AT the Court at Windsor, the 7th day of April 1830,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, passed in the sixth year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act to regulate the “ trade of the British possessions abroad,” after reciting, that “ by the Law of Navigation foreign ships are permitted to import into any of the British possessions abroad, from the countries to which they belong, goods, the produce of those countries, and to export goods from such possessions to be carried to any foreign country whatever, and that it is expedient that such permission should be subject to certain conditions,” it is enacted, “ that the privileges thereby granted to foreign ships shall be limited to the ships of those countries which, having colonial possessions, shall grant the like privileges of trading with those possessions to British ships, or which, not having colonial possessions, shall place the commerce and navigation of this country, and of its possessions abroad, upon the footing of the most favoured nation, unless His Majesty, by His Order in Council, shall in any case deem it expedient to grant the whole or any of such privileges to the ships of any foreign country, although the conditions aforesaid shall not in all respects be fulfilled by such foreign country:”

And whereas by an Act, passed in the seventh and eighth years of His present Majesty's reign, intituled “ An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs,” it is, amongst other things, enacted, that no foreign country shall be deemed to have fulfilled the conditions so prescribed as aforesaid in and by the said Act so passed in the said sixth year of His Majesty's reign, as to be entitled to the privileges therein mentioned, unless such foreign country had in all respects fulfilled those conditions within twelve months next after the passing of the said Act, that is to say, on or before the fifth day of July one thousand eight hundred and twenty-six; and for the better ascertaining what particular foreign countries are permitted by law to exercise and enjoy the said privileges, it is thereby further enacted, that no foreign country shall be deemed to have fulfilled the beforementioned conditions, or to be entitled to the privileges aforesaid, unless and until His Majesty shall by some Order or Orders to be by him made, by the advice of His Privy Council, have declared that such foreign country hath so fulfilled the said conditions, and is entitled to the said privileges; provided always, and it is thereby declared and enacted, that nothing therein contained, extends, or shall be construed to extend, to make void or annul any Order or Orders in Council theretofore issued, under the authority or in pursuance of the said recited Act of the sixth year of His Majesty's reign, or to take away or abridge the powers vested in His Majesty in and by the said Act, or any of those powers, any thing therein contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding:

And whereas His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, doth deem it expedient to grant the privileges aforesaid to the ships of the dominions of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, His Majesty doth therefore, by the advice aforesaid, and in pursuance and exercise of the powers and authority in him vested by the said recited Acts of Parliament, declare and grant, that it shall and may be lawful for Austrian ships to import from the dominions of His Majesty the Emperor of Austria, into any of the British possessions abroad, goods, the produce of such dominions, and to export goods from such British possessions abroad, to be carried to any foreign country whatever:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Right Honourable Sir George Murray, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appertain.

THE following is a Copy of an Order in Council, for dividing the Parish of Barking, into two separate and distinct Parishes, under the 16th section of the 58th George the third, c. 45.

At the Court at Windsor, the 7th of April 1830, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council, WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto under his hand and seal, and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments which will by such division arise, accrue, and remain, and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law, for the purpose of effecting such division: provided always that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish, to be divided." And whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of His late Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of churches in populous parishes;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled, "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect: and whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that in the year 1821, when the last census was taken, the parish of St. Margaret, Barking, in the county of Essex, and diocese of London, contained a population of 6,967 persons, which has since considerably increased; that there were, besides the parish church, only two chapels in the said parish, which, together with the said parish church, afforded accommodation for 976 persons only; that the said Commissioners for building new churches, are proceeding with the erection of a new chapel, in the ward of Ilford, in the said parish, which will afford accommodation for 851 persons, including 485 free seats, appropriated to the use of the poor. And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that the said parish should be divided into two distinct and separate parishes, under the 16th section of said Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty, and that the said parishes should be named respectively, the Parish of St. Margaret, Barking, and the Parish of Great Ilford, and that the said church now building should be the parish church of the said parish of Great Ilford, and that the boundaries of the said parish of Great Ilford shall be as follows: At its south-western extremity it abuts upon the river Roden, then proceeds in an easterly direction, bounded on the south by certain fields, known by the names of Uphall Field and tleman, and in the occupation of Milton, yeoman; then proceeds for the distance of half a furlong due north, bounded on the east by a certain other field, called the Hoppet Field, in the occupation of the aforesaid Milton, to a gateway in the said field, where it turns due east into the road leading from the village of Ilford to the town of Barking, which road it pursues in a southerly direction for the space of one furlong to Loxford Bridge, from whence it proceeds in a north-easterly course, bounded by the brook called Loxford, until it reaches the north-western corner of a certain ozier ground, called Loxford Fenns, then turning due south, it proceeds to the south-western corner of said ozier ground, where it abuts upon a field known by the name of Great Hospital Field, which it skirts on the northern and western sides, until it reaches a certain other field, called Little Hospital Field, which it likewise skirts on the western side thereof, having for its western boundary a field known by the name of Evans Croft, until it reaches a lane known by the name of Fair Cross Lane, which lane it pursues in a north-easterly direction, until it reaches a farmhouse known by the name of Long Bridge Farm, from whence it continues along the said lane, nearly due north, until it reaches a certain other lane, called the Green Lane, along which it proceeds in an easterly direction, bounded on the south by the lands of a certain farm, called Goodmay's Lodge, until it reaches the line of division between the parishes of Barking and Dakenham, then turning to the north it falls into the line of demarcation, between the parish of Barking and the contiguous parishes, having on the east the parish of Dagenham on the north, of Chigwell, on the north-west the parish of Woodford, and on the west the river Roden, until it terminates at the point first described, the whole including the ward of Great Ilford, and that part of the ward of Chadwell which lies north of the road known by the name of the Green Lane, and west of the lane called Faircross Lane, as in the map hereunto annexed is more particularly delineated; that the whole of the glebe land of the said parish lies within, and will belong to, the parish of Barking; that five-ninths of the tythes will belong to the parish of Barking, and four-ninths to the parish of Ilford. That there are no moduses or other endowments arising in the said parish of Barking; that it is estimated that the amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, and other ecclesiastical dues which will arise in each division of the parish will be equal; that the consents of the Lord Bishop of London, and the Warden and Fellows of All Souls College in Oxford, the patrons of the parish church of Saint Margaret, Barking, have been obtained, as required by the above mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of His late Majesty. And humbly praying that His Majesty will be pleased to take the premises into consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall seem meet. His Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
