(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to His Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

Whitehall, September 28, 1830.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir Robert Peel, Bart. one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

No. 1.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, humbly request to approach your Royal Person with our condolence for the loss which your Majesty and the Nation have equally suffered from the demise of our late gracious Sovereign.

Yet, while we express these feelings, it is our consolation to reflect, that, by the blessing of Providence, the public welfare is still protected; and that, amidst the decay of human life, the Throne of these Dominions stands secure, through a legal and a cherished succession.

We beg to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to a Throne thus firmly planted in the affections of the people; and we pray that your Majesty, together with your Royal and excellent Consort, may long continue to hold it, and maintain those principles in Church and State, which have always been its best and surest support.

John Ireland, Dean.

No. 2.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, the Deputies from your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the several Congregations of Protestant Dissenters in the Metropolis and its vicinity, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal presence, anxious to express our mingled emotions on the present important and interesting occasion. We would not unnecessarily dwell on the solemn and painful event which calls us to present ourselves to your Majesty, but gladly rather avert our attention from it, to indulge in dutiful congratulations on your accession to the Royal seat of your Ancestors.

Reflecting with heartfelt satisfaction on the faithful and zealous attachment of our forefathers to your Majesty's illustrious House, exhibited and maintained with the greatest vigour in seasons of uncertainty and peril, we think we have some title to claim for ourselves as sincere a feeling and as deep an interest in all which respects the welfare of our country, as any other class of your Majesty's subjects; and, with the peculiar impressions of Protestant Dissenters, we flatter ourselves that your Majesty will approve our looking back, with affectionate gratitude, to the times of your Royal Father and Brother, under whose reigns our most sanguine hopes and warmest wishes for the extension of religious liberty to all the subjects of these favoured realms, have been gratified in so signal and unexampled a degree.

We rejoice to anticipate that an equal regard for every portion of your splendid inheritance will be illustrated in the reign of your Majesty. And it is, Sire, our earnest and fervent prayer that you and your illustrious Consort, whom public opinion delights to regard as a bright example of every amiable virtue, may long continue to wear your Crowns, encircled with true glory, by the councils of wisdom and energy, tempered by moderation, and established on the solid foundations of equal law, sound policy, and universal justice.

Signed on behalf of the Deputies,
Wm. Smith, Chairman.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful subjects, the Archbishop, the Dean and Prebendaries of the Cathedral and Metropolitan Church, and the Archdeacon and Clergy of the Diocese of Canterbury, most humbly approach your Majesty with the sincere expression of our condolence on the death of our late venerated Sovereign, in whom your Majesty has to lament a beloved and affectionate Brother, and the Nation a King, under whose auspicious Government it was delivered from the most imminent perils, and attained an unparalleled height of glory.

At the same time we beg leave to offer our dutiful congratulations on your Majesty's happy accession to the Throne of this great Empire, and to express our participation in the confidence which is felt by our fellow subjects of all classes, in your Majesty's invariable attachment to the principles of the British Constitution in Church and State.

Impressed with these loyal sentiments, we shall never cease to pray, that, through the blessing of Divine Providence on your Majesty's Person and Government, your Majesty, together with your illustrious Consort, our gracious Queen, whose exemplary virtues give additional splendour to the Throne, may enjoy the full measure of domestic felicity, and long continue to reign in peace and glory, respected by foreign nations, and loved and honoured by your subjects.

The loyal and dutiful Address of a few of the Inhabitants of the City of Edinburgh.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, a few of the Inhabitants, of the City of Edinburgh, humbly desire to lay at the foot of the Throne, the expressions of our sincere and heartfelt condolence on the lamented demise of our late most gracious and most excellent King, your Majesty's Brother, of blessed and glorious memory.

We, in common with the universal British Empire, must ever remember with feelings of the deepest gratitude that our late revered Sovereign, under circumstances of unexampled difficulty, maintained the high character of this country in war, and finally secured to his people the inestimable blessing of long, honourable and lasting peace.

We beg to assure your Majesty that, while we have to deplore the loss of so beloved a Monarch, we at the same time have the consolatory reflection, that the British Sceptre has descended to a distinguished Member, of the illustrious House of Brunswick, under whose benignant sway this country has flourished for so long a period

Permit us to offer your Majesty our humble and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne, and to assure your Majesty of our devotion and attachment to your Royal Person.

That Providence, who has placed your Majesty on the Throne of these Realms, amid the loyal acclamations of your subjects, will long permit you to preside over the destinies and to promote the happiness of a free, attached, and grateful people, is the fervent prayer of us, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, a few of the Inhabitants of the loyal City of Edinburgh.

Signed by us, by the appointment of a few of the Inhabitants of the City of Edinburgh, at Edinburgh this 16th day of September 1830.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Congleton, in the County Palatine of Chester, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the assurance of our deep condolence in the severe affliction under which your Majesty is suffering, from the loss of our most beneficent and gracious Sovereign, King George the Fourth, your Majesty's late Royal Brother.

At the same time we would pray your Majesty to accept our sincere and heartfelt congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, animated as we are with the hope that, under the blessing of Divine Providence, your Majesty will long live to reign over a happy, free, and loyal people, and with the confidence that Great Britain will continue to advance in glory and pre-eminence under your Majesty's paternal authority.

We further pray your Majesty to believe that there are not in the whole of your Majesty's dominions any subjects more loyal, or more devotedly attached to your Majesty's sacred Person, and to your illustrious Consort, Adelaide, our beloved Queen, than the inhabitants of this ancient Borough.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sire,

WE, the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the ancient Town and Borough of Ipswich, in unison with the feeling of all your Majesty's loyal subjects, beg leave to approach your sacred Person with expressions of heartfelt sorrow for the heavy loss which we have sustained, in the lamented death of your late Royal Brother, our august and revered Sovereign.

But at the same time that we most sincerely condole with your Majesty on this most afflictive event, we trust that your Majesty will permit us to say, that, however great our sorrow may have been on this mournful occasion, we derive no small consolation from the consideration that the Throne is supplied by a Prince of your Majesty's acknowledged virtues. And when we further reflect that to the name of William we owe so much of what is valuable to us in our most excellent Constitution, civil and religious, we hail the circumstance as an auspicious presage that, with the Divine blessing seconding your Majesty's virtuous efforts, the nation may enjoy a long and uninterrupted prosperity.

That the Almighty Disposer of all events may be pleased to bestow on your Majesty a long and happy reign, is the earnest and fervent prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and faithful subjects, the Bailiffs, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the said Town and Borough, in Great Court assembled.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chief Officers, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Lewes, in the County of Sussex, in our Town-Hall this day assembled, beg leave most humbly and respectfully to approach your Majesty with our dutiful and heartfelt congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, and on your having chosen this our loyal county for your Majesty's residence.

Short as the period has been since the commencement of your Majesty's reign, it has yet afforded many proofs of your Majesty's paternal and anxious solicitude for the welfare of your subjects, and has secured to your Majesty the devoted attachment of a loyal and grateful people; and we earnestly desire to assure your Majesty that in these feelings none participate more sincerely and ardently than ourselves.

That it may please Divine Providence to bless your Majesty with health and every happiness, and long preserve a life so important to the prosperity of the British Nation, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's most faithful subjects, the Chief Officers, Burgesses, and other Inhabitants of the ancient Borough of Lewes.

No. 9.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor and Aldermen of the Borough of Richmond, in the County of York, beg leave to approach your Majesty for the purpose of expressing our condolence with your Majesty, and the Royal Family, on the loss which you have sustained in the death of our late revered Sovereign.

We beg leave at the same time to offer to your Majesty our sincere congratulations on your accession to the Throne of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, that Throne which has been so ably filled by your Majesty's illustrious Predecessors, and which is secured to your Majesty by the strongest of all ties—the faith and loyalty of your Majesty's subjects.

Your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects cannot refrain on this occasion from expressing the peculiar satisfaction they feel at seeing the Crown of England in the possession of a Prince, whose early years were devoted to that naval service which has ever been considered as the best protection of the empire, over which we trust your Majesty may long preside.

Your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects feel confident of experiencing that justice and prosperity which has so long distinguished the Government of this Realm, and that your Majesty, and your illustrious Consort, may enjoy uninterrupted happiness in this life, and eternal bliss in the world to come, is the fervent prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Leicester, in Common Hall assembled.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgesses of the Borough of Leicester, in Common Hall assembled, sincerely lamenting the loss of our late beneficent and gracious Sovereign, humbly approach your Majesty with our unfeigned condolence on that melancholy event; we sympathise with the Nation at large in the loss of a Prince under whose reign and guidance this country attained a degree of splendour and eminence unequalled in the annals of the world, and to whose firmness and energy in times of great difficulty and peril we ascribe, under Divine Providence, the successful termination of the grand contest in which this country was so long and so fearfully engaged.

If in later periods of His Majesty's reign there are events on which we cannot dwell with unmixed satisfaction, we feel that it does not behove us at a moment like the present to obtrude them upon your Majesty's notice; we hasten therefore to offer to your Majesty our humble but sincere congratulations upon your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms, and to assure your Majesty of our profound and unalterable attachment to your Royal House; we pray that your Majesty, and our gracious Queen, may long enjoy every public and private happiness,—that under your Majesty's paternal sway the venerable and venerated institutions of the country, as well in Church as in State, may be upheld, and that the wild and fretful spirit of innovation, experiment, change, and revolution, which we consider to be the peculiar and fearful affliction of the present day, may be resisted and subdued, so that by the blessing of Providence the stability of your Majesty's Throne may remain firmly established,—and your Majesty's reign be distinguished by an increase of the happiness, glory, and permanent prosperity of the nation,—and to this we add our fervent prayer, that for all your Majesty's anxious cares and toils for the public weal, your Majesty may be rewarded by the devoted attachment of a loyal and happy people.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Remonstrant Synod of Ulster, specially assembled, embrace the earliest opportunity of respectfully approaching your Majesty to express our sincere condolence on the demise of our late lamented Sovereign; we feel, in common with all your Majesty's subjects, the loss which the nation has sustained, in the death of a Prince so eminently distinguished by a regard to civil and religious liberty, which he graciously regarded as the birthright of all his people; at the same time we beg permission most sincerely to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of the United Kingdoms, and we hail with joy the auspicious commencement of your Majesty's reign, as already affording to the nation the gratifying promise that, under your paternal sway, the interests and the liberties of your people will continue to be consulted and secured.

We are firmly attached to the principles of the British Constitution, and to your Majesty's illustrious House, under which we have so long enjoyed the blessings of civil and religious liberty; and whilst we shall continue to inculcate on the people connected with us a loyal and dutiful respect to your Majesty's Government, a cheerful obedience to the laws, and a zealous co-operation in every measure that may promote the peace and the prosperity of our country, we look with confidence to your Majesty's paternal care, to protect us in the exercise of those rights and privileges which we have hitherto enjoyed.

We heartily pray that, through the blessing of him by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice, your Majesty may have a long, peaceful, and prosperous reign, over a free, united, and happy people.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provincial Grand Master, Deputy Provincial Grand Master, Officers, Past Officers, and Brethren of the Provincial Grand Lodge of the County of Somerset, in open Lodge assembled, request, Sire, your permission to condole with your Majesty on the death of our late most gracious King, George the Fourth, by which event your Majesty has been deprived of an affectionate Brother, the Nation of a mild and merciful Sovereign, and the Craft of an enlightened and liberal Patron; but, Sire, whilst we condole with your Majesty on this dispensation of Providence, we presume to congratulate you on your accession to the Throne of your Ancestors, and to express the satisfaction which we feel in knowing, that not only were the principles of Free Masonry respected by your Majesty in early life, but that after an intimate knowledge of the mysteries of the Craft, after a continued and steady view of our Society in all its bearings, your Majesty has condescended to honour our ceremonies with your cordial co-operation and support ; we therefore respectfully but earnestly pray that your Majesty may be graciously pleased to extend to us your fostering countenance and protection as Patron of our ancient Community.

We pray that the Grand Architect of the Universe may pour down the blessings of Heaven upon your Royal Person ; may you be blessed with your present health and energy to reign over your dutiful and affectionate people ; may your Majesty's gracious intentions to promote the welfare of your people, and support the dignity of your Throne, be crowned with success ; and may you long enjoy the satisfaction of seeing this great empire flourish and improve under your paternal care, and when it may please the Great Creator and preserver of all mankind to call you from a temporal to, we trust, an immortal Crown of glory, may you be gathered to your fathers in a good old age, beloved, honoured, and lamented by all good men.

The humble Address of the Precentor and Canons of the Cathedral Church of Saint David.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Precentor and Canons of the Cathedral Church of Saint David, in Chapter assembled, humbly entreat permission to offer at the foot of the Throne the homage of our dutiful allegiance, and the declaration of our loyal attachment to your Majesty's sacred Person.

Deploring, as we unfeignedly do, that inscrutable dispensation of Divine Providence which has bereaved your Majesty of a Royal Brother, so justly dear to your fraternal affections, and the British Empire of a Monarch so eminently identified with its exalted glory and rank among the nations of the earth ; we, yet derive great consolation from the assurance that the Sceptre of these Kingdoms has, by the decree of Omniscience, been transferred to the hand of an illustrious Prince, whose acknowledged virtues furnish a satisfactory pledge, that our glorious Constitution in Church and State will be vigilantly and vigorously maintained, and that national peace, social order, and individual happiness will be uninterruptedly enjoyed by an enlightened and grateful people, duly appreciating the discreet and efficacious exercise of your Majesty's Royal and paternal authority.

We earnestly pray that it may please Almighty God, by whom Kings reign, to bless your Majesty, and your Royal Consort, with all earthly happiness ; to prosper your Majesty's councils and efforts for the advantage of all classes of your subjects, in order that the wise laws and benign institutions of our country may be handed down unimpaired to the latest posterity.
