Foreign-Office, July 2, 1827.

IT has been notified by the French Minister for Foreign Affairs to His Majesty's Ambassador at Paris, "that the French Government has declared an effective Blockade of the Port of Algiers; and that every measure authorised by the Law of Nations will be adopted and enforced against all Neutral Vessels which may attempt to violate the said Blockade."

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Monday July 2, 1827.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by His Majesty to express to you the satisfaction which His Majesty feels in being enabled, by the state of the public business, to release you from further attendance in Parliament.

His Majesty directs us to inform you, that He continues to receive from all Foreign Powers assurances of their earnest desire to cultivate relations of friendship with His Majesty; and that His Majesty's best efforts, as well as His Majesty's communications with His Allies, are unceasingly directed to the termination of existing hostilities, and to the maintenance of general peace.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

His Majesty commands us to thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the service of the present year, and to assure you that His Majesty has given directions for a careful revision of the financial state of the country, with a view to every diminution of expenditure which may be found consistent with the necessary demands of the public

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

His Majesty is confident that you participate with His Majesty in the pleasure which His Majesty derives from the indications of a gradual revival of employment in the manufacturing districts.

His Majesty trusts that although your deliberations on the corn laws have not led, during the present session, to a permanent settlement of that important question, the consideration of it will be resumed by you early in the ensuing session, and that such an arrangement of it may finally be adopted as shall satisfy the reasonable wishes, and reconcile the substantial interests of all classes of His Majesty's subjects.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

By virtue of His Majesty's Commission, under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in His Majesty's name, and in obedience to His commands, prorogue this Parliament to Tuesday the 21st day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the 21st day of August next.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, beg leave to renew to your Majesty the expression of our warmest feelings of veneration and respect.

Whilst we testify our unbounded regard for the Constitution of our Country, of which the prerogative of the Crown forms a most valuable and essential part, we rejoice to find that in the formation of a new Administration, your Majesty appears to have exercised that prerogative, under circumstances of great difficulty, in a manner highly dignified and constitutional.

We trust that your Majesty's Ministers, acting upon an enlightened and liberal policy, will so wield the powers entrusted to them by your Majesty, that the honour and prerogative of the Crown may be upheld, and that the liberties and happiness of the people may be maintained and protected.

Permit us to assure your Majesty, that we shall sincerely co-operate to the utmost of our power in every measure which may be essential to promote these important objects; and that we yield to none of your Majesty's faithful subjects, in loyalty and attachment towards your Majesty's Royal Person and Family.

Signed, by order of Court,

Henry Woodthorpe.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

"I receive with satisfaction the loyal and dutiful Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London.

"Whatever difficulties I may have experienced in the exercise of my just Prerogative on the occasion to which that Address refers, the consciousness that I had no other object in view than the publick good, has enabled me to meet and to overcome them.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that, early on the morning of Friday the 22d instant, the house of Robert Houstoun, Esq. at Carshalton, in the county of Surrey, was broken open and entered by four persons, who stole therefrom money and other articles;

Admiralty-Office, June 27, 1827.

By His Royal Highness William Henry Duke of Clarence, Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

RULES, Orders, and Regulations for the preservation of His Majesty's Moorings, and for the mooring, anchoring, and placing of all private ships of war, transports, and all other private and merchant ships and vessels, lighters, barges, boats, and other craft whatsoever, in the navigable River of Thames, and near to the docks, dock-yards, arsenals, wharfs, and moorings belonging to His Majesty therein, for the purpose of keeping the same free and open, and for ensuring a free and safe passage to and from the same respectively; made and established pursuant to an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the fifty-fourth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, chapter 159, intituled "An Act for the better regulation of the several ports, harbours, roadsteads, sounds, channels, bays, and navigable rivers in the United Kingdom; and of His Majesty's docks, dock-yards, arsenals, wharfs, moorings, and stores therein; and for repealing several Acts passed for that purpose."

Art. I. It is hereby ordered, that no private ship of war or transport, nor any private or merchant ship or vessel, steam-vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft whatever, shall be moored, anchored, or placed within the boundaries or limits following, that is to say:

DEPTFORD.

Within sixty fathoms from any part of the south western shore of the said River, between the north end of the wharf of His Majesty's Victualling-yard at Deptford, and a spot on the same shore, situate at the distance of forty fathoms below the lower side of the entrance of Deptford Creek.

Note.—This regulation is not meant to extend to transports, convict-ships, and other vessels having occasion to load and unload at His Majesty's Dock-yard and Victualling-yard; all which ships and vessels may for those purposes, under the superintendence of the Officers of those Yards, continue to make use of the moorings which they have been accustomed to use.

WOOLWICH.

Nor within seventy fathoms from any part of the south shore of the said River, between Long's Wharf, otherwise called Trinity Wharf (which is situate above His Majesty's Dock-yard at Woolwich), and a spot called the Grove, at the eastern extremity of the same Dock-yard.

Nor within one hundred fathoms from any part of the same shore between the western boundary of the wharf of the Royal Arsenal, at Water-lane, Woolwich, and the entrance of the canal or basin at the eastern extremity of the said Arsenal.

GREENWICH.

Nor within seventy fathoms from any part of the shore, commencing at the west end of Ingress Park, and terminating at the New Jetty, recently erected at the lower end of the said Park.

Art. II. It is further ordered, that no private ship of war or transport, nor any other private merchant ship or vessel, steam-vessel, lighter, barge, boat, or other craft shall be moored, anchored, or placed within the distance of forty fathoms from the centre of any of His Majesty's moorings in any part of the said River, from the Nore upwards.

Art. III. And whereas a practice has prevailed of ships and vessels of a light draught of water, unnecessarily coming to anchor in the fair way or mid channel, and in the fair stream of the tide, to the great inconvenience of the public and of the navigation of the River, and frequently to the danger of ships of a larger draught and requiring deeper water;

It is, therefore, further ordered, that no ship, vessel, boat, or other craft, of any description being light, or which shall draw less than eight feet of water, shall anchor or moor in the mid channel or fair stream of the tide, in any part of the said River, so that all merchant ships and vessels of burden and of larger draught, as well as His Majesty's ships and vessels, may have free passage up and down the said River without obstruction.

And lastly, in order to prevent the danger which may arise to His Majesty's ships and stores from fire, it is ordered, that no ship or vessel, steam-vessel, boat, barge, or other craft, having any furnace, forge, or fire on board thereof, shall be moored, anchored, or placed within the distance of fifty fathoms from the centre of any of His Majesty's moorings; nor shall any ship or vessel whatever, boat, barge, or other craft be breamed, repaired, or fitted with engine gear, afloat in any part of the said River or shore thereof, within a like distance of fifty fathoms from the centre of any of His Majesty's moorings, and from His Majesty's dock-yards, arsenals, wharfs, and premises respectively.

By command of His Royal Highness,

J. W. Croker.
