The humble Address of the President and Fellows of the Linnean Society of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the President and Fellows of the Linnean Society of London, beg leave to tender to your Majesty our most cordial congratulations on your Majesty's accession to the Throne of these Realms.

Whilst expressing our sincere satisfaction at this auspicious event, we are anxious also to offer our condolences with those of our fellow-subjects to your Majesty, on the decease of our late august Monarch, your Majesty's Royal Brother, the glory of whose reign, and whose protection of all sciences and useful arts, must be gratefully remembered by an enlightened nation.

From the paternal and benificent feelings which your Majesty has evinced towards all descriptions of your people, we venture to hope for the continuance of the same gracious patronage to our corporate body, which it experienced from your Majesty's lamented Predecessor; and we earnestly pray, that Divine Providence may vouchsafe to bless with a long and happy life, both your Majesty and your Royal Consort the Queen, whose conspicuous example in the practice of all those virtues which improve society and adorn domestic life, reflects lustre on the Throne, whilst it ensures the admiration, respect, and affection of your people.
