NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Majesty's writ of ad quod damnum has issued to the Sheriff of the county of Southampton in words following:

“George the fourth, by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, to the Sheriff of the county of Southampton, greeting: We command you that, by the oath of honest and lawful men of your county, by whom the truth of the matter may be best known, you diligently inquire whether or no it will be to the damage or prejudice of us, or any other, if we should grant to George Ward of Northwood Park, in the Isle of Wight, in the county of Southampton, Esquire, licence to inclose certain parts of a certain harbour, or King's highway, called Cowes Harbour, or Newport, or the Medina River, adjoining to certain hereditaments and property of the said George Ward, called, respectively, the Fountain Inn and the Dolphin Inn, at West Cowes, in the Isle of Wight, and situate between high and low water-mark, and to erect and build a wharf, or quay, and other erections, on the land so to be inclosed, so that the said George Ward may hold the same so inclosed, to him and his heirs for ever; and if it will be to the damage or prejudice of us, or any other, then to what damage or to what prejudice of us, and to what damage or to what prejudice of any other, and of whom, and how and in what manner, and that you return the inquisition thereof distinctly and plainly made, without delay, into our Chancery, under your seal and the seals of those by whom it shall be taken, together with this writ.—Witness ourself, at Westminster, the 18th day of June, in the fourth year of our reign. Welfitt.”

And notice is hereby farther given, that the Sheriff of the county aforesaid will proceed to execute the said writ, and to take the inquisition thereon, at the house of Elizabeth Perress, called or known by the name or sign of the Green Dragon Inn, situate in Pyle-Street, in the borough of Newport, in the Isle of Wight, in the said county of Southampton, on Monday the 21st day of July 1823, at the hour of twelve at noon, at which place and time all persons interested are required to give their attendance.—Dated this 27th day of June, 1823.

W. Hearn, Attorney for the said George Ward.
