WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Bishop, Dean and Chapter, and Clergy of the Cathedral and Diocese of Rochester, humbly approach your Majesty with the offer of our condolence on the loss which your Majesty and the people of these Kingdoms have sustained, by the death of our late most gracious Sovereign. At the same time we beg leave to express our dutiful and loyal attachment to your Majesty, and our cordial congratulations on your accession to the Throne of your Ancestors.

We hail with gratitude and satisfaction the gracious declaration which your Majesty has been pleased to make, of your attachment to the Church of England, and your determination to uphold and maintain the Protestant Religion established in these realms.

We earnestly offer up our prayers that Almighty God may be pleased to bless and prosper your Majesty's reign; to preserve these Kingdoms in the enjoyment of peace and happiness; and to confer upon your Majesty and your illustrious Consort every temporal and spiritual blessing.

To His Most Gracious Majesty WILLIAM the FOURTH, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING, Defender of the Faith.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Mayor, Deputy Recorder, Aldermen, Minister, Freemen, and other Inhabitants of the Borough of Dunheved, otherwise Launceston, in the County of Cornwall, beg to express to your Majesty our sentiments of unaffected condolence on the demise of our late Monarch, George the Fourth, under whose mild and paternal Government these Kingdoms had experienced so many blessings.

Your Majesty's declaration of regard for our unrivalled Constitution, and that the affection of the subject is, under Providence, the securest pillar of the Throne, inspires your people with confidence, and we humbly trust, that He, by whom alone Kings reign, will bless your Majesty with a long, prosperous, and happy enjoyment of the Crown of these Realms, in the maintenance of our excellent Constitution, and in the unabated affection of a free and united people.

To His Most Excellent Majesty WILLIAM the FOURTH, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, KING, Defender of the Faith.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Burgesses, and Commonalty of the Borough of Ripon, in the County of York, in Common Hall assembled, beg leave to approach your Majesty with the expression and assurance of our condolence on the calamity which has befallen your Majesty, the Royal Family, and the whole Nation, in the recent demise of your illustrious Brother, our late revered Sovereign; and of our grateful recollection of the many blessings which we have enjoyed under his Government.

The accession of your Majesty to the Throne of this United Kingdom, we, however, regard as a source of well grounded consolation; and we beg your Majesty to accept our heartfelt congratulations on that event, and to receive, what we offer with all loyalty and humility, the assurance of our devoted attachment to your Majesty's Royal Person, Family, and Government.

That it may please Divine Providence to grant unto your Majesty a prosperous and an extended reign over a loyal, happy, and united people; and long to preserve your Royal Consort, our Most Gracious Queen, is the anxious hope and fervent prayer of your Majesty's faithful and dutiful subjects.

[Transmitted by C. H. Batley, Esq. M. P.]

To His Most Gracious and Excellent Majesty WILLIAM the FOURTH, by the Grace of God, Sovereign of the British Empire, Ireland, &c. &c. &c. KING, Defender of the Faith.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most faithful and loyal subjects, whose names are hereunto subscribed, are desirous, with the most profound and unfeigned gratitude, to approach your Most Excellent Majesty in an address, although residing at the present as "Aliens" in a foreign land, being sensibly influenced by the recent eventful era, which must necessarily form a memorable crisis in the great chain of providential occurrences; and although we do most sincerely sympathise in the late visitation of the Almighty, in calling to himself our beloved and illustrious Monarch, George the Fourth, that He, "by whom Kings reign and Princes decree justice," hath not been unmindful of us as a people, but hath vouchsafed unto us your Most Excellent Majesty, who is, by rightful succession, the legal descendant of the illustrious House of Hanover to sit upon the Throne of your Most Excellent Majesty's revered and imperial Ancestors.

We pray to the "King of kings, and Lord of lords," that your Gracious Majesty may have a long and a very prosperous reign to sway the British sceptre over your Excellent Majesty's most enlightened, independent, and free people, even your great and mighty empire, on whose shores the chain is exonerated from its power to bind a slave.

In taking a retrospective view of the wise and benign deliberations of our two imperial Monarchs, George the Third, appellated by way of pre-eminence, the Benevolent and Faithful, and George the Fourth, the Accomplished and Scientific, we rejoice to say, that their regal sun was never clouded, their days were full of blessings, and, in a peaceful time, were successively translated from an earthly throne to receive permanent crowns of righteousness, blooming in immortal youth, which fadeth not away, eternal in the heavens; and that under their successory dispensations, and the due administration of their accession to power and salutary sway of British governance, incalculable and momentous advantages have resulted to navigation, commerce, and science; prophecies were fulfilling, and "the sons of Japhet dwelling in the tents of Shem;" and civilization, through the instrumentality of the English language and literature, has imparted and diffused its happy influences to more than one hundred millions of natives in the extended regions of India alone. We, Sire, do anticipate even more stupendous and brilliant dispensations from your Most Excellent Ma-

Majesty's exertions, possessing, as we are fully convinced that your Most Excellent Majesty does, a most enlightened understanding and penetrating judgment; gifted as your Majesty is with a lively imagination, well calculated to lead through the innumerable gradations of intellect; and that, under your Majesty's vigilant patronage, new paths may be opened to the boundaries of science; as to these qualifications, you have the additional and manifold advantages of the example and the experience of your Majesty's princely ancestors. And now, with our hands and our hearts lifted to God in the heavens, repeat it, may the reign of William the Fourth be long and very prosperous; may "Britannia rule the waves;" and may the name of William be ever immortalized and identified with courage, fortitude, fidelity, and virtue; and may the glory of Britain ever shine among the other nations of the world, even as the splendour of the sun in the centre of the planetary system.

May Queen Adelaide be a partaker of all the blessings of life; may Queen Adelaide be the patroness of science and sound morality, so that succeeding generations may know, that in Her Majesty's investiture of power, Her Majesty had followed the example of the good Queens of England.

We, in the name and in the behalf of many thousands of aliens of your Most Excellent Majesty's most dutiful, loving, and loyal subjects, who are at all times at your Majesty's command, do hereunto affix our names.

Long live William the Fourth. God save the King. May the King live for ever—Amen.

David Browne, Chairman, Professor of Logier's System of Musical Education, and formerly Captain in the New Brunswick Light Infantry, under Major-General Sir Howard Douglass.
