Copy of a Letter from the Governor-General in Council to the Secret Committee, dated Fort William, the 15th April 1825.

HONOURABLE SIRS,

WE have the honour to transmit the accompanying copy of a dispatch from Brigadier-General Morrison, C. B. dated 2d instant, announcing the capture of the fort and capital of Arracan, on the preceding day; and to congratulate your Honourable Committee on this auspicious event.

A copy of the Extraordinary Gazette issued on this occasion is also transmitted a number in the packet.

We have the honour to be, &c.

Copy of a Dispatch from T. W. Morrison, Esq: C. B. Brigadier-General, commanding South Eastern Division, to the Adjutant-General of the Army, dated Camp, Arracan, 2d April 1825.

SIR,

THE Almighty has been pleased to permit that the exertions of the south eastern division of the army should be crowned with complete success. Arracan was yesterday taken, and the ten thousand men that acted under Atown Munjja have, as a military body, been nearly annihilated. The proceedings that have led to this result, I shall now have the honour to detail for the information of the Commander in Chief.

On the 24th ultimo, the arrangements for the movement of the force from the camps on the Oorating were completed, and the head-quarters of the division were established, with the second brigade in advance, at Chabatee Kheong, within two miles of the enemy's position in the Padha Hills, the march of the remainder being directed as appointed out in inclosure No. 1.

On the 25th ult. boat and pontoon bridges were thrown across the Chabatee and Wabraing Rivers, and in the evening a reconnoissance was made, to ascertain the situation of the passes through the hills, and the obstacles to be encountered. The natural ones were considerable, arising principally from the steepness of the ascents, and from the course of deep tide nullahs.

On the 26th, the troops then present crossed the Wabraing by day-break, and were formed into four columns, as per margin.* The right and centre columns then advanced to force the two ascertained passes, while the left, with the gun-boats under Captain Crawford, H. C. Marine, was to have ascended the river, which appeared to flow through the hills. The boats, however, having grounded on a shoal, Captain Leslie landed his men, and was then directed to skirt the river, and, if possible, to pass by the extreme right of the first range of hills, with a view of attacking the enemy from their rear, or of intercepting them in their retreat.

The centre column had not proceeded far ere the tocsin of alarm, and shouts from the hills, gave notice where they were occupied, and that the enemy were in force. The advance, consisting of the light infantry companies of the 26th, 28th, 49th, and 63d regiments, under the command of Capt. Mason, 49th regiment, was directed to gain the summit, which was effected in the most gallant manner. The column then moved to its left, to the attack of a stockade; while the light infantry companies, keeping nearly parallel to it, drove the enemy from several intrenched positions along the crest of the hills; two rounds from the twelve-pounders caused the but partly finished stockade to be abandoned; the men who retired from it immediately occupied strong ground on the heights above; here the left column, from being compelled to diverge from the river, joined, and a smart fire was continued, till the grenadiers of His Majesty's 44th regiment, and left grenadiers of the 49th regiment of Bengal native infantry, began to ascend at two different points; the enemy then fled, on which the centre column retraced its steps, and defiled through the abandoned pass, while the left column proceeded in furtherance of the orders first given. The ground, on the north side of the hills proved to be an extensive plain, intersected by several deep tide nullahs belted with jungle. In such a country the flying foe easily escaped, as the cavalry was unable to pursue, till assisted by the labour of the pioneers. The forward movement was, however, continued till the three columns united at the Jeejah river; here it was intended to have halted till the artillery, under the protection of the reserve, could be brought up, but a few companies of the 49th regiment native infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, having been pushed across to ascertain what was in front, the report was made that the enemy were approaching in column, supported by cavalry. So desired an opportunity was immediately embraced, the low state of the tide and the sandy bottom of the river enabling the troops to pass without impediment. The heads of the columns had, however, no sooner debouched from the jungle than the enemy fled, and reached, with but little loss, their works that covered the fords of the Mahattee.

The troops had now been under arms nine hours, and were still anxious to proceed, but a consideration for their physical strength, with an unwillingness to remove still further from the supplies, whose arrival must necessarily be retarded by the nature of the country passed over, caused me to direct that positions where shelter from the sun might be obtained, should be occupied. The fire of the enemy, while they opposed us, was noisy, but ill-directed. A further consequence of this day's action, beyond the advantage immediately gained, was, that the enemy abandoned their stockades at Kheong Peela (alias Chamballa).

The troops, with the exception of the reserve, which did not arrive till near midnight, having given their exertions to enable the artillery to join, bivouacked by brigades.

On the 27th, when the fog dispersed, the order of advance was resumed, and Major Carter, of His Majesty's 44th regiment, with three companies of that corps, covered by the light infantry company of His Majesty's 54th regiment, was directed to carry a small hill in front of the enemy's works, while the remainder of the force moved forward in column, at quarter distance, with the artillery on the reverse flank.

The enemy's position was well chosen, being situated on a peninsula, protected by a broad river, whose fords are only passable at nearly low water, and whose banks are not only steep, but were covered with sharp stakes. Their defences consisted of deep intrenchments along the margin, with epaulments left to protect them from an enfilading fire; in the rear, high conical hills, surmounted by pagodas, and surrounded by entrenchments, served as numerous citadels, and appeared to be occupied as such.

On the advance of the party under Major Carter, the enemy that occupied the hill, retired across the river, when a fire from those parts of their works that commanded it, was immediately opened—four twelve-pounders, two five and a half-inch howitzers, and two six-pounders, were placed in position, while the first brigade was moved to the right to attack a column that appeared in that direction, and which I now judge to have been an intended reinforcement; it did not, however, long remain in sight, or reach Mahattee. The fire of the artillery soon silenced the enemies, and checked the effective fire of their musketry; and as the fords were then passable, the 2d brigade took ground to the left, in order to cross to the right of the enemy's defences. The 1st brigade, and two ressalas of horse, were moved at the same time forward, the reserve (formed as on the preceding day, with the addition of three companies 2d light infantry battalion, and a rifle company Mug levy) following.

On the 2d brigade descending into the river, the enemy abandoned their post, while the troops on the right (the situation of the ford having been ascertained) crossed, but from the steepness of the bank on the opposite side, had great difficulty in entering the works. A ressala of horse, with the rifle company Mug levy, were pushed over still further to our right to gain the road by which the enemy were retreating, and arrived in time to do some execution among their rear, and to prevent the destruction of bridges on the road to Arracan.

I have omitted to mention, that, during the commencement of the action (which lasted about two hours) I received the pleasing intelligence of the near approach of Brigadier-General M'Bean, with the 5th brigade.

On the 28th, it was necessary to halt to obtain information, and allow of a junction being formed by the troops still in the rear, and by the flotilla under Commodore Hayes, who was in progress for that purpose; in the evening this was effected, and the enemy's position partly reconnoitred.

On the 29th, the division moved forward at daylight; the advance under Brigadier-General M'Bean consisted of one ressala of horse, two six-pounders, two howitzers, 5th brigade, six companies His Majesty's 54th regiment, 2d light infantry battalion, rifle company Mug levy, one company regular pioneers, one ditto Mug ditto, sixteen scaling ladders. Considerable delay was occasioned by fog, and which at first prevented the great strength of the enemy's position from being discovered. It occupied a range of connected hills (since ascertained to be from three hundred and fifty to four hundred and fifty feet in height) strong by nature, and rendered still more so by art, escarpment, abatis, and masonry having been resorted to, where those means could be most efficaciously employed. One pass alone leads through them to the capital, and that was defended by a fire of several pieces of artillery, and about three thousand muskets: the whole number of the enemy ranged along the heights may be estimated at from eight to nine thousand men; the ground in front is an extensive valley, entirely clear of jungle, but in depth not altogether out of the range of the enemy's artillery.

Where the advance halted, it was partly covered by a tank, and Brigadier-General M'Bean made a disposition for acquiring the principal hills in the first range at the commencement of the pass. Four pieces of artillery were ordered forward to cover the attack, and the troops for the assault, consisting of the light infantry company, His Majesty's 54th regiment, four companies 2d light infantry battalion, and the light infantry companies of the 10th and 16th regiments Madras native infantry, with the rifle company Mug levy, were placed under Major Kemm; a support of six companies 16th regiment, Madras native infantry under Captain French, of that corps, followed. The assault commenced, and in spite of a well-directed fire, and of the steep ness of the ascent, which was occasionally nearly perpendicular, many gained the summit. Lieutenant Clarke, Aide-de-Camp to Brigadier-General M'Bean, with several of the light infantry company of His Majesty's 54th regiment, got their hands on the trench, but even with the assistance such a hold afforded, were unable to maintain their ground, large stones were rolled on them, and smaller ones discharged from bows; the consequence was, they were precipitated to the bottom. In this attempt the efforts were persevered in till every Officer was wounded.

I cannot here avoid interrupting the detail to make known to his Excellency that on no occasion could British gallantry be more conspicuously displayed; the conduct of the Officers was emulated by the men, and European and Native troops vied with each other to equal the example set.

The guns, in the ardour of the moment, had been advanced by Captain Lamb, who commanded them, so far, that on the retreat of the troops they became too exposed to be longer served: and the retiring of them at the time was impracticable without the hazard of sacrificing the men, who would have been obliged to effect it by the drag ropes.

While the attack was being carried on at the pass, the right of the enemy's position was cannonaded, but without any apparent effect; the twelve-pounders and heavy howitzers, were afterwards moved to play upon the works at the pass; the fire was continued for an hour, but, it appearing to be but a useless waste of ammunition, I caused it to be discontinued, and those guns to be withdrawn; at the same time an encampment was marked out, the tents were pitched, and at one o'clock the troops fell back upon them, with the exception of the advance, which was continued during the day in the position they occupied; in the dusk of the evening the wounded were brought off, the guns withdrawn, and the whole retired without further loss, though a heavy fire had been continued by the enemy at intervals during the day.

From observations made, the conviction was established, that the right of the enemy's defences was the key of his position. Here the natural obstacles were the greatest, the approach being protected by a small lake, the ascent being more abrupt, and the height being more considerable. These seemed to have given a confidence in its security; and though the summit was crowned with a stockade, and part of the way up thickly abatised, the number of men to guard it was not considerable. This point was therefore selected for the principal future attack. At the same time, the construction of a battery for four mortars, two twenty four-pounders, four twelve-pounders, and two five and half inch howitzers, to play on the works at the pass, and to draw the enemy's attention entirely to that point, was ordered. The Senior Engineer Officer, Lieutenant Thompson, received directions to that effect; and the day of the 30th was employed in bringing from Mahattee the necessary material. At half-past seven that evening ground was broke, by three o'clock the battery finished, and before day-light completely armed, when the guns opened, and continued during the day a heavy cannonade, which had the effect of checking the enemy's fire, though it was not entirely silenced.

Instructions were given to Brigadier Richards to make a night attack with the force as per margin*. On the right of the enemy's position, at half-past eleven, the appointed rocket signal of success was thrown up: and Lieutenant Wroughton, Surveying Department, in a short time after returned from the height, bringing the grateful intelligence, that though the fire of the enemy had been heavy, the stockade had been gained without a man on our side being killed, and with only a few slightly wounded. A copy of the Brigadier's report of the affair (No. 2) is herewith inclosed.

A reinforcement of the remainder of the 1st brigade, with two six-pounders on elephants, was immediately dispatched. Arrangements had also been made for storming the works at the pass, on the morning of the 1st, should the fire from the battery have produced such an effect as would almost insure the certainty of success. Brigadier Richards was also directed to commence, at daylight, an attack on the defences of the intervening heights.

The difficulty of carrying the guns up the hill caused a delay, and it was near seven o'clock before one was mounted, a few rounds from which silenced the fire of the six-pounder that the enemy had planted on the next summit, when the Brigadier advanced to the assault. The enemy did not stand; advantage was taken of the panic of the moment, the detachment under Brigadier-General M'Bean, which consisted as follows:—A subaltern's detachment of artillery, sixty troopers (dismounted), 2d brigade (except four companies of His Majesty's 54th regiment, who were attached to the 5th brigade); four companies 2d light infantry battalion, thirty flotilla seamen, detachment of regular pioneers, with six scaling ladders,—allotted to the attack of the pass, was directed to move forward. The enemy were soon seen abandoning all the heights; from that moment opposition ceased, and Arracan was gained.

It has been my province to lay before his Excellency a succession of operations, which have accomplished the first object directed by the instruction emanating from the Governor-General in Council; but to the duty of doing justice to the merits of the force collectively, and to individuals separately who had the opportunity of putting themselves more conspicuously forward, I own myself incompetent; and I must trust to his Excellency's discernment to appreciate how truly a claim to his approbation has been perfected by the division, more from his knowledge of what they have had to encounter, than from any representation I am able to make. The Political Agent, T. C. Robertson, Esq. not only previous to the force quitting Chittagong, but to the present period, has been zealously and indefatigably engaged in rendering every assistance that the civil power could command; his arrangements on all occasions have tended to the advantage of the whole and to the accommodation of individuals; and I truly rejoice at this opportunity of publicly acknowledging, that the greatest benefit has been derived from his presence.

Commodore Hayes has, on all occasions, rendered an aid the most effectual, and had it not been for the assistance afforded by the flotilla under his command, the arrival of the force before Arracan would have been almost impracticable. Every exertion was made by him to co-operate, and when insurmountable obstacles prevented the further approach of the gun-boats to the scene of action, he landed two twenty-four-pounders, and with the British seamen, dragged them and their appurtenances, a distance of five miles, to the encampment before Arracan, rendering them available for any service on which they could be usefully employed.

Brigadier-General M'Bean gave me the benefit of his judgment and experience, and the effectual aid of his directing superintendence; to offer a further remark on the known zeal of one, who has so firmly established his claim to honourable fame, would, I fear, in me be but an assumption—to his Excellency the claims of Brigadier-General M'Bean are fully known.

The assiduity of Brigadier Grant, C. B., commanding 2d brigade; of Brigadier Richards, commanding 1st brigade; of Brigadier Fair, commanding 5th brigade; and of Lieutenant-Colonel Lindsay, commanding artillery division, demand that I should state to his Excellency, that their example and their directions materially contributed to the success of our operations.

Did the limits of a dispatch allow of my mentioning separately the Officers who commanded corps, I should feel myself most particularly bound to name them; and proud should I be in being the instrument of more especially recording their deserts, than while bearing testimony to the merits of all, in saying that every Officer, non-commissioned Officer, and private, performed his duty, equally by gallantry in the field, and by the willing endurance of privations, that the division might move forward.

I may, however, I hope, be pardoned in representing, that the Deputy-Assistant Adjutant-General, Lieutenant Scott, rendered me the most effectual assistance; that the First Deputy-Assistant Quarter-Master-General, Captain Drummond, conducted the duties of his department with judgment, with the greatest personal exertion, and with the most indefatigable perseverance. The Second Deputy Assistant Quarter-Master-General, Lieutenant Paton, has also established his claim to a particular notice. The Assistant Commissary-General, Captain Bannerman, has had no common difficulties to encounter, in effectually arranging, for the continued supplies of the troops; the means of conveyance by land, at his command, never exceeded a week's supply. The Superintending Surgeon, Dr Grant, has on every occasion provided for the comfort and relief of the sick and wounded, and with other medical Officers, was ever forward, while the troops were engaged, to render immediate assistance. To Lieutenant Wroughton, of the Survvey Department, I am particularly indebted, not only for the reconnoissances he made when we neared the enemy, but especially for discovering the paths by which Brigadier Richards, with the column under his command, gained the right of the enemy's position. Lieutenant Thompson, the senior Engineer Officer, displayed zeal and practical proficiency in the performance of his duty; to Captain Wilkie more especially, and to the other Officers of the pioneers generally, the advance of the division may be mainly attributed; a road of nearly one hundred and fifty miles in length has, by the labour of the pioneers, under their judicious directions, been completed; many morasses rendered passable, and innumerable nullahs bridged. I much fear that the continued exposure to the sun, will for some time deprive the division of the benefits of Captain Wilkie's services, who persevered in doing his duty, till success crowned our efforts, though suffering from severe indisposition.

If ever instances of mental energy triumphing over bodily infirmity were exemplified, they have been displayed by Colonel Gardner, of the 2d local horse, who, on each occasion, when there was a probability of the cavalry being engaged, caused himself to be removed from his palanquin to be placed on his horse, though so weakened by long sickness as to be unable, for any length of time, to prolong the exertion.

This dispatch will be delivered by Lieutenant Bellew, my Military Secretary; he has entitled himself to my confidence, and is enabled to afford his Excellency the best information on many points connected with this country.

For my Aide-de-Camp, Lieutenant Hawkins, I beg to solicit his Excellency's notice, and to strongly recommend him for any mark of approbation; and I can confidently assert, that both from talent and education, he promises to prove a credit to the profession.

Inclosed are returns of the casualties that have occurred during the several actions with the enemy since the division entered Arracan, and also of the ordnance found in position on the east front of the heights covering the capital; the quantity captured is so widely dispersed, that there has not yet been time to allow its being ascertained.

Several Sirdars have surrendered themselves, and prisoners are hourly being brought to the camp. Grounding my opinion on the general assertion of the captives, I may venture to suggest the probability that not one thousand of the Burmese, who were serving under Atown Munja, will reach Ava, but by the permission of the Governor-General.

I have, &c.

Comd. S. E. Div.

Copy of a Letter from Brigadier-General Richards to Captain Scott, Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General, dated Camp, before Arracan, 1st April 1825.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report to you, for the information of Brigadier-General Morrison, C. B. commanding the south eastern division, that the storming party he did me the honour of entrusting to my charge, yesterday evening completely succeeded in effecting the object desired, with the bayonet, and without the loss of a man. That after the junction of the remainder of my brigade with the two six-pounders, I made my arrangements for prosecuting the success I had obtained last night; the result of which is well known to the Brigadier-General.

In making this report I cannot refrain from expressing my most sincere thanks to every Officer and man, both European and native, engaged, for the spirit and gallantry they displayed, and I feel it my duty to state that I received every assistance from my Brigade-Major, Captain B. Fernie, and from the active exertions of Captain Hugh Gordon, who volunteered to accompany me.

I cannot close this letter without stating my high sense of gratitude to Lieutenant Wroughton, of the Surveying Department, who accompanied me for the purpose of pointing out the road, for the judgment and ability with which he executed the difficult task of leading my advance to the point of attack, to which I chiefly attribute my having so completely succeeded in gaining possession of such a very strong post (the key of the enemy's position), without any loss.

I have, &c.

W. RICHARDS, Brigadier Gen.
Comd. 1st Brigade.

Copy of a Letter from Brigadier-General Richards to Captain Scott, Deputy Assistant-Adjutant-General, dated Camp, before Arracan, 1st of April 1825.

SIR,

I DEEM it my duty to bring to the notice of Brigadier-General Morrison, commanding the south eastern division, the very gallant conduct of a havildar of the light company of the 26th regiment native infantry, by name Summer Sing, who was one among the very first of those who entered the enemy's stockade yesterday evening, and who, by displaying an example of coolness to those who followed him, clearly shewed what a noble weapon of offence the bayonet is, when wielded by a resolute and determined soldier.

In mentioning the gallant conduct of an individual of the 26th regiment native infantry, I cannot refrain from stating, that that of the corps altogether has been, ever since it has been employed on the present service, most exemplary in every respect, whether it regards their gallantry, discipline, and steadiness in the field, or their patient endurance of privations, which such a service as the one they have been engaged in has called on them to endure. I trust, therefore, that the Brigadier-General will do me the honour of bringing these circumstances to the notice of His Excellency the Commander in Chief, that the impression which may have been attached to the name of the regiment, in consequence of the participation of some dissolute characters in the unfortunate mutiny of the late 47th regiment at Barrackpore, may be removed.

I have the honour to be, &c.

W. RICHARDS.

Receiver-General's Office, Kingston,
Jamaica, June 4, 1825.

SIR,

HAVING received from the Collector and Comptroller of His Majesty's Customs at Annotto-Bay, the following copies of the examination of Patrick Smith, late Master of the sloop Tom Paine, relating to the capture of that vessel, and her subsequent arrival at Buff-Bay; and of an inventory of the goods saved from the wreck; you are requested to give publicity to such communication for the space of two months successively, for the information of all persons who may be concerned or interested therein, in compliance with the directions contained in 53d Geo. 3d, chap. 25, sec. 4, of the laws of this island.

Your obedient servant,

WM. JAS. STEVENSON, Rec. Genl.

To the Editor of the London Gazette.

(Copy.)

Examination of Patrick Smith, late Master of the Sloop Tom Paine, before Robert G. Kirkland and William Robertson, Esqrs. Justices of the Peace in and for the Parish of St. George.

Jamaica Ss.

Patrick Smith, late Master of the sloop Tom Paine, having been duly sworn, made oath and said; that the sloop Tom Paine was owned by John Campbell, of Montego-Bay, and that he sailed in the said sloop from Kingston, on the 31st day of March 1825, bound to Maracaibo, in the island of Cuba, consigned to a Mr. Hall, Merchant, there; and that off that place they were captured by a Colombian privateer, called the Isabella, of Maracaibo, commanded by John Bedwell, sailing with a Colombian commission; the Prizemaster and three seamen were put on board, with orders to take her to Maracaibo, and that himself and a boy only of the former crew were left on board; that the plea for capture was, that the cargo was Spanish property. And this deponent further said, that from the ignorance of the Prizemaster in navigating the said sloop to her destined port, long detention at sea, and being short of water, the said Prizemaster, after passing the several harbours of Montego-Bay, St. Ann's, Port Maria, and Annotto-Bay, finally brought the vessel into Buff's-Bay to get a supply thereof; and the reason for passing the aforesaid harbours, was his fear of detention by our vessels or the authorities ashore. The deponent further said, that he had no command over the vessel after the capture, either before or after her anchorage at Buff-Bay on 23d April; the Quartermaster and one seaman having come on shore for water, deponent jumped overboard and swam on shore; that soon after Robert G. Kirkland and William Robertson, Esqrs. Justices of the Peace, having heard of there being something suspicious in the said sloop's arrival, interrogated the deponent and the said two men; and failing in an attempt to procure the sloop's papers, from the high sea then running, they ordered the said two men into custody for that night. The deponent further said, that information was given to the Collector and Comptroller of His Majesty's Customs at Annotto-Bay, by one of the aforesaid Magistrates, of the circumstances of their arrival, who, without loss of time, repaired to the spot and obtained from the Prizemaster the register of the sloop and other papers for investigation, during which period the vessel drifted and got ashore by the breaking of the cable, which, in consequence of the high sea, soon bilged; that immediate steps were taken by the above Officers, in discharging the cargo and securing the same.
