NOTICE TO MARINERS.

CAPE WRATH LIGHT-HOUSE.

THE Commissioners of the Northern Light-houses hereby give notice, that a Light-house has been erected upon Cape Wrath, in the county of Sunderland; the light of which will be exhibited on the night of Thursday the 25th day of December next, and every night thereafter, from the going away of day-light in the evening till the return of day-light in the morning.

The following is a Specification of the Position of the Light-House, and the Appearance of the Light, by Mr. Stevenson, Engineer to the Commissioners:

Cape Wrath forms the north western extremity of the main land of Scotland, in lat. 58 deg. 36 min. north, and in long. 4 deg. 56 min. west. By compass it bears from Hoyhead in Orkney, west, distant 45 miles; from the Butt of the Lewis, E. S. E. $\frac{1}{4}$ E. distant 41 miles; from the Rocks called the Stags of the Cape, S. W. by W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W. distant about one mile; from the Sunken Rock called the Nun, S. S. W. $\frac{1}{4}$ W. distant 15 miles; and from the Islands of Stack and Skerry, W. S. W. the former 28, and the latter 30 miles distant. This light will be known to Mariners as a revolving light, exhibiting from one and the same lantern a light of the natural appearance, alternating or changing with one tinged red; which two kinds of light successively attain their most luminous effect every two minutes, and thereafter becoming gradually less luminous, are to a distant observer totally eclipsed for a short time. The lantern light-room is elevated 400 feet above the medium level of the sea. The light of the natural appearance will, in clear weather, be seen like a star of the first magnitude, at the distance of eight or nine leagues, and at lesser distances, according to the state of the atmosphere; but the red light being somewhat obscured by the coloured shades, will not be seen at so great a distance.

By order of the Commissioners of the Northern Light-houses, C. Cunningham, Secretary.
Edinburgh, 10th November 1828.

N. B. The Light-houses now erecting upon Tarbetness, in Cromartyshire, and Mull of Galloway, in Wigtonshire, will be lighted in 1829, of which due notice will be given.
