

condolence on the death of your Majesty's most excellent Brother, our late revered and beloved Sovereign, George the Fourth, of blessed and glorious memory.

Whilst we pay a mournful tribute to the memory of His late Majesty, under whose glorious reign this country enjoyed, during a period of long duration, the inestimable blessings of internal concord and external peace, it is with feelings of peculiar satisfaction that we hail your Majesty as the Successor of so beneficent and illustrious a Monarch; and we humbly solicit the acceptance of our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's happy accession to that Throne, which has been so gloriously filled by your Majesty's Royal Ancestors.

We rejoice that your Majesty has declared it to be your determination to maintain the Protestant Reformed Religion, established within these Realms, and to preserve inviolate that toleration, for their attachment to which your illustrious House has ever been distinguished.

Deeply impressed with a sense of that truth, that "Righteousness exalteth a Nation," we rejoice that your Majesty has caused your Royal Proclamation against vice and immorality to be issued; we hail this circumstance as a pledge, that your Majesty's utmost influence will be employed to countenance and encourage the practice of true religion and virtue, and especially to promote a due observance of the sabbath, now so generally and lamentably violated.

That your Majesty's reign may be happy and glorious, and, under the Divine favour, may long continue to diffuse the blessings of peace and prosperity throughout your Majesty's dominions, is the earnest prayer of your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects.

Signed for and on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Inhabitants of the Borough of Helleston, in public meeting assembled,

John Borlase, Mayor.

Dated 2d August 1830.

[Transmitted by L. J. Townshend, Esq. and Sir J. Pechell, Bart.]

No. 5.

To His Most Excellent Majesty KING WILLIAM the FOURTH, by the Grace of God, KING of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Down, in the County Court by the High Sheriff assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Nobility, Gentry, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Down, beg leave to approach your Majesty's Throne, and with sincere and deepfelt sorrow to condole with your Majesty on the loss which your Majesty and the Nation have sustained, by the demise of your Majesty's beloved Brother, our late most gracious and august Sovereign, under whose benign and auspicious sway the British Empire had attained to a station of eminence and influence unparalleled in former ages.

To maintain the national character in all its grandeur and elevation, and to hand down unimpaired to your Successors that fabric of civil and religious liberty, on which the Imperial Throne of your Ancestors is based and sustained, will ever be the wish nearest your Majesty's heart.

On your ascent to that Throne, with truth and sincerity, we presume to address to your Majesty the loyal congratulations of free-born subjects.

Our prayers are offered up to the Almighty Disposer of the destinies of Kings and Nations, that your Majesty's reign may be long, prosperous, and happy; and that, with your beloved Consort, our most gracious Queen Adelaide, to whose virtues, through your Majesty, we would desire to pay the humble tribute of our dutiful respect and admiration, you may long, very long, continue to reign in the hearts and affections of your attached subjects, and hold out to the Sovereigns and Nations of the World, the useful and instructive lesson, that in no instance can the personal interest of the Monarch be inconsistent with or separate from that of his people.

Signed for and on behalf of the County,

Nichs. Chas. Whyte, High Sheriff.

[Transmitted by the High Sheriff.]

No. 6.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Masters, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the City of Wells, in Common Council assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Masters, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the City of Wells, in Common Council assembled, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty with the expression of our sincere condolence in the severe loss which your Majesty has sustained, by the demise of your Majesty's Royal Brother, our late most gracious and beneficent Sovereign.

At the same time we would, in expression of dutiful obedience, pray your Majesty to accept our most humble and heartfelt congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, animated as we are with the hope that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, your Majesty may long live to reign over a happy and loyal people, and with the confidence that Great Britain will, under your Majesty's Government, continue to advance in glory and prosperity.

We further pray your Majesty to believe, that there are not in the whole of your Majesty's dominions any subjects more loyal, or more attached to your Majesty's sacred person, or to that illustrious House of which your Majesty is the head, than the Mayor, Corporation, Burgesses, and Inhabitants of this ancient and loyal City.

Robt. Welsh, Mayor.

[Transmitted by the Members for Wells.]

No. 7.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Magistrates, Clergy, and Inhabitants of the ancient Town and Borough of Gosport, and the Parish of Alverstoke, most respectfully approach your Royal Throne, and, being deeply sensible of the many blessings which were enjoyed under the reign