And it is hereby further ordered, that notwithstanding the ships and vessels arriving or to arrive from any port or place on the western coast of Africa, or from the Island of Ascension, may not be found liable to the performance of quarantine as above directed, no goods, wares, or merchandise enumerated in the first class of His Majesty's said Order in Council, bearing date the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, concerning quarantine, which may be imported in any of the said ships from any port or place on the western coast of Africa, or from the Island of Ascension, nor any packages of good, which packages may consist wholly or in part of any of the said articles so enumerated, be suffered to be landed or brought on shore, but shall be taken out of the ships and vessels importing the same, and sent to the usual place appointed for the performance of quarantine, and be there opened and aired for the space of fifteen days, as directed by His Majesty's said Order in Council of the fifth of April one thousand eight hundred and five, sec. 13, with respect to goods, wares, and merchandises coming from or through the Mediterranean, or from the West Barbary, on the Atlantic Ocean:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the Office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General, and the rest of the principal Officers of the Ordnance, His Majesty's Secretary at War, and the Governors and Commanders in Chief, for the time being, of the said Isles of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, Sack, and Man, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-seventh year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third (chapter 1), intituled "An Act to continue and extend the provisions of an Act of the forty-ninth year of His present Majesty, for regulating the trade and commerce to and from the Cape of Good Hope, until the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty; and also for regulating the trade of the Island of Mauritius" (which said Act has since been continued by an Act passed in the first year of His present Majesty), His Majesty is authorised, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to give such directions, and to make such regulations touching the trade and commerce to and from any islands, colonies, or places, and the territories and dependencies thereof, to His Majesty belonging or in His possession, in Africa, or Asia to the eastward of the Cape of Good Hope, excepting only the possessions of the East India Company, as to His Majesty in Council shall appear most expedient and salutary, any thing contained in an Act, passed in the twelfth year of the reign of His Majesty King Charles the Second, intituled "An Act for the encouraging an increasing of shipping and navigation;" or in an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for preventing frauds and regulating abuses in the plantation trade," or any other Act or Acts of Parliament now in force relating to His Majesty's colonies and plantations; or any other Act or Acts of Parliament, law, usage, or custom to the contrary, in anywise notwithstanding; His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that from and after the date of this present Order, British vessels arriving at any port of the Island of Ceylon, from any country in amity with His Majesty, laden with any articles of the growth, production, or manufacture of such country (excepting all articles composed of cotton, iron, steel, or wool of foreign manufacture,) shall be permitted to enter and land their cargoes, and dispose of the same in the said ports, subject to such duties as may be there payable thereon:

And it is further ordered, that British vessels arriving as aforesaid shall be permitted to export to any such foreign country in amity with His Majesty, cargoes consisting of any articles of the growth, production, or manufacture of the Island of Ceylon, or of any other articles which shall have been legally imported there, on payment of such duties as may be payable thereon;

THE following Address, having been transmitted to Mr. Secretary Peel by James Reoch, Esq. Senior Magistrate of Leith, has been presented by Mr. Peel to the King; which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To His Majesty George the Fourth, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Magistrates, Ministers and Inhabitants of the Town of Leith.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Magistrates, Ministers and Inhabitants of the Town of Leith, beg leave to approach the Throne with the renewed expression of our sincere allegiance towards your Majesty's Government, and of our warm and unalterable attachment for your Majesty's Royal Person and Family.

We are met together this day, which is the anniversary of your Majesty's happy landing at Leith, as on an occasion of the greatest festivity and of the most delightful recollection, to celebrate that memorable event which produced at the time so much heartfelt joy all over Scotland, and which will never be obliterated from the minds of those who were fortunate enough to witness it.

When your Majesty was present amongst us, we shared deeply in the unfeigned joy and respect which your residence although short, in the Country and Palace of your Royal Ancestors, excited among all classes of your Scottish subjects; but we claim to ourselves the privilege of taking a peculiar interest in that auspicious event, inasmuch as it fell to our lot to be the first to receive your Majesty on the Scottish shore, and to mark your first footsteps on our native land. The lapse of a year has only added to the feelings of gratulation and attachment which your Majesty's gracious and most welcome visit impressed on the hearts of all true Scotsmen; and the annual return of the fifteenth of August will, we doubt not, in many future years, be hailed as a festival by the Inhabitants of Leith, and animate in their breasts those sentiments of respectful affection for their Sovereign in which, they presume to hope, they are not surpassed by any order of men in the wide range of your Majesty's dominions.

That your Majesty may long continue to reign over us in peace and happiness, respected by all the nations of Europe for firmness combined with moderation, honoured as the enlightened Patron of justice and freedom, and loved as the Protector of the weak and oppressed, is the sincere and hearty prayer of, may it please your Majesty, the Magistrates, Ministers and Inhabitants of the Town of Leith.

Signed by James Reoch, Esquire, Senior Magistrate, in our name and by our appointment, at a meeting specially held for the purpose of celebrating the anniversary of His Majesty's landing at Leith, and the seal of the Community is hereto affixed, this 15th day of August 1823.
