

riety, may be surpassed by the brightest glories of your reign, that the disaffected may be subjected to the control of law, and the adverse reconciled and reclaimed, and that the efforts of every class of your Majesty's subjects may, by your Majesty's gracious encouragement and guidance, be made instrumental to the general good, is our sincere hope and fervent prayer.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Armagh, deem it to be our duty at the present period of public disquiet and alarm, to approach the Throne with a declaration of our unshaken attachment to the person of your Majesty, and our unalterable resolution to uphold, to the farthest extent of our ability, the Laws, Religion, and Government of our country. We regard with sentiments of unfeigned reprobation and regret the daring and systematic efforts that have been made, especially by the means of seditious and inflammatory publications, to diffuse among the people a spirit of discontent, disaffection, and irreligion, that threatens the most serious dangers to the interest of society and the institutions of the State;—but, we cherish a confident persuasion that your Majesty in your wisdom will ever adopt such counsel as will, under Divine Providence, supported by the loyalty, affection, and firmness of the great body of your subjects, succeed in preserving public tranquility, in maintaining the ascendancy of the Laws, and transmitting unimpaired to posterity that invaluable Constitution of Government which has hitherto proved so eminently conducive to the happiness, prosperity, and glory of the nation.

Signed on behalf of the meeting,

R. J. Thornton, High Sheriff of the County of Armagh.
