TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1822.

THE following Address, having been delivered to the Right Honourable Robert Peel, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has been presented by him to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Vicar, Parochial Officers and others, Inhabitants of the Town of Greenwich, in the County of Kent, beg permission to approach your sacred Person, with the expression of our sentiments of unfeigned attachment, respect and loyalty.

Fully appreciating the blessings of the paternal Government under which we live, in the mild and equal administration of the laws, by which our rights, our properties and our liberties are so amply secured to us, we are bound as well by interest, as by duty and inclination, to pray for your Majesty's long and peaceful enjoyment of the Throne of these Realms.

We anxiously hope, that the royal visit to Scotland has been as productive of personal gratification to your Majesty, as it must have been delightful and animating to our northern fellow subjects; and we highly value the honour conferred upon our Town by your Majesty's gracious presence; it is our heartfelt wish and prayer, that the sceptre of the British dominions may long be swayed by your Majesty, the best assurance we can desire for the continuance of our national happiness and prosperity.

George Matthew, Vicar, Chairman of the Meeting.

THOMAS BRUNTON'S PATENT FOR HIS INVENTION OF CERTAIN IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF MAKING OR MANUFACTURING OF SHIPS ANCHORS AND WINDLASSES, AND CHAIN CABLES OR MOORINGS.

NOTICE is hereby given, that Thomas Brunton, of America-square, in the city of London, and of the Commercial-road, in the county of Middlesex, chain-cable-maker, intends to present a petition to Parliament, in the next ensuing Session, for leave to bring in a Bill for confirming to him the said Thomas Brunton, his executors, administrators, and assigns, during the remainder of the term granted by certain letters patent herein-after mentioned, the sole and exclusive right of making, using, exercising, and vending, within England, Wales, and Berwick-upon-Tweed, of certain improved chain cables or moorings invented by him, in such and the same manner as if such letters patent had been granted for the sole and exclusive right to make, use, exercise, and vend such chain cables or moorings only, and had not embraced the ships anchors and windlasses therein mentioned, or either of them, which said letters patent were granted to the said Thomas Brunton under the Great Seal of Great Britain, bearing date on or about the 26th day of March 1813, for the term of fourteen years from the date of the said letters patent, for his invention of certain improvements in the construction of making or manufacturing of ships anchors and windlasses, and chain cables or moorings, and the following statement contains a distinct description of the said improved chain cables or moorings for which the said letters patent were obtained, that is to say, the said improved chain cables or moorings are composed of links somewhat of an oval or elliptical shape, not twisted but flat, so that any one of such links taken separately would lie between two parallel planes, whose distance from each other did not, but in a very trifling degree, exceed the diameter of the round iron bar of which the link was made; into each link of the said chain and across the middle thereof an iron stay or stretcher is introduced, so as to prevent the sides of the links from collapsing, or being drawn together by any tension, to which the cable might be exposed; both ends of the said stays are made broad and hollowed out so as to apply themselves to and embrace a considerable portion of the internal curved surfaces of the opposite sides of each link; the breadth of the middle part of the said stays (when measured in the direction of the length of the link) is such as to leave sufficient room on each side of the stay for the introduction of one link into another, and so as to admit every link to move or play freely in the order with which it is connected.
