(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to His Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

Whitehall, September 7, 1830.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir Robert Peel, Bart. one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

No. 1.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the County Palatine of Durham, assembled at a general meeting, convened by the High Sheriff, on the 26th day of August 1830, pursuant to public notice, beg leave to approach your Majesty with expressions of the deep regret we feel at the loss of a Sovereign, whose Government was distinguished by a triumphant display of the energies of this country in its conflict with foreign Powers.

We still more deplore our bereavement, when we reflect that His late Majesty consented to extend to all classes of his subjects those civil and religious liberties which legitimately result from that Constitution which the House of Brunswick have laboured to protect.

We entreat your Majesty to accept the assurances of our genuine sympathy in your Majesty's private affliction, and in the shock which your Majesty's fraternal feelings have sustained.

It is, however, with equal sincerity, and with perfect confidence, that we hail your Majesty's accession to the Throne.

We have already witnessed, with unfeigned satisfaction, the first auspicious acts of your Majesty's reign, which have afforded to the Nation a decisive pledge of your Majesty's firm resolutions to exercise the high functions and prerogatives of the Crown in the true spirit of the Constitution, and as trusts for the benefit of the people.

It is a further satisfaction to us to know that the illustrious Partner of your Majesty's Throne has already conciliated universal respect and affection, and will exhibit a bright example of female purity and virtue, calculated to produce the most beneficial results on the moral condition of the empire.

At the request and on behalf of the meeting.

C. T. Clavering, Sheriff.

No. 2.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Celtic Society, specially convened in an extraordinary general meeting, humbly crave permission to offer to your Majesty our sincere condolence on the demise of our late venerated Sovereign, whose virtues were alike calculated to conciliate the love of his people, and to exalt the dignity of the Crown.

While bearing in grateful remembrance that paternal solicitude which has ever characterized your Majesty, we, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Celtic Society, instituted for the purposes of promoting with fostering care the revival and more general use in the Highlands of the ancient dress, and other characteristics peculiar to the Gael, humbly desire to lay at your Majesty's feet our cordial congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne.

The paternal goodness of your Majesty's Father, obliterating painful recollections, restored to the Highlanders the use of their ancient garb and weapons; your Majesty's lamented Brother, on the occasion of his gracious visit to this his ancient kingdom, evinced the most flattering partiality for the dress as well as the people; and every incident of your Majesty's past life gives assurance that the Highlands of Scotland will participate in the benefit of your Majesty's gracious disposition, to protect and render happy every part of your dominions.

It is our earnest prayer to Almighty God to preserve your Majesty for a long and happy reign, and to grant that your wisdom may guard our public and private rights, as a true foundation of the security of the Throne, and the firmest pledge of the prosperity of the Empire.

Signed at Edinburgh, this 30th day of July, 1830 years, in the name and by appointment, and in the presence of the meeting, by

Alex. Keith, Knight Marischal of Scotland,
Preses. of the Meeting.

No. 3.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WITH sentiments of affectionate loyalty and the most profound respect, we, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Capital Burgesses of the ancient Borough of Stafford, presume to offer our sincere condolence on the loss which your Majesty (in common with your loyal subjects) has sustained by the death of your lamented Brother, our late highly revered Monarch: with our expression of sympathy in your Majesty's affliction, accept gracious Sire, our heartfelt congratulation on your auspicious accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

We feel that the services which your Majesty has already afforded to your country, are the best pledge of your paternal solicitude for its future welfare, and of your determination, by the blessing of God, to preserve unimpaired that free and glorious Constitution which has so long, under the auspices of your Majesty's august Family, been the admiration of surrounding nations.

That your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, may, under Divine Providence, long, continue to reign in health and prosperity, is our sincere and earnest prayer, and we beg most respectfully to assure your Majesty that we regard the condescending anxiety already displayed for the welfare of all classes of your Majesty's subjects by our beloved Queen, as a most important epoch in the annals of our country.

Sir,

WE, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter and Clergy of the Cathedral Church and Diocese of Worcester, humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty with expressions of the deepest concern for the loss which your Majesty, the Royal Family, and Nation, have sustained by the recent demise of a much beloved Sovereign. It must be some consolation to your Majesty to be assured, that you have ascended the Throne of your illustrious Race, amidst the most loyal feelings of your subjects, together with their earnest prayers, that your reign may be long and happy. On our part, we have heard, with the utmost satisfaction, your Majesty's gracious determination to uphold and maintain the established Church. Its ministers, we are persuaded, will express their gratitude, both by a firm attachment to your Crown, and their most zealous endeavours to instruct your people in the purest principles of religion and morals.

No. 6.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Ross, approach your Majesty with the humble offering of our condolence on the decease of your illustrious Brother, our Sovereign King George the Fourth; and of our heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of Great Britain and Ireland.

While we must ever remember with pride, the glory of the reign of George the Fourth, while we must ever cherish the deepest gratitude for the paternal liberality of his government, in promoting the improvement of the remote portion of your Majesty's Dominions where our lot is cast; we rejoice to think that we are now under the dominion of a Prince who is prepared by manly sentiment, and by intimate personal knowledge of the strength of Britain's best bulwarks, to defend and preserve all that has been achieved in former reigns, and whose anxious wish is to strengthen the arm of his country, (always ready to draw the sword at his command), by cultivating the arts of peace, and by securing in wise and conciliatory government, the rights and the happiness of his loyal and affectionate people.

We cannot conclude our dutiful address without expressing to your Majesty our unfeignedly great delight on seeing a gracious Queen Consort placed on the Throne by the side of your Majesty, and while we ardently pray for the long continuance, happiness, and glory of your Majesty's reign, we also pray that her Majesty, the Queen, may long live to exhibit an illustrious example of every virtue that can adorn a Throne and secure the respect and love of the Nation, may Almighty God bless your Majesty and your Royal Consort.

Hugh Innes, Preses of the General Meeting of the Freeholders of Rosshire.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Noblemen, Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace, and Magistrates of Towns of the County of Renfrew, convened in general meeting, beg to offer to your Majesty our loyal and dutiful condolence on the demise of your illustrious Brother, our late revered Sovereign of blessed memory.

We also beg to assure your Majesty that in common with all your devoted subjects, we ardently participate in the national exultation at your Majesty's auspicious accession to the Throne of these Realms, and confiding as we stedfastly do in the truly British traits of character so graciously and so constitutionally displayed by your Majesty, and experiencing as we so long have done, your Majesty's exhaustless beneficence to the people of Scotland, we yield to none of your Majesty's rejoicing subjects, in offering the heartfelt homage of our loyal and fervent congratulations; and we devoutly pray that your Majesty and your illustrious Consort, our gracious Queen, may long be preserved to influence by the cherished example of a high and happy domestic union, the character, and the affection of your people.

And we would respectfully beg permission to assure your Majesty, that it is our most earnest desire to behold, and do homage in this our native land, to our good and gracious King, the Royal Baron of Renfrew.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the undersigned Clergy, Magistrates, Ship-Owners, Merchants, Inhabitants and others, of the Chapelry of Saint Hilds, comprising the Townships of South Shields, Westoe and Harton, and their Vicinities in this great and populous County Palatine of Durham and Sadberge, most humbly beg leave to approach your Majesty, with the expression of our deep and heartfelt sympathy on the bereavement which your Majesty has sustained in the loss of your beloved Brother, our late lamented Monarch; and, at the same time, with the strongest assurances of the satisfaction with which we hail your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these realms.

Though suffering in common with every other Sea Port in this Kingdom, under that severe depression which every where affects the shipping interest, that circumstance, we can proudly state, has not diminished our attachment to your Majesty's Person, or shaken the confidence we anticipate to repose in the wisdom of your Majesty's government. We entertain a well grounded belief that the Providence which has hitherto watched over the destinies of England, will still continue to be her shield and safeguard, and that all her interests will revive and flourish under the paternal sway of William the Fourth, her patriot King.

We implore the blessing of Heaven upon your Majesty's Person and Reign, devoutly hoping that the first may be blessed with a full measure of domestic happiness; that the last may be peaceful, splendid and prosperous.

That your Majesty may, with your illustrious Consort, be long spared to witness the happy effects of your bright example, on a people by whom your Majesty's virtues have already made you beloved, is the anxious and constant prayer of your Majesty's loyal and devoted subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Neighbourhood and ancient Town of Horncastle, in the County of Lincoln, beg leave humbly to approach your Majesty, to offer our sincere condolence on the decease of our late most excellent Sovereign, George the Fourth, recollecting as we do, with pride and satisfaction, the pre-eminent glory attained by this country during his eventful reign.

This melancholy event we should deplore the more, did we not, in common with every faithful subject in your Majesty's extended and happy dominions, view, with no ordinary degree of pleasure and delight, the accession to the Throne of his Ancestors, a Monarch possessing the true English feelings of his illustrious Father, George the Third, and whose virtues are calculated alike to conciliate the love of his people, and exalt the dignity of the Crown.

While bearing in grateful remembrance that, under the auspicious government and paternal care of your Majesty's illustrious House, the peaceful pursuits of agriculture have been fostered, and commerce encouraged and protected, those great objects of national industry, which have alone elevated Great Britain to a height of unexampled glory; we cannot but joyfully offer to your Majesty our most heartfelt congratulations on your accession to the Throne; and we hail in your Majesty that magnanimous and virtuous benignity, which confirms our anticipations that your dominion over this Realm will extend the renown of the Empire in every quarter of the globe, and enhance the felicity of every class of your people.

Accept, gracious Sire, the assurance of our devotion and affectionate attachments to your Majesty and to your illustrious Consort, Queen Adelaide; and it is our earnest prayer that it may please the Almighty Disposer of events to give your Majesties a long and happy reign, in the enjoyment of every earthly blessing to the most remote period of your lives, and that your Royal wisdom may guard the public privileges and secure the rights of every class of your Majesty's subjects, as being the true foundation of the security of the Throne, and the firmest pledge of the prosperity of the Nation.

We again repeat, may God preserve your Majesty for many happy years.

Signed at a meeting of the Gentry, Clergy, and other Inhabitants of the Neighbourhood and ancient Town of Horncastle, in the County of Lincoln, by the President, the Honourable your Majesty's Champion.

Unto the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Governors of the Scottish Hospital, of the Foundation of King Charles the Second; re-incorporated by King George the Third, of ever blessed memory.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Governors of the Scottish Hospital, in General Court assembled, most deeply sympathize in the severe affliction with which it has pleased Almighty God to visit your Majesty in the death of so near a Relative as our late most gracious Sovereign, during whose reign the nation witnessed the triumph of its arms in every quarter of the globe; who proved himself the munificent Patron of arts, science, and literature; the zealous Promoter of the education of the poor; and the bountiful Supporter of the charitable institutions of this great City.

While thus obtruding on the sacred sorrow of your Majesty, with the deep regret that pervades the Scottish Corporation, on an event so afflictive to the illustrious Personage, whose uniform kindness through a period of nearly twenty years, has for ever endeared him to our best affections; we are, nevertheless, supported by the reflection, that under the recent dispensation of Divine Providence, the active virtues and gracious condescension of your Majesty, will no longer be confined to those benevolent establishments which have hitherto enjoyed your Majesty's patronage, but will shed their kindly influence on every individual of your mighty empire.

Humbly, but with all sincerity, we congratulate your Majesty on your accession to a Throne, venerable for its antiquity, and brilliant at once with the reflection of former conquests, and with the halo of more recent victories; victories to which your Majesty possesses the proud consciousness of having contributed by the exertion of your Personal prowess.

We pray most fervently, that Almighty God may long preserve to the country the blessings of your Majesty's rule, and the benefit of your benevolent example; that the cares of empire may be alleviated by the enjoyment of those domestic endearments, which the amiable and exalted virtues of your illustrious Consort, are so eminently calculated to ensure; while your Majesty's consolation, in guiding the destinies of a mighty nation, will be the approval of Heaven, and the prayers and gratitude of a contented and happy people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The dutiful and loyal Address of the Bailiffs and Commonalty of the ancient Burgh of Southwold, in the County of Suffolk, in Common Hall assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

POSSESSING, as a Corporation, many valuable privileges bestowed upon us by the bounty of the Crown, we, your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Bailiffs and Commonalty of the Burgh of Southwold, in unison with the national feeling, presume to approach your Majesty with our most humble condolence on your Majesty's loss of a beloved Brother; and with our dutiful congratulations to your Majesty on your accession to a Sceptre so happily swayed by so many Monarchs of your Royal House.

Deeply deploring the demise of a Sovereign whose glorious reign as Regent and as King was no less distinguished by victory in war than by a liberal and enlightened policy in peace, we yet find our consolation in the knowledge that your Majesty is a Son of the same Sire, inheriting the same love of your country, and equally devoted to the glory and to the prosperity and to the happiness of your people.

Reposing on this conviction, it is our anxious prayer that your Majesty may long reign in health and peace, blessed with your illustrious Queen, the shining light to your Court and Country; and that when it shall please the Great Disposer of all events to gather your Majesty unto your Royal Fathers, that your Majesty may still live, as your Royal Brother doth, in the affections and gratitude of your subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Members of the most ancient and illustrious Order of Free and Accepted Masons in Ireland, in Grand Lodge assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty's Throne, and with feelings of the most unfeigned sorrow, to offer to your Majesty our sincere and heartfelt expressions of condolence, on the heavy affliction which your Majesty and the United Kingdom have sustained by the demise of our late much lamented and beloved Monarch, the Grand Patron of our Order, whose demise we, in common with all other your Majesty's loving subjects, now deeply deplore.

We, however, must not sorrow as men without hope: we hail your Majesty's elevation, and congratulate your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of these Realms. We anticipate the happiest results from your Majesty's reign. We cherish the utmost confidence in the wisdom and firmness of your Majesty's government, and most sincerely join in an unequivocal expression of that ardent attachment which has ever been felt for the illustrious House of Brunswick, by your Majesty's faithful and loving subjects.

To draw still closer, if possible, the bonds of dutiful and loyal attachment, ever subsisting in the breasts of your Majesty's faithful subjects, the Free and Accepted Masons of Ireland, we do earnestly solicit your Majesty to become the Patron of our Order, and thereby repair the breach made in the perfection of our structure by the all-subduing hand of death. Your Majesty is well aware that nothing derogatory to our profession, as Christians; nothing disloyal; nothing unworthy of the Divine Foundation of Faith, Hope and Charity, on which our Order is established, can enter the sacred portals of the masonic temple. With humble confidence, then, we trust that your Majesty will be graciously pleased to become the Patron of our most excellent and revered

Order; and we pray that the Grand Architect of the Universe may establish your Throne in the hearts of your Majesty's faithful and affectionate subjects in peace, love, and harmony.

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Magistrates, Clergy, and Principal Inhabitants of the Borough of Great Yarmouth, in the County of Norfolk, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the most sincere expressions of condolence on the much lamented death of your Majesty's most Royal and beloved Brother, our late most gracious Sovereign.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Inhabitants of the Town and Parish of Portsea, desirous of testifying the sentiments with which we are impressed by the lamented death of our late and much revered Sovereign, humbly beg leave to offer to your Majesty our sincere condolence and sympathy on so mournful an occasion.

We at the same time approach your Majesty with every feeling which ought to cheer and animate our minds in the consideration of your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, a Throne rendered truly illustrious by the Princes of the House of Brunswick, by their regard to those Constitutional principles which they were called to maintain, and on which the security of the King and the welfare of his people alike depend.

We humbly and respectfully, but with the earnestness of British subjects, warmly attached to your Royal Person, entreat your Majesty to accept our most cordial congratulations on your Majesty's succession to regal authority, and to be assured of the loyalty of this populous district.

As inhabitants of the first naval port and arsenal in the world, we cannot but consider it a happy omen for our insular empire that the naval service (being our characteristic strength) should have been honoured by your Majesty's patriotic exertions.

We hail the commencement of your Majesty's reign with peculiar and heartfelt satisfaction. The principles which your Majesty has been graciously pleased to announce as the rule of your government, combined with the well known firmness and sincerity of your Majesty, and the kind and liberal sentiments recommended from the Throne to your subjects on the prorogation of the late Parliament, excite in us, in common with the nation at large, the most lively emotions.

It becomes us, in these auspicious circumstances, to be grateful; and to beseech Almighty God to preserve your Majesty's life, to direct your Majesty's Councils to proper objects and proper measures, that the kingdom may continue to enjoy the blessings of peace, and that your Majesty may long and happily reign over a free and contented people.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Assistants of the City of Rochester, in Common Council assembled, beg leave most sincerely to condole with your Majesty on the death of our late most gracious Sovereign, your Royal Brother, and to express our grateful sense of the many blessings which we have enjoyed under his mild and paternal Government.

Permit us, thus feelingly impressed with the remembrance of the past, and with the purest loyalty and attachment to your Royal Person, to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors.

The grateful sense we entertain of those comforts which your Majesty's subjects have enjoyed, amidst the convulsions of Empires; during the reigns of your Majesty's revered Family, and our confidence in your Majesty's high sense of political and religious duty, conspire to confirm our fixed assurance, that it will ever continue to be your Majesty's anxious endeavour to promote the happiness and prosperity of your people, and to maintain unimpaired the religion, laws, and liberties of their kingdom.

May it please Divine Providence to grant your Majesty a long, glorious, and happy reign over a prosperous and loyal people; to perpetuate the succession of your Crown in the Descendants of your illustrious and Royal House, and long to preserve the life of your Royal Consort, our gracious Queen Adelaide, whose bright example of every public and domestic virtue, afford the fullest ground of confidence that the British Court will, from her accession to the high and exalted station she now fills, stand pre-eminently distinguished for virtue and moral excellence.

At the Court at St. James's, the 19th of July 1830, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in por-populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal, and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such divisions to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas, by another Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said late Majesty, King George the third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "That in every case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion, that it will be expedient to divide any parish, or extra parochial place, into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for ecclesiastical purposes, under the provisions of the said recited Act, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with such consents as are by the said Act required in such cases to appportion the relative and respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments or emoluments, which it may be expedient to assign and attach to each of such respective divisions, without regard to whether any such respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments or emoluments, are locally situate, or arise or accrue within the division or district to which they may be so assigned, or are locally situate, or arise, or accrue, within the parish or extra parochial place, so proposed to be divided, or elsewhere:" and whereas by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect; and whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in council, stating, that in the year 1821, when the last census was taken, the parish of Saint Martin, Birmingham, in the county of Warwick, and diocese of Lichfield and Coventry, contained a population of 60,419 persons, which has since considerably increased, that there were besides the parish church, three consecrated chapels in the said parish, which, together with the parish church, afforded accommodation for 5,800 persons only: that the said Commissioners have caused to be erected two new chapels in the said parish, the one called Saint George's Chapel, and the other Saint Thomas's Chapel, which, together, afford accommodation for 3,952 persons, including 2,801 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor. And whereas the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that the said parish should be divided into two distinct and separate parishes, under the 16th section of the said Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the third; and that the said parishes should be named respectively the parish of Saint Martin and the parish of Saint George, and that the said chapel, called Saint George's Chapel, should be the parish church of the said parish of Saint George, and that the boundaries of the said parish of Saint George should be as follows: The boundary to commence in the middle of the street called Snow-hill, at the west side of the towing-path of the canal, and to comprise the north or right side of Snow-hill, lying between the said canal and Summer-lane, the north or right side of Constitution-hill, the north or right side of Great Hampton-street, the north or right side of a road called Hockley Down to Hockley Brook, where the parish joins to Handsworth, in the county of Stafford, then proceeding north-eastwardly along the boundary between the parishes of Birmingham and Handsworth, so far as they adjoin, and afterwards along the boundary between the parishes of Birmingham and Aston, to a bridge at the foot-road near to Aston Furnace, crossing Walmer-lane, and, continuing along the brook so far as the same, is the boundary between the said parishes of Birmingham and Aston, from thence in a southwardly direction along the boundary of the parishes of Birmingham and Aston, crossing New John-street and Pritchett-street, to a place formerly called Britannia Brewery, now the Britannia Nail-works, and from thence south-westwardly along the western side of the towing-path of the Birmingham and Fazeley Canal to Snow-hill, where the boundary commences, which district is more particularly described in the plan hereunto annexed; that seven acres being one-seventh part of the glebe land, and one-twentieth part of the tithes, moduses, and endowments (such one-twentieth part being within the said parish of Saint George, which is all that is intended to be assigned thereto, and for which such parish of Saint George only is liable), will accrue to the said parish of Saint George, and six-sevenths of the glebe land and nineteen-twentieths of the tithes, moduses, and endowments will remain to the parish of Saint Martin. That the above mentioned seven acres should be taken out of the nineteen acres of the glebe land, situate at Summer-hill, and bounded by land belonging to the Governors of the Free

Grammar School of King Edward the sixth, and by a certain lane, called Sheepcote-lane, such seven acres of glebe land not being locally situate in the parish of Saint Martin, and assigned and attached hereby to the parish of Saint George, by His Majesty's Commissioners, under and by virtue of the 8th section of an Act passed in the 59th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes:" that the proportion of the estimated amount of the value of the fees, oblations, offerings, and other ecclesiastical dues and profits which will accrue to and within the parish of Saint George, will be one-twelfth part of the whole, and that eleven-twelfths will remain and accrue to and within the parish of Saint Martin; that the consents of the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, and of Richard Moseley, Thomas Walker, and Elizabeth his wife, and William Moseley, the patrons of the said parish church of Saint Martin, Birmingham, have been obtained as required by the above mentioned section of the said Act, of the 58th year of His late Majesty King George the third: and humbly praying that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to take the premises into His Royal consideration, and to make such order therein as to His Majesty shall seem meet: His Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed division be accordingly made and effected agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.

C. Greville.

NOTICE is hereby given, that application is intended to be made to Parliament in the ensuing session, for leave to bring in a Bill to repeal an Act, passed in the fifty-fifth year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for more effectually repairing the road from Highgate Gatehouse, in the county of Middlesex, to the thirteen mile stone near Gannick Corner, in the parish of South Mims, in the said county," and for granting further, better, and more effectual powers for repairing and otherwise improving the said road; and in which Bill provision is intended to be made to alter or increase the present rates, tolls, or duties granted by the said Act; which said road passes from, through, and into the several parishes of Hornsey, Hampstead, Finchley, Friern Barnet, Chipping Barnet, Hadley, and South Mims, in the counties of Middlesex and Hertford.—Dated this 26th day of August 1830.
