

Majesty's exertions, possessing, as we are fully convinced that your Most Excellent Majesty does, a most enlightened understanding and penetrating judgment; gifted as your Majesty is with a lively imagination, well calculated to lead through the innumerable gradations of intellect; and that, under your Majesty's vigilant patronage, new paths may be opened to the boundaries of science; as to these qualifications, you have the additional and manifold advantages of the example and the experience of your Majesty's princely ancestors. And now, with our hands and our hearts lifted to God in the heavens, repeat it, may the reign of William the Fourth be long and very prosperous; may "Britannia rule the waves;" and may the name of William be ever immortalized and identified with courage, fortitude, fidelity, and virtue; and may the glory of Britain ever shine among the other nations of the world, even as the splendour of the sun in the centre of the planetary system.

May Queen Adelaide be a partaker of all the blessings of life; may Queen Adelaide be the patroness of science and sound morality, so that succeeding generations may know, that in Her Majesty's investiture of power, Her Majesty had followed the example of the good Queens of England.

We, in the name and in the behalf of many thousands of aliens of your Most Excellent Majesty's most dutiful, loving, and loyal subjects, who are at all times at your Majesty's command, do hereunto affix our names.

Long live William the Fourth. God save the King. May the King live for ever—Amen.

David Browne, Chairman, Professor of Logier's System of Musical Education, and formerly Captain in the New Brunswick Light Infantry, under Major-General Sir Howard Douglass.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that the notes of Messrs. Richard Arkwright and Company, of the Wirksworth and Ashborne Derbyshire Bank, for £5 each, also payable at Messrs. Smith, Payne, and Smiths, in London, and also the stamps to the same, have been forged and are now in circulation;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the forgery before mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person or persons who actually forged the said notes and stamps) who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

ROBERT PEEL.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall give such information as will lead to the apprehension and conviction of the forger or forgers of such notes and stamps; and any person or persons apprehending, or causing to be apprehended, any person or persons uttering or passing such notes, knowing them to be forged, will be handsomely rewarded, on application to Mr. Gates, Solicitor, White Hartcourt, Lombard-street; by whom the above reward of £100 will also be paid.
