TUESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1828.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 28th day of June 1828,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the fifty-sixth year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to empower His Majesty to suspend the ballot or enrolment for the local militia," it is enacted, that it shall be lawful for His Majesty, by any Order in Council, to direct that no ballot or enrolment for the local militia shall take place, but that such ballot and enrolment shall remain and continue suspended for the period specified in any such Order in Council, and from time to time by any like Order or Orders in Council, to continue such suspension so long as His Majesty shall deem the same expedient, any thing in any Act or Acts of Parliament to the contrary notwithstanding; and whereas by an Order in Council, made the thirtieth of June one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, it was ordered by His Majesty in Council, that no ballot or enrolment for the local militia should take place for the space of one year from the sixteenth of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, but that the ballot should remain and continue suspended for the space of one year from the said sixteenth of July; and whereas it is deemed expedient to continue such suspension of the ballot and enrolment for the local militia for the space of one year from and after the sixteenth day of July in this year; it is, therefore, ordered by His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that no ballot or enrolment for the local militia do take place for the space of one year from and after the sixteenth day of July in this year, but that the ballot or enrolment for the local militia do remain and continue suspended for the space of one year from and after the sixteenth day of July next.

C. C. Greville.

AT the Court at St. James's, the 28th day of April 1828,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the trade of the British possessions abroad," after reciting, that "by the Law of Navigation foreign ships are permitted to import into any of the British possessions abroad, from the countries to which they belong, goods, the produce of those countries, and to export goods from such possessions to be carried to any foreign country whatever, and that it is expedient that such permission should be subject to certain conditions," it is enacted, "that the privileges thereby granted to foreign ships shall be limited to the ships of those countries which, having colonial possessions, shall grant the like privileges of trading with those possessions to British ships, or which, not having colonial possessions, shall place the commerce and navigation of this country, and of its possessions abroad, upon the footing of the most favoured “ nation, unless His Majesty, by His Order in Council, shall in any case deem it expedient to grant the whole or any of such privileges to the ships of any foreign country, although the conditions aforesaid shall not in all respects be fulfilled by such foreign country:”

And whereas by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of His present Majesty's reign, intituled “ An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs,” after reciting or taking notice of the said Act so passed as aforesaid in the sixth year of His Majesty's reign, and after reciting, that unless some period were limited for the fulfilment by foreign countries of the conditions mentioned and referred to in the said recited Act, the trade and navigation of the United Kingdom and of the British possessions abroad, could not be regulated by fixed and certain rules, but would continue subject to changes dependent upon the laws from time to time made in such foreign countries; it is therefore enacted, that no foreign country shall hereafter be deemed to have fulfilled the conditions so prescribed as aforesaid in and by the said Act, as to be entitled to the privileges therein mentioned, unless such foreign country had in all respects fulfilled those conditions within twelve months next after the passing of the said Act, that is to say, on or before the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six; and for the better ascertaining what particular foreign countries are permitted by law to exercise and enjoy the said privileges, it is further enacted, that no foreign country shall hereafter be deemed to have fulfilled the beforementioned conditions, or to be entitled to the privileges aforesaid, unless and until His Majesty shall by some Order or Orders to be by him made, by the advice of His Privy Council, have declared that such foreign country hath so fulfilled the said conditions, and is entitled to the said privileges; provided always, and it is thereby declared and enacted, that nothing therein contained, extends, or shall be construed to extend, to make void or annul any Order or Orders in Council theretofore issued, under the authority or in pursuance of the said recited Act, or to take away or abridge the powers vested in His Majesty in and by the said Act, or any of those powers, any thing therein contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding:

And whereas the conditions mentioned and referred to in the said Acts of Parliament have not in all respects been fulfilled by the Government of His Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain, and therefore the privileges so granted as aforesaid by the Law of Navigation to foreign ships, cannot lawfully be exercised or enjoyed by the ships of Spain, unless His Majesty, by His Order in Council, shall grant the whole or any of such privileges to such Spanish ships:

And whereas His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, doth deem it expedient to grant the privileges aforesaid, in certain cases, to ships of the dominions of His Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain, His Majesty doth therefore, by the advice aforesaid, and in pursuance and exercise of the powers and authority in him vested by the said recited Acts of Parliament, declare and grant, that it shall and may be lawful for Spanish ships to import into any of the British possessions abroad, from the colonies and foreign plantations of His Most Catholic Majesty, goods, the produce, of those colonies and possessions, and to export goods from such British possessions abroad, to be carried to any foreign country whatever:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Right Honourable William Huskisson, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain. Jas. Buller.

At the Court at St. James's, the 7th day of May 1828,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the time limited by His Majesty's Order in Council, of the eighteenth of October last, for prohibiting the exportation of gun-powder, salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Straights of Gibraltar), will expire on the twenty-third day of this instant May; and whereas it is judged expedient that the said prohibition should be continued for some time longer; His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, doth therefore hereby order, require, and command, that no person or persons whatever (except the Master-General of the Ordnance for His Majesty's Service), do, at any time during the space of six months (to commence from the twenty-third of this instant May), presume to transport any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to any port or place on the Coast of Africa (except to any ports or places within the Straights of Gibraltar) or ship or lade any gun-powder or salt-petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, on board any ship or vessel, for the transporting of the same into any such ports or places on the Coast of Africa (except as above excepted), without leave or permission in that behalf first obtained from His Majesty or His Privy Council, upon pain of incurring and suffering the respective forfeitures and penalties imposed in that behalf by an Act, passed in the sixth year of His present Majesty's reign, intituled “ An Act for the general regulation of the Customs:”

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, His Royal Highness the Lord High Admiral, the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, the Master-General and the rest of the Principal Officers of the Ordnance, and His Majesty's Secretary at War, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of His Majesty King William the Third, intituled "An Act for the increase and preservation of timber in the New Forest, in the county of Southampton," it was required that one thousand acres, part of the waste lands of the said Forest, should be inclosed and kept in severalty, for the growth and preservation of timber for the supply of His Majesty's Royal Navy, forthwith after the passing of the said Act; and that in the year following one thousand acres more, part of the said waste lands, should be in like manner inclosed; and that two hundred acres more, part also of the said waste lands, should yearly and every year, for the term or space of twenty years from and after the time that the several inclosures of the two thousand acres above mentioned should be made and completed, be in like manner inclosed and kept in severalty, as aforesaid, in the actual possession of the Crown, freed and discharged of and from all manner of right, title, and pretence whatever, and should be called, made, and kept as a nursery for wood and timber only: and whereas it was also directed by the said Act that whensoever the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, the Lord High Treasurer of England, or Chancellor of the Exchequer, for the time being, should be satisfied and should determine that the woods and trees which should be growing on the said two thousand acres, or any part thereof, or within the inclosures which should afterwards be made as aforesaid, were become past danger of browsing of deer, cattle, or other prejudice, and should think fit to lay the same, or any part thereof, open and in common, and should cause the same so to be done, that then, and so often it should and might be lawful to and for His Majesty, His heirs and successors, from time to time, to inclose, out of the said Forest, in lieu of so much as should be so laid open of the said two thousand acres, or of the said number of acres authorised to be inclosed as aforesaid, the like quantity out of any other part of the residue of the said wastes to be holden, inclosed, freed, and discharged of and from all manner of common herbage and pannage, or other rights, for so long time as the same should remain and continue inclosed, and to be a nursery for timber as aforesaid, instead of so much as should be laid open as aforesaid: and whereas certain inclosures, called and known by the names of Fuzzy Lawn Inclosure, Wilverley Inclosure, Rhinefield Sandy Inclosure, Aldridge Hill Inclosure, Ocknell Inclosure, Pitt's Inclosure, Sloden Inclosure, Ravens' Nest Inclosure, Coppice of Linwood Inclosure, and Long Beech Inclosure, were at different times made within the wastes of the said Forest, under and by virtue of commissions issued to John Pitt, Esq. Surveyor-General of His Majesty's Woods and Forests, and others, to the extent in the whole of two thousand and forty-four acres, or thereabouts: and whereas by an Act, passed in the forty-eighth year of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act for the increase and preservation of timber in Dean and New Forests," it was enacted, that the said several above mentioned inclosures should respectively be deemed and taken, and the same were thereby declared to have been duly and legally made under the said Act of the ninth and tenth of William the Third, and it was thereby further enacted, that all such parts of the said inclosure as should have any timber growing thereon fit to be preserved, or which should be deemed fit for the growth of timber, and which were not then inclosed, might and should be inclosed for the growth and preservation of such timber, under the provisions of the said Acts of the ninth and tenth of William the Third, and forty-eighth of George the Third; and that all such inclosures then remaining, or which should be so made after the passing of the said last mentioned Act, should be held to be effectually inclosed and severed from the waste, and to be vested in His Majesty for the purposes in the said Act specified, freed and discharged from all rights of common, and other rights directed to be extinguished in inclosures during the period of the same remaining so inclosed, for the preservation of the timber thereof, according to the true intent and meaning of the said recited Acts: and whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the said Acts, certain other inclosures, called and known by the names of Little Wootton Inclosure, Great Wootton Inclosure, and Norley Wood Inclosure, were at different times made within the wastes of the said Forest, under and by virtue of commissions issued to the Right Honourable Sylvester Baron Glenbervie, Chairman and First Commissioner of His Majesty's Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, and others: and whereas it has been represented to the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Woods, Forests, and Land Revenues, upon the certificate of Robert Turner, Deputy Surveyor of the said Forest, Nicholas Bowers, Purveyor of the Navy Board, Richard Nightingale, Deputy Woodward, and Thomas White, J. S. Hollis, D. Whitbourne, Nathaniel Hives, and William Lanson, Regarders of the said Forest, that the woods and trees growing on three of the said inclosures, called and known by the names of Linwood Coppice Inclosure, Ravens' Nest Inclosure, and Fuzzy Lawn Inclosure, containing together the quantity of four hundred and forty-two acres, three roods, and two perches, or thereabouts, part of the said above mentioned two thousand and forty-four acres, are become past danger from browsing of deer or cattle, or other prejudice: and whereas it has been also represented to the Lords of the Treasury by the said Commissioners, upon the certificate of the same Officers, that the land in parts of the before mentioned inclosures, called and known by the names of Little Wootton Inclosure, Great Wootton Inclosure, Norley Wood Inclosure, containing together the quantity of three hundred and ten acres, three roods, and thirty-five perches, or thereabouts, are found not to be of a quality and description adapted to the growth of naval timber: We, three of the said Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, being satisfied that whatever woods and trees are growing and being within and upon the said above mentioned inclosures, consisting together of four hundred and forty-two acres, three roods, and two perches, or thereabouts, as aforesaid, are become past danger from the browsing of deer, cattle, or other prejudice, and being also satisfied that the lands in parts of the other said above mentioned inclosures, consisting together of three hundred and ten acres, three roods, and thirty-five perches, or thereabouts, are not of a quality and description adapted to the growth of naval timber, think fit to lay the same open and in common; and we do hereby declare and make known, that the said inclosures, and parts of inclosures, are laid open and in common, accordingly to the intent that an equal quantity of other lands, parts of the waste of the said forest, may be inclosed in lieu thereof, pursuant to the directions and provisions of the said Acts of the ninth and tenth of King William the Third and forty-eighth of His late Majesty, and for purposes therein mentioned. - Given under our hands, at the Treasury-Chambers, Whitehall, this fifteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight.

Sale of Valuable and Desirable Freehold Estates, in Pleasington, Mellor, and Samlesbury, Lancashire.

TO be sold by auction (before the major part of the Commissioners named in a Commission of Bankruptcy awarded and issued against Henry Sudell, of Woodfold-Park, in the County of Lancaster, Merchant, by order of the Assignees), at the Old Bull Inn, in Blackburn, on Wednesday the 10th day of September 1828, and if not then disposed of, on the following day, the sale to commence at Noon each day, in such lots as will be specified in the printed particulars hereinafter referred to, or as may be agreed upon at the time of sale, and subject to the conditions which will be then produced;

Divers valuable freehold estates, messuages, buildings, lands, and hereditaments, in the several Townships of Pleasington, Mellor, and Samlesbury, in the County of Lancaster, consisting of 842 statute acres of arable, meadow, pasture, and wood land, and including a great part of Woodfold-Park.

These estates are situated in a portion of the County of Lancaster that is eminently distinguished by fertility of soil and beauty of landscape.

They are enriched and ornamented with a profusion of timber, a great part full grown, and of large dimensions.

The plantations, which are on an extensive scale, and remarkably flourishing, are disposed with singular taste and judgment, both for shelter and ornament, and afford a fine cover for the game, which has been carefully preserved.

The lands are of superior quality, and capable of very great improvement at a moderate expence.

The buildings are, for the most part, substantial and in excellent repair.

These circumstances, connected with the propinquity of the estates to two large market towns, with which they have good communications, render the property highly attractive, as presenting eligible sites for genteel residences, or as offering a profitable investment for capital.

The lands are freehold of inheritance, nearly all in the possession of respectable tenants from year to year, and the greater part exonerated from land tax and tithes.

Printed particulars may be obtained from any of the following Solicitors, viz. Messrs. E. and J. Lodge, Preston; Messrs. A. L. and E. Haworth, Bolton; Messrs. Shaw and Artindale, Burnley; Mr. Hopwood, Wigan; or Messrs. Milne and Parry, Temple, London; also from Mr. Binns, of Lancaster; Mr. J. A. Radcliffe, Mr. George Radcliffe, of Blackburn; and Mr. William Hindle, of Lower Darwen, Land Surveyors; and at the place of sale.

The respective tenants will shew the estates; and further information, as to lot 3 in the particular, may be had from Messrs. Barrett, Ridgway, and Say, of Manchester, Solicitors to the Mortgagees; and as to all the lots from Neville and Eccles, of Blackburn, Solicitors to the Assignees.
