The Earl Marshal's Order for a General Mourning for His late Royal Highness the Duke of York and of Albany.

In pursuance of His Majesty's commands; these are to give public notice, that upon the present melancholy occasion, of the death of His late Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York and of Albany, next Brother to His Majesty, it is expected that all persons do put themselves into deep mourning; the said mourning to begin on Thursday next the 11th instant.

NORFOLK, E. M.

GENERAL ORDER.

Horse-Guards, January 8, 1827.

Orders for Mourning for the Army for Field-Marshal His late Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, Commander in Chief of His Majesty's Forces.

The King does not require that the Officers of the Army should wear any other mourning with their uniforms, on the present melancholy occasion than black crape over the ornamental part of the cap or hat, the sword knot, and on the left arm; with the following exceptions, viz.

Officers on duty are to wear black gloves, black crape over the ornamental part of the cap or hat, the sword knot, and on the left arm; the sash covered with black crape; black gorget ribband; and a black crape scarf over the right shoulder.

When Officers appear at Court in their uniforms, they are to wear black crape over the ornamental part of the cap or hat, the sword knot, and on the left arm; a black crape scarf over the right shoulder; black waistcoat, breeches, stockings, and buckles.

The drums of regiments are to be covered with black; and black crape is to be hung from the pike of the colour-staff of infantry, and from the standard-staff and trumpets of cavalry.

By His Majesty's command,
HENRY TORRENS, Adjutant-General.

Admiralty-Office, January 8, 1827.

His Majesty does not require that the Officers of the Fleet should wear any other mourning on the present melancholy occasion, with their undress uniforms, than black crapes on their left arms, hats and sword knots; nor with their dress uniforms, than black gloves, and black crapes on their left arms; hats and sword knots; except at Court, when they are to wear also black waistcoats, breeches, stockings, and buckles: nor that the Officers of the Royal Marines should wear any other mourning, with their uniforms, than black crapes on their left arms, hats and sword knots; except on duty, when they are to wear also black gloves, and the sash covered with black, black gorget ribbands, and black crape scarfs over their right shoulders; and except at Court, when they are to wear black crapes on their left arms, hats, and sword knots, black crape scarfs over their right shoulders, and black waistcoats, breeches, stockings, and buckles.

The drums of the Royal Marines are to be covered with black, and a black crape is to be hung from the pikes of the divisional colour-staffs.
