

Grylls, one of the late Assignees of the estate and effects of the said Bankrupts, took and continued to retain, and as to such shares, or parts of shares, in the said mines, as he took for his friends, but which they, or any of them, had declined to adopt, or had returned to the said Humphrey Millett Grylls, he the said Humphrey Millett Grylls was to be considered a Trustee of all such shares and parts of shares for the benefit of the Creditors, seeking relief under the original and renewed Commissions of Bankrupt awarded against the said Thomas Gundry and John Gundry; and that as to the shares in the said mines taken by James Plomer, therein also named, he, in like manner, was to be considered a Trustee for the benefit of the said Creditors; and if the parties, or any of them, should differ as to the shares, or parts of shares, in respect of which the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer, or either of them, were or was so to be considered as Trustees; then his Lordship did thereby refer it to the Master of the Court of Chancery in rotation, to enquire what shares, and parts of shares, in the said mines had been so taken and retained by the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer, or either of them; and his Lordship did (among other things) order that the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer should severally come to an account before the said Master, for all moneys received by them, or either of them, or by any other person or persons, by their or either of their order, or for their or either of their use in respect of such shares, or parts of shares, in the said mines so taken and retained by the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer respectively, and of the produce thereof; and that they, and each of them, should pay the amount of what should be so found due from them respectively into the hands of the Assignees or Assignee under the said renewed Commission, for the benefit of the said Creditors:—The Creditors, as well joint as separate, who have proved their debts under said original and renewed Commissions of Bankrupt awarded and issued forth against the said Thomas Gundry and John Gundry, are requested to meet the Assignees of the estate and effects of the said Bankrupts, on Wednesday the 23d day of December instant, at Ten o'Clock in the Forenoon, at Andrew's Hotel, in the Town of Redruth, in the said County of Cornwall, in order to consider the best means of carrying the said Order into effect; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees enquiring into, ascertaining and settling with the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer respectively, the shares, and parts of shares, of and in the said mines, which they, or either of them, took and have retained, or which have been returned to the said Humphrey Millett Grylls; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees taking and settling with the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer respectively, the accounts of all moneys received by them, or either of them, in respect of such shares, or parts of shares, and of the produce thereof respectively, and in the taking of such accounts to make to the said Humphrey Millett Grylls and James Plomer, all just allowances; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees receiving the several balances which shall be found due on the taking the said accounts and giving receipts and discharges for the same; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees submitting the aforesaid several matters to arbitration, or otherwise settling the same in such other way as shall be thought fit, and be considered most beneficial for the estates of the said Bankrupts, and for that purpose to appoint any arbitrator or arbitrators, and to execute any bond or bonds, or agreements of reference, and to authorise such Assignees to obey any awards to be made in pursuance of such bonds or agreements; and also to assent to or dissent from the said arbitrators indemnifying themselves and himself, and their and his heirs, executors, and administrators estates and effects of and from the consequence of such awards, and all expences attending such bonds or agreements of reference, arbitrations and awards, in any way from and out of the separate estates of the said Bankrupts; and also to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees paying any accountant or clerk employed, or to be employed, by them, to inspect, examine, and make up the accounts and books of the said Bankrupts, such commission, allowance, compensation, or sum of money out of the separate estates of the said Bankrupts as they may think fair and reasonable for his trouble; and further to assent to or dissent from the said Assignees commencing, prosecuting, or defending any suit or suits at law or in equity, for the recovery of any part of the said Bankrupts' joint and separate estates and effects, or to the compounding, submitting to arbitration, or otherwise agreeing any matter or thing relating thereto; and on other special affairs.
