FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1827.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Robert Peel, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by him to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor and Burgesses of Devizes, are anxious to approach your Majesty with the unanimous expression of our deep and sincere regret and affectionate condolence on the occurrence of an event so truly distressing to your Majesty, whether with reference to the blow which you individually sustain as a brother, or share in common with ourselves, in the loss of a long tried, eminently useful, and highly valued public officer.

However cautious to avoid exciting the keen pangs of your Majesty's grief, by adverting to the loss which the nation has sustained, we have seen too strongly marked the warm affection borne by your Majesty towards His Royal Highness the late Duke of York, and we are too well aware of your Majesty's paternal regard for the feelings of your subjects, not to believe that it will be a melancholy consolation to your Majesty to hear, as it is to us to declare, the high admiration which we, in common with the people of the empire, entertain for those qualities which graced the head and actuated the heart of His Royal Highness; we revere the brilliant example of loyalty to the King, of attachment to the Constitution, of consistency and firmness in friendship, which he has bequeathed; we gratefully acknowledge the eminent services so long rendered by His Royal Highness in the high office of Commander-in-Chief, and are proud to think, that to his judicious arrangements, to his beneficent exercise of power, to his tender concern for individual welfare, to his unceasing attention to public interests, to his affable, open, brave and generous deportment, we are mainly indebted for that character and efficiency which has raised the British army to renown indisputable, and to glory never surpassed.

That your Majesty may, in a devout submission to the divine dispensation, in the affectionate sympathy of the Royal Family, and of your loyal subjects, find an early mitigation to the poignancy of your affliction, and that, under a trial so severe, your Majesty's health may be preserved unshaken, is our earnest prayer to the Almighty and Merciful Disposer of all Events.

Given under our Common Seal, at a Court of Common Council, held the 23d day of January, in the year of our Lord 1827.

Henry Bayntun, Mayor.

[Transmitted by Viscount Sidmouth, Recorder of the Borough.]

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Edinburgh.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Edinburgh, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne to express our feelings of sorrow on the lamented death of your Majesty's Royal Brother, the Duke of York and Albany, and to offer our dutiful condolence on that afflicting event.

We sympathize most deeply with your Majesty on this melancholy occasion, by which your Royal Family has lost an amiable and beloved brother; and we participate in the general grief of the Nation, which has to deplore the loss of a highly valued and exalted person, the highest subject in the kingdom, who devoted his life to an arduous branch of the public service, and by his able management, brought it to a high degree of perfection and discipline. He has been called from this world, but he lived to see the result of his labours, that our army, by its discipline and bravery, carried victory wherever it appeared, and gained laurels which will never fade.

While the Nation duly appreciated the value of his services, his amiable virtues endeared him to their affections, his ear was always open to the call of the distressed, and his hand ever ready to relieve them. The death of such a brother must be severely felt;

but we trust, that under Divine Providence your Majesty will receive consolation from reflecting on the many virtues of the deceased. And we pray that your Majesty's life may be long preserved for the happiness of your dutiful and affectionate subjects.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, by John Hope, Preses.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Hatwich, in the County of Essex.

Most Gracious Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty, to offer our sincere condolence on the much lamented death of your Majesty's Royal Brother the Duke of York, whose many eminent and princely virtues have justly endeared his memory to all your Majesty's loyal subjects, and made the private loss of the Royal Family a public misfortune.

May your Majesty graciously accept this earnest of our duty and inviolable attachment to your sacred Person and Government, and long may your Majesty reign the true guardian of the liberties, in Church and State, of this free country, and be the instrument, in the hands of Divine Providence, of transmitting to our posterity those invaluable rights and privileges which are the birth-right of the subjects of this kingdom.

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Cupar, in the County of Fife, in General Meeting assembled, this 25th day of January 1827.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Cupar, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne to offer our sincere condolence on the melancholy occasion of the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

It was with the most heartfelt grief that we learnt the afflicting intelligence of this heavy calamity with which Divine Providence has visited your illustrious House and the whole British Empire.

The early habits of affectionate intimacy and tender regard for your Majesty's Person, which animated His Royal Highness, naturally endeared him to your Majesty in the strongest manner; and his steady support of the best interests of the Crown and of the State, and his exemplary conduct in the discharge of the highly important trusts committed to him by your Majesty, confirmed this generous attachment, and rendered more acutely felt the severe stroke by which your Majesty has been deprived of the warm and respectful attentions of a beloved brother, your illustrious House of its brightest ornament, and the United Kingdom of those valuable services on which it so much depended for its security and renown.

The distinguished talents of His Royal Highness, his zeal, prudence and impartiality in the administration of the various departments of official duty, which trained the British army, naturally the most brave, to be also the most efficient in Europe, will imbalm his memory among a grateful people, who will long deplore his death as a national misfortune. For it was the constant and unwearied application of His Royal Highness' powerful mind to all the means calculated to improve the military and moral discipline and the comfort of the British soldiery, which prepared them to achieve those splendid victories which have added so much glory to your Majesty's and our Country's name.

We do firmly trust that the recollection of the honourable character, of the public virtue and private worth of His Royal Highness, the high esteem in which he was held, the universal sympathy of your faithful subjects, and the assured hope entertained alike by your Majesty and your Royal House of that future state, in which separation and sorrow shall be unknown, will tend to console your Majesty, and heal those wounded feelings which have been so deeply affected by this mournful event.

That Almighty God may confer on your Majesty and the other illustrious Members of your Royal House, the high consolations of his spirit, may grant to your Majesty a long and prosperous reign, for the benefit of your people, and that Princes of your Royal House may reign over the British Empire till the latest posterity, is our fervent wish and prayer.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment of the Council, and the common seal of the Burgh thereto appended, within the Council Chambers of the Burgh of Cupar, this 25th day of January 1827 years, by George Aitken, Provost.

The humble Address of the Vice-Chancellor, Principal, and Professors of the University of Glasgow.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Vice-Chancellor, Principal, and Professors of the University of Glasgow, in Senate assembled, desire to approach your Majesty's Throne with the sincere and respectful expression of our sympathy and condolence on the heavy calamity with which your Majesty, your august House, and the United Kingdom have been visited; in the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Amidst the many virtues which adorned the character of that royal and illustrious personage, his steadfast attachment to the principles of the Constitution in Church and State, his unremitting assiduity in discharging the duties of his exalted station, his dignified impartiality in the administration of his important office, and his humane attention to the comfort and wishes of the humblest individual who had occasion to approach him, excited warm attachment to his person, and called forth general approbation of his public conduct ; while the strength and efficiency which they imparted to the instrument of national defence entrusted to his charge, inspired us with confidence in the continuance of that security and tranquillity which are essential to the success of our professional pursuits.

We sympathize especially in the personal feelings of your Majesty under this mournful dispensation of Providence, and offer our fervent supplications to the merciful Disposer of Events, that your Majesty and all the Royal Family may be supported by His heavenly consolations.

That Almighty God may preserve and prolong your Majesty's life, that He may establish your Throne, and bless your Government with prosperity and peace, and that, after having long rendered a free and loyal people happy under your paternal sway, He may at last exalt your Majesty to an incorruptible crown, are our humble and earnest prayers.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, having the seal of the University affixed, at Glasgow College, the 33d of January 1827.

Duncan Macfarlan, Vice-Chancellor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Bishop and Clergy of the Diocese of Killala and Achonry, entreat your Majesty graciously to accept our humble and sincere condolence on the heavy calamity which has recently befallen your Majesty, in common with all the subjects of your Empire.

His Royal Highness the late Duke of York had a claim upon the affections of your people beyond that commonly enjoyed by Princes of the royal blood. The soldier loved him enthusiastically as the unwearied promoter of his comforts and his happiness, at the same time that he ascribed to the judicious care and superintendence of His Royal Highness that high state of discipline and moral energy which has obtained for your Majesty's army imperishable fame. The widow and the orphan bless his memory, when they recollect the patient attention and kind consideration with which he invariably received their petitions, and the many, many instances in which he gladdened their hearts by the patronage of unprotected merit. Every loyal subject in the realm cheered himself with the consolatory assurance, that, should any misfortune (which may God avert) prematurely deprive the nation of its best hope and reliance, in the continuance of your Majesty's mild and paternal reign, the sceptre would pass into the hands of a worthy successor of George the Third and George the Fourth, a true son of the noble House of Brunswick, who had on more than one occasion fearlessly and candidly declared in Parliament his firm adherence to the principles which seated his family on the Throne of Great Britain.

But if such are the causes of grief and regret which now rend the hearts of your faithful people, how shall we estimate the far deeper and more poignant affliction which, as we are too well aware, agitates the breast of your Majesty upon the loss of this illustrious and universally lamented personage, your Majesty's beloved Brother. Severe, doubtless, is the blow, but the same Power which dealt it can render it salutary. May our Universal Father pour the balm of consolation into your Majesty's afflicted bosom ; long may He preserve that life so essential to the happiness of your numerous subjects ; and when the King of kings shall call you to himself, may you, through the merits of our blessed Redeemer, exchange an earthly for a heavenly, a perishable for an immortal crown !

So pray your Majesty's most dutiful and ever loyal and devoted subjects and servants.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, the Lord Mayor, Sheriffs, Commons and Citizens of the City of Dublin, with sentiments of the deepest affliction, take leave most humbly to condole with your Majesty upon the loss which your Majesty and the Empire have sustained in the death of your Majesty's Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

At a moment like the present, and to a heart overpowered with anguish, it is impossible to administer adequate consolation, nor do we presume to offer it, but we feel that we should ill deserve the character, which we have ever been solicitous to acquire, of the most devoted attachment to your Majesty's Person, to the august Family from which your Majesty is descended, and to the great Constitutional Principles which placed that Family upon the Throne, if we did not sympathize with your Majesty upon the death of a personage in whose manly and uncompromising spirit those principles found so powerful an advocate, and whose virtues, both in public and private life, must be endeared to your Majesty by so many tender and affecting recollections. To attempt a merited eulogium upon such a character as that of the Duke of York would be at once impracticable and superfluous : a nation's sorrow speaks a language impossible to be misunderstood, for it is the language of the heart ; the army's reformer and protector, the inflexibly impartial distributor of patronage, the affectionate relative, the anxiously devoted friend, the honest, firm and decided champion of his country's rights and privileges, cannot require to render him justice, the embellishments of language, or the labours of the panegyrist.

If any consideration, most gracious Sire, upon this signal calamity can assuage our grief, it is, that the benefit of his great example cannot be lost to posterity, and that though the Duke of York has, through the dispensations of an all-disposing Power, been withdrawn from this earthly scene, yet he will still live in the recollection of the great services which he has conferred upon his country, and in the purity of those principles which guided and characterised his life.

Permit us, Sire, to avail ourselves of this melancholy occasion to renew our dutiful expression of those feelings of sincere and fervent loyalty, which we have ever entertained for your Majesty's Person and Government, and to express our anxious prayer that Providence may in its mercy grant to your Majesty's people a long continuance of that life so which they are already indebted for so many and such invaluable blessings.

City Assembly-House, 15th January 1827.

[Transmitted by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Sheriffs, and Commonalty of the City of Cork, in Court of D'oyer hundred assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the most devoted attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, Family, and Government, and humbly to express the deep affliction which we, in common with every loyal subject throughout your Majesty's dominions, must feel at the deplorable event which has lately deprived your Majesty of a beloved Brother, and the Nation of an illustrious and highly esteemed Prince.

Whilst we presume to offer to your Majesty our expressions of sincere sympathy and condolence on this afflicting occasion, we feel it to be a most grateful duty to acknowledge how much we consider the country indebted to His Royal Highness the late Duke of York, for the proud and influential situation which at this moment it holds in the scale of nations, and how much His Royal Highness' talented and efficient administration of the important powers with which he was invested as Commander-in-Chief of the British army, has contributed to exalt the British name and character throughout the world.

Firmly attached to the succession of the House of Brunswick, and to the principles which placed that illustrious Family upon the Throne of these Realms, we must deeply regret an event that deprives the Nation of an estimable branch of that House, whose virtues and amiable qualities, whose manly, open and ingenious character justly endeared him to every subject of the British Empire; and when we contemplate with gratitude to Almighty God the many blessings which we enjoy under your Majesty's mild and prosperous reign, we beg to offer up our prayers for the long continuance of that life, which we consider so closely connected with the interests of the empire and the happiness of all classes of your Majesty's subjects.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Jurats, and Common Councilmen of the Town and Port of Dover, in the County of Kent, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most sincere expressions of condolence on the severe and afflicting loss with which it hath pleased the Almighty to visit your Majesty and the Nation, by the demise of your Majesty's Brother, His late Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

The numerous virtues and benevolent acts of His Royal Highness are engrafted on the hearts of all your Majesty's loyal subjects, and will cause his memory to be revered to the latest posterity.

The integrity of conduct and unceasing attention which His late Royal Highness ever displayed in the execution of the arduous duties of Commander-in-Chief of the army, while they entitled His Royal Highness to the grateful applause of his country, have raised the British army to that state of discipline and efficiency which renders it at once the glory of Britain and the admiration and envy of the world.

Turning from the distressing event which has thus plunged your Majesty and the Nation into so great affliction, we offer up our prayers to the Almighty Disposer of the Universe, that your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a loyal and affectionate people.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Burgesses of the Borough of Newport, in the Isle of Wight, in Common Hall assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Burgesses of the Borough of Newport, beg to offer to your Majesty the tribute of our sincerest sorrow and condolence on the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

We feel that by his loss we are bereaved of a Prince bound to us by every tie of hereditary love, and endeared to us by the indefatigable zeal and ceaseless vigilance with which he watched over our national interests in the field, and supported our constitutional rights in the senate.

In our own breasts private sorrow is blended with public grief, and whilst we remember with gratitude the condescension which gave honour to our Borough, and permitted his illustrious name to be inscribed in its records, we lament most deeply that alas! that honour is only now a name.

We beg to express to your Majesty our respectful sympathy, and would hope that in those trying scenes of domestic affliction, which visit as well the Monarch as the subject, it may be some consolation that your Majesty carries with you the hearts of a loyal and devoted people; but to the Almighty Disposer of all human events we can only look to soften the severity of your sorrow. May He watch over and preserve your Majesty for many years, to rule over an affectionate nation, whose hopes and happiness are centered in your Majesty, at once their Father and their King.

Given under common seal this 24th day of January 1827.

To His Most Gracious Majesty George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c. &c.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and most dutiful subjects, the Inhabitants, of the Town and Neighbourhood of Leith, assembled in a General Meeting, specially called, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty and sincerely to lament the great and irreparable bereavement which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained, by the death of His Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York and Albany.

The high station among the nations of the world, to which, by the blessing of Providence, Great Britain has, under your Majesty's Government, so decidedly attained, may in a great measure be attributed to the perfection to which the British army has been brought under the system introduced by the late Commander-in-Chief. The loss of His Royal Highness is, therefore, the more deeply felt, and his memory will be cherished and revered by all who have the welfare and the glory of their country at heart.

Permit us, Sire, while we humbly offer this tribute of condolence to your Majesty, to assure your Majesty of our continued loyalty, and of our unalterable attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and illustrious Family.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and by our appointment, at Leith, the 26th day of January 1827 years, by, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most devoted and faithful subject and servant,

James Duncan,

Master of the Trinity House, Preses.

Unto His Majesty the KING.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Magistrates and Town Council of the City of Brechin, in Scotland, desire to assure your Majesty that we, in common with your Majesty's other subjects, are deeply affected by the death of your Majesty's illustrious Brother, His Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York, the father of the army, and the friend of the people. We pray that your Majesty may, in this time of sorrow, receive support from Him who is alone able to give comfort in the day of affliction, and we earnestly supplicate that your Majesty may be blessed with length of days to reign over the empire put under your Majesty's parental sway.

The humble Address of the Incorporation of Maltmen of Leith.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Members of the Incorporation of Maltmen of Leith, with sentiments of the deepest veneration and love, would beg leave to lay at the foot of the Throne the sincere expressions of our sympathy and condolence for the loss which your Majesty and the whole Nation have to deplore in the death of that illustrious Prince, Frederick Duke of York and Albany, Brother to your Most Gracious Majesty.

When we consider the many high and important claims which the illustrious departed Prince had upon the gratitude of the empire, especially manifested in those rules of discipline and provision in the army, so fraught with prudence, wisdom and benevolence as to have finally trained the British soldier to be the politest gentleman, the most obedient to law, and the bravest warrior: and further, by that firm and undaunted support of the British Constitution and of the Protestant religion, which must ever shed around His Royal name and memory, the blessings of all your Majesty's loyal and Protestant subjects, we cannot but reflect with sorrow and the deepest regret on the irreparable loss the United Kingdom has sustained by his death.

That Almighty God may support and console your Majesty, and the Royal Family, under this afflictive dispensation of Divine Providence; that the Royal House of Brunswick, under whose mild and gracious Government the country has enjoyed so many blessings, may continue to reign over it while sun and moon endure; and in particular, that your Gracious Majesty, the Father of your people, may reign long and happy, a blessing to your people, and a glorious example to the Emperors and Kings of this earth, is the most anxious wish and earnest prayer of, may it please your Majesty, the whole Members of the Incorporation of Maltmen of the Town of Leith.

Signed in our name, and in our presence, and by our appointment, by our Master, and the seal of our Incorporation hereto affixed, at our Convening-House, the 25th day of January 1827.

Robert Philip, jun. Master of Maltmen.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Deputy Recorder, Town Clerk, Sheriffs, Common Council, Peers, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the County of the Borough of Carmarthen, in Common Hall assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Deputy Recorder, Town Clerk, Sheriffs, Common Council, Peers, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the County of the Borough of Carmarthen, in Common Hall assembled, most humbly beg to address your Majesty, and to express how deeply and sincerely we feel the great and painful affliction which your Majesty and your august Family must experience, by the death of that most excellent and ever-to-be-lamented Prince, His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, your Majesty's truly affectionate and beloved brother.

We are also incited by the acutest emotions of grief to express the sorrow we feel in being deprived of an illustrious Prince, who acquired the esteem and gratitude of the public, by the able and judicious discharge of the important duties entrusted to him by your Most Gracious Majesty, and by his steadfast support of the Constitution established in Church and State. May the all-gracious Divine Providence, which has conferred on this favoured land such signal blessings, under the mild and auspicious sway of the House of Brunswick, and rendered the period of your Majesty's government and reign so conspicuous an era of England's glory, be your constant support, and long preserve your Majesty to the empire which you rule in justice and mercy, and to the civilized world, of whose liberty and happiness your Majesty is ever found the firm and enlightened friend:

Gusmond Philipps, Mayor.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Burgh of Haddington, desire to express our sincere and heart felt condolence on the late lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Attached as we are to your Majesty, by every tie of duty and affection, we largely participate in the universal sentiment of regret which has been excited by this dispensation. When we contemplate the merits of His Royal Highness, and the zeal with which he devoted himself to the best interests of his country, his death must be viewed as a great national loss. But while we would not forget the distinguished services of His Royal Highness, we desire, on the present occasion, more especially to condole with your Majesty, and to pray that the Father of Mercies may speedily restore your Majesty to the blessings of comfort and tranquillity, and that you may long be spared to reign over a free, a loyal, and an united people.

Signed in presence and by authority of the Magistrates and Council of the Burgh of Haddington, in Council assembled, this 25th day of January 1827, by

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heritors and Justices of the Peace of the County of Inverness, in a General Meeting assembled at Inverness the 23d day of January 1827, venture to approach your Majesty with the offer of our sincere condolence on the loss that your Majesty and the Nation have experienced by the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

Sympathizing as we do in the grief that your Majesty must feel for the loss of so near a relation, we cannot but be aware how much that grief must be aggravated on the present occasion, by the recollection of the peculiar value of the life that it has pleased Divine Providence to recall.

The public station filled by the illustrious deceased presented him constantly before the eyes of all ranks of your Majesty's subjects, and we may confidently affirm, that the efficient manner in which he fulfilled his high and important duties has impressed us with sentiments of the greatest gratitude and respect, and that we shall long cherish in our hearts the memory of a Prince whose whole life has been devoted to the service of his Sovereign and his country.

We humbly hope your Majesty will be graciously pleased to accept of our heart felt sympathy, and our most earnest wishes for your Majesty's welfare, and that this expression of our feelings will be received by your Majesty with the indulgence that we have on all occasions experienced from your Majesty's kindness and condescension.

To His Most Gracious Majesty King George the Fourth, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c. Grand Patron of the Ancient and Illustrious Order of Free and Accepted Masons of the United Kingdom.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Master, Wardens and Brethren of the Union Masonic Lodge, No. 13, on the Registry of Ireland, beg leave to approach your Majesty with feelings of deep and heartfelt sorrow, to sympathize with your Majesty, and offer our condolence upon the great calamity and national misfortune which has befallen unto your Majesty and the United Empire, by the decease of our dear illustrious brother, His late Royal Highness Frederick Duke of York and Albany, Master of the Royal Domestic Masonic Lodge of Brighton, &c. &c.

When we contemplate the dispensations of the all-wise Providence which rules over us, and are convinced by every day's experience, that the most virtuous and amiable men, and those most favoured by that Providence, are invariably the most heavily afflicted in this state of trial and sorrow, from which no rank, no station is exempt; we feel the present heavy calamity which has befallen your Majesty to be a further proof of this divine truth, and we cannot but derive a melancholy consolation from this conviction, while we deeply deplore, and keenly feel, the irreparable loss which your Majesty and the Nation have suffered.

That your Majesty may long live to enjoy the deserved esteem and affection of your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects of the United Kingdom, is the ardent wish of the Master, Wardens and Brethren of the Loyal Union Masonic Lodge, No. 13.

The humble Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Tain, in North Britain.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Tain, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne to offer to your Majesty the tribute of our sincere condolence on the loss which your Majesty has sustained by the death of your illustrious Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

While we bow with reverence to the decree of an Almighty and unerring Providence, which has deprived your Majesty of a loving and affectionate brother, in whom were united all the social and amiable virtues which add lustre to greatness, and the Nation of so bright an ornament, we cannot but deeply deplore so heavy an affliction to your Royal Person and Family, an affliction which has so justly cast a gloom over every class of persons in your Majesty's extensive dominions.

That the Supreme Disposer of all Events, whose prerogative it is to bring good out of evil, may afford to your Majesty those consolations which pure religion alone imparts, and may long preserve your valuable life to be a blessing to these realms, is the earnest prayer of us, your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of your ancient Burgh of Montrose, in Scotland, beg leave most humbly to approach your royal presence with the sincere expressions of our heart felt grief for the severe loss which your Majesty and the Nation at large have sustained in the death of your Royal Brother, Frederick Duke of York and Albany, a Prince whose inviolable attachment to the Constitution of his Country, whose unceasing attention to the discipline of the army, and to the comforts of the soldier, whose endeavours to promote the cause of benevolence, and whose urbanity and condescension to all classes have endeared him to his contemporaries, and will embalm his memory in the recollection of posterity.

While we deeply sympathize with your Majesty upon this afflicting occasion, we fervently pray that the Almighty Disposer of all Events will vouchsafe a continuance of every earthly blessing upon your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Stockport, in the County Palatine of Chester, cannot refrain from expressing to your Majesty our true and unfeigned sympathy upon the melancholy occasion of the demise of your Royal Brother, the Duke of York and Albany.

When we reflect upon all he did, through many eventful years, for the honour and safety of his native land, we feel, in common with all your Majesty's people, that we have indeed sustained an irreparable loss; he was not more endeared to us by his birth and station as a Prince of the House of Brunswick, and as being next to your Majesty in place and blood, than by the many excellent qualities which graced his character and conferred lustre even on his exalted rank; his consistency and firmness as a legislator of the realm, his steady attachment to our matchless Constitution, the intrepidity, the noble simplicity with which he declared it in the face of all men, the real, the practical wisdom he displayed as Commander-in-Chief of the armies of Britain, command, and ever must command, the gratitude of all true British hearts.

In these sad and severe moments we presume not to estimate the strength of your Majesty's feelings, but we hope and trust that to be assured of the sympathy of your faithful people may in some degree alleviate them.

We fervently pray, that He who gave and now hath taken away, may, of His great mercy, assuage their bitterness; and that, in the multitude of the thoughts within you, your spirits may be refreshed by the hopes and comforts of His everlasting Gospel.

On behalf of the Inhabitants before mentioned,

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Inhabitants of the Borough of Newark-upon-Trent, beg most humbly to offer to your Majesty our sincere and heartfelt condolence on the recent, melancholy demise of your Majesty's august Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, and to express to your Majesty the extreme regret we feel for the loss of so illustrious and excellent a Prince, whose amiable and benevolent qualities had endeared him to all ranks and stations of your Majesty's subjects, and when we call to mind the services he has rendered his country by the very attentive, judicious and zealous discharge of the duty of the important office intrusted to him by your Majesty, and his wise and excellent regulations which have tended so much to the glory and success of your Majesty's arms, we cannot but deeply sympathize with your Majesty, and deplore the severe affliction and irreparable loss. We also sincerely lament, in common with the rest of your Majesty's loyal subjects, that in the death of His Royal Highness the Nation has lost one of the firmest supporters of our happy and enviable Constitution in Church and State. To this tribute of condolence, permit us to add the assurances of our most devoted and faithful attachment to your Majesty's Person and Family, and to declare our sincere and ardent wishes that your Majesty may, by the blessing of Providence, long continue to reign over an affectionate and loyal people.

We subscribe ourselves your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

Newark-upon-Trent, January 25, 1827.

TAKE NOTICE,

1. If any Creditor intends to oppose a Prisoner's discharge, notice of such intention must be given to the said Prisoner, in writing, three clear days before the day of hearing, exclusive of Sunday, and exclusive both of the day of giving such notice and of the said day of hearing.

2. But in the case of a Prisoner, whom his Creditors have removed, by an order of the Court, from a gaol in or near London for hearing in the country, such notice of opposition will be sufficient if given one clear day before the day of hearing.

3. The petition and schedule will be produced by the proper Officer for inspection and examination, at the Office of the Court in London, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, between the hours of Ten and Four; and copies of the petition and schedule, or such part thereof as shall be required, will be provided by the proper Officer, according to the Act, 7 Geo. 4, c. 57, sec. 76.

N.B. Entrance to the Office in Portugal-Street, Lincoln's-Inn-Fields.

4. The duplicate of the petition and schedule, and all books, papers, and writings filed therewith, will be produced for inspection and examination by the Clerk of the Peace, Town Clerk, or other person with whom the same shall have been directed to be lodged for such purpose, at the Office of such Clerk of the Peace or other person; and copies of the petition and schedule, or such part thereof as shall be required, will be there provided, according to the Act, 7 Geo. 4, c. 57, sec. 77, or the Act, 5 Geo. 4, c. 61, sec. 11, as the case may be.
