The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Wednesday, July 11, 1821.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

WE have it in command from His Majesty to inform you, that the state of public business having enabled Him to dispense with your attendance in Parliament, He has determined to put an end to this session.

His Majesty, however, cannot close it without expressing his satisfaction at the zeal and assiduity with which you have prosecuted the laborious and important enquiries in which you have been engaged.

He has observed, with particular pleasure, the facility with which the restoration of a metallic currency has been effected by the authority given to the Bank of England to commence its payments in cash at an earlier period than had been determined by the last Parliament.

His Majesty has commanded us to acquaint you, that He continues to receive from Foreign Powers the strongest assurances of their friendly disposition towards this country.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

We are commanded by His Majesty to return you His thanks for the provision which you have made for the public service.

Although the public expenditure has already undergone considerable reduction within the present year, His Majesty trusts He shall be enabled by the continuance of peace, and of internal tranquillity, to make such further reductions, as may satisfy the just expectations expressed by Parliament.

His Majesty has commanded us to assure you of the gratification which He has derived from the provision which you have made for His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is with the greatest satisfaction that His Majesty has observed the quiet and good order which continue to prevail in those parts of the country which were not long since in a state of agitation.

His Majesty deeply laments the distress to which the agricultural interests, in many parts of the kingdom, are still subject.

It will be His Majesty's most anxious desire, by a strict attention to public economy, to do all that depends upon Him for the relief of the country from its present difficulties; but you cannot fail to be sensible that the success of all efforts for this purpose will mainly depend upon the continuance of domestic tranquillity; and His Majesty confidently relies on your utmost exertions, in your several counties, in enforcing obedience to the laws, and in promoting harmony and concord amongst all descriptions of His Majesty's subjects.

Then a commission for proroguing the Parliament was read. After which the Lord Chancellor said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of His Majesty's commission under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in His Majesty's name, and in obedience to His commands, prorogue this Parliament to Thursday the 20th day of September next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the 20th day of September next.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented to the King, that, between one and two o'clock in the morning of the 7th of June last, a great body of men, to the number of about two hundred, armed with guns, pistols, and other offensive weapons, feloniously assembled on the sea shore, in Eastware Bay, near the town of Folkestone, in the county of Kent, in order to be aiding and assisting in the illegal running, landing, and carrying away of uncustomed goods; and that some of the persons so assembled discharged loaded fire-arms at certain Officers and seamen of His Majesty's ship Severn, who were there on their duty in the protection of the revenue, whereby Richard Wooldridge, Quartermaster of the said ship, was killed, and Lieutenant David Peat, and Robert Hunter and John Walker, seamen, were wounded; and upon an inquisition since taken on the body of the said Richard Wooldridge, a verdict of wilful murder hath been found against persons unknown;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in this felony and murder, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of the persons so assembled (except those who actually fired at and wounded the said Richard Wooldridge, or any of the officers and seamen above named), who shall make a full discovery of his accomplices there-

There will be three Towers on Great Newtown Head, and two on Brownstown Head, which, with the present Light-house of Hook Tower, will distinctly point out those prominent points of the coast.
