Trinity-House, London, April 10, 1828.

WHEREAS representations have been addressed to the Corporation of Trinity-House, on behalf of the owners of vessels importing lobsters from Norway or Scotland for the supply of the London market, on the subject of the light and other dues to the said Corporation to which those vessels are liable, and soliciting that an annual commutation might be paid in lieu thereof; and the same together with the liability to the said dues which equally applies to vessels importing turbot having undergone consideration.—This Corporation in compliance therewith, and by virtue of the authority vested in them by the 4th section of the Act of Parliament, 3d Geo. IV, cap. 111, have submitted certain propositions thereupon for the assent and confirmation of His Majesty in Council.—And His Majesty having been graciously pleased by an Order of Council, bearing date at the Court at Windsor, the 26th January 1828, to signify his royal assent to and confirmation thereof.

Notice is hereby given, that under authority of the same, the following annual commutation, subject to the conditions hereinafter stated, is to be paid by or in respect of the vessels beforementioned: that is to say, "That the sum of twenty shillings be paid annually in lieu of light and other duties payable to the Corporation of Trinity-House of Deptford Stroud, by all vessels importing lobsters from Norway or Scotland, and turbot from whatever part, for the supply of the London market, whether imported in British or in foreign vessels, provided the latter shall, in respect to duties to the said Corporation, be placed at the time of their making such annual payment on the footing of British vessels, and when such importations shall be made in foreign vessels not so privileged in respect of charges, the annual payment to be forty shillings each; that on payment of such commutation a certificate or receipt for the same be delivered, declaring that the said sum of twenty shillings or forty shillings, as the case may be, is in lieu of all light or other duties payable to the said Corporation to the 31st of December following the date of such payment, provided the cargo which such vessel may have on board shall not require her to make entry at the Custom-House, but that in all cases in which such entry shall be by law required, the full amount of light and other dues shall, as far as the same relate to that specific voyage, be paid as by other vessels making entry, but which entry and payment shall not invalidate the commutation in respect of any subsequent voyages in which entry at the Custom-House shall not be so required, provided such voyages shall take place within the period specified in the commutation receipt or certificate.
