THE following Addresses, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir Robert Peel, Bart. one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by the several persons whose names are respectively subjoined to each Address, were by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbyterian Synod of Ireland, distinguished by the name Seceders, embrace the earliest opportunity afforded us, by our annual meeting, of approaching the Throne, and offering to your Majesty the tribute of our sincere condolence on the demise of our late lamented and beloved Sovereign, under whose auspices we enjoyed protection and encouragement in the worship of our God, and the Nation was blessed with prosperity and peace.

We beg leave to congratulate your Majesty on your accession to the Throne of your illustrious Ancestors, and to express our earnest desire and prayer to God that your Majesty may be endowed with wisdom and grace, that your reign, being distinguished by righteousness and the fear of the Lord, may be long and prosperous,—that the King of kings may ever extend peace to our land, and spread far and wide the benign influence of the Gospel of our God and Saviour.

The zeal your Majesty has publicly manifested for the interests of religion among your subjects, and the maintenance of pure morality in your Court, fills our minds with sincere joy, as laying a sure ground of hope that, during your Majesty's reign, "Righteousness shall exalt our nation."

We beg leave to assure your Majesty that we shall continue to inculcate on the people committed to our care a steady adherence to the British Constitution; due obedience to the laws; loyalty to your Majesty's Person and Government,—charity and brotherly kindness to all men.

Signed by order of Synod, this 15th day of October 1830.

Robert M'Meehan, Moderator, near Tandragee.

[Transmitted by the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.]

To the KING.

Sire,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Anglesey, beg to approach your Majesty with an expression of our sincere condolence on the decease of our late King, your Royal Brother.

Identifying, as we do, the best interest of this great Empire with the personal character of our Sovereign, we cannot but feel that the protection heretofore afforded to all classes of your Majesty's subjects, will find no abatement in the change which it has pleased Providence to ordain; and in humbly and respectfully offering our congratulations to your Majesty on ascending the Throne of your Forefathers, we do so with the most profound feeling of loyalty and attachment. The experience of a long succession of years has well confirmed the benefits which were anticipated from the accession of the House of Brunswick to the Throne of England, and from your Majesty, connected in early life with a service which other countries in vain attempt to imitate, we feel that those benefits will still continue to increase. That the energies of our country will be exercised in maintaining the respect of foreign nations, and in securing the happiness and prosperity of our own.

We beg to assure your Majesty of our firm fidelity and steady loyalty, and earnestly pray that Almighty God may bless and protect your Majesty, and your illustrious Consort, and that your Majesty may long continue to reign over a free, happy and loyal people.

Thomas Williams, Sheriff.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Uxbridge.]

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Burgh and Parochial Schoolmasters of Scotland.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Burgh and Parochial Schoolmasters of Scotland, assembled in our twenty-fourth General Annual Meeting, humbly desire to approach the Throne with the expression of our sincere condolence on the lamented demise of our late most gracious and revered Sovereign George the Fourth, your Majesty's Brother, of glorious and blessed memory.

While we have to lament the loss of a Monarch, so respected and beloved, we rejoice to think that the Sceptre of these Realms has descended to a Member of the illustrious House of Hanover, so eminently qualified as your Majesty, to support the glory which our country has acquired under the paternal and benign sway of your Royal Ancestors.

Permit us to offer to your Majesty our sincere congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne, and to assure your Majesty of our loyal and devoted attachment to your Royal Person; and as the best return we can make for the many high and special privileges which we enjoy under your Majesty's enlightened and indulgent reign, we shall, to the utmost of our power, endeavour, by the faithful discharge of our public duties, to diffuse the blessings of a sound and liberal education, and to impress on the minds of the youth intrusted to our care the principles of religion and morality, and a firm and steady attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Edinburgh, the 17th of September, 1830 years, by Thomas Robertson, Preses.
