Whitehall, September 29.

THe following Addresses having been presented to His Majesty, His Majesty was pleased to receive them very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Justices of Peace, Deputy-Lieutenants, and all other Officers of His Majesties Militia; the Gentry and Free-holders of the County of Cardigan: As also of the Mayors, Aldermen, and Burgeses of the Corporations of Cardigan and Abberystwyth, At a General Meeting of the said Justices of Peace, Deputy-Lieutenants, &c. of the said County, the 27th day of July, 1683.

Most Dread Sovereign,

Under the Safety and many Blessings (so many and so Great, that we have nothing left to wish for, but that the Almighty would preserve Your Majesty ours. from whose Goodness and Clemency these Blessings flow) which all Your Majesties Subjects, but such as will convert their Honey into Poyson, do and have lived since Your Majesties Happy Restauration; to find so much of Hell in Hell, (for we can give it no other Character) still harboured amongst us, as the late Horrid Conspiracy, against Your Majesties most Sacred Person, that of Your Royal Brothers, Your Government, and the Peace and Tranquility of the Generality of Your Majesties Subjects, discovers, cannot but astonish all sober and well-affected Persons. But to our unspeakable comfort we are secure, the Hand of Heaven still Guards Your Majesty, where we offer up our most unfeigned thanks for Your Majesties and Your Dear Brother's Deliverance from the Malice of such Blood-thirsty Criminals, may the King of Kings still manifest to us his care of Your Majesty, and Protect you not only from the Designs of such wicked Persons, as under the colour of Supporting Religion, Law, and Property, cover their own wild Ambition, universal Confusion, and rank Treasons, and pursue the readiest Methods of undermining the most Sacred Bonds of Your Majesties Government. But from the Hypocrisie of such Malecontents, who under the Disguise of a tender Conscience, by their ractices demonstrate they have none at all; and dissatisfied with the Ease and Security they may enjoy with the rest of their Fellow-Subjects, are perpetually labouring to impose Novelties, which if introduced, even themselves would soon grow weary and ashamed of, and may shame be their Portion, until a true Penitence for their oblinacy hath reduced them to such a Submission to Your Majesty and Your Laws, as is not only safe but necessary for such who intend Government; and not Anarchy and Confusion.

And to you, Great Sir, we offer a most hearty assurance that (detesting all Seditious and Democratical Tenents, and any whatever they be, that tend to the Diminution of Your Majesties Dignity and Supremacy in Church or State) we are most willing to expose our Lives, our Fortunes, and all that is Dear to us, for the Defence of Your Sacred Person, the Support of Your ancient Monarchical Government, by so many Good and wholesome Laws established, and the continuance of it in Your Royal Line, of which we pray to God there may not be one wanting to sit on the English Throne as long as the World lasts.

We beseech God to Crown Your Majesty with Health, Wealth, and Long Life, and to give You Victory over Your Enemies abroad, and all such Rebellious Spirits as disturb Your Majesties Peace at home, and may such whole Guilt hath caused to fly from the Justice of Your Laws, be pursued with the Horrors and Chastisements of an affrighted Conscience, until they give sufficient Proofs to Your Majesty and all the World; of the sincerity of their Repentance.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Nobility and Gentry of the County of Kent, from the Assizes holden at Maidstone July 31. Anno Domi, 1683.

Great Sir,

WE Your Majesties most Loyal and Dutiful Subjects, being deeply sensible of the great Danger whereunto Your Majesties Sacred Person, with that of Your Dearest Brother James Duke of York were so lately exposed, by the Trayterous Designs of a Party of Men of Fanatick and Antimonarchical Principles, first sprung from the Wicked Solemn League and Covenant, and since propagated by the late Devilish Association. Do in all Humility offer up our Thanks to Almighty God, for his having so miraculously discovered and prevented the same: And we earnestly Pray for the Safety and Preservation of Your Majesties Life, Your Heirs and lawful Successors, together with the Government in Church and State, as now established by Law; in Defence whereof we shall be always ready to Sacrifice our Lives, and all that is Dear unto Us.

An humble Address made by the Wardens and Assistants, together with the Inhabitants of the Corporation of Louth in the County of Lincoln.

Great Sir,

WE humbly do beseech Your Sacred Majesty, to receive our late but most affectionate Testimonies of our Loyalty, which shall never be wanting with our Estates and Lives, to maintain against them barbarous Conspirators and Associates, who did the Murder, and would another of the best of Kings; and the Succession in Your Great and Royal Brother James the Duke.

For which reason we approach, Great Sir, with our most humble desires, that You would be so careful of Your Sacred Person, that You may live a good Age yet to come, that we may glory in serving our Dread Sovereign Lord, and You have pleasure in Ruling a People that will bleed, rather than be obedient to any pretended Title.

For next to You, O Mighty Prince, the Line we will prefer; and may there from the right Line descend such a Successor, as may teach this busy World Obedience, and may wear those Imperial Crowns with as much Virtue and Conduct as You have done, and be as easie to their People.

Which is the daily Prayers of Your Majesties
Most Dutiful,
and Obedient Subjects,

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Grand Jury, at the Assizes held at Hereford, the seventeenth day of August, 1683.

Great Sir,

As no Nation under Heaven was ever bless'd with so good a Prince, so no Crown'd Head ever stood in more need of Miracles to preserve it, so great hath been the Ingratitude of some Villains to the Best of Kings; that the succeeding Age will scarce credit, what must to them be remitted of the Horrid Treasons of this: Crimes so foul and black, that even the Guilty, when they come to dye, (and should speak truth) are ashamed to own. We bless and praise the name of that God, that hath so wonderfully preserved Your Sacred Person, and that of Your Dearest Brother James Duke of York, from the Attempts of those Cruel Persons whose Blood-thirsty minds nothing could satiate; but the Sacrifice of two Princes at Once, and the utter destruc-station of all the Royal Family, descended from an ancient Race of Kings, besides Thousands of Your most devoted Subjects. May Heaven still give You Protection, but never may You want it on this account more. We cannot but with all humble acknowledgements receive Your Majesties most Gracious Declaration, so indulgently sent among all Your Subjects, with that powerful Authority, and convincing truth that all good men with amazement believe it, and none but a Traitor dare deny it. Since Providence hath so often interposed, even by Miracles to preserve you, be pleased so far to indulge Your Subjects (whose well being, and Happiness, depends on the Safety of Your Sacred Person) as to let that be Your greatest care, for 'tis high time, to be jealous, when Fanatic Villains dare so far, and would do more, had they but opportunity and Power, which we hope they never shall, and beg of Heaven, and Your Majesty, they never may have, no, not so much as a pernicious Conventicle to sit upon Treason, and hatch Rebellion in; and we the more earnestly beg this, since it is manifest, that the growth of Dissenters will be the ruine of the Crown, and Church, also. And now (Dread Sir) give us leave, with all Humility and Loyalty, to repeat our faithful Vows (which we do heartily, willingly, and unfeignedly) to stand by Your Sacred Majesty, with our Lives and Fortunes, in defence of Your Royal Person, Your Heirs and Successors, and the Government in Church and State, as now by Law established; against all kind of Enemies whatsoever. This we were born for, this is the business of our Life, and thus acting, it will be our Glory to dye,

Most Dread Sovereign,
Your Majesties most Humble, most Dutiful, and Faithful Subjects and Servants.

We whose Names are subscribed, Justices of the Peace for the said County, do concur with the Gentlemen of the Grand-Jury, in the Address above-written.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Grand-Jury and Justices of the Peace of the County of Monmouth, assembled together at the Assizes held for the said County, at Monmouth, the 15th day of August, in the xxxv. Year of Your Majesty's Reign, Annoq; Dom. 1683.

WE your Majesties most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects being deeply sensible of the late horrid, damnable, and unparalleled Conspiracy against your Sacred Majesties Person and Government, and your dear Brother His Royal Highness the Duke of York; contrived and acted by men of Base, Traiterous, and Seditious Principles, designing to stir up the People of these your Majesties Kingdoms, to another Civil and Intestine War, and to alter the Government both in Church and State; Do hereby declare that we do from our hearts unfeignedly abhor and detest all such hellish and bloody Conspiracies, and the Abettors thereof. And that we will to the last Man, with our Lives and Estates, defend your Majesty from all such Traiterous Conspirators, and maintain your Majesty and the Royal Succession in the right Line, with the Rights and Prerogatives of the Crown, against all persons whatsoever. And we humbly beseech your Majesty to believe that no pretence, how specious soever, shall make us degenerate in the least from our Duty and Allegiance.

And we do sincerely offer our Prayers to Almighty God (who hath so signally delivered You from so many Dangers) to continue your Majesty and your Royal Family over us and our Posterity in these Kingdoms, unto the Worlds end.

To the King's most Sacred Majesty.

The most humble Address and unfeigned Protestation of the Mayor, Recorder, Bayliffs, Common-Council, Grand-Jury, and Commonalty of Your Majesty's Town and Borough of Monmouth, Assembled at the General Quarter-Sessions there held the 27th. day of August, in the Five and thirtieth Year of Your Majesty's Reign.

Most Dread Sovereign,

With all humbleness and Duty we desire once more to approach the Throne of your Sacred Majesty, to declare there as to the whole World, our sense and horror of the late Execrable Treason and Traiterous Conspiracy against Your Sacred Person, and Your Royal and Dearest Brother, the fruits of a most ungodly and impious Association, to render Heaven our thanks for that Mercy, we found in Your Preservation; And to implore that Divine Providence (which by most signal and repeated Deliverances, hath sufficiently convinced all Mankind it is Your Right to Regn, and must) still to be our Defender, as Your Majesty is of our Lives and Religion, to the disappointment of all Conspirators and Devils, not worthy to be called Men, their actions speaking no Humanity in them; No Pagans or Infidels under the obligations of so much Mercy to their Sovereign, would have hearts to act what their protesting Christianity, have attempted, seeing their Villains, surmount all Mercies and their Cruelties equals that of Wolves and Tygers (who would be counted their Countries best Patriots) we shall trust them equally; and when our Duty, and Your Majesties Service shall require it shall treat them so, with hearts and hands devoted to their Destruction. There is no room left now to doubt it, had You fallen by their bloody hands (which Heaven in Mercy to Your Subjects hath prevented) our selves had been to their Rage the following Sacrifice, Your three Kingdoms made the Fields of Blood, and the best Government, and the best Religion had set with You (Great Sir) their Sun. These considerations making our Allegiance and Duty greater than we can pay You, or ever Subjects owed to a Sovereign.

We do with all the Sincerity that the hearts of Men can have or our tongues express, as well declare our abhorrence of the Conspiracy and Traitors, as our unfeigned Resolves to stand by Your Majesty, Your Exemplar and happy Government in Church and State, your Royal Family, and the Right Succession of Your Crown, to the last Extremity; That our Posterity may continue with the same Zeal and faithful Allegiance; That your Throne may be guarded by the same Providence, that even to Miracles, and the Attainment of Your Body Enemies, hath hitherto preserved You; And that Your Reign may be Glorious, long and happy, shall be our incessant Prayers, who are, and to the last moment of our Lives, will be Your Majesties most faithful and Loyal Subjects and Servants.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Grand Jury, at the Assizes for the County of Cornwall, holden at Lancelston, the first of August, 1683.

Most Dread Sovereign,

Having seriously considered the unspeakable happiness which we have enjoyed ever since Your Majesty's Restoration, in a long and secure Peace, and abundant plenty of all things, in the Exercise of the truest Religion; and the free course of most just and equitable Laws, which next unto Divine Providence we ought to attribute unto your Majesties most wise and gracious Government, and comparing this happy Estate with those miserable Calamities which afflicted us in the time of the late unnatural Rebellion, and those sad misfortunes of War and Blood-shed, which have since infected the neighbouring Nations. We are struck with equal horror and amazement, to find Men among us, professing the names of Christians so ungrateful to God, and your Majesty, as not only to neglect that duty and obedience which they owe to your Majesty by all Laws, Divine and Humane, but also to be guilty of such horrid Designs and Practices, as no Age nor Story can parallel, endeavouring by the Parricide of your Majesty and Royal Brother, to embrew the Nation in Blood, dissolve the best constitution of Government in the World, and destroy the soundest and most Primitive Church at this time professing Christianity.

We therefore (most Dread Sovereign) according to our Duty, humbly and sincerely acknowledge and bless that Almighty Providence, which hath so often and so miraculously appeared in your Majesties preservation, as that Your Majesties History is sufficient to convince the most stubborn Artists in the World; and do declare unto the World our abhorrence and just detestation of all such impious Principles, and more Hellish Practices; and withal, humbly lay at your Majesties Feet, the offer of our Lives and Fortunes, which we solemnly protest most cheerfully to expend, in defence of your most Sacred Majesty, and all Your Lawful Heirs and Successors.

Lastly, As with all Joy imaginable we bless Divine Providence for the former deliverance of your most Sacred Person, so we most affectionately beg the same Divine Providence, still to preserve both your most Gracious Majesty, and the Religion established among us; which indispensably requires, as to give unto God the things that are God's, so to give unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE your Majesties most Loyal and most Obedient Subjects, the Mayor, or Portrieve, and Burgeses of Your Majesties Ancient Borough of St. Mawes, in the County of Cornwall, Do with the greatest Transport of Joy and hearty Thankfulness, devoutly offer up our unfeigned Thanks to Almighty God, for the happy Discovery of that late horrid and damnable Plot and Conspiracy against the Life of your Sacred Majesty, and Dearest Brother, James, Duke of York; Humbly beseeching the Almighty Sovereign of Heaven and Earth, to infatuate the Councils, and confound the Machinations of all Your Enemies. And that your Majesty may have a long and prosperous Reign over us, and after You,

You, Your Heirs and Successors in the due course of Descents, may Swear the Scepter of Your Kingdom to the Worlds end. The Tragical consequences of that most horrid Regicide, acted upon your Royal Father, of Glorious and ever blessed Memory, with the same pretences of Religion and Liberty, by Men who indeed Artificially delud'd both, are sad, but convincing Arguments, not only the Lives, the Liberties, and Properties of all your Loyal Subjects, but our Religion and Government (the best and happiest in the World) would of necessity have been involv'd in the Destruction of Your Royal Person and most Illustrious Brother. We beg leave humbly to prostrate our selves at Your Royal Feet, in an utter Desertation and abhorrence of all Traiteous Conspiracies and Associations whatsoever, against your Royal Person, Crown, or Government; assuring your Majesty, we will be always ready to expose our Lives and Fortunes for the defence of your Sacred Person, and Rights of the Crown, Your lawful Successors, the Protestant Religion as it is Established by Law, and the known Laws of this Realm.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Grand Inquest for the Body of the County of Gloucester, at the Assizes holden for the said County the Tenth day of August, 1683. together with the Justices of the Peace; and other Freeholders there present.

Most Great and Gracious Sovereign,

THIS County having lately at the last General Sessions of the Peace Address'd themselves to Your Majesty with their humble and hearty Congratulations for the Miraculous Delivery of Your Majesty, your Royal Brother and all Loyal Subjects from the late hellish Conspiracy, and finding a fresh Instance of Your Majesties Favour in graciously condescending to impart to all Your Subjects the knowledge of the whole Scheme of the said Horrid Conspiracy, we hold our selves once more obliged to throw our selves at your Royal Feet, with our most humble, hearty, and unfeigned Thanks for the same; and do take this (as we shall all other occasions) of imploring the Divine Blessing in plentiful Showers upon your Royal Head; And of renewing our Vows to serve your Majesty, your Heirs and Successors in the Legal Line of Inheritance against the restless and ever Seditious Practices of that Old Serpent the Presbyterian, and of the rest of her numerous Spawne of Fanaticism; And doubt not but the Divine Providence will continue to defeat them in all their wicked Designs and Practices. So pray Your Majesties most humble, dutiful, and obedient Subjects.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Deputy-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, Commissioned Officers of the Militia, and other Gentlemen of the County of Pembroke.

Dread Sir,

YOUR Majesties whole Reign has been continually attended by such particular and unusual Providences, that You may justly be said to have lived an age of Miracles: and your Royal Brother has had such signal deliverances, upon all scores, that he has been as undivided from your most Sacred Person, in the manner of his Preservation, as he has been in that of your Affection, when endeavoured to be obstructed by the greatest Villany of Invention.

But, most Dread Sir, when the kindness of a raging Fire, and the calmness of the great Ocean can conspire your Rescues from most apparent Confusion; 'Tis high time for your Enemies to confess their follies, when they think to give Battel even to Heaven it self. We doubt not, but from this time forward, their unsuccessful attempts will awaken their Consciences, and tell them there is no fighting against the great God, who has protected your most Sacred Person, Religion, and Kingdoms, beyond the expectation of the most thinking Man.

As we have hitherto been prevented to express our forwardness to sacrifice our Lives and Fortunes in the instances of our Loyalty against an unconsidering Enemy, who never Year'd their Obligations to Heaven for all the blessings of Your peaceful Government; So we question not but the same method of Providence will protect your Sacred Person to the end of your Reign, which that it may be both long and prosperous, shall ever be the unfeigned Prayers of your Majesties most Loyal, most Dutiful, and most obedient Subjects.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE the Lords Lieutenants, Deputy-Lieutenants, Colonels, Captains, and other Officers of your Militia in this County of Essex, observing as well by the publick Acts of Justice, as also by your Majesties Declaration, that a most horrid and barbarous Assassination was designed upon your Majesty and your Dearest Brother his Royal Highness the Duke of York, and a Rebellion and Insurrection also in the three Kingdoms; and considering the Persons engaged, and the Treason it self, We are not only affected with horror and detestation of the Facts designed, and of the Men Conspiring, but are also transported with Joy and Thankfulness to Almighty God for the Miraculous Deliverance of your Majesty and your Dearest Brother from the Bloody Designs of these barbarous and unhumane Villains: And finding that they encouraged themselves in their wicked purposes from the small numbers of your Guards attending usually on your Sacred Person; We most humbly beseech your Majesty, that in your Journeys through this County we may be allowed to attend your Majesties Person, being ready to lay down our Lives and Fortunes in defence and preservation of the Person, Crown and Dignity of Your Majesty, and of your lawful and rightful Successors; Praying to the Almighty God, by whom Kings Reign, for the continuance of his Protection over your Majesty, and for your Majesties long Life and happy Government over your People.

Whitehall, Sept. 28. This day His Grace the Duke of Richmond, presented and read to His Majesty, the following Address of the Division of Dickering, and Parts adjacent in the East-Riding of York-shire: Which His Majesty was pleased Graciously to accept of.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty.

The most humble Address of the Gentry, Clergy, and Commonalty, of the Division of Dickering, and the Parts adjacent of the East-Riding of the County of York.

WE Your Majesties humble and obedient Subjects crave leave to Congratulate your Majesties most happy Deliverance from the late bloody and horrid Conspiracies, for the destroying of Your most Sacred Person, with your Royal Brother, and Subversion of that peaceable and most happy Government, we have thus long enjoyed by Your Majesties great Wisdom and Clemency. And do with the utmost Detestation abhor all such Plots and Machinations as tend to the supplanting of Monarchy in the State, or Alteration of that discipline in Church, now by Law established; beseeching that gracious Providence that hath thus seasonably discovered and prevented those unparallel'd Treasons, will still preserve your Majesties Reign in the greatest prosperity, and multiply Your days.

And with hearts full of affectionate and loyal Duty, we assure your Gracious Majesty, that with our Lives and Fortunes, we will defend your most Sacred Person, Your Heirs and Successors, against all such persons whatsoever, as endeavour the least Prejudice against your Royal Person, Crown and Dignity.

Venice, Sept. 14. The Letters from Rome of the 7th instant inform us, That a Congregation having been held the 31 past, it was there resolv'd, That a Tax should be laid after the Rate of 6 per Cent. upon all the Ecclesiastical Revenues in Italy for ten years, in order to the assisting the Emperor against the Turks; and that the Emperor may renew the Imposition of One per Cent. upon the Clergy within his Hereditary Countries.

Madrid, Sept. 16. The last week an Express was dispatched from hence with Bills of Exchange for 170 thousand Crowns, which the King of Spain sends to the Emperor for the assisting him in the War against the Turks. The several Councils have

We are told from Flanders that the French Troops under the Command of the Marschal d'Humières continue encamped between Aeth and Grammont. There are Letters from Germany which give an account that the Christians have obtained a second Victory against the Turks, of which they do not tell us the Particulars, but in general say, That the Christians having overraken the Turks near Oedenburg, had totally defeated the remainder of their Army, and taken two Millions in Gold, and a great many of their heaviest Cannon, some whereof are of that bigness, that they were drawn by 80 and 90 Pair of Oxen and Buffes; and that the Enemies Forces being now quite broken, the Christian Army would besiege Narbohusel or Buda. The Turks it's said lost more Men in this second Engagement, than in the Battel of Vienna.

York, Sept. 26. On Monday last the most Reverend Father in God the Lord Archbishop of Tork, arrived at Doncaster, having been received near that place, by several Noblemen, and a great number of Gentlemen and Clergymen, and by them accompanied into the Town, where his Grace was welcomed by the Mayor and Aldermen in their Formalities, and entertained with a Banquet. The next day his Grace continued his Journey to Ferrybridge, where the Mayor and Aldermen of Pomefract waited his coming, and entertained his Grace and all his Company. The like was done at Tadcaster, by the whole Corporation of Leeds; and yesterday his Grace being attended with a very numerous company of Gentry, arrived at Bishopsthorpe, extremely satisfied to find this Country so full of Duty and Affection to the King and the Church.

Bench; Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, in the room of Sir Francis Pemberton, who has his Quietus. And Sir Richard Holloway, His Majesties Serjeant at Law, is sworn one of the Judges of the Kings Bench, in the place of Mr. Justice Raymond, deceased.

We are wanting two Posts from Flanders, and as many from Holland.
