

Regiments of Dragoons making 1500; and besides these the Regiments of Delwich and Lanoy are at Gaunt. The French Troops continue still in their several Encampments, from whence Parties are sent out round the Country to fetch in Provisions and Contributions. We have little more from Vienna concerning the Defeat of the Turks, than what we have already told you, but we expect a more ample relation by our Letters that come in to-morrow.

Brussels, Sept. 28. We have not yet so exact and particular a relation of the Victory which the Christians obtained against the Turks on the 12 Instant, as we expect; By the last Post from Germany we received only this short account of it. That the Christian Army (whereof the main Body was commanded by the Elector of Bavaria and Prince Waldecke, the Right Wing by the King of Poland, and the Left by the Elector of Saxony and the Duke of Lorraine, advancing toward Vienna, the Turks came out of their Camp and attacked the Christians; That there was a very sharp dispute between them, and the Turks were beaten back to their Camp; That the Fight lasted from morning till towards night, when the Enemy retired in great disorder; That between 8 and 9000 of their Foot was cut in pieces, the rest saving themselves upon Wagons, with their Horses; That there were taken 56 pieces of Cannon, all the Enemies Baggage, 50000 Tents (there being found in that of the Grand Visier's, to the value of several Millions) the Turks great Standard, two Horse Tails, and the Visier's own Horse ready to be mounted; That the Christian Army remained in Battalia all night, and that the next morning several Regiments of Polish and German Horse pursued the Enemy, and took 12 pieces of Cannon more, and redeemed a great many Christian Slaves. That the loss on the side of the Christians was computed to be 500 killed, and 300 wounded, the great General of Poland, and the Prince de Croy, being among the latter.

Amsterdam, September 28. We have Letters from Vienna of the 16th instant, which give the following account. The Distress this place was in, not many days ago, makes the joy we have for our Deliverance the greater; we were reduced to that extremity, through want of Provisions, and the weakness of our Garrison, which was brought from 15000 to 4000 men, that we could not have defended the place four days longer, but it pleased God to relieve us, for on the twelfth the Confederate Army appeared and drove away the Enemy; who being beaten from Hill to Hill, and from one Defile to another, in conclusion quitted their Camp, and retired with so great Precipitation, that they left their Baggage, Artillery, Ammunition, and Provisions, their Camels, Oxen, Buffles, and Asses which they make use of for their Carriages, behind them. The next day was spent in refreshing the Army, as well Horse as Man, which were quite wearied out, having been 48 hours in their march, and upon Service; the Soldiers were allowed the Plunder of the Field, and the King of Poland and the other Princes entered the Town, which they found very much defaced by the En-mies Cannon and Bombes. The 14th the Polish and German Horse were sent in pursuit of the Enemy; and the Emperor arrived here, who having had several Conferences with the King of Poland, &c. parted again from hence to return to Limz, and the Army is marching towards Hungary; the King of Poland having, it's said, assured the Emperor that he will not return home, till his Imperial Majesty has recovered that Kingdom.

Plimouth, Sept. 19. Yesterday arrived in this Port His Majesty's Ship the Tyger, Captain Wheeler Commander, who finding no new orders here, continued his course to the Westward.

Winchester, Sept. 20. The last week the Count de Kenitzki, Envoy Extraordinary from the King of Poland, had his publick Audiences of their Majesties, their Royal Highnesses, and the Prince and Princess, being conducted thereunto in the usual manner, by Charles Costerel Esq; Assistant-Master of the Ceremonies.

Advertisements.

In No 2. being two Sheets of the Second Volume of Collection of Letters for Improvement of Husbandry and Trade, there are some considerable new Experiments, for Fyning and Improving of Syder; By Mr. John Worlidge, Author of Sytema Agriculturae. A very gainful new way of Ploughing, and Experiments about Salt. To be Sold by J. Lawrence, at the Angel in Cornhill, and several other Book-sellers.

Stolen or Strayed from St. Neots, about the 16th Instant two Horses, one whereof was of a bay colour, about 15 hands high, no white in his Face, one white Foot behind, with some Saddle-spots, six years old: The other a red Roan Horse, with a bald Face, about nine years old, and his hind Feet white: Whoever gives notice of them to Mr. Thomas Thorowgood, at the Cross Keys in St. Neots, or to Mr. Pickering an Apothecary at the Black-boy in Chancery-Lane, they shall have a good Reward.

The Creditors of John Addis, Goldsmith of London, are desired to meet on Friday next, being the 28th. of September instant, at Two of the Clock in the Afternoon, at the Blue-Coat Coffee-house in Sweetings-Alley near the Royal Exchange, there to receive some further Proposals for their Satisfaction.

Lost on Thursday night in a Hackney Coach, a little Giltar, wrought with Ivory and Ebony on the back, and on the sides Checker-work of the same, in a red Leather Case lined with sky coloured Plush; Whoever brings the same to Mr. Agutter, Violin-Maker in the Strand, over against Villers-street, shall have two Guinea's Reward.

Stolen from John Hartley of Upchurch in Kent, out of his Grounds at Hallowe the Lower, on Friday the 7th. day of September instant, one bay Gelding-Colt, about 14 hands high, three years old, a small Star, with an old Cut before his Pattern of his further Legg behind; Whosoever gives notice of the said Colt to Mr. Walter, a Stationer, at the Sign of the Talbot near St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet-street, London, or to the said John Hartley, at his Houle in Upchurch aforesaid, shall have 30 s. Reward.

Lost on Saturday last a Note under the Hand of John Swettable, Goldsmith, at the Blackamores-head in Lombard-street, on the 22. of September, for Ninety nine Pounds Ten shillings, paid to Edward Callender or Bearer; They are desired to bring it to the said John Swettable, and they shall have a reasonable Reward.

One William Forbus a Scotch man, being of a middle Stature, a swarthy man, supposed to have a Mould in his Face, he speaks very good English, about 35 years of Age, he run away from Madam Carlisle in the Pall-mall, and took with him a Livery Suit and Cloak, it is a sad coloured Cloth lined with a red Pink coloured lining, with hollow Pewter Buttons, in a black Hat, with several other things: If any Person apprehend him and gives notice to Mr. George Arnold at the white Horse Inn in St. Martin's lane, shall have 40 s. reward, besides all other necessary Charges.