

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Bailiff, Burgesses, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the Borough and Town of Chippenham, in the County of Wilts, in Common Hall assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Bailiff, Burgesses, Freemen, and Inhabitants of the ancient Borough and Town of Chippenham, beg most respectfully to approach the Throne, and to express to your Majesty our sentiments of condolence on the late severe and painful loss sustained by your Majesty, in common with ourselves and the whole of the British Nation, by the lamented death of your Majesty's Royal Brother, our late beloved Monarch, whose regency and reign will ever be considered the proudest era of past British history.

Whilst we deplore the loss of our late most gracious Sovereign, we most heartily congratulate ourselves upon the accession to the Throne of these Realms of a Monarch who has already evinced so kind a regard for the welfare and prosperity of his people; and we pray that Almighty God may grant to your Majesty a long and happy reign.

We likewise beg to make known to your Majesty the happiness we feel, that Providence has blessed your Majesty with a Consort, whose amiable qualities and virtuous conduct are not only a pattern to the nation, but will endear her to the hearts of your Majesty's loving subjects.

[Here follow the Signatures.]

[Transmitted by Joseph Neild, Esq. M.P.]

Unto His Most Excellent Majesty WILLIAM the FOURTH, KING of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Members of the Arbroath Literary Society, deeply impressed with sentiments of attachment to your Majesty, feel it our duty, at a moment like the present, humbly to approach the Throne with expressions of our respectful condolence on the loss which your Majesty has sustained, in common with the whole of the Nation, by the lamented death of our late beloved Sovereign, your Royal Brother, King George the Fourth.

But while we thus deplore this great and afflicting dispensation, we at the same time beg humbly to present your Majesty our most cordial congratulations on your accession to the Throne of these Realms, and we beg leave to assure your Majesty of our affectionate regard to your Majesty's sacred Person, and our submission and obedience to your Majesty's Government, and in the most ardent manner testify our assurance, that your Majesty's protection will ever be extended to those civil and religious liberties which have conferred so many blessings on this highly favoured land; and we fervently pray that the King of Heaven may grant your Majesty a long, a prosperous, and a happy reign over a nation that has for ages been the admiration and envy of the world.

The great encouragement which our late lamented and most gracious Sovereign benevolently bestowed towards the diffusion of literary knowledge, will ever be remembered by us with the liveliest feelings of gratitude; and with the deepest humility we solemnly avow our utmost confidence in your Majesty for a continuance of the Royal favour in a matter so essential to the happiness of the nation.

Signed by us on behalf of ourselves, and the other Members of the said Arbroath Literary Society.

James Stewart, President; James Rorie, Secretary; Geo. Livingston, Treasurer.

[Transmitted by James Stewart, Esq. President.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the Town or Borough of Kingston-upon-Hull, in Common Council assembled.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of the Town or Borough of Kingston-upon-Hull, grateful for the many blessings we have enjoyed under the mild and equitable Government of your Royal House, beg leave to tender to your Majesty our sincere condolence, on the decease of our late revered Sovereign, under whose auspicious reign this nation has enjoyed the happiness of uninterrupted tranquillity, both at home and abroad; whilst we have also had the satisfaction of witnessing the advancement of every art and science, which can raise the national character, or embellish and improve the condition of society.

Impressed as we are, with a just sense of the loss we have sustained, we derive our best consolation from the accession of your Majesty to the Throne of these Realms, confident that under your Majesty's Government, and the free institutions of a Constitutional Monarchy, the rights and liberties of your Majesty's subjects, and the honour and security of the nation, will be maintained and protected. We therefore, as in duty bound, beg leave to offer to your Majesty our fervent wishes, that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, your Majesty's reign may be long and happy.

Given under the Common Seal of the Mayor and Burgesses of the Town or Borough of Kingston-upon-Hull, at the Guild Hall, in the said Town, the 6th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

Avison Terry, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Mayor.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Chairman, Directors, and Members of the Chamber of Commerce and Manufactures of the City of Edinburgh, incorporated by Royal Charter, beg most humbly to approach your Majesty's Throne, with the expression of our sincere and unfeigned condolence on the calamity with which it has pleased Almighty God to afflict your Majesty, in common with the whole Nation, by the death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Majesty's Brother, King George the Fourth.

While we bow with becoming submission to this afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence, we beg, at the same time, to be permitted to congratulate your Majesty on your accession, and on that of our gracious Queen Adelaide, to the Throne of these Realms, and to express our confidence, that the wis-