

Janifaries and 4000 of the Inhabitan's, being conducted several Miles by an Imperial Convoy, in their way to Buda. The Imperialists found in Gran 18 pieces of Cannon, 40000 l. of Powder, and good store of Provisions, and made themselves Masters of this important place, which had been 78 years in the Power of the Turks, with the loss only of 150 men. We have advice that the Croats, with the Troops of Stiria, and those of Hungary that are faithful to the Emperor, do block up Caniffa. And that the Grand Visir continues to retire towards Belgrade, abandoning Hungary to the Arms of the Christians.

Copenhagen, October 19. The King of Denmark, who is returned from Holstein, intends to go in a few days to Fredericksburg to Hunt. The Count de Guldenieue is arriv'd from Norway. Our Fleet lyes before this place, except some of the greatest Ships which are come into the Harbour. We are expecting back the two Frigats that were sent to Pilot the French Fleet through the Categat. The 14th the King took a review of his Troops that are here, the Count de Roye Marechal de Camp General being present thereat.

Hamburg, October 25. The Letters from Postdam, where the Elector of Brandenburg at present is, of the 18th instant tell us, that they were making Preparations for the Reception of the Elector of Saxony, who was expected there in a day or two. From Dantzick they write, that the Count de Morsheim, late great Treasurer of Poland, was still there; and that the Magistrates of that City had, according to the directions they had received from the King of Poland, sealed up the Warehouse that had been hired for the use of the said Count, and where it's said he had lodged his Goods which he purposed to carry with him to France.

Cologne, November 5. From Lintz we have an account by Letters of the 30th instant, of the taking of Gran by the Imperial Army, commanded by the Elector of Bavaria and the Duke of Lorraine; and that the King of Poland was gone to possess himself of several small places in upper Hungary: The Troops of the Empire, especially the Horse, are, it's said, coming back, and will have their Winter Quarters on the Rhine.

Brussels, November 9. We have an account from Flanders, that the Citadel of Courtray was surrendered to the French on Sunday last, the Garrison marched out with Bag and Baggage, Drums beating, Colours flying, and with four pieces of Cannon, and went to Gaunt: There were at Courtray about 30 French Deserters, who being excepted in the Capitulation, were taken and executed the next day: The French, as it's said, are now marching towards Audenarde. From Lille they write, that the French Intendants have received orders from Court, to Sequester the Rents of the Estates which the Subjects of Spain have within the French Territories. The Winter Quarters for the Dutch Troops are settled, four Regiments of Foot and three of Horse are to be here with Monsieur Aylz and Monsieur Slangenbergh, three of Foot and as many of Horse are to Winter with Monsieur Ginckel and Monsieur Scrawmoer at Malmes, Monsieur d'Auvergne will remain with two Regiments of Foot at Gaunt; and the rest will be put into Vilvord, Dendermond, Diest, and Herenstals. We are told that the Emperor will send several Troops hither in the Spring; and that the Marquis de Grana expects a considerable Body of Swedes, which it's said the Dutch Fleet is to bring from Gottenburg. Yesterday his Excellency received, by Letters from Lintz, the good news of the taking of Gran by the Imperial Army, for which Te Deum has been sung here, and the Cannon round the Town thrice discharged.

Paris, November 10. A Courier that arrived here yesterday from Germany, brought the news that the Christians had taken Gran, and that they were marching to block up, if not to besiege Newbeussell; and that the King of Poland being reinforced with 10000 Lithuanians, was gone to possess himself of several places in the upper Hungary, thereby to secure their Winter quarters. From Flanders we have an account that the Town and Citadel of Courtray were surrendered to the French, the first on Thursday, and the latter on Sunday last, the Marquis de Wagnies the Governor, marching with his Garrison to Gaunt.

Westminster, November 7. This day Algernon Sidney Esq; was brought by Habeas Corpus from the Tower to the Kings Bench Bar, where he was Arraigned upon an Indictment of High Treason, in conspiring the Death of the King, and to Levy War against His Majesty; to which he pleaded Not Guilty, and desiring a Fortnights time for his Tryal, the Court granted the same, and appointed his Tryal to be on this day Fortnight, and then he was remanded to the Tower.
