SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Nottingham.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, grateful for the blessings we enjoy under your Paternal Government, beg leave to offer our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's Coronation.

And permit us, Sire, at the same time to present our most fervent wishes, that neither the malice of foreign foes, nor the restless ambition of intestine enemies may interrupt the peaceful auspices under which your reign commences; that the valour which has saved may never be wanting to defend the British shores, and that the wisdom which has crushed the vile spirit of sedition may never cease to inspire the measures of your Majesty's Councils.

Sire, may the great and glorious example of your Royal Father, our late beloved Monarch, continue to influence your every action, that so, "the high Authority with which you are invested," may be only exercised to the good of your subjects, to the safety, honour and welfare of your sacred Majesty, and to the maintenance of true religion.

Most gracious Sovereign, may the brightest blessings of Heaven be poured upon you, may your days be long and happy, and your present Diadem only be exchanged for one unsullied and eternal.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the undersigned, Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry and other Inhabitants of Sunderland, Bishop-Wearmouth, Monk-Wearmouth, and their Vicinity, most cordially avail ourselves of an auspicious occasion to renew our sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We join, Sire, in the acclamations of an united kingdom at the inauguration of a lawful and revered Sovereign to His hereditary title and prerogatives, and at the public recognition of a sacred obligation in your Majesty, to maintain the laws of God, the established Constitution of our Church, and the rights, privileges and customs of a free people.

We derive satisfaction from the reflection that the period which has intervened between the time at which your Majesty began to administer the Government of this kingdom, and that on which you publicly assume your Imperial Crown, has served to draw forth abundant proofs of that justice, moderation and firmness which constitute the most essential dignity of the Royal character, and establish in the minds of your subjects the surest grounds of confidence, in the wisdom of your Majesty's conduct and councils.

We implore the Almighty, that your Majesty may long continue to experience the fidelity of a grateful nation, to receive in the respect and amity of your Illustrious Allies, the assurance of the continuance of that peace which has been purchased by so many victories, and to promote, by the equity and vigour of your Government, the happiness and welfare of a dutiful and affectionate people,

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Ladies and Gentlemen of Stonehaven, publicly assembled to celebrate your Majesty's Coronation, beg leave respectfully to approach your Majesty with an ardent expression of our fidelity and attachment.

Governed by laws which command the admiration of the world, we felicitate ourselves in seeing them upheld by an Illustrious Prince whom we honour, as well for His mild and paternal sway, as for that enlightened policy which, in the day of trial, confirmed the independence and increased the glory of the nation.

We humbly offer our sincere congratulations on the occasion of the August Solemnity in which your Majesty is this day engaged; we hail it with joy and gratitude as a sacred proof of the Constitutional principles which actuate your Majesty, and regulate the measures of your Government. And we earnestly pray that your Majesty may be long preserved to adorn the Throne of these realms, and to wield the Sceptre over a loyal, a free and a happy people.

Signed by us, at Stonehaven, the 19th of July 1821.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the St. John's Lodge of Free Masons, in Beith, Ayrshire, Scotland.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Master, Wardens and Brethren of the St. John's Lodge of Free Masons, in Beith, holding of the Grand Lodge of Scotland, humbly request permission to approach your Majesty with the most sincere expressions of that attachment and loyalty for which our ancient and respectable Order has ever been distinguished.

We congratulate your Majesty on your happy Coronation as the Sovereign of this Great Empire, and we rejoice to see upon the Throne the Royal Patron of Free Masons, under whose auspicious care our Order has been greatly raised in respectability, and increased in numbers. We are deeply sensible of the kind protection given us by the laws, and we are well assured that under your Majesty's reign this protection will be graciously continued.

That your Majesty's reign may be long and prosperous, that your Majesty and your Illustrious House may long be the Guardians and Protectors of the laws and liberties of these realms, and maintain unimpaired that ancient freedom, which at once renders us the happiest subjects, and your Majesty the most powerful Monarch in the world, and that under your Majesty's reign, Free Masonry may flourish, will continue to be the sincere and constant prayer of our hearts.

Signed by appointment, and in our presence, in full Lodge assembled, at Beith, this 19th day of July 1821.

Jas Dobie, Master of B. St. John's.

[Transmitted by the Master.]

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects, Members of the Presbytery of Cupar, beg leave to approach the Throne and to congratulate your Majesty on the auspicious occasion of your Majesty's Coronation. As Members of the Church of Scotland we possess a hereditary right of loyalty towards a Protestant Prince; and as successors in office to those very men who so eminently and decidedly contributed to that happy settlement which established your Forefathers on a British Throne, we trust that your Majesty will graciously condescend to pardon us for claiming an additional share of exultation on this happy day.

We rejoice in the opportunity which we now possess, in a season of patriotic and loyal feeling, of humbly and respectfully addressing the illustrious Descendant of the House of Brunswick, and the Son of a Monarch sincerely and ardently beloved, upon your solemn investiture with that crown which is not less truly yours by the right of inheritance than by all which can render such possession valuable, the grateful and heartfelt benediction of a free and of a happy people.

That your Majesty may enjoy a long and prosperous reign, and may pursue such measures as may secure to us and to the nation at large that honourable and distinguished character which, as subjects of your Majesty's government, we at present enjoy, and that Almighty God; by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, may endue you with true wisdom, and crown you with every temporal mercy, and with every spiritual blessing, is the sincere and fervent prayer of your Majesty's most loyal and affectionate subjects, the Ministers of the Presbytery of Cupar. William Thomson, Moderator. Cupar, 19th July 1821.

[Transmitted by the Rev. Alexander Lawton, Minister of Creich.]

Unto His Most Excellent Majesty, George the Fourth, King of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Provincial Synod of Glenelg, in Synod assembled, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty's presence impressed with the warmest sentiments of unfeigned loyalty, fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Person, Family and Government: and, on a day which must be peculiarly interesting to your Majesty and to all the inhabitants of this realm, to express our cordial participation in the universal joy which the great national event, now in the course of taking place, is calculated to inspire.

Our fervent prayer to Almighty God is, that "He by whom Kings reign and Princes decree judgment," will render in every way propitious that solemn and religious ceremony by which your Majesty is this day consecrated to the sacred duties of your Kingly office! May the Throne which you now fill be ever established in righteousness! May the Crown which you now wear continue long to adorn your brow and derive its brightest lustre from the splendour of your princely virtues: and the Sceptre which you now grasp may you long live to sway with dignity and honour, and with justice tempered by mercy, over a free, happy and affectionate people!

May the same love of liberty, the same regard for the public weal, the same reverence for the laws, and the same zeal for the advancement of the true glory of Britain which have hitherto distinguished the exercise of your delegated and sovereign power, secure the happiness of your subjects during the whole of your future reign! And may the same magnanimity in counsel, the same coolness in deliberation, the same firmness in action, the same perseverance in difficult circumstances, the same fortitude under unavoidable sufferings, the same enthusiasm of patriotic feeling, and the same brilliant success—the accumulated effect of all—by which Great Britain has been raised to so eminent a rank in the scale of nations, continue to the latest hour of your Majesty's reign, the subject of your Royal exaltation and praise! And when your Majesty shall at length be called to wear a brighter crown, may you hand down the earthly one which you have this day received, with honours unimpaired, to a long line of glorious Monarchs from the same illustrious Family of Brunswick!

It is with unmingled satisfaction that we are able to assure your Majesty that in the extensive and populous district in which our labours are employed, the sentiments which we have thus presumed to convey to your Royal ear are universally cherished, and with peculiar delight; not merely as arising out of the indispensable obligation of inspired commands, but also as they are habitually connected in the minds of the people with all the pleasing associations of your Majesty's paternal care and munificent bounty in sending the light of the glorious gospel and the means of moral and intellectual improvement to these distant regions of your dominions.

Permit us, gracious Sovereign, to add that we shall always esteem it our highest delight, as it is our indispensable duty, to inculcate the principles of true loyalty, as well as of pure and undefiled religion, on the people committed to our care: and while we instruct them how they ought to "fear God," to press home upon them also the concomitant precept of honouring the King.

Signed at Broadford, this 19th day of July 1821, in our name and presence, and by our desire, by John Mackenzie, Moderator.
