SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1823.

At the Court at Carlton-House, the 21st of February 1823,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS His Majesty was pleased, by His Order in Council, bearing date the fifteenth November last, to order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's service) should, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the thirtieth day of November then instant), presume to transport any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place within the dominions of the King of Spain, or to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Streights of Gibraltar), or in the West Indies, or on any part of the Continent of America (except to a port or place, or ports or places in His Majesty's territories or possessions on the Continent of North America, or in the territories of the United States of America), or ship or lade any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places within the dominions of the King of Spain, or into any such port or place on the Coast of Africa (except as above excepted), or in the West Indies, or on the Continent of America (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty, or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Second, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gunpowder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gum-powder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His late Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council;" His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased hereby to revoke His said Order in Council; and His Majesty is further pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's Service), do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the date of this Order), presume to transport any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Streights of Gibraltar) or ship or lade any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa (except as before excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf, first obtained from His Majesty or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Second, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gun-powder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gun-powder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His late Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled " An Act to enable His Majesty to " restrain the exportation of naval stores, and " more effectually to prevent the exportation of " salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohi- " bited by Proclamation or Order in Council ;

And the Right Honourable the Lords Com- missioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Com- missioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain. Jas. Buller Westminster, February 27, 1823.

THIS day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Com- mons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorised by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by His Majesty, for declaring His Royal Assent to an Act agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honour- able House in the House of Peers to hear the Com- mission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Arch- bishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Act, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act to indemnify such persons in the United Kingdom, as have omitted to qualify themselves for offices and employments, and for extending the time limited for those purposes respectively, until the twenty-fifth day of March one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four, to permit such persons in Great Britain, as have omitted to make and file affidavits of the execution of indentures of clerks to attornies and solicitors, to make and file the same on or before the first day of Hilary Term one thousand eight hundred and twenty-four, and to allow persons to make and file such affidavits, although the persons whom they served shall have neglected to take out their annual certificates.

The Lord Chancellor has appointed John Mason Guest, of Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, Gent. to be a Master Extraordinary in the High Court of Chancery.

Whitehall, February 25, 1823.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that, on the morning of Thursday the 13th instant, a horse, the property of Lord Stowell, and used by Thomas Knapp, his Lordship's game-keeper, was found lying in the Park at Stowell, in the county of Gloucester, shot, supposed to be by the act of some evil-disposed person or persons unknown; and that, in the course of the same day, an anonymous threatening letter was found and delivered to Daniel Glover, his Lordship's woodward at Stowell aforesaid, for whom it was intended, addressed as follows:

"Mr. Randall, please to give this to Jack Glover, to take to his rogue of a father."

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felonies above mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually shot the said horse, and the person or persons who actually wrote the said letter), who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

ROBERT PEEL.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of FIFTY POUNDS is hereby offered by the said Lord Stowell to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the offender or offenders in each of the above mentioned offences, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

Whitehall, February 25, 1823.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that, in the night of Wednesday the 12th instant, some evil-disposed person or persons did wilfully and maliciously set on fire a hay stack belonging to and standing near the dwelling-house of John Peachy, Esq. at Rumboldshyke, in the county of Sussex;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felony above mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually set the said stack on fire), who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein; so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

ROBERT PEEL.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED GUINEAS is hereby offered by the said John Peachy to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the said offender or offenders, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted of the said offence.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that this is crucial for the company's financial health and for providing reliable information to stakeholders. The text notes that without proper record-keeping, the company would be unable to track its performance over time and identify areas for improvement.

2. The second part of the document outlines the specific procedures for recording transactions. It details the steps involved in the accounting process, from identifying a transaction to recording it in the appropriate ledger. The text also discusses the importance of using standardized accounting principles and practices to ensure consistency and comparability of the data.

3. The third part of the document addresses the challenges of record-keeping and offers solutions to these problems. It highlights the need for a robust internal control system and the importance of regular audits to detect and prevent errors. The text also discusses the role of technology in streamlining the accounting process and reducing the risk of fraud.

4. The fourth part of the document provides a summary of the key points discussed in the previous sections. It reiterates the importance of accurate record-keeping and the need for a strong internal control system. The text also offers some final thoughts on the future of accounting and the role of accountants in the business world.

5. The fifth part of the document is a conclusion that summarizes the main findings of the study. It states that accurate record-keeping is essential for the success of any business and that a strong internal control system is necessary to ensure the integrity of the financial data. The text also offers some recommendations for further research and for the implementation of the findings.

6. The sixth part of the document is a list of references that includes all the sources cited in the text. It provides the full names of the authors, the titles of the articles, and the names of the journals or books where they were published. This section is important for allowing readers to locate the original sources of the information used in the document.

7. The seventh part of the document is an appendix that contains additional information that is not included in the main text. This may include tables of data, charts, or other visual aids that help to illustrate the points made in the document. The appendix is an important part of the document as it provides a more detailed look at the data and analysis used in the study.
