

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1830.

(An alphabetical and numbered List of the Addresses presented to His Majesty, is printed at the end of the Addresses.)

Whitehall, September 28, 1830.

THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir Robert Peel, Bart. one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

No. 1.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Dean and Chapter of the Collegiate Church of Saint Peter, Westminster, humbly request to approach your Royal Person with our condolence for the loss which your Majesty and the Nation have equally suffered from the demise of our late gracious Sovereign.

Yet, while we express these feelings, it is our consolation to reflect, that, by the blessing of Providence, the public welfare is still protected; and that, amidst the decay of human life, the Throne of these Dominions stands secure, through a legal and a cherished succession.

We beg to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to a Throne thus firmly planted in the affections of the people; and we pray that your Majesty, together with your Royal and excellent Consort, may long continue to hold it, and maintain those principles in Church and State, which have always been its best and surest support. John Ireland, Dean.

[Transmitted by the Dean.]

No. 2.

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Sire,

WE, the Deputies from your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the several Congregations of Protestant Dissenters in the Metropolis and its vicinity, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal presence, anxious to express our mingled emotions on the present important and interesting occasion. We would not unnecessarily dwell on the solemn and painful event which calls us to present ourselves to your Majesty, but gladly rather avert our attention from it, to indulge in dutiful congratulations on your accession to the Royal seat of your Ancestors.

Reflecting with heartfelt satisfaction on the faithful and zealous attachment of our forefathers to your Majesty's illustrious House, exhibited and maintained with the greatest vigour in seasons of uncertainty and peril, we think we have some title to claim for ourselves as sincere a feeling and as deep an interest in all which respects the welfare of our country, as any other class of your Majesty's subjects; and, with the peculiar impressions of Protestant Dissenters, we flatter ourselves that your Majesty will approve our looking back, with affectionate gratitude, to the times of your Royal Father and Brother, under whose reigns our most sanguine hopes and warmest wishes for the extension of religious liberty to all the subjects of these favoured realms, have been gratified in so signal and unexampled a degree.

We rejoice to anticipate that an equal regard for every portion of your splendid inheritance will be illustrated in the reign of your Majesty. And it is, Sire, our earnest and fervent prayer that you and your illustrious Consort, whom public opinion delights to regard as a bright example of every amiable