Stockholm, Octob. 21.

THE States of this Kingdom have been assembled for several days, and in our next we may tell you what resolutions they have taken upon the Proposition made to them in the Kings name, the substance of which was, That the King thought it necessary, in the present conjuncture, to increase his Forces both by Sea and Land, especially considering his Territories lay so distant from each other, and desired to be supplied by them for that purpose. The Deputies that are here from Liefland have obtained leave to return home.

Vienna, Octob. 22. On Sunday last arrived here a Courier with Letters dated the fourth of the last Month at Constantinople, which give an account, That the Grand-Signior, through the persuasion of the Grand-Vizier, had absolutely resolved on a War against the Emperor; That accordingly great preparations were making against Spring, and the Troops ordered to march to Greicks Weissenbourg, the place of their Rendezvous. Upon which advice the Emperor has resolved likewise to prepare for War, and to raise six new Regiments with all possible speed; and the Margrave of Baden, President of the Council of War, will go hence in few days for Raab, to see that place be in a good posture of defence: and Count Martinitz, whom the Emperor is sending to the Pope and the Princes of Italy to demand assistance against the Turks, is hastening away. In the mean time we understand that by mutual consent Hostilities do cease between the Rebels and the Imperialists, and that they will continue so to do as long as Count Teckley's Deputies are here, or at least till the Emperor has given his final Answer upon their Proposals. Count Teckley is retired with his Forces, and the Berg-Towns are now again in the possession of the Imperialists. It is reported here that the Emperor's Minister in Poland, having intercepted several Letters which the Abbot Vergne, who is said to be an Agent for the French, was sending to Count Teckley and the Prince of Transilvania, he had presented them to the King of Poland, who had thereupon commanded the said Abbot Vergne immediately to depart the Kingdom. And we are likewise told that the Emperor has caused Copies of these intercepted Letters to be sent to his Ambassadors at Frankfort, and to the Dyet at Ratisbonne. The Marquis de Sepeville, the French Envoy, makes very pressing Instances, That one of his Domesticks, who was some time since Imprisoned by the Emperor's Order, being charged with holding correspondence in Hungary, may be restored to his liberty, and declares, That the Secretary of Coun-

Mansfeldt, who has by reprisal been made a Prisoner at Paris, must expect the same treatment that is used to his said Domestick here.

Zell, Nov. 3. Preparations are making here against the Marriage of the Prince of Hanouer with the Princess of Zell, which will be solemnized, as we are informed, about a fortnight hence, but the particular day is not yet set. We have advice, that the Danes do threaten the Country people in Holstein with Military Execution, in case they do not pay the Contributions they demand within a certain time; and that on the other side the Duke of Holstein has absolutely forbid his Subjects to pay the said Contributions. This is a matter that our Duke and the Duke of Hanouer are concerned in; and it's said that they will send some of their Troops to protect the Subjects of the Duke of Holstein, if the Danes do proceed to the said execution. At the same time we are informed that several Brandenburg Troops are on their march, with design to hinder the Lunenbourg Troops from taking their Winter-quarters in the Country of Mecklenburg which have been assigned them by the Emperor.

Frankfort, Nov. 4. The Deputies of the Empire meet every day, but have not as yet taken any resolution upon the late Declaration of the French Ambassadors. It is said that in their last Assembly the Deputy of Bavaria proposed, that instances should be made to the French Ambassadors for the obtaining a prolongation of the Term, which expires the 22 of this Month, and that he was succeeded therein by other Deputies. In the mean time the French Ambassadors are preparing to leave this place, and some of the Furniture of their House is already taken down, they declaring that their Orders oblige them to depart from hence before the end of this Month, in case they receive not a satisfactory Answer upon their said Declaration. According to the Advices we receive from Hungary we can expect nothing but a War on that side; Yesterday arrived here part of the Baggage, with some of the Servants of the Bishop of Strasbourg, who is himself expected here to morrow or next day in his way to Cologne.

Hamburg, Nov. 3. We hear the Danes have begun to raise the Contributions they demand in Holstein, and that the Lunenbourg Troops are thereupon in motion, and we fear the Consequences this Affair may have, seeing the Neighbouring Princes do concern themselves therein, and particularly the Dukes of Lunenbourg, who have promised the Duke of Holstein their Protection. At Gluckstadt the Danes have fitted out three small Frigates, which they design to make use of for the hindring the Lunenbourg Troops from passing the Elbe, in case they shall attempt it. From Sweden they write, That that King had proposed to the States that are now assembled at Stockholm, the increasing his Forces by Land and Sea, which his Majesty thinks to be absolutely olutely necessary in this conjuncture, for the security of his Foreign Dominions.

Cologne, Nov. 6. The Bishop of Strasburg is expected here this evening, and part of the Garrison is ordered to be drawn out to receive him. Two days since passed by this place by water Monsieur d'Agusto, Maître de Camp General of the Forces in the Spanish Netherlands coming from Luxemburg; he went aloft at Nau, where a Convoy of about 20 Hoise attended him; and as we understand is gone to visit the Garisons in Gelderland and Limburg. From Ratibonne they write, that the City of Hamburg has made application to the Dyet, that they would write to the King of Spain on their behalf, to the end the Arrest that is laid upon their Goods in Spain, may be taken off.

Hague, Novem. 7. The Sieur Diest, Envoy from the Elector of Brandenburg, has presented a Memorial to the States-General, by which he demands the restitution of a Ship belonging to his Elector. I Highness, that was some time since taken on the Coast of Guinea by the Ships of our West-India Company. We have Advice from Cadix, that Rear-Admiral Vander Putten (who meeting, the 27th of July, with the French Fleet on the Coast of Barbary, was stoped by their Admiral, because he was bound for Argiers) after having been detained five Weeks by the Sieur du Quesne, was at last permitted to pursue his Voyage, and that arriving at Argiers the second of September, he had with much trouble and difficulty redeemed as many Captives as the Moneys he had would reach to; and that the 17th of September he parted again from Argiers for Cadix. The Deputies of this Province, and those of Zealand, continue their Conferences for the adjusting the differences between the two Provinces.

Falmouth, Octob. 31. Here is arrived the Bachelor of London, John Smith Master, in 13 weeks from Famaica. The day before she came out, Captain Banister, with three other Merchant Ships bound for London, set sail. Here are several Vessels in Port bound for France.

Bristol, Octob. 30. The Loyal young Addressers of this City, to shew their Zeal and Affection for the Government, met on Thursday the 26th Instant at the Guild-hall, and with their President, Thomas Sheridan Esq. marched to St. Thomas's Church, through the principal Streets, with the City Trumpets before them, and Scarlet Ribbons in their Hats, Imprinted Rex & Heredes, (in opposition to the late factious Blew, and former Green Marks of the Kings head and other Antimonarchical Clubs) being honoured and encouraged with the presence of the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs, Common-Council, and chief of the Citizens and Gentry of the Neighbourhood. Having heard an excellent Sermon Preached by Mr. Thompson, they returned in the same order to the Guild-hall, where was prepared a very good Dinner; at which, Drinking the King's, Duke's, and the rest of the Royal family's Healths, with Musick and the usual Acclamations, they parted about four or five in the Afternoon, in good order, to their own homes; with Resolutions of keeping up yearly their custom, as a very good Anti-Association and Nursery of Loyalty.

These are to give notice, That there goes a Post every day (to and fro) betwixt London and Bristol, at which places all Letters will be constantly delivered the same days they arrive, as also at all the stages upon the Road. (viz.) Hounslow, Windlor, Maidenhead, Reading, Newberry, Marlborough, Calne, Chippenham, Bath, and all other places near any of the said Stages. And for the convenience of such in London, who live remote from the general Post-Office in Lumbar-d-street, the Letter-Receiver, appointed by His Majesties Post-Master-General, in the several places in and about London and Westminster, are as follow, (viz.)

Mr Lucey, next the Sun-Tavern in Kingstreet, Westminster; Mr Nort, at the Queens-Arms in the Pall Mall; Mr Partridge, next door to the Rummer, by Charing-Cross; Mr Leatham againk Northumberland house; Mr Dormer, at the Golden-Cock in Panton street; Mr Bentley in Russel-street; Mr Kunholt, at the Kings head by Charing-Cross; Mrs. Roberts, in Hungerford buildings; Mr. Lloyd, at Salisbury-Exchange Gate; Mrs. Groene, at the Inner-Temple Gate; Mr. Harrison, at Lincolns-Inn Gate; Mr. Thatcher, at Grays-Inn Gate; Mr. Place, at Furnifals Inn Gate; Mr. Games, in Charter-house Yard; and Mr. Powl, at the three Tobacco-Rolls, at the Corner of King-street in Bloomsbury; Who are appointed to bring all Letters which they shall so receive to the said General Office, precisely at ten a Clock every Night.
