TUESDAY, JULY 23, 1822.

At the Court at Carlton-House, July 22, 1822.

A CHAPTER of the Most Noble Order of the Garter having been summoned for this day, the Knights Companions, in their mantles and collars, with the Officers of the Order hereafter mentioned, in their mantles, chains, and badges, attended the Sovereign in his own apartment soon after three o'clock; and, being called over by Garter Principal King of Arms, a procession was made to the Chapter-Room in the following order, the Prelate and Garter going no further than the door, not having been sworn:

Earl Bathurst.

Marquess of Londonderry. Earl of Liverpool.

Duke of Wellington.

Duke of Montrose.

Earl of Winchilsea.

Duke of Beaufort.

Earl of Westmorland. Marquess of Salisbury.

His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Sir Thos. Tyrwhitt, Knt. Sir George Nayler, Knt.
Gentleman Usher of Garter Principal King
the Black Rod. of Arms.

The Lord Bishop of Salisbury, Chancellor of the Order. The Lord Bishop of Winchester, Prelate of the Order.

THE SOVEREIGN.

The Sovereign and the Knights Companions being seated, Black Rod acquainted the Sovereign that Sir George Nayler, Knt. Garter Principal King of Arms, attended at the door, and humbly prayed to be admitted to take the oath of office, as Chief Officer of Arms of this Most Noble Order: and Garter, in his mantle, and wearing the chain and badge of his office (with which he had been invested by His Majesty on the 10th day of May last), being, by His Majesty's command, introduced by Black Rod, and kneeling near the Sovereign, the oath was administered to him by the Chancellor, Black Rod holding the book. Garter, rising, made his obeisance to the Sovereign, and having had the honour to kiss His Majesty's hand, withdrew to his place at the bottom of the table.

The Chancellor then acquainted the Sovereign that the Right Reverend Father in God Dr. George Tomline, Lord Bishop of Winchester, attended at the door, and humbly besought His Majesty that he might be admitted to take the oath of Prelate of this Most Noble Order, as enjoined by the statutes: whereupon the Bishop, in his mantle, and wearing his chain and badge (with which his Lordship had been previously invested by His Majesty), being, by the Sovereign's command, introduced between Garter and Black Rod, was conducted to His Majesty, and kneeling, the oath of office was administered to him by the Chancellor, Garter holding the book. The Prelate, rising, had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and retired to his place on the right hand of His Majesty.

The Chancellor, standing in his place on the left hand of His Majesty, then signified to the Chapter the Sovereign's royal will and pleasure, that the vacant stall in the Royal Chapel of Saint George at Windsor he filled.

The suffrages were thereupon collected by the Chancellor (beginning with the Junior Knight Companion), and, by him, presented to the Sovereign, who was pleased to command his Lordship to declare, and he accordingly declared, that the Most Honourable George-James Marquess of Cholmondeley had been duly elected a Knight of the Most Noble Order of the Garter.

Then, by the Sovereign's command, the Marquess (being already a Knight) was received at the door of the Chapter-Room by the Marquess of Londonderry and the Earl Bathurst, the two Junior Knights Companions present, and con-
