These are to give notice, that it is not desired or expected, that the public should appear in mourning after the 11th day of August next.

NORFOLK, Earl ~~Marshal~~

(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to His Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

St. James's-Palace, August 4, 1830.

THIS day the following Addresses were presented to His Majesty on the Throne, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, which His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

No. I.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble, dutiful, and loyal Address of the President, Vice-Patrons, Vice-Presidents, and Members of the Bath and West of England Society for the encouragement of Agriculture, Arts, Manufactures and Commerce.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

YOUR Majesty's most humble, dutiful, and loyal subjects, the President, Vice-Patrons, Vice-Presidents, and Members of the Bath and West of England Society, beg leave to approach your Royal Person, to mingle our sorrows with those of your Majesty on the loss which these kingdoms have sustained, by the death of your illustrious Brother, our late excellent Monarch, in whom the great and amiable qualities were most happily blended, and the glories of whose reign will be conspicuous among the splendid ornaments of history.

More especially does it become us, the Members of this ancient Society, to bewail the loss of a Sovereign who, during twenty years as our distinguished patron and liberal benefactor, deigned to honour us with his particular regard and favour.

Duly sensible of the high distinction and the important benefits which resulted to us, from the support and kindness of our late Sovereign, we beg to approach your Majesty with the warm expression of our grateful recollections and our unfeigned regrets.

Permit us at the same time to congratulate your Majesty on your happy accession to the Imperial Throne of these Kingdoms, and to the Government of a free, united, and loyal people. We, who have been honoured with your Royal presence, cannot but entertain a peculiar and affectionate veneration for your Majesty. We pay our respects not merely to your supreme rank in the community, but likewise to those virtues and endowments from which even that rank will derive ornament and lustre.

The duties which your Majesty has personally and meritoriously performed in the naval service of your country, render your Majesty's name dear to the hearts of your faithful British subjects.

Your tender concern for the unavoidable burdens of your people, and your truly Royal purpose to maintain inviolable their civil and religious liberties, are omens of our national happiness, and will secure to your Majesty the continued and cordial affections of the inhabitants of these kingdoms.

For ourselves we rest with pride and confidence under the protection of a Sovereign who, for thirteen years, has been at the head of the noble Vice-Patrons of our Society, and who, in noticing the labours of one of our late Vice-Presidents, has condescended to express himself in these memorable terms: "I know and therefore esteem him, and accept with pleasure the cloth he is kind enough to send; I shall have it made into the naval uniform, as being the gift of an English farmer, following the example of the King of Great Britain, who first introduced the Merino breed of sheep into these kingdoms."

It is our fervent prayer that your Majesty's life may be long and prosperous, and that the choicest blessings of Providence may distinguish the reign of our Sovereign King William the Fourth, and his Royal Consort, our accomplished and amiable Queen Adelaide.

Signed on behalf of the Bath and West of England Society, Lansdowne, President.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Merchants, Bankers, and Traders of London, assembled at a General Meeting on the 23d of July, 1830.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Merchants, Bankers and Traders of London, humbly approach your Majesty with the expression of our sincere condolence on the death of your Majesty's illustrious Brother, our late most gracious Sovereign.

But while we deplore the loss of a Monarch under whose reign this happy country has continued to enjoy an uninterrupted and prosperous peace, we console ourselves by reflecting, that your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, offers an assurance that the commercial and general interests of the Empire will continue to receive the paternal regard and protection of a Sovereign of the same illustrious House, and eminently qualified to ensure and perpetuate the national prosperity.

We acknowledge with gratitude the blessings we enjoy as a free people, under the mild and constitutional Government which has been gradually confirmed on a secure basis in every succeeding reign of the Princes of your Majesty's illustrious House.

We cannot but reflect with feelings of pride and congratulation, that your Majesty has for a long period of years dignified that noble profession which has from time immemorial upheld the honour and the glory of the nation: and we anticipate with confidence that the naval power and the shipping interests of Great Britain, so intimately connected with each other, will not only continue unimpaired under the benign influence of your Majesty, but receive additional impulse and energy, thereby contributing to the security and welfare of your Majesty's subjects, and to the power and dignity of the British Throne.

We beg permission also to express to your Majesty our feelings of joy that your Majesty is blessed with a Royal Consort of distinguished and exalted virtues, forming an additional bond of union between your Majesty and your Majesty's loyal subjects.

That your Majesty may long continue to reign over a grateful and affectionate people, at once enjoying and contributing to their happiness, is the earnest prayer of your Majesty's devoted subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Councilmen of the ancient Borough of Boston, in the County of Lincoln, presume to offer our unfeigned condolence on the melancholy event which has deprived your Majesty of a beloved Brother, and the Nation of a revered Monarch.

We beg also to offer to your Majesty our humble and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne, and to assure your Majesty of our loyal devotion and attachment to your Majesty's sacred person, and to express our perfect confidence that your Majesty will, under the favour of Divine Providence, direct all your efforts to the maintenance of the Protestant Religion, to the protection of the rights and liberties, and to the advancement of the happiness and prosperity of all classes of your Majesty's faithful subjects.

We pray that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy, and that your people, fully impressed with the invaluable benefits resulting from our free and excellent Constitution, may be firmly united in one common cause, that of transmitting it unimpaired to their latest posterity.

Given under our Common Seal, at the Guildhall of the said Borough, the 26th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freholders, of the County of Lincoln, beg leave to approach your Majesty with sentiments of sincere condolence on the demise of your Royal Brother, our late lamented Sovereign.

We hope, at the same time, that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to accept the humble tribute of our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

The eminent services which your Majesty has rendered to your country, by your attachment to that profession which is the bulwark and glory of England, cannot but be a sure and convincing proof to us of your determination to uphold, on all occasions, the best interests of this nation; and in the auspicious declarations which your Majesty has recently made, we feel an entire and well-grounded confidence, that your Majesty will ever maintain inviolate our religion, laws, and liberties.

It is, Sire, with feelings of most cordial satisfaction that we behold upon the Throne, in the person of our amiable and illustrious Queen Adelaide, a pattern of moral excellence and virtue.

That it may please the Almighty Disposer of events to bless your Majesty and your beloved Consort, with many years of happiness, is our most fervent prayer and hope.

Signed for the County of Lincoln, so assembled,

W. A. Johnson, Sheriff of Lincolnshire.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty;

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Patron, President, and Vice-President, and Governors of the Lincolnshire Coast Shipwreck Association, approach your Majesty with the expression of our heartfelt congratulation on the happy accession of your Majesty to the Throne of your Ancestors.

We see, with humble gratitude, the commencing reign of a Prince personally and honourably experienced in maritime affairs. The naval supremacy of your Majesty's kingdom has been for ages the glory of this nation; in the maintenance of this high station, our commerce, our influence among nations, and the very existence of our independence and public liberties are involved; the increasing commerce of other countries, the jealous rivalry of nations growing daily in wealth and strength, and the prospect of change in the very forms of naval warfare, make us deeply sensible of our happy situation as subjects of a King to whom we look up with affectionate and unbounded confidence.

Within our humble sphere we have seconded your Majesty's gracious views; we have been the happy instruments, under the Almighty, in saving many lives upon an extensive and dangerous line of coast; and we pledge ourselves to your Majesty, that our best exertions shall not be wanted to merit your Royal approbation.

It is our fervent prayer that your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, may long be preserved to reign over a loyal and devoted people.

Signed on behalf of the Association,

W. A. Johnson, Sheriff of Lincolnshire.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Bailiff, the Jurats of the Royal Court, the Clergy, the King's Procureur, and the Constables of all the Parishes of this your Majesty's Island of Guernsey, in the States assembled, approach your Majesty with the expression of our sorrow for the demise of your august Brother, our revered Sovereign. In no part of his dominions were the blessings of his reign more felt, or better appreciated. We, therefore, truly sympathize with your Majesty, and, bowing with submission to the dispensations of Providence, are consoled by the hope, that the gracious Being who conducted our lamented Monarch through a series of happy events, to the summit of worldly grandeur, will also abundantly bless his illustrious Successor.

Participating in the general confidence, and prepossessed by the recollection of your Majesty's benignity and courteous condescension, when this Island was twice honoured by your Royal presence, we anticipate a reign of transcendent excellence.

With a fervent prayer that the beneficent designs of your Majesty, for the welfare of your people, may be realized, and that you may long live in the enjoyment of all domestic happiness, we offer our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne, and dutifully assure your Majesty of our warm attachment and inviolable fidelity. No. 7.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen, Sheriff, and Common Councilmen of your ancient City of Canterbury, in Burghmote assembled, approach your Royal presence, to express our unfeigned sorrow for the severe loss your Majesty and this Realm have sustained, by the death of your Majesty's Royal Brother, our late revered Sovereign.

We beg leave to congratulate your Majesty on your happy accession to the Throne.

The long continuance of the Crown of this Realm in your Majesty's illustrious House has secured to all ranks of your Majesty's subjects their religious and civil rights, and the expression of your Majesty's determination to promote the prosperity and happiness of your people, and to protect them in the enjoyment of their laws and liberties, has fixed in their hearts the most unbounded confidence, and, thus assured, we anticipate with pleasure your Majesty's future government.

We approach your Royal presence with assurances of the most inviolable fidelity and attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, and beseech Almighty God to bless your Majesty with long and happy years to reign over us, and to bestow every blessing and happiness upon your illustrious Consort, our most gracious Queen Adelaide.

Given under our Common Seal, this 13th day of July 1830.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Chief Citizens of your Majesty's ancient and loyal City of Hereford, in Common Council assembled, sympathizing in the sentiments universally felt by all classes of your Majesty's loving subjects, desire to offer to your Majesty our most profound condolence on the death of our late gracious Sovereign, George the Fourth, of blessed memory.

At the same time we respectfully tender to your Majesty our loyal and dutiful congratulations on your accession to the Throne of this Realm: assuring your Majesty of our ardent devotion and attachment to your Majesty's Person, and that of your august Consort.

And we fervently implore Divine Providence to guide all your Majesty's councils for the welfare and prosperity of these dominions, and to take your Majesty's sacred Person under its own peculiar care and protection.

Given under our Common Seal, at the City of Hereford, the 5th day of July 1830, in the first year of the reign of King William the Fourth.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Corporation of the Royal Exchange Assurance.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Corporation of the Royal Exchange Assurance, in General Court assembled, beg to approach your Majesty with our humble assurances of unfeigned attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, and to express our sincere condolence on the death of your Royal Brother, our late most gracious Sovereign.

We beg at the same time to congratulate your Majesty, and our Country, on the accession of your Majesty, with your Royal Consort, our Gracious Queen, to the Throne of these Realms, in the confident hope and belief, that your Majesty's pure and patriotic principles will secure the Constitutional Administration of the Government, and thereby promote and uphold the best interests and general prosperity of this free and happy Empire.

Permit us, Sire, to hope that this Corporation may continue, under your Majesty's auspices, to enjoy the same protection in its rights and privileges which it has ever experienced under your royal and illustrious Predecessors.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Directors of the Society of Friends of Foreigners in Distress.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Directors of the Society of Friends of Foreigners in Distress, humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty, and, for ourselves, and all the other Members of the Society, to offer to your Majesty the most profound expressions of sorrow and condolence on the severe loss and deep affliction occasioned to your Majesty, and to this Nation, by the death of His late Majesty, King George the Fourth, your Majesty's illustrious Brother, of sacred memory.

Among many other acts of benevolence and charity which will ever be proudly and gratefully recollected by the subjects of this country, the late lamented King was pleased, during many years past, to grace and honour our Society with his Royal protection; an example of benevolence and clemency which was not only followed by most of the other Monarchs of Europe, but the Institution was also honoured with the patronage of all the illustrious Branches of the Royal Family of Great Britain.

With every sentiment of duty and respect we presume humbly to entreat your Majesty to accept our sincere and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's happy accession to the Throne of these Realms.

And while we indulge ourselves in the most dutiful and cordial expression of gratitude, for the munificent and truly beneficial patronage with which your Majesty has been pleased to honour this Institution for so long a period before your Majesty's accession, we trust we may, with all humility, now solicit a continuance of your Majesty's gracious and august encouragement as one of the protectors of a society which holds out the hand of benevolence to the unfortunate of every foreign country, when found in distress on these hospitable shores.

That your Majesty may continue, with your illustrious Consort, Queen Adelaide, to govern in the hearts and affections of this nation, and in the enjoyment of a long, peaceful, and happy reign fraught with every blessing of Divine Providence, is our most fervent prayer.

By order of the Court,
Charles Murray.

The humble Address of the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the County of Rutland.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the County of Rutland, beg leave to express to your Majesty the cordial sympathy with which we join in the regret so feelingly manifested by your Majesty for the great loss sustained by the country in the demise of our late illustrious and beloved Sovereign. But whilst we thus avow our deep regret, in common with our fellow-subjects, we desire also to present your Majesty with the assurances of our dutiful allegiance to your Majesty, and of the confident persuasion we indulge, from the gracious declarations which have been already made of your determination to maintain the civil and religious rights of this free Protestant Nation inviolate, that all the benefits derived to us from the mild government of your revered Father and beloved Brother, will be still more firmly consolidated under your Majesty's benign administration of the Sovereign power, and to this sincere profession of our loyal attachment to your Majesty, we beg leave to add our sentiments of high respect for our gracious Queen Adelaide, and our earnest hope that it may please the great Disposer of all events to prosper your endeavours for the public good, and to permit your Majesty to enjoy many years the happiness of reigning over an enlightened, free, and grateful people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Principal and Professors of the University of Edinburgh, beg leave to approach your Majesty's Royal Person, with the dutiful expression of our loyalty and attachment, and of our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms.

We beg to offer to your Majesty our deep and sincere condolence on the great loss which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained, by the death of your Majesty's Royal Brother. While we look back with pride to the military glories of his administration, and to those stupendous and successful achievements which have raised the name of Britain so high among the nations, we turn with still fonder recollection to those less resplendent, but not less valuable, distinctions which, in science and literature, and in the arts of peace, have signalized the reign of our late lamented Sovereign. It is our best consolation, under these recollections, that from his hand the Sceptre has descended to one who so happily unites the energies and patriotism, which have ever distinguished your Majesty's Royal House, with the wisdom and benevolence that belong to your Majesty's character.

It is our earnest prayer that your Majesty's reign may be long and happy; and that, under your Royal protection and encouragement, the true interests of science and of learning may be promoted; and while we gladly seize this occasion to lay at your Majesty's feet the assurances of fidelity and zeal in the discharge of our academical duties, we trust we may be enabled, by the great Dispenser of wisdom and goodness, so to conduct our labours as to train up the youth of the great seminary in which we preside, in a true understanding and love of the happy government under which we live, that while they feel the blessings they are to enjoy as subjects of your Majesty, they may steadily advance in those intellectual attainments and moral principles which will enable them to uphold the reputation, and extend the influence of their country.

To His Most Excellent Majesty KING WILLIAM the FOURTH.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses, of the Borough of Sudbury, in the County of Suffolk, in Common Hall assembled, beg to approach your Majesty with feelings of the most dutiful affection to your Royal Person, and of loyalty to your House, and at the same time to offer your Majesty our sincere sentiments of condolence on the loss which you and the Nation have sustained, in the death of your august Brother, His late Majesty King George the Fourth; but, in deploring that loss, we have great consolation in the consideration that your Majesty is raised to the Throne of these Realms, and we have every reason to anticipate the happiest results.

We earnestly hope that the maintenance and preservation of our most excellent Constitution, and the religion, laws, and liberties of your people, now committed to your paternal care, will be the means of establishing your throne in their hearts and affections; that you may long live to reign over them in health and happiness, is the sincere wish and prayer of us, your loyal and dutiful subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, High Steward, Recorder, Bailiffs, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Dorchester, in the County of Dorset, beg leave humbly to offer to your Majesty our most sincere condolence on the afflicting loss which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained, by the demise of our late revered Sovereign, your Majesty's beloved and illustrious Brother, under whose auspices this country has maintained during war its ancient reputation and glory, has enjoyed a long period of happiness and internal peace, and has possessed the friendship, respect, and confidence of Foreign Powers.

We beg leave, at the same time, humbly to lay before your Majesty our unfeigned congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne.

We consider the zeal and ardour which your Majesty manifested in the service of your country, in a profession from whence this nation has derived such transcendent glory, as the best earnest of your Majesty's solicitude for its honour and welfare, in the exalted station to which Providence has now called you; and we look with confidence for a continuance, under your Majesty's Government, of the many blessings which this country has enjoyed under the reign of your illustrious Ancestors of the House of Brunswick.

We entreat your Majesty to accept the assurances of our loyal and affectionate attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government; and we earnestly pray that it may please the Almighty to protect and preserve your Majesty long to reign, with your illustrious and amiable Consort, our most gracious Queen Adelaide, in the affections of a free and loyal people.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Protestant French and Dutch Churches, in the City of London, established by King Edward VI., of glorious memory.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the undersigned Ministers, Elders, and Deacons of the Protestant French and Dutch Churches in the City of London, established in the year 1550, by King Edward VI., of glorious memory, most humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty with the sincerest expressions of our condolence and regret for the loss which your Majesty, and the whole Nation, have sustained, by the death of our late much respected and beloved Monarch, whose reign, having been distinguished by the most glorious and splendid achievements, has confirmed not only peace and prosperity to this Kingdom, but also to all the surrounding States of Europe; and the memory of George IV. will be for ever revered as the Sovereign through whose instrumentality the Almighty Ruler of the Universe has given peace and tranquillity to this part of the globe.

But whilst we condole with your Majesty, and obediently submit to the will of Divine Providence, we have at the same time the greatest reason to rejoice that it has pleased the same Providence to place your Majesty on the Throne of these Realms, for which event we humbly beg to offer your Majesty our most cordial congratulations, praying that Almighty God will graciously grant your Majesty health, and his divine blessings, that your Majesty's reign may for a great many years uninterruptedly promote the welfare of your kingdom, and the prosperity of your subjects.

We further pray the Almighty, that his choicest blessings may be granted to Her Majesty the Queen, your Majesty's Royal Consort, and that he may continually take under his immediate and divine protection your illustrious Family and Government; and lastly, we most earnestly solicit the continuance of that favour and protection, which our respective Churches, the most ancient Foreign Protestant in this Kingdom, have always enjoyed under your glorious Predecessors.

The loyal Address of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Surrey.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Surrey, humbly beg leave to approach the Throne, and to express the deep sense we entertain of the loss which your Majesty, and the subjects of the British Empire, have sustained, by the demise of our late most gracious Sovereign, who, as a Brother, was endeared to your Majesty by all the ties of kindred love and affection, and, as a Sovereign, not less endeared to your Majesty and all the subjects of these Realms, by the mildness of his rule, the wisdom of his councils, the vigour and energy with which, both as Regent and as King, he wielded the military and naval powers of this great empire, and attained for it a glorious pre-eminence among the nations of the civilized world.

Permit us, gracious Sovereign, to testify our deep sorrow, and to mingle our tears with those of your Majesty, and of your illustrious House, and to offer our heartfelt condolence on this afflictive calamity.

But having paid that just tribute, which duty and affection equally demand from us to departed worth and greatness, allow us to turn our eyes to brighter prospects, and while we cordially and affectionately congratulate your Majesty upon your accession to the Throne of Kingdoms, so renowned for power, for wealth, for intellectual attainments, and for moral worth, humbly we beseech your Majesty to accept the assurance of our most devoted loyalty and attachment to your Person and Government.

When we reflect on your Majesty's eminent endowments to fill the high estate to which, by the blessing of Providence, you have been called; that educated in highly British principles, your Majesty has had the advantage, seldom enjoyed by Sovereigns, of mixing intimately, and unreservedly, with every class of your subjects; that your Majesty is the fifth Monarch of a dynasty under whose mild and beneficent governance, for more than a century, the laws and institutions of these kingdoms have been upheld, our liberties protected, arts and literature encouraged, trade and commerce extended, and the fame of British arms exalted to a pitch unparalleled in ancient or modern times. We feel a well-founded confidence that, under your rule, Sire, the civil and religious liberties, the privileges and immunities we enjoy under our happy Constitutions will be preserved to us inviolate, and that it will be your pride and glory to transmit them unimpaired to our children, and our children's children.

To His Most Excellent Majesty WILLIAM the FOURTH, KING of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Kirkaldy, in Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Kirkaldy, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne, to offer our sincere condolence on the death of our late most gracious Sovereign, and to express our warm congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Crown of these Realms.

Our feelings of sorrow for the loss of His late Majesty are alleviated by the hope, that your Majesty will firmly support our Constitution, Laws, and Religion; that the blessings of civil and religious liberty, so long enjoyed by the Nation under your Royal Predecessors of the illustrious House of Brunswick, will be continued under your Majesty's reign, and that the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's Government will support the honour and dignity of your Majesty's Crown, and ensure the loyalty and attachment of the people to your Majesty's Person and Government.

It is our earnest prayer that your Majesty may long be preserved to reign over a free, loyal, and happy people.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, and in our presence, the Seal of the Burgh being hereto affixed, at Kirkaldy, this 26th day of July 1830, by George Malcom, Provost.

The loyal Address of the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the Shire of Perth.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the Shire of Perth, in a General Meeting assembled, humbly approach your Majesty, to offer the homage of our congratulations on your happy accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and at the same time to assure your Majesty of our most sincere condolence on the afflicting loss which your Majesty, your august Family, and the Nation at large, have sustained, in the demise of your Royal Brother, under whose government and auspices the glory of the British arms attained the most exalted eminence, while the arts of peace were equally fostered.

From your Majesty we confidently anticipate the same paternal care of the best interests of your people, and the same value for, and regard to, our invaluable Constitution, in Church and State. To your Royal Person, and to your august and amiable Consort, we humbly offer the expressions of our most ardent, loyal, and respectful attachment; and it is our most earnest prayer, that your Majesty, in possession of every public and domestic blessing, may long be preserved to reign over a prosperous and loyal people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the Borough of Preston, in the County of Lancaster, in Common Council assembled, respectfully beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most sincere expressions of sympathy and condolence, on the demise of your Majesty's lamented Brother, our late most excellent King, George the Fourth.

But while, in common with our fellow subjects, we deeply feel the severe loss which the Nation has sustained by this melancholy event, we beg leave to assure your Majesty, that we join most cordially in those expressions of attachment and loyalty, with which all classes of the community have hailed your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Kingdoms; and we humbly hope your Majesty will be graciously pleased to accept our warmest congratulations.

We beg also to offer, on this occasion, our congratulations to your Majesty's Royal Consort, Queen Adelaide, whose many and distinguished virtues are so well calculated to adorn the high station to which it has pleased Providence to raise her.

That it may please the Almighty to continue to your Majesty the blessing of health; that your reign may be long and prosperous, and that you may ever place your chief glory in the welfare and happiness of your people, is our sincere and fervent prayer.

Given under the Common Seal of the said Borough, the 22d day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Capital Burgesses, and Assistants, Clergymen, Gentlemen, and other Inhabitants of the Borough, Town, and Parish of Tiverton, in the County of Devon, humbly beg to offer to your Majesty our sincere and heartfelt condolence on the loss your Majesty, in common with this Nation at large, has sustained, by the death of your Majesty's beloved Brother, our late lamented Sovereign, Lord King George the Fourth, who for so many years swayed the Sceptre of these Realms as Prince Regent and King, and to whose wise and prudent administration we are so deeply indebted, for having raised this nation from the state of warfare, in which it was involved at the time His late Majesty became Prince Regent, to a state of universal peace, for having maintained the influence of this kingdom amongst the civilized nations of the world, for having improved its internal policy by new and salutary laws, and for his munificent encouragement of literature, and of the arts and sciences.

Whilst we thus express to your Majesty our unfeigned regret at the decease of our lamented Monarch, we cannot but humbly tender our sincere and hearty congratulations to your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of these Realms.

As inhabitants of part of one of the maritime counties of England, we more especially regard the services your Majesty has rendered to this country, in promoting the interests of the British navy, on which the strength and glory of this nation so mainly depends, with a firm loyalty and attachment to the House of Brunswick, we anticipate with peculiar satisfaction the blessings we shall enjoy during the reign of a Prince of that House, who has so devoted his life to the service of his country.

Relying, therefore, on the wisdom and integrity of your Majesty's counsels, we rest with perfect assurance that our glorious Constitution, both in Church and State, will be preserved inviolate, and that we may, under your Majesty's auspices, transmit it unimpaired and unsullied to the latest posterity.

We cannot conclude this our address, without expressing most humbly, but at the same time most sincerely, our hope that it may please Divine Providence to bless your Majesty's amiable and illustrious Consort, our gracious Queen Adelaide, and to grant her a long life; that your Majesty's health may be prolonged to govern a free and loyal people; and that prosperity and happiness may attend your Majesty, and your beloved Queen, to the latest period of your lives.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Members of the Incorporation of Websters of the City of Edinburgh, beg leave, with sentiments of devoted attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person and Government, to offer our humble sympathy and heartfelt condolence, on the melancholy event which has at once bereaved your Majesty of a beloved Brother, and the British Empire of a wise, upright, and fortunate Monarch.

We also beg leave to approach your Majesty to offer our cordial congratulation on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors, and to express to your Majesty the happiness which we feel, in common with our fellow subjects, upon an event which we are assured will secure to these realms a wise and happy administration of government.

In the humble confidence that your Majesty will so exercise your high prerogative, as under the guidance, and with the blessing of Divine Providence, to secure to us, and hand down to posterity, the integrity of that constitution, and those rights, civil and sacred, by which this nation has arrived at her present greatness; we humbly beg leave to assure your Majesty of our sincere and ardent devotion to your Majesty's Person and Government; and that your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, our illustrious Queen, may long continue to wield the British Sceptre over a loyal, virtuous, and prosperous people, is our earnest and humble prayer to that Almighty power in whose hand are the lives and hearts of Kings.

The humble and dutiful Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the City and County of the City of Exeter.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Gentlemen, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the City and County of the City of Exeter, in approaching your Majesty's presence, beg to express our sincere and heartfelt grief at the recent melancholy event, by which your Majesty has been deprived of a kind and affectionate Brother, and the British Nation of a mild and generous Sovereign.

The glorious achievements which signalized the reign of our late revered Monarch, the munificent and liberal patronage which he extended to the arts and sciences, and the interest which he took in the religious, the moral, and the intellectual improvement of his people, have endeared his memory to the inhabitants of the British Empire, and will hand down his name to posterity as the friend and the father of his people.

But whilst we deplore the loss which, in common with your Majesty, we have sustained, we congratulate ourselves, and our fellow-subjects, that he is succeeded on the Throne of these Realms by a Prince so well calculated to uphold the dignity of the Crown, and promote the well-being and interests of his subjects.

The zeal with which your Majesty devoted your early days to the service of your country, affords us a strong assurance that you will not be wanting in the faithful discharge of the duties of the high and exalted station to which it hath pleased Almighty God to call you.

In offering our congratulations to your Majesty on your accession to the Throne, we beg to assure you of our steady attachment to yourself and the illustrious House of Brunswick, and of our firm determination to uphold the dignity and maintain the prerogatives of your Crown.

We rely with confidence on your experience and wisdom for the support of our glorious Constitution, in Church and State, which is the blessing of our native land, and the admiration of the world; and while we implore the Giver of all good to prosper the consultations of your Majesty, for promoting the cause of true religion and virtue, for establishing the safety and independence of your dominions, and for advancing the happiness of your subjects, we pray unto him to adorn your Counsellors with wisdom and understanding, to inspire your people with a spirit of loyalty to your person, of dutiful submission to the laws, and of brotherly love one towards another, and to pour down upon your Majesty and your Royal Consort, our gracious Queen Adelaide, the blessings of health and prosperity, that you may long continue to reign over a great, free, and united people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Chancellor, Principal, and Professors of the University of Glasgow, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the expression of our deep concern on the demise of our late most gracious Sovereign, and to offer our sincere condolence on that afflicting event.

As inhabitants of the British Empire we can never cease to revere the memory of a Monarch whose personal character and paternal regard for the interests of his people endeared him to the hearts of all ranks and classes of our countrymen, and whose government was blessed with a series of successes in war unexampled in our national history; and as members of an ancient literary institution, we must cherish the remembrance of a reign, in which, during a lengthened period of peace, literature, science, and the arts have flourished in a degree formerly unknown under the fostering care and munificent patronage of the Crown.

It is our chief consolation that his place is supplied by a Prince of the same illustrious House, who has already given ample proof of that attachment to the religious and civil institutions of this country, which so eminently distinguished His Royal Predecessors.

We entreat permission to congratulate your Majesty with the warmest affection and most profound respect on your accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and your assuming the Government of the United Kingdom.

The tenor of your Majesty's life, devoted as it has been in no common degree to the service of your country, and the gracious assurances with which, at the commencement of your reign, you have been pleased to favour your people, inspire us with perfect confidence in your royal determination to maintain inviolate the principles of the British Constitution, to watch over the security of our Establishments, in Church and State, and to seek your chief earthly glory in the firm and temperate exercise of your high prerogative as the Sovereign of a free, generous, and enlightened nation.

Relying on the continuance of that countenance and protection which have been invariably extended to this University by the Kings of your Majesty's August House, we pledge ourselves that it shall always be our study to approve ourselves worthy of the Royal favour by the faithful discharge of our important duties, and to inculcate on the youth whose education is intrusted to our care those principles of loyalty and sentiments of attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government, which become the subjects of a Constitutional Monarchy and a Patriot King.

WE, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Deputy-Lieutenants, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the County of Kincardine, in General Meeting assembled, beg humbly to approach your Majesty with the sincere expressions of our condolence on the death of your Majesty's illustrious Brother, our late beloved and lamented Sovereign. The virtues which adorned his character, the uniform desire which he manifested to promote the welfare of his people, his mild and paternal government, his triumphant maintenance of the glory and renown of the country, under circumstances of unexampled difficulty, his successful exertions for the preservation of external peace, and internal concord and prosperity, and his studious regard to the Constitution of the Country, preserving his prerogative as King without encroaching on the liberty of the subject—are deeply impressed on our minds, and his illustrious qualities, while they heighten our regret for the loss we have sustained, will render his memory dear to his faithful people, by whom it will be long gratefully cherished.

At the same time that we express our unfeigned regret for the loss of a Monarch so justly beloved, we, with equal sincerity, humbly tender to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on your succession to the Throne of these Realms; we have entire confidence in your Majesty's desire to maintain unimpaired our glorious Constitution, to preserve the rights and liberties of the people, and to promote the advancement of the happiness and prosperity of all classes of your subjects. The humble Address of the Magistrates and Town Council of His Royal Burgh of Pottenweem.

May it please your Majesty,

TO permit us, your most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Magistrates and Town Council of the Royal Burgh of Pottenweem, to condole with your Majesty on the afflicting loss which you and the nation have sustained, by the death of your late Royal Brother, of glorious memory.

And in the most respectful manner to congratulate your Majesty on that important event—your accession to the Throne of these Realms.

Humanity, and the love of justice, tempered with benevolence and moderation, a zeal for the cultivation of learning, piety, and morality, accompanied with a solicitude for the preservation of civil and religious liberty, a cautious prudence to plan, and a firmness of mind to execute, are those qualities which most adorn a Crown.

And we have been taught from the system of Government, which has been fostered and matured under the auspices of your illustrious House, from the fame of your virtues, and from the universal acclamations of a happy people, to expect, Sire, that these will distinguish and dignify your reign.

That the Almighty protector of Kings and Kingdoms may long preserve your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, our most gracious Queen Adelaide, on the Throne of these Realms, and thereby furnish your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, with a lasting series of opportunities of gratifying that noblest of all desires, which glows with fervency in your Royal breasts, the desire of rendering your people glorious and happy, is the ardent prayer and wish of your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Magistrates and Councillors of the Royal Burgh of Pottenweem.

To His Most Excellent Majesty King WILLIAM the FOURTH.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Councillors of the Royal Burgh of Kirkwall, beg leave to approach your Throne with the homage of our condolence on the demise of your Majesty's illustrious Brother, and our congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Sovereignty of the British Empire.

We cannot allude to the removal of our late beloved Monarch from his sphere of terrestrial existence, without deeply feeling the tribute that is due to his memory. Selecting wisdom to his councils, and valour to his arms, the persevering energy of his Government, was honoured by Divine Providence, to be chiefly instrumental in overthrowing that colossal empire of military despotism, which menaced the civilized world with all the evils of oppression, tyranny and misrule. The stern strife of the British people for independence and freedom, so long endured, and at times overcast with gloom, was at length under his firm rule conducted to the consummation of its glory, in the return of peace and right to the afflicted nations, and while the moral elevation of the British name stood thus conspicuous, not less so was the personal lustre of our Sovereign in all the dignity and grace of his exalted station. The nation was justly proud of its King, and it now laments the termination of his reign, as of a period of happiness and glory, which must to all future times render the record of his reign the most brilliant and important on the page of history.

In joining the acclaim with which this great Empire now welcomes another Prince of the House of Brunswick to the Throne, we yield to none in your Majesty's dominions in the fidelity of loyal attachment to your person. Remote as is our locality, we possess the distinction of being the only place in Scotland yet visited by your Majesty. The honour of your Majesty's presence here in early life, is a still cherished recollection by the Inhabitants of Kirkwall, and we revert to it as raising our humble Burgh to a connexion with the history of its Sovereign.

To the arduous duties which our constitution now devolves upon your royal care, and to all the anxieties connected with wielding the sceptre of this great empire, we trust and hope that wisdom, strength, and blessing from on high will be vouchsafed.

And it is our fervent prayer that your Majesty may long reign, in peace, in glory, and prosperity, over an enlightened, loyal, and virtuous people.

Signed in name, and by appointment of the Magistrates and Town Council,

James Spence, acting Chief Magistrate of the Royal Burgh of Kirkwall.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Saint Peter, in Exeter, humbly beg leave to express to your Majesty our unfeigned condolence on the recent event which has left the branches of the Royal House to deplore the loss of one so distinguished for his affectionate regard to his illustrious Family, and deprived the united kingdom of a benign and gracious Sovereign.

We cannot cease to bear in mind that, under his dominion, it has pleased Almighty God to visit us with many signal blessings, to give success to the just defence of the realm against the dangers and aggressions which had spread so widely, and which found their first check and their effectual termination by the wisdom, constancy, and valour of the British Government, and its forces both by sea and land.

We are duly sensible of the value of security and peace so happily procured, nor can we forget by whose hand the sceptre was then swayed, and to whose direction the strength and energies of the nation were confided in that conflict.

With a like sense of gratitude we have to regard the flourishing condition of the public institutions of the land for every salutary purpose, many of them have found their first establishment, and all of them have been encouraged in their growth, by the fostering care and ready patronage of the same royal benefactor.

To the same protecting kindness, and well-placed bounty, the arts and sciences have been no less indebted for their culture and increase among us.

The paternal care extended to the Colonies of the British Empire, by many measures recently adopted for their succour and their pastoral guidance, claims no less a just expression of grateful and sincere remembrance.

With this cordial tribute of acknowledgment we must join a special recollection of the timely provisions by which an augmented population has been met by the multiplied erection of places consecrated for religious worship.

With the lively sense of firm and unalterable attachment to your Royal House, we look now with confidence to your Majesty's succession to the Throne of this Realm, and feel assured that the best interests of our beloved Country, in Church and State, will be preserved under the mild influence of that salutary rule which is founded on the settled basis of a pure religion.

Under the painful feeling that, a Prince, whose reign has been so prosperous, is withdrawn from us, we cannot forbear to testify the consolation we derive from being placed under the government of your Majesty, of whose public services, from the earliest period of their exertion to the present day, such good proof has been given.

As Members and Ministers of the Church of England, we humbly entreat your Majesty to believe, that we shall not fail to offer our devout and unremitting prayers to Almighty God that he will grant to your Majesty a long and happy reign, and in his good providence dispose the hearts of your people to unite in a spirit of dutiful obedience to the Laws, and of attachment and loyalty to your Majesty's sacred Person and Government.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Town of Northampton, most respectfully approach your Royal Throne, and being deeply sensible of the many and great blessings we enjoyed under the reign of our late most gracious Sovereign, George the Fourth, of illustrious memory, beg leave to offer your Majesty our unfeigned condolence on the melancholy event which has deprived your Majesty of an affectionate Brother, and the Empire of a great and glorious Monarch. But whilst we contemplate with grief this private and national calamity, we are animated with the conviction, that the Sceptre has fallen into hands in which it will be wielded with the same wisdom and discretion. We desire to present to your Majesty our warmest congratulations on your accession to the Throne, and sincerely pray that the King of Kings may direct your Majesty's Councils, and vouchsafe to your Majesty a long and happy reign.

Signed by order of the meeting,

John Marshall, Mayor.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Aberdeen, in Presbytery assembled, respectfully approach your Majesty's Throne, to express the sentiments which we feel of deep regret on the occasion of the decease of our late gracious Sovereign, George the Fourth, and of condolence with your Majesty on that melancholy dispensation of Divine Providence; and also to present to your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on your happy accession to the Throne of these Realms.

We rejoice that a Prince of your Royal House, ever distinguished by a strict regard to the British Constitution, and uniform in maintaining the rights and privileges of the Church of Scotland, as by law established, still wields the Sceptre of this mighty Empire. Permit us to assure your Majesty, that nothing shall be wanting on our part to cherish sentiments of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty and your illustrious House, among all ranks of people committed to our charge, as far as our influence extends, and to promote among them that righteousness which alone exalteth a nation. And our earnest prayer to the Supreme Disposer of events is, that your Majesty's reign may be long and prosperous, that you may be happy in your own family, and eminently instrumental in diffusing happiness to all your subjects.

Subscribed by our Moderator, in our name, and by our appointment, at Aberdeen, this 21st day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Solicitors in the Supreme Courts of Scotland, incorporated by Royal Charter, beg leave humbly to approach the Throne with the most sincere and heartfelt condolence on the demise of our much beloved and lamented Sovereign, and while we offer this inadequate expression of the feelings which that event has produced in us, in common with all the loyal subjects of these realms, we consider the occasion as naturally suggesting the humble tribute of our most profound respect to the memory of a Sovereign, whose reign will occupy a prominent place in the annals of this kingdom, as being in a high degree conspicuous for the improvement of trade and manufactures, the progress of arts, sciences, and general literature, the intellectual improvement of all classes, and the general happiness and tranquillity of the people.

We regard it as being at this time consistent with the expression of these feelings, to tender our sincere congratulation to your Majesty on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms; an event which has been hailed by the whole country with pride and satisfaction; and under the deepest impression of your Majesty's attachment to the laws and constitution of the country, we earnestly pray that your Majesty may be preserved to us for many years.

Signed in our name, and by our authority, and the Seal of the Society appended hereto, at Edinburgh, the 22d day of July, in the year of our Lord 1830.

THE following Addresses having been transmitted to Earl Howe, Lord Chamberlain to Her Majesty, was by him presented to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Bailiffs, the Jurats of the Royal Court, the Clergy, the King's Procureur, and the Constables of all the Parishes of the Island of Guernsey, in the States assembled, humbly present our sincere condolence to your Majesty on the demise of our beloved Sovereign.

Resignation to the Divine will, and the character of his illustrious Successor, are the sources of our consolation.

The presages which, in common with the whole empire, we indulge of an auspicious reign, are founded on the knowledge of the high qualities that grace the Throne, and on the influence which your Majesty may reasonably be expected to exercise over the best interests of our favoured country.

The virtues universally ascribed to your Majesty, virtues which have established you in the hearts of the people, will operate with impulsive power to raise the tone of morals; and your Majesty will confer on the nation a more valuable benefit, and a nobler mark of distinction, than eminence in arts, or prowess in war.

We tender then, with the greatest sincerity, our congratulations on your Majesty's exalted elevation, and pray that you may long live to be the joy and solace of our gracious Monarch, and the blessing of his affectionate people.

Guernsey, the 28th July 1830.

[Transmitted by Colonel Carey.]

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Principal and Professors of the University of Edinburgh, approach your Majesty with profound respect, humbly to present our unfeigned congratulations on your Majesty's auspicious accession to be Queen of the British Realms.

It affords us heartfelt gratification to see on the Throne of these Kingdoms, a Queen whose domestic affections will lighten the public cares of our beloved Sovereign, and whose piety and virtue will exemplify and recommend to the female sex of all ranks in the empire, those qualities that best adorn and exalt their character.

Our devout and ardent prayers ascend to the Almighty Governor among the Nations, that through a reign of many years of beneficence and happiness, your Majesty may be richly blessed by the Divine protection and favour.

Signed in name, and by appointment of the University of Edinburgh, at Edinburgh, the 17th day of July 1830. Geo. H. Baird, Principal.

To the QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal Address of the Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Surrey.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the County of Surrey, venture to offer the sincere expression of our unfeigned congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of Great Britain.

In once more addressing a British Queen, we call to mind the benefits which accrued to the morals of the people of these realms, by the example and influence of the Court of Queen Charlotte during a long life; and we fondly anticipate similar blessings in the virtues which have been manifested, in the exalted sphere in which your Majesty has hitherto moved.

In pursuing this course, your Majesty will ever rule over the hearts of a grateful, and affectionate, and loyal people; and we humbly pray, that it may please Almighty God long to continue to your Majesty the enjoyment of health and prosperity on that Throne to which your Majesty has been lately exalted.

On behalf of the Meeting, W. G. H. Jolliffe, Sheriff; Richd. Frederick; E. Wyatt Edgell; Thomas Gaitskell; W. Speer; T. Allen Shuter.

St. James's-Palace, August 4, 1830.

This day the Count Saint Martin D'Aglié, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Sardinia, and the Baron de Cetto, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Bavaria, had their first private audiences respectively of the King to deliver their credentials, and to deliver letters of condolence upon the death of the late King, and of congratulation to His Majesty upon his accession to the throne; also the Count Bjornstjerna, on a special mission from the King of Sweden, had his first private audience of the King to deliver a letter of condolence upon the death of the late King, and a letter of congratulation to His Majesty upon his accession to the throne; to which audiences they were severally introduced by the Earl of Aberdeen, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, and conducted by Sir Robert Chester, Knt. Master of the Ceremonies.

This day the Prince Esterhazy, Ambassador Extraordinary from the Emperor of Austria; the Count Saint Martin D'Aglié, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Sardinia; the Count Molike, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Denmark; the Baron de Cetto, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Bavaria; the Count Bjornstjerna, on a special mission from the King of Sweden to deliver to His Majesty a letter of condolence upon the death of the late King, and a letter of congratulation upon His Majesty's accession to the throne; and the Chevalier de Zea Bermudez, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the King of Spain, had their first private audiences of Her Majesty the Queen; to which they were respectively introduced by Earl Howe, Her Majesty's Lord Chamberlain, and conducted by Sir Robert Chester, Knt. Master of the Ceremonies.

St. James's, August 4, 1830.

His Majesty was this day pleased to invest Francis Earl of Moray with the ensigns of the Most Ancient and Most Noble Order of the Thistle.

His Majesty having signed the several instruments for that purpose, which were, previously to the ceremony, presented to the Sovereign by Robert Quarne, Esq. Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod, in the absence of the Secretary.

The Earl of Moray was called into the Royal Presence, being preceded by His Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex, and supported by the Earls of Cathcart and Aberdeen, the two Senior Knights present.

Upon entering into the Royal Presence, with the usual reverences, the Earl of Moray was presented by the said two Knights, and, kneeling down, was knighted by the King with the sword of state; his Lordship, having kissed His Majesty's hand, rose up, when the Gentleman Usher of the Green Rod administered the oath to his Lordship; then Green Rod, kneeling, presented the ensigns of the Order, upon a crimson velvet cushion, to the King, who put the ribband over the Earl's left shoulder; and his Lordship, having again had the honour of kissing His Majesty's hand, withdrew, with the usual reverences, in the same manner in which he had entered.

The ceremony was performed in the King's Closet, before the Levee, several of the Great Officers of State and of the Court being present.

St. James's, August 4, 1830.

This day, by command of His Majesty, Major-Generals Sir Charles Pratt and Sir William Williams, Knights Commanders of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath, were introduced into the Royal Presence, preceded by Sir George Nayler (the Officer of Arms attendant upon the Knights Commanders), bearing upon a crimson velvet cushion the star appropriated to the second class of the Order. The Sovereign was then graciously pleased to invest the said Major-Generals respectively with the star of a Knight Commander; whereupon they had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and withdrew.

St. James's-Palace, August 4, 1830.

The King was this day pleased to confer the honour of Knighthood upon Colonel Octavius Carey, C. B.

The King was this day pleased to confer the honour of Knighthood upon George Ballingall, Esq. Regius Professor of Military Surgery in the University of Edinburgh.
