

great disorder here, and a general Commotion was feared; but the Magistrates having given the Burghers satisfaction upon most of their demands, they are at present pretty quiet. Our Election has drawn his Troops out of Nims Kesperwaerth Lim, Kempen, and other places in the lower Diocess, which making about 1000 Men, are marched to Bonne, but with what design we know not. By the Treaty now lately concluded between the Emperor and the Elector of Bavaria, his Electoral Highness, as it is said, is in consideration of 300 thousand Florins, which he is to receive from the Emperor, to furnish 13000 Men for his Imperial Majesty's Service, which are to be employed in the Empire in the room of the Imperial Troops at present there, (who are to go and serve in Hungary, against the Turks) and are to be paid by the Emperor.

Hamburg, Feb. 9. We have Letters from Warsaw of the 29th past, which give us an Account, That the King of Poland arrived there the 25th, that the 17th the Dyet was opened, and that they had chosen the Sieur Leszeroy to be their Marshal or Speaker. It is still hoped that the Differences between the King of Denmark and the Duke of Holsheim, will be amicably composed.

Brussels, Feb. 19. The Marquis de Grana continues still at Antwerp, and we are uncertain when he will return hither. His Excellency has sent Orders to the Governors of the several Provinces, to repair to their Commands; and the Viadore General is passing from one Province to another to muster the Troops, which he does with great exactness. We have Advice, That the Count de Montal is at Dinant, and that, it's believed, he has Orders to draw the French Troops together, which the Most Christian King has promised to assist the Elector of Cologne with for the reducing the City of Liege to his Obedience. Our Letters from Germany tell us, That the Count de Crecy had received new Powers to Treat with the States of the Empire Assembled at Ratisbonne; but withal, that he had Orders to declare to them, That the Term which the Most Christian King had given to the First of February being expired, his Majesty was at liberty to take what measures he thought fit, without being tied to the Conditions he had before offered them.

Brussels, Feb. 23. The Prince de Sarbacou parted from hence this day to his Government of Namur; and the other Governors of Provinces that were here have likewise left this place, pursuant to the Orders they received from the Marquis de Grana, who continues still at Antwerp, and intends before he returns hither, to go for Flanders. From the new Conquests we have Advice, that the French Troops are drawing together near the Meuse, which, it's believed, are designed against the City of Liege, if those People do not submit themselves to their Prince, but suffer things to come to extremities. We are likewise told, that the French intend an Encampment near Phalpsville, so soon as the Season will permit it, and that in order thereunto the necessary Preparations are making in those Quarters.

Brussels, Feb. 23. The Letters arrived this afternoon from Liege, give an Account, That those Magistrates having again caused the 32 Tracts or Companies to Assemble, and represented to them the unavoidable mischiefs they would by their obstinacy expose themselves to, they had resolved to submit to the Tax of the 6th Penny, (which they have hitherto refused to do) to shew their willingness to comply with their Prince, which is looked upon as a very good Step towards an Accommodation.

Paris, Feb. 20. The 17th Instant the Count de Mansfeldt had his Audience of Leave of the King, Queen, &c. and in few days will part from hence on his Journey for Spain. This week died here the Sieur de Mestre, a Citizen of this place, in the 118th year of his age, having been born in 1655, and having enjoyed a perfect health not many days before his death. The King will certainly part from hence the fourth or fifth of the next month for Compeigne; and, it's said, he will be back again at Versailles the beginning of April. We are now told, that the Duke de Fermandois will not go to Sea this Summer, as was reported, and that the Sieur du Queine is to Command the Squadron the King intends to employ against the Algerines this next Summer. It is said that an Army of 40000 Men will encamp the next Month on the Joan, under the Command of the Dauphin.
