeavours to arrest, by every constitutional means in our power, this growing evil; and we fervently pray that the Almighty Disposer of all events will open the eyes of your misguided subjects, and convince them of their errors, and that your Majesty may be blessed with a long and happy reign over a loyal, free, and contented people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Prebendaries, Archdeacons, Chancellor and Clergy of the Diocese of Winchester, and the Warden, Fellows and Masters of Saint Mary, Winton College, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the warmest attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

At a time when the most strenuous and unexampled exertions are made to disseminate the principles of infidelity, anarchy and sedition, we feel it especially incumbent upon us, as Ministers of the Church of Christ, established in this kingdom, humbly to express to your Majesty our deep sense of the necessity of ardent zeal and unremitting diligence, in our respective situations, to defend the truth, and enforce the doctrines of our most holy religion, which commands, in the most explicit terms, integrity of life, peaceable demeanor, and obedience to civil governors.

We beg to assure your Majesty of our anxious desire and fixed determination to inculcate a grateful sense of the invaluable blessings derived, under Divine Providence, from our unrivalled Constitution in Church and State, and to use our utmost efforts to defeat the designs of those persons who, through the means of licentious and blasphemous publications, are labouring to undermine the foundation of all social, moral, and religious obligation, and thus to destroy every security for the peace and happiness of mankind.

We intreat your Majesty to believe that we can never fail to offer our fervent prayers to the Supreme Disposer of all events, that He will be graciously pleased to grant to your Majesty a long and prosperous reign over a happy and united people.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the undersigned Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Derby, beg leave to offer to your Majesty the assurance of our inviolable fidelity to the Throne, and of our firm determination to support to the utmost of our power our unrivalled Constitution in all its branches, on which depend our liberty, our security and our happiness.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Recorder, Bailiff, and Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Plympton Earle, in the County of Devon.

AT a time when all classes of your Majesty's faithful subjects, who duly appreciate the blessings they experience under the excellent Constitution of this realm, are earnestly vying with each other in expressing their loyalty to your Majesty's Person, and their attachment to that Constitution, we your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Bailiff and Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Plympton Earle, in the County of Devon, no less anxious than our fellow subjects to make known our sentiments and feelings on an occasion like the present, when all good men should use their best endeavours, as well by precept as example, to preserve order and tranquility in the State, humbly approach your Majesty's Throne with assurance of our ardent loyalty and attachment to that Throne, and to the Constitution of which it forms so essential a portion; and of our fixed determination, by all the means within our reach, to counteract the evils which manifestly have arisen from the blasphemous, grossly false, and seditious publications, and that delusive and pernicious system which is pursued by persons, apparently with a view only to destroy our civil and religious liberty, our safety, property, and every other blessing which (by Divine Providence) we enjoy under your Majesty's reign, and our unrivalled Constitution.

That your Majesty may long live to dispense these blessings in health and prosperity; and that your illustrious Family may continue to sway the sceptre of this realm to the latest posterity, is our earnest prayer.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, consisting of Landholders, Tenants, and others, belonging to the Parish of Eccles, in the County of Berwick, feel ourselves called upon by the present circumstances of the country to unite with your Majesty's dutiful subjects throughout the kingdom, in declaring our profound respect and cordial attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, our supreme estimation for the British Constitution, and our veneration for the laws and religion of our country.

We have witnessed with grief and alarm a combination of infidelity and sedition, of delusion and credulity carried on with malignant activity; a combination that by inflammatory speeches and writings, by alleging imaginary grievances, or by complaining of incurable evils; by studied insults and menaces against the highest courts of legislation and justice, by perverting the plainest facts, and defaming the most upright and dignified characters; a combination, that by presuming to pass off its own violent clamour as the voice of the nation, and by the force of numbers and noise has audaciously attempted to overawe truth, justice, and authority, in order to accomplish its own nefarious and destructive purposes.

We are confident that the enlightened and right-principled part of the nation condemn such proceedings, and that they will zealously unite with your Majesty's Government in applying every remedy which experience and prudence can suggest, or the necessity of the case may require.

That your Majesty's reign may be long and happy; that your royal cares may be rewarded with the esteem, the affection and support of all good men; and that the British Constitution may be preserved to the latest generation with its vigour unimpaired, and its excellence unsullied, is the sincere prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's loyal subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Heritors, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Stewartry of Orkney, consider it our duty in the present state of public affairs, humbly to approach the Throne, with unfeigned assurances of loyalty and affection to your Majesty, and of attachment to the Constitution.

We deeply rejoice, that, since the restoration of the blessings of peace, a spirit of insubordination appears to have manifested itself among the lower classes in certain other parts of the kingdom, which threatened to disturb the domestic tranquility of the country. This spirit, the prevalence of which we sincerely deplore, has been fostered and inflamed by the dissemination of profane and seditious publications, alike calculated to deceive the ignorant, and entrap the unwary.

Although remote from the seat of Government, we humbly venture to affirm that there are none of your Majesty's subjects who more justly appreciate the privileges enjoyed under the Constitution of these kingdoms. We presume to assure your Majesty, that we are determined by every legitimate means in our power to contribute towards the maintenance and defence of that Constitution against all attacks of the unprincipled and disaffected.

With implicit confidence we rely on your Majesty's wisdom in adopting such measures as the exigencies of the times may require, for restraining the machinations of the wicked and disaffected, and preserving inviolate our glorious Constitution, which has so long been the admiration of the world.

We fervently pray that your Majesty may long reign over a prosperous, a free, and a happy people, and transmit unimpaired to future generations the blessings we have enjoyed for upwards of a century, under your Royal Progenitors.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the Parish of Marlborough, with the Town of Salcombe and Parts adjacent, in the County of Devon, observing with concern and indignation the efforts made by a desperate faction to spread dissension and disloyalty among your people, and to subvert the laws and the religion of the country, humbly approach the Throne with the assurances of our steady attachment to your Royal Person, and of our firm determination to defend, to the utmost, the dignity of your Majesty's Crown, and the liberty secured to us by our unrivalled Constitution.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and other Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Sudbury, in the County of Suffolk, grateful to Divine Providence for the signal blessings we have so long enjoyed under the benign and paternal Government of your Royal House, desire to approach your Majesty with renewed assurances of that steady attachment which we feel to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We have beheld, with the deepest concern, the attempts of factious and unprincipled men to diffuse a spirit of insubordination and discontent through the kingdom; and we have witnessed, with no less feeling, the unsparing dissemination of seditious, malignant, and blasphemous libels, alike calculated to subvert our invaluable Constitution, and to undermine our Liberty, Religion and Laws.

Under these considerations, we beg leave to tender to your Majesty the sincere homage of our duty, and to avow our steadfast determination, to the utmost of our power, to protect and defend your Majesty's sacred Person, and to support that glorious Constitution, in Church and State, which has hitherto and still is capable of affording to your Majesty's subjects more of real and substantial happiness than can be anticipated from the wild theories of modern reform.

And we pray God, that your Majesty may long reign prosperously in the hearts of a free and united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Sovereign, Burgesses, Freemen, and other Inhabitants of the ancient and Loyal Town of Kinsale, and its Liberties, beg leave most humbly to approach your Majesty's Throne, not in the spirit of party, but impelled by an imperious sense of duty at this momentous and perilous crisis, when the factions and misguided are industriously labouring to effect the overthrow of all that is sacred in Religion, and all that is valuable in the State.

The example of a neighbouring nation has awfully warned us, that all its calamities commenced with the subversion of the Christian Religion, and we see that every exertion has been made, and every nerve strained, to withdraw the Allegiance of your Majesty's Subjects from your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, to bring Religion into contempt, by wicked and blasphemous publications, and to overthrow that Constitution under which we and our fathers have, by the especial favour of Divine Providence, been peculiarly, and above all other nations, preserved and protected.

We therefore most humbly offer our assurances of fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, and our determination to support your Majesty's Constitutional Authority, and that form of Government under which we have enjoyed such privileges and protection, as truly to substantiate its claim to pre-eminence over that of every other nation, confident that in despite of the designs of the seditious and disaffected, it will descend unimpaired to the latest posterity.

We are sensible that an unvaried prosperity is not the lot of any nation, and that difficulties are unavoidable, after the long and expensive war in which our country has been engaged; we live, however, with the consoling hope, that by the exertions of the loyal and well disposed, industry and enterprize will revive, the pressures under which we now labour under be removed, and the prosperous and happy condition of all classes restored, under your Majesty's mild and paternal Government.

Dated at the Guildhall of the Town of Kinsale the 1st day of January, 1821, William Newman, Sovereign of Kinsale.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the Town and Vicinity of Ballymoney, in the County of Antrim, beg leave at this alarming crisis to come forward to express our assurance of fidelity to your Majesty and your Royal House, and of attachment to the glorious Constitution, under which these realms have long continued to enjoy invaluable blessings.

We perceive with indignation that an active and malignant spirit has been assiduous in disseminating opinions and inculcating principles which, as faithful subjects, we feel to be our bounden duty to reprobate and resist.

Truly sensible of the inestimable blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's paternal Government, we rely with confidence on your Majesty's wisdom and firmness, and we do pledge ourselves, by every means in our power, to support the honour and dignity of the Throne, and to preserve inviolate the great bulwarks of our Constitution, in Church and State.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects of the County of Tyrone, assembled under the order of our High Sheriff, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the renewal of the homage of unshaken affection for your Majesty's Person, and steady allegiance to your Crown.

We feel too sensibly the blessings of a Constitution regulated by a pure religion, and supported by just and equal laws, not to be alarmed at any attempts to subvert the one or depreciate the other.

The exertion therefore of certain of your Majesty's subjects, who seek to infuse into the minds of the people at large, doctrines subversive of their duty to their God, and their allegiance to their King, call on and demand the union of all your Majesty's uncorrupted subjects to declare, in the most public manner, the abhorrence of such efforts, and their firm determination, with their lives and fortunes, to support our venerable Constitution in all its branches, civil and religious.

We have great satisfaction in being able to assure your Majesty, that in our County of Tyrone these doctrines have obtained no advocates; but feeling deep interest for the happiness and prosperity of Great Britain, we are anxious to unite, with all your Majesty's faithful subjects, in raising a strong and firm barrier against all supporters of infidelity and revolution.

Burren, 17th January 1821.

AT a Meeting held and enjoined in the Post Town of Burren, Barony of Burren, and County of Clare, at which many of the first rank and fortune, with several of the Clergy of this and the adjacent parts of the County of Galway attended, together with Bathers and Visitors, it was unanimously agreed on that Peter Comyn, Esq., Scotland-Lodge, being a resident and a Magistrate of both Counties, do manage and forward the following Address :

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's liege subjects, deeply impressed with a sense of the vast benefits we derive under a wise and bountiful King, whose Laws and Government should be duly appreciated through all nations, being the standard of justice and religion, beg leave with every assurance of fidelity and attachment to address your Majesty, expressive of our warmest respect for your Person, Crown and Dignity.

We deem it expedient to state that nature has been most bountiful to this neighbourhood, enjoying as we do the advantages of a deep safe bay with natural harbours, that the town and surrounding country are daily increasing in trade, population and wealth, and that we have not been neglected by your Majesty's Government, who in their wisdom and judgment have evinced a zeal to add to our prosperity.

May it please the Giver of all things to bless and protect your Majesty over us, a happy industrious and loyal people, and may you long enjoy all the blessings of a terrestrial life, and finally participate in celestial bliss which is the cordial and united prayer of

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town of Dunmanway, and its Neighbourhood, intreat permission to approach your Majesty's sacred Person with unfeigned assurances of attachment and devotion.

We have seen with abhorrence the machinations of a desperate faction in the sister island, to bring into contempt the Altar and the Throne, and thereby seduce your Majesty's subjects from their allegiance : We have deplored the blindness which could close their eyes to the blessings of our invaluable Constitution and the temperate and upright administration of the Laws under your Majesty's benign auspices ; but the inherent manliness and sound intellect of the United Kingdom are at length roused, and we humbly congratulate your Majesty on the fervour with which your Majesty's faithful subjects emulate each other in heartfelt expressions of gratitude and loyalty.

That your Majesty may long live to enjoy the well earned homage of an happy, free, and admiring people, and that the sceptre your Majesty so gloriously and equitably sways may continue to adorn the illustrious House of Brunswick, is the ardent prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most loyal and most dutiful subjects and servants.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Nobility, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the Queen's County, beg leave to approach your Majesty with respectful and sincere assurances of loyalty and attachment to your illustrious Person and Throne.

We venerate and justly appreciate the blessings of that matchless Constitution under which the British Empire has been so long distinguished from less happy nations : and regard as our most important duty to maintain inviolate, and transmit unimpaired to our posterity an inheritance so valuable.

At a period when the good sense of a portion of your Majesty's subjects has been deluded by visionary speculations, inconsistent with the true principles of rational liberty, we find a source of great consolation in observing the peaceable and tranquil deportment of all classes of your Majesty's subjects in this country ; thus affording the most satisfactory proof of the respect this part of the United Kingdom bears towards your Majesty's Throne, and the Laws by which it is supported.

We have observed, with sentiments of deep reprobation and abhorrence, the efforts made in the sister country, by unprincipled and seditious individuals, to bring derision and contempt upon the sacred institutions of Christianity, and the venerated principles of the Constitution. We avow our determination to rally round the Throne and Altar of our country, and boldly repel and resist the introduction of doctrines alike hostile to both.

We trust that the machinations of the impious and disaffected may ever be defeated, and devoutly pray that a long and prosperous reign may enable your Majesty to witness the increase of religion, loyalty, and good order, in all quarters of your dominions.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal, dutiful, and devoted subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Cork, at present assembled, humbly beg leave to approach your gracious Majesty with the strongest assurances of our inviolable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Throne, and to that Constitution, which, under the wisdom, valour, and justice of a long line of your Majesty's illustrious Ancestors, has descended to us, as our best security against the violence of the factious, and the designs of the wicked.

We beg to assure your Majesty, that, identifying ourselves with that Throne, and that Constitution, under which we can alone hope for safety and protection, we will rally round them with hearts and minds deeply conscious of the inestimable blessings for which we are contending.

High Sheriff of the County of Cork.

The Address of the Corporation and Inhabitants of the Town and Borough of Clonakilty, and its Neighbourhood.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Members of the Corporation, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Clonakilty, beg leave to lay before your Majesty the assurance of our steady adherence to the Constitution of this empire, and our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, to which, under God, we look for the security of our civil rights, and the peaceful enjoyment of rational liberty. These sentiments, always entertained by us, we should have continued to cherish in silence, had not the present crisis, which calls forth so many public protestations of attachment, induced us to add our voices to the general effusions of loyal zeal. At a time when disaffection and impiety are labouring to corrupt the minds of your Majesty's subjects, it becomes necessary for the friends of the Altar and the Throne, for all who fear God and honour the King, to shew the enemies of both that their designs are as impotent as they are wicked; and that there is a fund of faith and loyalty in these realms abundantly sufficient to counteract all evil designs, and to defend and maintain those loyal and religious principles on which the peace and happiness of the British Empire exclusively depend. United with associates so respectable, we trust that these our expressions of dutiful attachment will find grace and favour in the eyes of Him, who is at once the King and Father of his people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Portreeve, Burgesses, and Freemen of the ancient and loyal Corporation of Irishtown, Kilkenny, entreat your Majesty to accept these, our renewed assurances of our most inviolable attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

With feelings of the deepest regret we have heard that a desperate and unprincipled faction, (aided and assisted by the unparalleled licentiousness of a certain portion of the public press,) has endeavoured to undermine the religious principles of the lower orders of the people, and to introduce in their place the abominable doctrine of blasphemy and atheism.

We are aware, Sire, that the same wicked measures were employed by the revolutionists of France to overthrow both the Altar and the Throne; and we are well convinced, that without the powerful aid of religion, all human laws are useless.

With this firm conviction indelibly impressed upon our minds, we beg leave to assure your Majesty, that we will exert every means in our power to oppose the efforts of those who seditiously cry down that inestimable Constitution, and openly violate that most excellent system of civil and criminal jurisprudence which affords equal protection to all classes of your Majesty's subjects, and which are the envy and admiration of the entire civilized world.

Attached as we are, Sire, both by principle and duty, to your Majesty's royal Person;—respecting as we do, the united wisdom of the two Houses of Parliament, and revering our most excellent Constitution both in Church and State, your Majesty may rest assured, that all attempts to sully the honour of the Throne, or to influence the passions and mislead the judgments of your Majesty's subjects, shall meet with our most determined opposition and resistance.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Noblemen, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Leitrim, assembled at Carrick on Shannon, on the 11th January 1821.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Clergy, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Leitrim, assembled at our County Court-House, pursuant to public advertisement, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments and assurances of our unshaken loyalty and attachment; and we consider ourselves called upon for this declaration, because we believe that a mischievous spirit is abroad subversive of religion and loyalty.

We presume not to offer an opinion upon any of those proceedings which have recently occupied the Councils of the nation, or those which have yet to engage their attention; they are topics upon which the best and wisest men may differ, and we entirely submit them to the wisdom of Parliament; but sure we are, that be our difficulties what they may, they can only be safely and successfully met by the general determination of all ranks and description of your Majesty's subjects to rally round the Throne, and unite in one common feeling of affectionate attachment and loyalty to your Majesty's sacred Person, and a devoted fidelity to the Constitution.

These are the sentiments which, in times like the present, should chiefly fill the minds of all good and wise men, and we beg leave to assure your Majesty that they are those by which the Inhabitants of the County of Leitrim have been always influenced, and in which we trust they will ever continue.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Clergy, Gentry and Freeholders of the County of Longford, deeply impressed with a grateful sense of those many blessings which, through the Divine favour, we have so long enjoyed, in common with all our fellow subjects, under the paternal rule of your Majesty and your illustrious House, humbly beg leave to offer our sincere expressions of warm and unshaken attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We have witnessed with indignation and abhorrence the daring attempts of a seditious faction to bring into contempt the laws of the land, and to degrade that public authority, by which our sacred birthrights are secured. We lament the blind infatuation of those who have suffered themselves to become the dupes of that detestable faction, and we deeply deplore the exertions of a profane and licentious press, which has lent itself to the vile purpose of disseminating infidelity and sedition.

While we lament the momentary delusion which exists in England, we feel convinced that by a steady resistance to those insidious attempts to mislead the ignorant, and by a firm execution of the laws your Majesty will ultimately succeed in restoring tranquility to the empire.

We are fully sensible that the British Government, as it now exists, is a Government of freedom and happiness. We humbly beg leave to tender our services in support of our sacred religion, and of that glorious Constitution of which your Majesty is the rightful guardian, and which we are determined to defend with our properties and our lives.

G. R. Fetherston.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Wicklow, beg leave to approach your Majesty with renewed assurances of our unabated loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person, and to the principles of our matchless Constitution in Church and State.

We have witnessed with sincere regret those active and pernicious principles which for some time past have been inculcated into the minds of our fellow-subjects in the sister kingdom, where the exertion of a press, prostituted to the most impious and seditious purposes, has endeavoured to demoralize the country, and to bring into contempt all the constituted Authorities of the realm.

We have seen with heartfelt sorrow the delusion that has been practised upon a considerable proportion of the people of England, and the discontent which has been engendered by laying hold of public events which have recently occurred, and making them an engine to entice the people from their loyalty, and to render them the dupes of evil disposed persons, whose object is the subversion of all government and the destruction of every moral and religious obligation.

We cannot but express our sincere gratification that if in this part of the empire efforts have been made to produce a simultaneous feeling with that so disgracefully exhibited in some parts of England, they have proved altogether abortive; and we earnestly hope that your Majesty's subjects in this country will long evince their personal attachment to your Majesty, and their determination to resist the insidious allurements of those who would seduce them from their allegiance, and, under the mask of reforming abuses, would plunge your empire into anarchy and confusion.

We sincerely trust that by firm and decided measures your Majesty's Government will endeavour to check the progress of that spirit of insubordination, blasphemy and infidelity which has in too many instances manifested itself in some parts of the empire. But whilst we have to lament evils which we hope are but casual and temporary, we feel a confidence that the Almighty, who has visited your empire with so many and so great blessings, will continue to guide and direct your Majesty's Councils, to protect your Royal Person, and the people committed to your charge.

On behalf of the meeting, convened by me in consequence of a requisition from the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders, and held at the Court-House, in the Town of Wicklow, on Tuesday the 23d day of January 1821.

William Acton, High Sheriff.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

SIRE,

WE, the Masters, Wardens, and Brethren of the Corporation of Shoemakers of the City of Dublin, or Guild of the Blessed Virgin Mary, in full Hall assembled, on the 1st day of January, 1821, being quarter day, embrace this opportunity of approaching the Throne with the most profound sentiments of humility and veneration.

True loyalty, the allegiance of the heart, is ever unwilling to obtrude itself on public notice; but, under existing circumstances, we feel it our imperative duty thus to express our sentiments, and to prevent the disturbers of the public peace from slandering your Majesty's loyal subjects, by construing silence into an acquiescence in the daring attempts which have been made with such malicious industry, (under the specious pretext of reforming abuses) to undermine, and eventually subvert, our glorious Constitution.

Knowing, from experience, that the worst of all tyrannies is a wild democracy, and that public liberty is never so much endangered as by an indulgence in licentiousness, we are therefore resolved to oppose and defeat such attempts,—to adhere to those principles which have placed your Majesty on the Throne of these realms; and, finally, should it be necessary, to form a constitutional rampart for its defence, or die under its ruins.

We beg leave again to assure your Majesty of our dutiful attachment, and pray that your Majesty's reign may long continue a blessing to a prosperous, contented, and grateful people.

John Murphy, and Michael Farrell, Wardens.*

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of the Corporation of Tanners, Dublin, feel it the more necessary to approach your Majesty with sentiments of respectful loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government, when we observe the unwearied diligence with which wicked and deluded men endeavour to pervert the principles and alienate the affections of the ignorant, under the specious pretence of reform, but which tend to the dissolution of the bonds of religion and morality; and, whatever disguise they may assume, have no final object than the subversion of these happy institutions with which Providence has so long blessed your Majesty's dominions; and no other real end than the total overthrow of our unrivalled Constitution in Church and State.

That your Majesty's life may long be preserved, and that you may wield the sceptre of these Realms with glory to yourself and happiness to your people, is the prayer of your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master, Wardens, and Brethren of the Corporation of Tanners.

In testimony whereof our common seal is hereunto affixed. George Irwin, Clerk.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Master, Wardens, and Commonalty of the Corporation of Apothecaries of the City of Dublin, approach your Majesty with the fullest sense of duty which, as your Majesty's loyal subjects, we owe to a beloved King.

To Almighty Providence we return most hearty thanks that it hath pleased Him to continue to us, in your Majesty's sacred Person, a benevolent and patriotic Monarch: viewing your Majesty's wisdom in councils, and pre-eminence in the embattled field, we gladly recognize the inheritable quality of those blessings, which for the last sixty years, environed these your Majesty's dominions.

Under such impressions, we are equally regardless of the impotent assaults of the seditious, the infidel, and the traitor. We are under the protection of an all-seeing Wisdom, and will gladly expire our last breath in defence of your Majesty, our Church, and the best interests of this our common country.

That your Majesty may long wield the illustrious sceptre, your birthright, is our fervent prayer to God, who hath inculcated upon us the loyalty it is our glory to avow.

In testimony whereof the common seal of said Guild is hereunto affixed.

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Governors, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders resident within the Parishes of Baltinaglass, Ballynure, Donoughmore, Donard, Killrinalagh, Kiltegan, and Stratford on Slaney, in the County of Wicklow, and such parts of the Parishes of Dunlavin, Hacketstown, and Timolin, as are within said County, convened by public notice, and assembled in the Court-House at Baltinaglass, on Monday, the 1st day of January 1821, beg leave to approach your Majesty with assurances of our unshaken attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family, and Government.

Remote from the capital of your Majesty's dominions, and uncorrupted by the sophistry of licentious publications, we feel a warm and ardent devotion to the constituted Authorities in Church and State.

Highly valuing as we do the peace and prosperity of these realms, we are determined, as far as in us lies, to support your Majesty's Government, unappalled by the clamour of party, undisturbed by the cries of disaffection.

To your Majesty's wisdom and firmness in discharge of the arduous duties of your exalted station, in times of unexampled difficulty, are we indebted, under Providence, for the distinguished eminence which we share with the other constituent parts of your Majesty's empire.

¶ We therefore humbly entreat your Majesty's acceptance of this, the sincere declaration of our sentiments, and fervently pray that the great Disposer of all events may enable your Majesty to defeat the machinations of the ill-affected and seditious, and that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy.

*Benjn. Oneale, Stratford,
Governor and Justice of Peace, County of Wicklow, and Sovereign of Baltinaglass.*

[Transmitted by His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

THE following Addresses have been presented to the King; which Addresses His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign.

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Bishop, Archdeacon, and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Llandaff, impelled by those sentiments of loyal and dutiful attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, with which we lately presumed to address your Majesty on your accession to the Throne, beg leave, in the present momentous crisis, to renew our expression of the same unalterable affection to your Majesty, and to our invaluable Constitution in Church and State.

With deep concern we observe the unremitting efforts of infatuated opponents of every thing good and sacred among us, to bring into contempt and hatred the laws by which the blessings of that Constitution are secured to us, the Monarchy by which they are upholden and maintained, and the Religion by which they are rendered a pledge to us of the Divine favour and protection. In these attempts we cannot but discern a spirit at variance with social order, with public tranquility, with individual prosperity, and with personal safety. They manifest a direct hostility to pure morals, to rational liberty, and to every sacred tie that binds man to man; letting loose the consciences of men from their most effective restraints, breaking down the barriers betwixt vice and virtue, and opening the floodgates of licentiousness, immorality, and irreligion.

Under such circumstances, we deem it our bounden duty to declare to your Majesty our firm determination to resist these gigantic evils, to the utmost of our ability, by such means as our Holy Religion more especially requires us to bring to the public aid. Relying, also, upon that Divine Providence which hath hitherto vouchsafed its protection to our country against many and powerful adversaries, external and internal, we cannot doubt that, by the increased exertions of the best members of the state, the Laws, the Institutions, the Tribunals, the Throne, and the Altars, so long endeared to us from experience of their beneficial effects, will still be preserved inviolate, and transmitted unimpaired to the latest generations.

That your Majesty may long live to see your ardent wishes for the welfare of your subjects realized to their fullest extent, is our fervent prayer to that Almighty Being on whom our hopes ultimately rest for every good to your Majesty, and to the people committed to your charge.

William, Llandaff.

[Presented by the Bishop of Llandaff.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

SIRE,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Salop, beg leave to approach your Majesty, and to renew our assurances of the most sincere and zealous attachment to your Royal Crown and Person.

We have viewed with the deepest regret and abhorrence the flood of seditious and blasphemous publications which has lately inundated the country, and we have seen with disgust the unremitting endeavours of itinerant orators and others to corrupt the minds of your Majesty's subjects, and to destroy every loyal, every moral, and religious principle. We are, indeed, confident, that the great mass of the people is sound and untainted; and we are particularly happy in being able to assure your Majesty, that blasphemy and disaffection have not dared openly to shew themselves in this county; but as the instigators of sedition and anarchy have been so mischievously active throughout the kingdom, and as we conceive it to be the bounden duty of every honest man and loyal subject, under such circumstances, boldly to stand forward and avow his principles; we feel that we owe it to your Majesty, to our country, and to ourselves, thus publicly to declare our unalterable attachment to the Throne, and to the Constitution in Church and State, and record our firm determination to defend them against internal or external enemies, by the sacrifice, if necessary, of our lives and properties.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the High Sheriff, Nobility, Magistrates, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Flint, grateful for the many blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's paternal sway, and under a form of Government without parallel among the civil institutions of the world, are anxious, at this important crisis, to approach your Majesty's Throne with the assurance of our zealous attachment to your Majesty's august Person and Family, of our steadfast allegiance to the Crown, and of our settled purpose to support the established Authorities of the realm, in the just exercise of their constitutional powers.

We regard, Sir, with deep concern and apprehension, the unremitting efforts of the disaffected, varying in form, but invariable in purpose, to vilify and bring into contempt whatever is elevated, or illustrious, or dignified, or sacred in the State; that neither the Throne nor the Altar, the Houses of Legislature, nor the Tribunals of Justice are exempt from deliberate insult and menace. With still greater alarm do we contemplate the effect of those pernicious doctrines which are daily and hourly disseminated through the medium of the press, licentious in principle, and audacious in falsehood, beyond the example of former times, and presented under every guise which can allure and corrupt the ignorant and incautious, perplexing their faith, and destroying the ground work of their moral and political obedience.

To your Majesty's wisdom, and to the great council of the nation we earnestly and confidently look for the correction of these evils, while they are yet capable of remedy.

That the achievements which give lustre to the glorious period of your Majesty's delegated authocity, may be surpassed by the brightest glories of your reign, that the disaffected may be subjected to the control of law, and the adverse reconciled and reclaimed, and that the efforts of every class of your Majesty's subjects may, by your Majesty's gracious encouragement and guidance, be made instrumental to the general good, is our sincere hope and fervent prayer.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Armagh, deem it to be our duty at the present period of public disquiet and alarm, to approach the Throne with a declaration of our unshaken attachment to the person of your Majesty, and our unalterable resolution to uphold, to the farthest extent of our ability, the Laws, Religion, and Government of our country. We regard with sentiments of unfeigned reprobation and regret the daring and systematic efforts that have been made, especially by the means of seditious and inflammatory publications, to diffuse among the people a spirit of discontent, disaffection, and irreligion, that threatens the most serious dangers to the interest of society and the institutions of the State;—but, we cherish a confident persuasion that your Majesty in your wisdom will ever adopt such counsel as will, under Divine Providence, supported by the loyalty, affection, and firmness of the great body of your subjects, succeed in preserving public tranquility, in maintaining the ascendancy of the Laws, and transmitting unimpaired to posterity that invaluable Constitution of Government which has hitherto proved so eminently conducive to the happiness, prosperity, and glory of the nation.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

R. J. Thornton, High Sheriff of the County of Armagh.

Borough of Wilton.

John Hungerford Penruddocke, Esq. in the room of Lord Viscount Fitzharris (now Earl of Malmesbury), one of the Peers of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

Whitehall, February 6, 1821.

The King has been pleased to give and grant unto the Reverend John-Fitz Moore, Clerk, A. M. Vicar of Ivanhoe, in the county of Buckingham, His royal licence and authority that from and after the solemnization of his marriage with Sarah Halsey, widow and relict of Joseph-Thompson Halsey, late of Great Gaddesden, in the county of Hertford, Esq. and only surviving child and heir of Thomas Halsey, sometime of Great Gaddesden aforesaid, Esq. deceased, he may assume and take the surname of Halsey, in addition to and after that of Moore, and bear the arms of Halsey quarterly with his own family arms, and that the said surname and arms of Halsey may be in like manner borne and used by the issue of the said marriage; such arms being first duly exemplified according to the laws of arms, and recorded in the Heralds' Office, otherwise the said royal licence and permission to be void and of none effect:

And also to order, that this His Majesty's concession and declaration be registered in His College of Arms.

No. 17677.

Whitehall, February 6, 1821.

WHEREAS it has been represented to the King, that much malicious mischief has of late been done to ships lying in the River Tyne, by evil disposed persons cutting away the ropes by which such ships were moored, and particularly, that in the night of the 28th ultimo, the towline by which the ship Ann, of South Shields, Mr. Thomas Bell, owner, was moored on the North side of the River Tyne, loaded, was feloniously cut, and about twenty fathoms thereof stolen and carried away by some person or persons unknown;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felony above mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually cut the said towline), who will give such information to Mr. George Potts, Market-place, South-Shields, the Secretary of the Unanimous, Nautical, and Amicable Insurances, as may lead to the conviction of all or any of the depredators, or of the persons buying or receiving the said towline, knowing it to have been stolen. SIDMOUTH.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED GUINEAS is hereby offered by the Committees of the said Insurances, to any person (except as before excepted), who shall give such information to Mr. George Potts aforesaid, as may lead to the conviction.

Navy-Office, January 30, 1821.

CHAPLAINS' BOUNTY.

MONEY being in the hands of the Treasurer of His Majesty's Navy to pay bounty for the year 1820, to such Chaplains of the Royal Navy as are entitled thereto under His Majesty's Order in Council, bearing date the 1st February 1765, 1st February 1784, and 22d October 1802, and who have been entered upon the list by virtue of the papers they have respectively transmitted to this Office; notice is hereby given, that the payment of the same will commence at the Pay-Office, at Somerset-Place, on Monday next the 5th of February, at ten o'clock in the morning. And it is desired that in future, the Chaplains entitled to the bounty will, as soon as it may become due, cause their affidavits to be delivered into this Office, in order to expedite the payment. G. Bellairs and Son), intend to meet on the 27th day of February instant, at the Crown Inn, in Stamford aforesaid, at Eleven o'Clock in the Forenoon, in order to receive further proof of debts under the said Commission; when and where the Creditors who have not already proved their debts, and the claimants who have not already substantiated their claims, are to come and prove or substantiate the same respectively, or in default thereof they will be excluded the benefit of an order made in the matter of the said Bankruptcy by the Right Honourable the Vice Chancellor, dated the 26th May 1818, whereby it was ordered that the several Creditors of the firm of Bellairs, Sons, and Company, who have not already proved their debts under the Commissions issued against the said A. W. Bellairs and James Bellairs, should be at liberty forthwith to come in and prove the same under the said Commissions, or one of them, and should be respectively admitted Creditors for what they should so prove, and whereby it was ordered that a further Dividend should be made to and amongst the several separate Creditors of the said A. W. Bellairs and James Bellairs, and of George Bellairs and C. C. E. Welby respectively; and whereby it was ordered that the Commissioners, or the major part of them named in the said Commissions respectively, should appoint a time and place for receiving proofs of the separate debts of the said Bankrupts respectively, and due notice thereof was to be given in the London Gazette, and such other papers as the said Commissioners should think proper; and whereby it was ordered that the surplus of the said separate estate of the said A. W. Bellairs should be divided amongst the joint Creditors of "Bellairs and Son," "Bellairs, Son and Co.," and "Bellairs, Welby and Co.," rateably, according to the amount of debts proved or thereafter to be proved against the said firms; and that the separate estates of the said James Bellairs should be divided amongst the joint Creditors of the firm of Bellairs and Son, and Bellairs, Sons and Co. according to the amount of the debts proved or thereafter to be proved against the said firms; and that the separate estate of George Bellairs should be divided amongst the Creditors of Bellairs, Sons and Company, and Bellairs, Welby and Co. rateably, according to the amount of the debts proved or thereafter to be proved against the said respective firms; and that the surplus of the separate estate of the said C. C. E. Welby should be divided amongst the Creditors of the said firm of Bellairs, Welby and Company; the said several surpluses to be divided amongst the said respective firms rateably, according to the amount of debts so proved, to be certified by the Commissioners named in the said Commissions respectively: And of another order made in the said Bankruptcy by the Lord Chancellor, dated November 1820, whereby it was ordered that the said order of the 26th day of May 1818, should be altered by directing the Commissioners in the said Commissions named, or the major part of them, forthwith to appoint one or more meeting or meetings as to them should seem expedient for the proof of joint debts under the said Commissions respectively; and that the surplus of the separate estates of the said several Bankrupts respectively, be divided among the joint Creditors of the said several firms in manner directed by the said order, according to the amount of the debts which have been already proved, or which on the day or days so to be appointed by the said Commissioners as aforesaid, shall be proved against the said firms, the amount of such debts to be certified as directed by the said order.
