Venice, October 20.

SOME Persons who are arriv'd here from Turkey confirm the Accounts we have had of the preparations the Turks are making for War; and assure us, That it is the general opinion of the Foreign Merchants at Constantinople, That the Turks have been long designing a War in Hungary, and that they must be very advantageous Considerations that can be able to divert them from it; That the Proposals which the Imperial Minister at Constantinople has hitherto made, have been little regarded by those Ministers, who if they have at any time appeared in a disposition to a Peace, it has been only to amuse the Emperor, and to make him less zealous in his Preparations for War. Thus these Persons report things; but we would rather believe what is written in some Letters from Vienna, that they have still ground to be persuaded that the Turks are not averse to a Peace, and that it will be prolonged for a good number of years.

Florence, October 20. Our Letters from Turid give us an Account, That the Duke of Savoy is perfectly recovered; and that the Portugal Fleet was gone home, the Duke of Cadaval, and all the Officers of the Fleet, having been very richly presented, and that a Defensive Alliance has been concluded between the most Christian King and the Duke of Savoy, and that in pursuance thereof Quarters have been assign'd for 3000 French Horse in Piedmont. The City of Geneva has made an Alliance with the Swissers; who are to assist them in case they are attack'd, with such number of Forces as the case shall require.

Vienna, October 22. Count Teckeleys Deputies have had a Conference with Chancellor Hocher, and other of the Emperor's Ministers, and to morrow they are to have their Audience of his Imperial Majesty; We do not yet know what Proposals they have made; but whatever they are, many apprehend the chief design of them is to gain time; and to amuse this Court. We have Advice by way of Leopoldstadt that 15000 Turks having with them seven pieces of Cannon, were encamp'd near Gran, and that their design was to attack Lewent or Neutran; and that Count Teckeleys had sent a Courier with Orders to his Deputies here to return home, but that the said Courier had been stop'd by order of the Palatine of Hungary, and his Letters taken from him; which were sent to the Emperor. After many different Reports to certain Count Teckeleys being declared Prince of Hungary, a Person who was at Fillecke when it was taken is arriv'd here, and gives the following account: That after the taking and demolishing of the said Place, the Visir of Buda left in the presence of the Prince of Transylvania; all the Buda; and chief Officers of the Turkish Army, and the most considerable Commanders of the Rebels, caus'd Count Teckeleys to be proclaim'd in the Hungarian Language Prince of Hungary, and after that deliver'd to him a Staff, a Banner, and a very rich Vest, and then declar'd in Turkish. That what he had done was by express Command from the Grand Signior, of whose Protection and Assistance on all occasions he did assure Count Teckeleys; and the same Declaration was afterwards made in the Hungarian Language; which was followed with a discharge of the Cannon, and the shouts and acclamations of the Soldiers; Then the chief Officers of the Rebels came and kiss'd his Hand, and the Solemnity was concluded with a very great and splendid Entertainment.

Francfort, October 29. The Deputies of the Empire meet every day, and the Major part of them press the drawing up an Answer to the Reply of the French Ambassadors; which they made some time since, on the subject of their first Proposals; but the Deputy of Mentz, who is Director of their Assembly, does oppose it; for that it would be to no purpose to spend their time in Disputations concerning the said Reply, since the French Ambassadors have set that matter aside by their late Declaration; to which they now expect a positive Answer; and declare, That for want of it, they will leave this place the latter end of this Month. Our Letters from Strasbourg tell us, That all the Horse that was quartered at Friburg and in Alsace are on their march towards Flanders, either to take their Winter-Quarters there, or for some other design; and that the Fortifications at Strasbourg are carried on with incredible diligence, 8000 Men being daily at work upon them.

Cologne, October 30. The Elector of Cologne has not that we hear of as yet, return'd any Answer to the late Proposition of Monsieur Tambonneau the French Minister, concerning his Electoral Highness's declaring whether he will give the Emperor's Troops Winter-Quarters in case of a Rupture between him and the most Christian King. We are still expecting here the Bishop of Strasbourg, as likewise the Deputies of Liege. From Katibonne they write, That the States of the Empire assembled there, had before them the Declaration lately made by the French Ambassadors at Francfort, but it being a matter of great importance it was believed the Term would expire, before they would be able to take any final Resolution upon it. Our last Letters from Vienna do not encourage us to expect any great matter from the Negotiation of Count Teckeleys Deputies, who are lookt upon not to have any real intention to bring things to a Composition.

Hamburg, October 28. There is at present nothing more said of the march of the Danish Troops towards Holslein, and it's hop'd the endeavours of the Dukes of Lunenbourg have been so successful as to put the differences between the King of Denmark and
