HIS Majesty does not require that the mourning, prescribed in the notification of the 8th of January to the Fleet and Royal Marines, should be continued any longer; except that the Officers are to wear black crapes round their left arms, until the 5th of April.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Robert Peel, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were presented by him to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of Christchurch, and its Neighbourhood, in the County of Southampton.

May it please your Majesty,

THE grief occasioned by the awful event with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict your Majesty and this Nation, by the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, your Brother, has been deeply felt by us, and we cannot resist, at a time when we have the strongest sense of the public loss; the desire thus humbly and dutifully to convey to your Majesty the most lively assurances of our deep sorrow for your sufferings, which can be assuaged only by resignation to the Divine Will.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Common Council of the Burgh of Paisley, in Council assembled, beg leave to offer to your Majesty the expression of our heartfelt sympathy on the afflicting event of the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, your Majesty's beloved and illustrious Brother.

Devotedly attached as we are to your Majesty and the House of Brunswick, we deeply participate in the grief which pervades all classes of the land, for the loss of another Member of that august Family, under whose rule the empire has attained a pre-eminence in glory, and the people have enjoyed an era of liberty, prosperity, and internal peace, unexampled among nations.

But, in deploring the death of the Duke of York, your Majesty's faithful subjects have to lament not only the loss of a Prince of the royal blood, but also that the United Kingdom and its Colonies have been deprived of a great public servant, who joined to his high descent, and mingled with the discharge of his official duties, the best qualities of the human heart, whose life of active usefulness and benevolence added splendour to his exalted station, and whose claims on his country as the regenerator of her army, and the able and impartial administrator of military affairs, will be the subject of proud memorial in the history of these times.

We earnestly pray that in this affliction your Majesty may be afforded that consolation which the world cannot bestow, and that your Majesty may long reign over your affectionate people.

Signed in our name and by our appointment by our Provost, and sealed with the seal of the said Burgh, the 30th day of January 1827.

Robert Farquharson, Provost and Chief Magistrate.

To His Most Excellent Majesty George the Fourth, KING of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, Heritors, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of the Country of Elgin, in a General Meeting assembled, humbly trusting that the sympathetic voice of your Majesty's loyal and attached subjects, in accordance with your mournful feelings, cannot be but soothing to your mind under the great affliction with which it is oppressed, by the death of your lamented Royal Brother, the Duke of York and Albany; permit us, therefore, to express, in common with our fellow subjects, our sincere condolence at the bereavement you as a Sovereign and Brother have experienced, and our lament at the irreparable loss the country has met with of its most esteemed and valued Commander-in-Chief, and to supplicate Heaven to soothe your sorrow, and to restore you speedily to the enjoyment of tranquillity, and that unalloyed happiness which your subjects wish to be the share of the best of Kings.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Musselburgh.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Burgh of Musselburgh, beg to offer to your Majesty our very sincere sympathy and condolence on the truly afflicting event with which it has pleased Providence to visit your Majesty and this Country. We revere and cherish the remembrance of the many virtues which adorned the character of His Royal Highness the late Duke of York; and while we deplore the event, which has deprived the country of his valuable services, and your Majesty of so faithful and affectionate a brother, we rejoice in the hope that his virtues will long live in the memory of the nation at large, and that his bright example will act as a stimulus to his successor to tread in the same steps.

We offer to your Majesty our sincere professions of attachment and fidelity, and earnestly pray that your Majesty may long sway the sceptre of these realms, and ever retain the character which you so justly merit of the father of your people.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Archbishop, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church, the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury, approach your Majesty in deepest sorrow to condole with your Majesty on the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

In this expression of grief, common to the whole empire, we take a sincere part, founded on His Royal Highness' distinguished merits as a public man, and especially on his efficient, fixed and undeviating support of our Protestant Constitution in Church and State.

But, Sir, the sorrows to which we look with peculiar interest and anxiety are those which surround your Majesty's Throne, involving in them not only the higher considerations of the State, but the finer and perhaps keener feelings of human nature, arising from the loss of a devoted friend, an affectionate brother, the companion of your Majesty's earliest life, and the faithful partaker of all its vicissitudes.

We pray God, who alone can administer comfort to sorrows like these, to administer to your Majesty in His infinite goodness and mercy perfect consolation.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Sheriffs, and Citizens of the County of the City of Waterford, truly sensible of the irreparable loss your Majesty has sustained by the death of your beloved Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York, beg leave to tender to your Majesty the expression of our sincere sympathy on the afflicting event.

We are deeply impressed with the admirable and effectual regulations established by His Royal Highness for the government of your Majesty's army, and with the honourable impartiality with which he discharged his important duty as Commander-in-Chief, his uniform courtesy to the officer, and his kindly feeling to the soldier, have equally endeared his memory to their recollection.

In offering to your Majesty our respectful condolence, we request your Majesty will accept our assurances of devoted attachment to your Royal Person, our anxious wishes for the long continuance of your Majesty's life, and our fervent prayer that your Majesty's Throne may be ever fixed on that most solid and glorious foundation—the united affections of a free and loyal people. Henry H. Hunt, Mayor.

Unto His Most Gracious Majesty KING George the Fourth.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the United Incorporations of Mary's Chapel, of the City of Edinburgh, would most humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty our sincere condolence on the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, whereby your Majesty has been deprived of a beloved and affectionate Brother, and the Country has lost his invaluable services as Commander-in-Chief of the British army.

The energy, impartiality, and benevolence with which His Royal Highness discharged the duties of that important office, for the period of upwards of thirty years, and by which the army has been brought to its present high state of discipline, and many most invaluable comforts secured to every officer and soldier, had secured to His Royal Highness the respect and veneration of the whole British army, and the confidence and attachment of your Majesty's subjects.

We humbly trust that your Majesty will derive some consolation under this afflicting event, from the sympathy felt by all your Majesty's subjects; and that your Majesty may be spared, by Divine Providence, long to reign over a free and happy people.

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the County and Town of Sligo.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the County and Town of Sligo, assembled at a meeting duly convened by the Governor of the County in the Shire Hall, beg leave most humbly to convey to the foot of your Majesty's Throne our expression of unfeigned sorrow and condolence upon the recent demise of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

By this calamitous event your Majesty has been bereaved of an affectionate and beloved brother, and a most valuable subject.

The inestimable qualities of His Royal Highness received from your Majesty those marks of confidence which the unanimous voice of the nation was raised to approve.

As a Prince of the House of Brunswick, all your Majesty's loyal subjects honoured His Royal Highness as the faithful supporter of the true principles of the Constitution.

That your Majesty may be visited by those consolations from above which can alone prove sufficient to assuage the acuteness of a sorrow in which all your Majesty's loyal subjects participate.

And that your Majesty may long continue auspiciously to sway the sceptre of this mighty Empire, and to reign in the hearts of a devoted people, is the fervent prayer of, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the County and Town of Sligo.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Worcester, approach your Majesty with feelings of the most sincere condolence upon the late melancholy event, in the death of your beloved brother, the Duke of York and Albany.

We presume to offer our united sympathy upon this lamented occasion, more with the view of convincing your Majesty of our unabated loyalty and attachment to your Sacred Person and to your Family, than from the hope of assuaging a grief, which the hand of time and the consolation of religion can alone alleviate.

The loss to your Majesty has indeed been most severe, but to a country (alive to the benefits attending the exalted station of this illustrious Prince) it has been proportionately great, and has been felt generally with a pain and regret, which the force of language is ill adapted to express.

In humble then, but unaffected grief, we deplore the death of a Prince, whose filial duty and brotherly love we have so much admired, and wish to record in this address of condolence.

Signed on behalf of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Worcester.

The humble, loyal, and dutiful Address of the Prince of Wales's Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful, loyal, and affectionate subjects, the Members of a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, denominated the Prince of Wales's Lodge, most humbly beg leave on the present afflicting occasion to approach your Majesty to offer our respectful and sincere condolence on the heavy loss which your Majesty and the Empire have so recently sustained, by the lamented decease of His late Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

Yielding, Sire, to none of your Majesty's subjects, in the general feeling of grief and regret at this melancholy event, we, the Members of the Prince of Wales's Lodge, have reasons peculiar to ourselves for more particularly deploring this severe dispensation, inasmuch as His late Royal Highness had most graciously condescended to fill the chair of our loyal and benevolent community, and was, in fact, our august Master at the time of the afflicting event alluded to.

We, nevertheless, bend in all submission to the will of Divine Providence, and fervently pray that it may please the Great Architect of the Universe to endue your Majesty with adequate strength and resignation under this affliction, and to grant to our Most Gracious Sovereign health and length of days to reign in the hearts of a loyal, affectionate, and happy people.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Berwick.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Berwick, assembled in a General Meeting, beg leave to approach your Majesty's Throne, with the offer of our most sincere condolence on the melancholy occasion of the death of His late Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

With the most devoted loyalty and affection to your Majesty's Person and Government, we deeply sympathize with your Majesty's grief for the loss of so excellent a brother, whose amiable qualities so justly endeared His Royal Highness to his family and to the nation, and by whose most able and distinguished services as Commander-in-Chief, the character of the British army was raised to that pre-eminence which largely contributed in producing a solid peace to the world, and in raising the greatness of the empire to a height unparalleled in our history; we humbly pray to the Almighty that He may be graciously pleased to sustain and comfort your Majesty under so afflicting a visitation, and that your Majesty may long reign over an affectionate and loyal people.

The humble Address of the Dean of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, the Lord High Steward, Deputy High Steward, High Bailiff, Deputy High Bailiff, Chief Burgesses, Burgesses and Assistant Burgesses of the City and Liberty of Westminster.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean, Lord High Steward, Deputy High Steward, High Bailiff, Deputy High Bailiff, Chief Burgesses, Burgesses, and Assistant Burgesses of your ancient City and Liberty of Westminster, most humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty our unfeigned sympathy and condolence on the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

Deeply impressed as we are with the excellent qualities and virtues of His Royal Highness, we cannot but be truly sensible that by his death your Majesty has sustained the loss of an affectionate brother, your illustrious House of one of its brightest ornaments, the Church of a firm supporter, the Army of a commander whom they loved and revered, and the Country of a powerful protector of all its best and dearest interests.

On this most afflicting occasion, we trust and are persuaded, that your Majesty will receive all those consolations which religion is alone enabled to afford; and we fervently hope that your Majesty's life may long be spared, and that the nation may continue to enjoy those blessings which it has gratefully experienced under your Majesty's mild and auspicious Government.

To His Most Excellent Majesty KING George the Fourth.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Dean and Prebendaries of your Cathedral Church of Durham, humbly presume to offer to your Majesty our sincere and heartfelt condolence upon the ever-to-be-lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York.

In common with all classes of your Majesty's subjects, we deplore a calamity which has deprived the nation of the services of that illustrious person, under whose vigilant and judicious controul the British army has been raised to a height of reputation and glory unknown before in the annals of our country, but we trust that we may be permitted, with deeper feelings of regret and sorrow, to mourn for him who was the avowed friend of our ecclesiastical establishment, and the strenuous supporter of those civil and religious liberties, which, by the blessing of God, under the paternal sway of your Majesty's august Family, we have so long enjoyed.

With the profoundest sentiments of grief we contemplate the severe loss which your Majesty individually has sustained, but we confidently hope that your Majesty will find consolation in the universal sympathy of a loyal, affectionate, and grateful people.

In witness whereof we have hereunto put our chapter seal, this 10th day of February, in the year of our Lord 1827. C. H. Hall.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Diocese of Worcester.

WE beg to approach your Majesty, with every expression of heartfelt sorrow, on the sad occasion of the decease of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, a brother so affectionately attached to your Royal Person, a supporter so firm of your Majesty's Crown: long, Sir, will your subjects regret the loss of such an illustrious Commander-in-Chief of your forces: long will the friends of the Constitution in Church and State lament the loss of the uniform support with which His Royal Highness upheld their united interests: in private life, too many hearts are sorrowing for the loss of his constancy in friendship, and inflexible adherence to every engagement of his honour. We all heard, Sir, with affliction, of the late sufferings of His Royal Highness, and with reverence of the patience with which he endured them. Most earnestly do we pray for the restoration of tranquillity to your Majesty's mind, and for a long continuance of your reign over a grateful people.

To His Most Gracious Majesty George the Fourth, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING, Defender of the Faith, &c. &c,

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Huddersfield, beg leave to approach the Throne, with feelings of the deepest condolence on the melancholy loss which your Majesty and the Royal Family have sustained, by the demise of His Royal Highness the Duke of York, your Majesty's nearest brother, and presumptive heir to the Throne of these Realms.

We feel our grief augmented by the recollection of the long and distinguished career of His Royal Highness as Commander-in-Chief of the British army, whose zeal, while living, watched over its honour, and whose dying wishes were directed to its welfare: we cannot but reflect that it is mainly owing to the high and efficient state of discipline enforced by His Royal Highness that our army attained to an unparalleled pitch of glory.

We feel a peculiar pleasure in expressing the homage of our hearts to those benevolent traits of His Royal Highness' character, which have endeared his name to every British soldier: the blessings of future ages await the founder of those noble Asylums established for the support of the aged soldier, of the widows and orphans of the fallen, and of those whom the fate of war had rendered helpless: these are His Royal Highness' best monuments, and entitle him to the eternal gratitude of his country.

We ardently implore for your Majesty that comfort and support, in this crisis of affliction, which He alone can give by whom Kings do reign, beseeching that of His Almighty goodness, He will shower down upon your Majesty the choicest of His blessings, and that He will crown with success your Majesty's efforts to promote the prosperity and happiness of the British Empire, and to consolidate the peace of Europe on a sure and honourable basis. And while we deplore the melancholy event, by which the chain of succession to a mighty Empire is again broken, we feel more than ever called upon to implore the protection of Heaven on the Royal House of Brunswick, under whose dominion this country has enjoyed so many blessings.

Firmly attached, as we are, by every tie of duty and affection to that august House, we fervently pray that under their mild and parental sway, our children's children may inherit those manifold blessings, civil and religious, which have been handed down to us by our forefathers.

At the request and on behalf of the meeting,

WE your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Town and Borough of Ipswich, in the County of Suffolk, in Common Hall assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of the most sincere condolence on the death of your late Royal Brother the Duke of York, a Prince whose pre-eminent virtues and patriotic spirit enhance the loss, not only to your Majesty, but to every loyal subject in your Majesty's dominions.

Seldom does departed worth fail of receiving the eulogies it merits, but how rarely does it find them, when living and exercising its energies for the public weal; envy for the most part obscures its lustre—death only removes the veil; but singularly fortunate, in this respect, was the illustrious Prince, whose death we deplore, to the estimation we held him in whilst living amongst us, we can add nothing now he is no more.

As long as the British army shall maintain that high pre-eminence to which it has attained under his auspices, so long will it continue to cherish, with grateful hearts, the adored memory of its illustrious Commander: as long as true religion shall maintain its ascendancy and flourish amongst us, so long shall every loyal Protestant bless the memory of the supporter of his religious rites.

That Almighty God may long extend the life of your Most Gracious Majesty, and support you under the heavy loss which you have sustained, is the fervent wish and prayer of your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Sovereign, Burgesses and Inhabitants of Belfast assembled, most humbly offer to your Majesty the assurances of our most sincere and heartfelt condolence on the lamented death of your august Brother, the late Duke of York and Albany.

A loyal and attached Nation will participate in the grief of the Crown; and on this melancholy occasion, we do most humbly, but sincerely, pour forth our regret, and deeply mourn this national calamity: we, in common with your Majesty, bow with submission to the will of Almighty God, and pray that your Majesty may be supported under so heavy a trial, and enabled to bear, with Christian resignation, this visitation of Divine Providence. We have the honour to be, your Majesty's dutiful, affectionate and loyal subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of Lincoln, in Common Council assembled, beg to be permitted to offer to your Majesty our heartfelt and unaffected expressions of sympathy and condolence on the melancholy death of your Majesty's Royal Brother, His late Royal Highness the Duke of York.

The noble, the generous, and the manly virtues which distinguished the character of the illustrious deceased, have rendered his dissolution a source of deep and general affliction to your Majesty's people, and they can appreciate in some degree the poignancy of your Majesty's anguish, whose estimate of those exalted qualities was heightened by sentiments of close and kindred affection.

To your Majesty's military forces this lamentable bereavement cannot but be peculiarly distressing, for His Royal Highness, the late Commander-in-Chief, was justly regarded by the soldier of every rank, as the generous patron and the sure friend, as the source from which the meritorious might confidently anticipate reward, the injured redress, and the unfortunate encouragement and relief, whilst His Royal Highness' constant, judicious and successful attention to the discipline and the well-being of your Majesty's army, causes his loss to be felt as a national calamity.

To this sincere offering of condolence, the Mayor, Sheriffs, Citizens, and Commonalty of Lincoln, beg to add their renewed and dutiful assurances of firm and steady attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, and to express their best hopes, that Providence will long continue your Majesty's benign reign in health and prosperity.

The common seal of the Corporation of the City of Lincoln, was hereunto affixed by order of Common Council, on the 31st day of January, in the eighth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Fourth, and in the year of our Lord 1827.

To His Most Excellent Majesty George the Fourth, KING of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Common Councilmen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Town and Neighbourhood of Oswestry, beg most humbly to offer our Address of Condolence upon the loss which your Majesty and the British Nation have sustained, in the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany.

The army over which he presided as Commander-in-Chief resounds with his praises, from the ability, the justice, and the impartiality with which he administered the important duties of that high office, which has raised the army to a state of discipline that commands the respect and admiration of all nations, and has placed this United Kingdom in the most elevated position, founded on the glory of our arms and the prosperity of your Majesty's benign and paternal Government.

The great Prince, whose loss we are deploring, was ever ready to meet our enemies abroad, or at home, foremost in the field of battle, and foremost also in the defence of our Constitution in Church and State, of our civil and religious establishments, and who never lost sight of those Protestant principles which established the illustrious House of Brunswick upon the Throne of these Realms.

That your Majesty may long reign over the destinies of this great Empire, as well as in the hearts of your people, we pray God to grant.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the Town Corporate of Saffron Walden, in the County of Essex, beg leave to address your Majesty with deep feelings of sympathy and condolence, on the irreparable loss which your Majesty and the Nation have recently sustained by the lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York. Highly privileged as we have been, as a Corporate Body, by royal favour, for several centuries, we feel it incumbent at all times to approach your Majesty's Throne with sentiments of respect, gratitude and affection; and upon this melancholy occasion we are especially anxious to blend our tears with those of your Majesty, for the loss of the illustrious personage whom the Army, Church, and State at large, no less than the widow and the orphan deplore. Long may your Gracious Majesty, under whose paternal care our land enjoys so much quietness and prosperity, be preserved by Divine Providence, a blessing to this Empire, and to the nations protected by her mighty influence.

Given under our common seal, at the Guildhall, in Saffron Walden aforesaid, this 8th day of February 1827.

[Transmitted by Lord Braybrooke.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of Greenock, in Council assembled, beg to lay at your Majesty's feet the dutiful expression of our condolence on the lamented decease of His Royal Highness the Duke of York. We deeply participate in the sympathy which your Majesty's faithful subjects in general feel in your Majesty's sorrows on this most afflicting occasion.

When we consider the transcendent services rendered to your Majesty and the British Empire by His late Royal Highness as Commander-in-Chief of the land forces, services which mainly contributed to raise Britain to a state of greatness and glory unparalleled in her annals; his unceasing attention to the welfare of the soldier; his discernment in recommending and rewarding merit, virtues which will endear his memory to the latest posterity; and when we consider the fostering care and encouragement, which, with unceasing benevolence and in a manner the most gracious and engaging, our lamented Prince extended to so many charitable institutions of the country, in mourning his death we deplore an irreparable loss, a great national calamity.

But while His Royal Highness's invaluable public services excited the admiration and gratitude of your Majesty's faithful subjects throughout the wide extent of your dominions, the kind and amiable qualities of his heart peculiarly endeared His Royal Highness to his private friends, and strengthened the bonds of fraternal affection, in which your Majesty and your departed beloved Brother were united. We trust that the recollection of these qualities though it may add to the present poignancy of your Majesty's grief, will hereafter contribute, with the hopes which religion inspires, and the sympathy and devoted attachment of your loyal subjects, to bring consolation to the mind of your Majesty.

With every sentiment of zeal and dutiful attachment, we offer up our earnest prayers for a long duration of your Majesty's mild and paternal reign over a free, a loyal, and a happy people.

Signed and sealed with the common seal of the Town of Greenock, by me, Chief Magistrate, in name and by appointment of the Magistrates and Council of Greenock, at Greenock, the 6th day of February 1827.

W. Leitch, Chief Magistrate.

[Transmitted by W. Leitch, Esq., Chief Magistrate.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bishop of London, the Dean and Chapter of Saint Paul's, and the Clergy of the Cities of London and Westminster, impressed with the deepest sorrow, most humbly entreat permission to approach your Majesty, with the assurances of our sincere condolence on the death of His Royal Highness the Duke of York. By this melancholy event your Majesty has been deprived of a brother endeared by the recollections of early life, and the affectionate intercourse of riper years, of a servant eminently distinguished by the faithful and able discharge of the duties of his high office, and by loyal regard to the dignity of the Crown and to the true interests of the Country.

In estimating the loss which the Nation has sustained by this great calamity, we are naturally led, as the Ministers of a Christian Church, to revert, with feelings of gratitude to the sense which His Royal Highness entertained of the intimate connection between the welfare of the people and the purity of their religion and morals. Amidst the numberless charities to which His Royal Highness's patronage was extended, there were none which partook more largely of His Royal Highness's bounty, or were more frequently honoured with his presence, than the schools established for the education of the poor children of these cities in the principles of the National Church. And if, under the paternal direction of His Royal Highness, the army has reached the highest degree of military excellence, one chief cause will be found in His Royal Highness's care so lay the foundation of order and discipline in the knowledge of our Holy Religion, and the practice of its duties.

Regarding His Royal Highness as a Prince of that illustrious Family, which has now for more than a century protected our religion and liberties, we cannot but thankfully acknowledge His Royal Highness's conscientious attachment to the principles of the Constitution, and his determined resistance of all innovation injurious to the Church or State.

Amongst the consolations which your Majesty will experience under this trying dispensation, one of the most effectual will undoubtedly be the unanimous expression of sympathy from every class of your Majesty's subjects. In these testimonies of respect and affection your Majesty will perceive unequivocal proofs of the feeling which attaches the hearts of the Nation to your Majesty's Family and Person. But, sensible of the weight of your Majesty's present affliction, we humbly offer up our prayers to the Father of Mercy, that He would of His great goodness vouchsafe to your Majesty that fulness of comfort which cometh only from above, and prolong your Majesty's days on the throne of this Kingdom, amidst the blessings of a dutiful people, and in the abundance of peace and honour.

[Delivered by the Bishop of London.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Masters, Wardens, Searchers, Assistants, and Commonalty of the Corporation of Cutlers in Hallamshire, the Burgesses or Free Tenants, commonly called the Town Collector and his Assistants, the Twelve Capital Church Burgesses and Commonalty, and the undersigned Magistrates, Clergy, Gentry, Merchants, and other Inhabitants of the Town of Sheffield, in the County of York, most humbly ask permission to approach your Majesty with the expression of our sincere and deep felt sorrow and sympathy, on the recent demise of that most illustrious and excellent Prince and Commander-in-Chief, your Majesty's late Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany; at the same time we are convinced, that, while we thus condole with your Majesty on this severe domestic bereavement in the Royal Family, we only share, in common with all other your Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects, the public grief of the nation at the loss of so able, faithful, and exemplary a servant of the Crown.

That your Majesty, under the blessing of Divine Providence, may reign long and happily over a grateful, prosperous, and united people, is the earnest hope and prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

By order of the Master, Wardens, Searchers, and Assistants of the Corporation of Cutlers in Hallamshire, at their Common Hall assembled.

[Transmitted by Mr. James Wilson, Law Clerk to the Cutlers' Company.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Saint Alban, in the County of Hertford.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Saint Alban, in the County of Hertford, most humbly approach the Throne to condole with your Most Gracious Majesty on the affliction which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained by the death of your illustrious Brother, His Royal Highness the Duke of York and Albany, a Prince who, by his zealous attachment to the Protestant Religion as by law established, his sincerity and consistency of character, his attention to the discipline of the army and the comforts of the soldier, his endeavours to promote the cause of charity, and his urbanity and condescension to all classes, has justly endeared himself to his contemporaries, and whose memory will be revered to the latest posterity.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Verulam.]

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County or Clackmanan.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, Commissioners of Supply, and Heritors of the County of Clackmanan, beg leave to approach your Majesty with feelings of the most unfeigned sympathy and regret, and with a tender of our humble, but sincere and heartfelt condolence upon the melancholy event which has deprived your Majesty of a beloved and affectionate brother, the Country of her brightest and most distinguished ornament, and the British army of its illustrious and unrivalled chief.

At such a moment, and under the pressure of so afflicting a dispensation, it is not for us to offer to your Majesty that alleviation, or that consolation, which are alone to be found in those resources which the strength and fortitude of your Majesty's mind will not fail to supply. But while we deeply sympathize with your Majesty, in deploring the irreparable loss which your Majesty, your Family, and the Country at large have sustained, we, nevertheless, trust it may be permitted to us to share with your Majesty, in the indulgence of the melancholy but gratifying retrospect, which is afforded to us in the brilliant career of public service, which has just closed with the life of the illustrious and distinguished head of the British army.

We have lived to see what the British army was, we have lived to see what the British army is; and there are not wanting among us those to whom the name of His late Royal Highness, the Commander-in-Chief, is too familiar not to carry with it, to the latest hour of our existence, a proud and grateful recollection of the characteristics of his great and enlightened mind; and above all, of his generous, disinterested, and undeviating support of those whose good fortune it has been to be associated with His Royal Highness in the discharge of their professional duties, and in upholding, under the auspices of His Royal Highness, the reputation of the British army.

May his example, the recollection of his public life; and, if we may be permitted to add, the recollection of the many amiable and endearing qualities which equally adorned him in private life, acknowledged as they are by a grateful and sorrowing people, tend to mitigate the grief, and in some measure to alleviate the severity of that blow, which has unhappily deprived your Majesty of your best and firmest friend, the Country and Army of their best and firmest supporter; and that your Majesty may be speedily restored to your wonted health and spirits, and may long continue to reign over a loyal and affectionate people, is the earnest and sincere prayer of your Majesty's faithful and devoted subjects.

Signed in our name, and by our authority, at Alloa, this 6th day of February 1827 years.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Mansfield.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, Aldermen, Free Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Corporation of Youghal.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Aldermen, Free Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Corporation of Youghal, deeply participating in those heartfelt emotions of grief which now pervade all classes of your Majesty's faithful subjects, humbly beg leave to offer the assurances of our most devoted attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, Crown, and Family, and to mingle, in common with all good and loyal men, our unfeigned sympathy, sorrow, and condolence on that great calamity, which has deprived your Majesty of an affectionate and beloved brother, the Crown of an ardent and strenuous supporter, the Army of an able and efficient commander, and the Nation at large of an illustrious, high-spirited, and most estimable prince.

Whilst we humbly express the deep and unaffected sorrow and regret which bows us down on this afflicting occasion, and sincerely condole with your Majesty on the great loss which both Monarch and People have sustained by the lamented death of His late Royal Highness the Duke of York, it affords us a melancholy gratification to offer the tribute of justice to the memory of departed worth and greatness, to the pre-eminent virtues and services of the late Commander-in-Chief of your Majesty's forces, the patron of merit, the friend of the soldier, the head and ornament of that brave army over which he so long presided with such incalculable benefit to the service, honour to himself, and such glory to the country, as must for ever endear his illustrious name and memory to the hearts of your Majesty's troops, and to the affections of all classes of your Majesty's loyal and sorrowing people.

Humbly renewing the assurances of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, to the succession of the Royal House of Brunswick, and to those principles which seated your illustrious Ancestors on the Throne of this mighty Empire, we implore that Divine Providence which has been pleased to afflict your Majesty with the loss of an invaluable Member of your august Family, whose demise has filled a grateful nation with profound grief and mourning, we pray that the Almighty King of Kings and Arbiter of the Universe to bless and preserve your Majesty, and long continue your paternal and auspicious reign, during which, by the energy of your Majesty's Government and the wisdom of your Councils, the United Kingdom has been exalted to a pre-eminence of power and glory unparalleled in the history of nations.

Given under the common seal of the aforesaid Corporation of Youghal, this 31st day of January 1827, by order,

John Jenkins, Town Clerk of Youghal.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that some evil-disposed person or persons did, in the night of the 23d of November last, about eleven o'clock, wilfully and maliciously fire a loaded gun at the glass above the front door of the mansion of George Thomas Leaton, Esq. called Hopyland-park, in the county of Durham; and that some such person or persons did again, in the night of Saturday the 23d of December last, about the same hour, wilfully and maliciously fire a loaded gun through the windows of the same house, whereby the lives of the inhabitants thereof were greatly endangered; and three written papers were found, on the morning of the 24th of December, near the said house, containing threats against the persons and properties of the said George Thomas Leaton; of Robert Surtees, of the Grove, Esq.; and of Mr. Thomas Chapman, of Hamsterley;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the outrages above mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually fired in each of the above instances, and also except the actual writer of the said papers) who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

ROBERT PEEL.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of FIFTY GUINEAS is hereby offered by the said George Thomas Leaton and Robert Surtees, to the first person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the offender or offenders in either of the offences above mentioned, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.
