Lintz, August 30. Their Imperial Majesties art rived here the 25th. The Empress will lie in here; and the Emperor will part from hence for Krembs, to meet the King of Poland at his arrival there; who, as our Advices tell us, was to beth s' day, with the main of his Army at St Nielaesburg, and will joyn the Duke of Lorrain about the 4th of 5th of the next Month. The News of the defeat of 15000 Turks and Tartars, is confirmed in the lame manner we related in our last, as is likewife that of Major General Dunetralde's having possessed himself of a very advantageous Post in the Forest of Vienna but we hear nothing farther of what was reported of the Turks having given an affault to Fienna the 21. Instant, and their having lost 2000d men, and the Besieged 5000. We have no fresher eccount of what has passed at Pienna, than that of the 19th: when things were in as good a condition there as could be expected.

Cologne, September 7. The Advices we receive from Liniz and other places, confirm the account we had of the defeat of the 15000 Turks by the Duke of Lorrain, and of Major General Duke waldr's having secured a very insportant Poli in the Forest of Vienna. But as for the assault it was said the Turks gave to Frema the 21. pall, some Letters speak of it, and say the Turks lost 6000 men, but without any certainty.

Paris, September Ir. The oth Inflant the Earl of Dumbatton and Colonici Nichols, being fent by His Majerty of Great Privain, and His Royal High ness, to make their Complements of Condolarte ar this Court open the Death of the Queen, had their Audience of the King, the Dauphin, &c.

l ikewise Audiences to the Count de la Trinite Emroy Extraordinary from the Duke of Savoy, and to the Sicur Ranucci the Pope's Nuncio. Letters from Germany tell us, that the Polish Army was the 13th of the last month at Troppen that the under General with the Husiars and the Cavalry, arrived the 17th at Olmutz, and that it was hoped he would be at the Rendezvous on the 27th or 28th, and that the King of Poland would be there with the rest of the Army about the 30th. That in the mean time the City of Vienna continues to make a very good Defence, and that the Duke of Lorrain had received a Letter from the Count de Starenberg, giving an account, That the Enemy had advanced no farther than the Counterscarp, till the 14th past, when they made a Descent into the Dirch before the Baltion of Lebel, and the following night made a great Lodgment there, which they did with the less difficulty, for that the deeppels of the Ditch did secure them against the great and small Shot of the Besieged, and because the Works they had raifed, like Hills round their attack of the Counterfearp, did cover their passage into the Ditch; which made the Governor refolve to point his Cangon against these Hills, and to attack them the next day; the first attack was made in the day, and the Turks were put into great diforder, but after an hours Engagement, the Imperialists were obliged to retire, for that they had not Pioneers enough to ruine the Enemies Works; in the evening they made a second attack, and in the night a third, and ruined all the Enemies Works, and burnt their Gabions and greatest part of their Gallery. That the 18th the Turks fprung a Mine under the Ravelin, and entring the Breach, attacked the same with 1000 chosen men, who were so well received by the Besieged, that after having lost 300 men, they were forced to quit the Breach, and to be content to lodge themselves at the foot of the Ravelin, but they did not continue long there, for the next day the Besieged dislodged them again, having buried most of them by a Mine they sprung; the Letters add, that the Count de Grarenberg had made several Retrenchments within the Bastions that are attacked; and luch other provision for the defence of the place, that it was not doubted but with the Blessing of God, the Polish Army, and the Troops of the Empire, would joyn the Duke of Lorrain time enough to relieve the place. The Duke of Lorrain has totally defeated a Body of 15000 Turks and Tartars.

Port Royal in Famaica, June 15. 1683. All things (God be thanked) are in a flourishing condition here, and the People exceedingly fatisfied with His Majesty's Grace and Favour, in sending the Ruby Frigat, in accepting our Address, and passing our Laws. Our Governor has been here these to days, providing Plates and hiring a Sloop, &c. to go with the Ruby to Windward, for we hear there are 4 or 5 Pyrats, who infest the Charibbee Islands, and intend to Cruise in the Latitude of Barhadoes; So that upon Complaint of the Injuries done thereabouts, the Governor dispatches the Ruby thither, although the Guernsey be now to Windward also.
