PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by His Majesty's Order in Council, of the third of May last, for prohibiting the exportation of gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Streights of Gibraltar), has expired; and whereas it is judged expedient that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore hereby order, require, prohibit, and command, that no person or persons whatsoever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's Service), do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the date of this Order), presume to transport any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Streights of Gibraltar) or ship or lade any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, in order to transporting the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf, first obtained from His Majesty or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties inflicted by an Act, passed in the twenty-ninth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Second, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to prohibit the exportation of gun-powder, or any sort of arms or ammunition, and also to empower His Majesty to restrain the carrying coastwise of salt-petre, gun-powder, or any sort of arms or ammunition;" and also by an Act, passed in the thirty-third year of His late Majesty's reign, cap. 2, intituled "An Act to enable His Majesty to restrain the exportation of naval stores, and more effectually to prevent the exportation of salt-petre, arms, and ammunition, when prohibited by Proclamation or Order in Council."

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral of Great Britain, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain. Jas. Buller.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Robert Peel, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by him to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Gracious Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Royal College and Incorporation of Surgeons of Edinburgh, most humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty the tribute of our sincere condolence on the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, by which your Majesty has been deprived of the affectionate support of an attached Brother and Friend, and the country of his invaluable services as Commander-in-Chief of the British army.

The unwearied energy, impartiality, and urbanity, with which His Royal Highness discharged the important duties of his office, and by which the moral and military discipline of the army have been so greatly improved, its efficiency increased, and its fame extended, with the frankness, sincerity, and benevolence of his character, had secured to His Royal Highness the unbounded respect and affection of all ranks in the British army, and the general confidence of the British people.

We humbly trust that, under this afflicting event, your Majesty will derive some consolation from the general sympathy manifested by your Majesty's subjects; and that by the support and blessing of Divine Providence your Majesty may be long spared to reign over a free and loyal people.

Signed by order of the Royal College and Incorporation of Surgeons of the City of Edinburgh, David MacLagan, M.D., President of the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh.

[Transmitted by the Right Hon. the Lord Clerk Register of Scotland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the Hundred of Maylor, in the County of Flint.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the Hundred of Maylor, Flintshire, beg leave to offer our humble address of condolence to your Majesty on the afflicting calamity by which it has pleased the Almighty to visit your Majesty, the Royal Family, and the Nation, in the deeply lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, the presumptive heir to the Throne of these realms,

To your Majesty, brought up with that illustrious Prince in the bands of mutual affection, we are deeply sensible how severe must be your loss, and we trust that the consciousness of your unrequited brotherly affection, so tenderly evinced during his severe and protracted sufferings, and the sympathy of the great mass of your subjects, may in some degree assuage your Majesty's affliction.

The unanimous grief felt by your Majesty's army at the loss of one who was at once their kind friend and protector, and their strict and impartial Commander, cannot but be gratifying to your Majesty; neither can it or the nation ever forget how largely the proud superiority which the British army now holds above those of all other nations, and the never-fading glory which this country obtained in the late unparalleled contest, are to be attributed to the zealous and firm conduct of the illustrious Commander-in-Chief.

In a more private degree also the country has deeply to deplore the loss of one who was ever forward to promote the welfare of every well-conceived public institution and every work of real charity. In him also the country has deeply to lament the loss of a Prince who never swerved from that path of duty which His Royal Highness had cherished from his earliest years, and which was pointed out by the genuine principles of our glorious Constitution in Church and State, to support which mainly your Majesty's Family were called to the Throne of these realms, for which conduct the memory of His Royal Highness will be consecrated in the gratitude of all true Protestants.

Under all these circumstances we pray God to continue His special protection to your Majesty and to the Country, and long to preserve your Majesty to reign over a happy and loyal people, and to fulfil your Majesty's gracious disposition to watch over the interests of the Church with unwearied solicitude, and by the blessing of Divine Providence to maintain it in the full possession of every legitimate privilege.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, High Steward, Recorder, Aldermen, Assistants, and Common-Council of the Borough of Colchester, and the Clergy, Gentry and Inhabitants of the said Borough and its vicinity, most feelingly interested in every occurrence that affects the prosperity of your Majesty's august House and Family, venture, at this crisis of general sorrow, respectfully to offer our sincere condolence on the late most melancholy and lamented death of His Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York and Albany; an event which has deprived your Majesty of a Brother, distinguished by the enjoyment of his Sovereign's fondest attachment, and the Nation of a Prince, not less distinguished by those estimable virtues which will ever command, as they ever merit, its best and warmest regards.

Deeply impressed, as we are, with the recollection of the numerous qualities, both public and private, which marked the character of that illustrious Prince, and added new splendour to his exalted rank, we could dwell with prolonged satisfaction on his various and powerful claims to the grateful remembrance of his admiring country. But we forbear, by a lengthened expression of our feelings and of his merits, to increase the poignancy of that anguish which, under such a loss, must rend your Majesty's fraternal breast, and which it is our aim, by this proffered condolence, not to augment, but, if possible, to alleviate.

Deign, then, Sire, on this sad occasion, to accept the best homage which, at such a time, a grateful, loyal, and affectionate people can offer, this spontaneous and cordial tribute of their unanimous regrets and sympathies. And may that All-Gracious Being, who disposes the hearts of kings, and rules over the destinies of nations, infuse into your Majesty's heart those consolations which in this its hour of affliction it may need.

In testimony whereof, we, the Mayor, High Steward, Recorder, Aldermen, Assistants, and Common Council of the said Borough, have affixed our common seal, the 18th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1827.

[Transmitted by the Town Clerk, F. Smythies, Esq.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble and respectful Address of His Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Bailiffs and Corporation of the ancient and loyal Borough of Clitheroe, and other Inhabitants of that Town and Neighbourhood.

May it please your Majesty,

THE calamities which befall your Royal House can never fail to excite a strong and universal sympathy through every class of your Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects, and we are encouraged, by long experience of your Majesty's noble and benignant disposition, to believe that this public expression of our deep and unfeigned sorrow and condolence will not be altogether unavailing to afford some degree of consolation to your royal breast, in the hour of your domestic affliction, though it cannot effectually heal or avert those pangs of severed affection which your Majesty will naturally experience from the loss of a Brother, between whom and your Majesty there invariably subsisted so true, so cordial and so undivided an attachment.

And well may we seek to unite our sorrows with those of our beloved Monarch on the great and irreparable loss which both have so recently sustained: we have been deprived of a Prince than whom few have ever deserved or possessed a larger share of the national esteem and veneration—a Prince whose heart was deeply embued with genuine British feeling, whose life was industriously devoted to the service of his country, and by whose faithful, impartial, and energetic discharge of the arduous duties of his important station, the name of Britain has been raised to such a proud and honourable eminence amongst the nations of the earth; but more especially have we to deplore the loss of a Prince of the illustrious House of Brunswick, who, with the honest virtue and undaunted firmness which has ever characterised that royal race, and entitled them to the unquestionable gratitude and confidence of the nation, was conscientiously and unalterably attached to the principles of our Protestant Constitution, both in Church and State.

These were the virtuous qualities which most eminently adorned the character of our lamented Prince, and have for ever enshrined his memory in the hearts of a British people. We, therefore, beg to repeat to your Majesty the assurance of our warmest sympathy in your present sorrows, and of our unalienable attachment to your Royal Person and Government; and fervently do we pray, that your Majesty may receive from the mercy and favour of Heaven, not only those religious consolations which your present afflictions may require, but that continued help and protection which may long preserve your Majesty to reign over a loyal, a prosperous and an united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Portreeve, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the Borough of Swansea, in Common Hall assembled.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Portreeve, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the Town and Borough of Swansea, in Common Hall assembled, consider it incumbent on us to renew the assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person, and humbly to express our unbounded and heartfelt sorrow on the lamentable occasion of the demise of your beloved Brother, His Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York, by which sad event the country has to regret the loss of one whose valuable life was ever devoted to its best interests in Church and State.

We entreat permission to assure your Majesty, that we fully sympathize and condole with our beloved Sovereign, with your Royal Relatives, and the several branches of the illustrious House of Brunswick, on this mournful visitation of Divine Providence.

We humbly request your Majesty to accept the homage of our most profound respect, and that you may long live to reign over a people the most loyal, free and attached.

Signed and sealed by order of Common Hall,
G. Powell, Portreeve.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Gentry, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Cardiff, agreed upon at a meeting publicly convened by the undersigned Bailiffs of the Town, pursuant to a requisition, and holden at the Guildhall, Cardiff, on Monday the 22d day of January 1827.

WE, the inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Cardiff, cannot refrain from offering to your Majesty the loyal and dutiful expression of our sincere condolence and heartfelt sympathy, on the recent and afflicting loss which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained in the death of your Majesty's most valued brother, the Duke of York: that the mournful event had been expected did not mitigate our sorrow when the melancholy intelligence was at length announced; and most deeply do we mourn, while, as Christians, we submissively bow to the all-wise decree, by which we have been bereaved of one so justly and generally beloved, seeing that in his removal the country has lost an ornament, society the most accomplished gentleman, the army a father and friend, and the Church of England one of its firmest earthly supporters.

We fervently pray Almighty God to send down upon your Majesty the blessing of a meek and patient resignation to this dispensation of Divine Providence, to visit your Royal Person with health and long life, and to prosper your Majesty's august and ancient House with a line of successors to the Throne of these Realms, as firmly attached to the principles that placed your Majesty's Family thereon, as it is the satisfaction of your people to observe your Majesty has ever shown yourself to be.

THE following is the copy of an Order in Council, approving of districts being assigned to the two new churches built in the parish of Saint Mary, Newington, in the county of Surrey :

At the Court at Saint James's, the 20th of November 1826, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his hand and seal, and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue and remain to be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value, or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions, and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" And whereas by the said Act it is further enacted "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete separate and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein, the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:"

And whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that the parish of Saint Mary, Newington, in the county of Surrey, and deanery of Croydon, the peculiar and immediate jurisdiction of the cathedral and metropolitan church of Christ, Canterbury, contains a population of thirty-five thousand persons and upwards, and that the parish church in the said parish will not contain more than about one thousand two hundred persons, exclusive of the children of the parochial schools; that by virtue of an Act of Parliament passed in the first year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for building two new churches or chapels in the parish of St. Mary, Newington, commonly called Newington Butts, in the county of Surrey, and for other purposes relating thereto," and with aid granted by the said Commissioners, two new churches have been erected in the said parish, one in Great Suffolk-street, and the other in Beckford-place, wherein accommodation has been provided for two thousand seven hundred persons in pews, and for one thousand two hundred poor persons in free-seats; the total accommodation in such churches being for three thousand nine hundred persons. That the said churches have been consecrated, and Divine Service is regularly performed therein. That the said Commissioners, for the better carrying into effect the objects which they had in view, in causing the said churches to be erected, have deemed it expedient that districts should be assigned to each of them; one to be described the "Trinity District," the second the "St. Peter's District." The Trinity District to commence in the road opposite to the centre of the west end of the New Kent-road, where the parish joins St. George's, and to comprise the north or left-hand side of the New Kent-road as far as Union-row, the east side of Union-row, the north side of Gloucester-row, to Brandon-street, the east side of Brandon-street to Bedford-street, the north side of Bedford-street, and the north side of Salisbury-place, Cottage-row, and George-row, where the parish again joins Saint George's; then proceeding northward along the boundary of St. George's parish, passing the end of Dover-place, crossing the New Kent-road, and from thence continuing the same boundary, and crossing Great Dover-street; then proceeding in a northerly direction along Kent-street and Church-street, till it terminates opposite St. George's Church, in Blackman-street; thence returning southward, and continuing along Blackman-street and the causeway to the point opposite the centre of the west end of the New Kent-road, and all the intermediate streets, roads, and places; which district is coloured green in the map hereunto annexed. The St. Peter's district to commence at the centre of the Walworth road, opposite Manor-place, and thence proceed westward along Manor-place, including the south or left side thereof, the east side of Canterbury-place, thence westward along West-lane, and in a straight line to the back of the premises occupied by Mr. Farmer, near Kennington-common, along the boundary of St. Mary's district, thence proceeding southward, and continuing along the boundary of Lambeth parish, and afterwards eastward along the boundary of Camberwell parish to the Camberwell road, thence crossing that road by the same boundary, along Walworth-common, near to Surrey-square, where the parish again adjoins St. George's, thence northward, continuing the boundary of Saint George's to the end of George-row, until it joins the district for Trinity Church, thence westward, including the left-hand or south side of George-row, Cottage-row, Salisbury-place, Bedford-street, and York-street, to the Walworth-road, at the east end of Manor-place, together with all the intermediate streets, roads, and places, which district is coloured red in the map hereunto annexed. That the consent of the Lord Bishop of the diocese to the proposed divisions has been obtained, as required by the 25th section of the said Act of the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty. That the said Commissioners beg leave, therefore, to lay before His Majesty the before-mentioned circumstances, and humbly pray that His Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into his royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty in his wisdom shall seem meet. His Majesty having taken the said representation into consideration, is thereupon pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed divisions be accordingly made and effected agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
