SATURDAY, AUGUST 4, 1821.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to Viscount Sidmouth, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by His Lordship to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Address of the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Nottingham.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, grateful for the blessings we enjoy under your Paternal Government, beg leave to offer our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's Coronation.

And permit us, Sire, at the same time to present our most fervent wishes, that neither the malice of foreign foes, nor the restless ambition of intestine enemies may interrupt the peaceful auspices under which your reign commences; that the valour which has saved may never be wanting to defend the British shores, and that the wisdom which has crushed the vile spirit of sedition may never cease to inspire the measures of your Majesty's Councils.

Sire, may the great and glorious example of your Royal Father, our late beloved Monarch, continue to influence your every action, that so, "the high Authority with which you are invested," may be only exercised to the good of your subjects, to the safety, honour and welfare of your sacred Majesty, and to the maintenance of true religion.

Most gracious Sovereign, may the brightest blessings of Heaven be poured upon you, may your days be long and happy, and your present Diadem only be exchanged for one unsullied and eternal.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the undersigned, Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry and other Inhabitants of Sunderland, Bishop-Wearmouth, Monk-Wearmouth, and their Vicinity, most cordially avail ourselves of an auspicious occasion to renew our sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

We join, Sire, in the acclamations of an united kingdom at the inauguration of a lawful and revered Sovereign to His hereditary title and prerogatives, and at the public recognition of a sacred obligation in your Majesty, to maintain the laws of God, the established Constitution of our Church, and the rights, privileges and customs of a free people.

We derive satisfaction from the reflection that the period which has intervened between the time at which your Majesty began to administer the Government of this kingdom, and that on which you publicly assume your Imperial Crown, has served to draw forth abundant proofs of that justice, moderation and firmness which constitute the most essential dignity of the Royal character, and establish in the minds of your subjects the surest grounds of confidence, in the wisdom of your Majesty's conduct and councils.

We implore the Almighty, that your Majesty may long continue to experience the fidelity of a grateful nation, to receive in the respect and amity of your Illustrious Allies, the assurance of the continuance of that peace which has been purchased by so many victories, and to promote, by the equity and vigour of your Government, the happiness and welfare of a dutiful and affectionate people,

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Ladies and Gentlemen of Stonehaven, publicly assembled to celebrate your Majesty's Coronation, beg leave respectfully to approach your Majesty with an ardent expression of our fidelity and attachment.

Governed by laws which command the admiration of the world, we felicitate ourselves in seeing them upheld by an Illustrious Prince whom we honour,
