

ATTACHÉ ROYAL OFFICE

Instructions to the Attaché

ROYAL OFFICE, YAKUTSK

The Attaché is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.

He is to be in constant communication with the local authorities and to report to the Ministry of the Interior on all matters of importance. He is to be particularly attentive to the interests of the Russian subjects in the district and to the execution of the laws and regulations of the Empire.