

been raised to such a proud and honourable eminence amongst the nations of the earth; but more especially have we to deplore the loss of a Prince of the illustrious House of Brunswick, who, with the honest virtue and undaunted firmness which has ever characterised that royal race, and entitled them to the unquestionable gratitude and confidence of the nation, was conscientiously and unalterably attached to the principles of our Protestant Constitution, both in Church and State.

These were the virtuous qualities which most eminently adorned the character of our lamented Prince, and have for ever enshrined his memory in the hearts of a British people. We, therefore, beg to repeat to your Majesty the assurance of our warmest sympathy in your present sorrows, and of our unalienable attachment to your Royal Person and Government; and fervently do we pray, that your Majesty may receive from the mercy and favour of Heaven, not only those religious consolations which your present afflictions may require, but that continued help and protection which may long preserve your Majesty to reign over a loyal, a prosperous and an united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Portreeve, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the Borough of Swansea, in Common Hall assembled.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Portreeve, Aldermen, and Burgesses, of the Town and Borough of Swansea, in Common Hall assembled, consider it incumbent on us to renew the assurances of our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's Person, and humbly to express our unbounded and heartfelt sorrow on the lamentable occasion of the demise of your beloved Brother, His Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York, by which sad event the country has to regret the loss of one whose valuable life was ever devoted to its best interests in Church and State.

We entreat permission to assure your Majesty, that we fully sympathize and condole with our beloved Sovereign, with your Royal Relatives, and the several branches of the illustrious House of Brunswick, on this mournful visitation of Divine Providence.

We humbly request your Majesty to accept the homage of our most profound respect, and that you may long live to reign over a people the most loyal, free and attached.

Signed and sealed by order of Common Hall,
G. Powell, Portreeve.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bailiffs, Gentry, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Cardiff, agreed upon at a meeting publicly convened by the undersigned Bailiffs of the Town, pursuant to a requisition, and holden at the Guildhall, Cardiff, on Monday the 22d day of January 1827.

WE, the inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Cardiff, cannot refrain from offering to your Majesty the loyal and dutiful expression of our sincere condolence and heartfelt sympathy, on the recent and afflicting loss which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained in the death of your Majesty's most valued brother, the Duke of York: that the mournful event had been expected did not mitigate our sorrow when the melancholy intelligence was at length announced; and most deeply do we mourn, while, as Christians, we submissively bow to the all-wise decree, by which we have been bereaved of one so justly and generally beloved, seeing that in his removal the country has lost an ornament, society the most accomplished gentleman, the army a father and friend, and the Church of England one of its firmest earthly supporters.

We fervently pray Almighty God to send down upon your Majesty the blessing of a meek and patient resignation to this dispensation of Divine Providence, to visit your Royal Person with health and long life, and to prosper your Majesty's august and ancient House with a line of successors to the Throne of these Realms, as firmly attached to the principles that placed your Majesty's Family thereon, as it is the satisfaction of your people to observe your Majesty has ever shown yourself to be.

Thomas Charles, Jno. Bradley, Bailiffs of Cardiff, on behalf of the meeting.
