

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday November 8. to Monday November 12. 1683.

Whitchall, November 7.

W Herons Complaint was this day made to His Majesty in Council, that his Excellency the Sieur Citters, Ambassador residing here from the States General of the United Provinces of the Netherlands, was on the Fifth day of this instant November, Riotously Assaulted in his Coach, several Squibs, Stones, and Fire brands being thrown, whereby his Lady who was with him, was dangerously wounded.

His Majesty highly resenting this great Insolence offered to the said Ambassador, and for the Preventing all Disorders that may be occasioned by throwing of Squibs, and making of Bow-Fires for the future, was this day pleased to Order in Council, That no person or persons whatsoever, do presume to throw any Squibs, or other Fire-works in the Streets of London and Westminster, or the Suburbs thereof, or any Parishes or Places within the Bills of Mortality, or gather or assemble themselves together upon the pretence of making any Bow-fires, or throwing any Squibs, or Fire-works, at, or upon any Festival day, or at any other time or times whatsoever.

And His Majesty is likewise further pleased to Order, That the Right Honorable the Lord Mayor, and the Aldermen of the City of London, and the Justices of the Peace in their severall and respective Liberties, do from time to time give their particular Orders to their inferiour Officers to be diligent and careful in Suppressing all such Riotous and Tumultuous Meetings, and the Seizing all such who are guilty thereof, that they may be Prosecuted with the utmost Severity of the Law.

Francis Gwyn.

Whitchall, Nov. 9. The following Address hath been presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive it very Graciously.

To the King's Most Excellent Majesty,
The humble Address of the Grand-Jury at the Court-Lect of Hugh, Lord Viscount Cholmondley, for his Barony of Namptwich in the County of Chester, holden upon the third day of October, in the Five and thirtieth year of Your Majesties Reign, before Sir Francis Manley Knight, Serjeant at Law, Steward of the Court there; together with the Subscriptions of the Inhabitants of the Town of Namptwich, to the said Address.

Most Dread Sovereign,

As nothing is more the interest of Your People, and particularly of us Your Majesties Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, than the Preservation of Your Majesties sacred Person, and of the Government as by Law established in Church and State; so nothing is more our Joy and Satisfaction, than the Honny and Miraculous Deliverance of Your Majesty, and of His Royal Highness Your Majesties Dear Brother, from a Conspiracy carried on under such Hellish Circumstances, that not only lays a Scandal upon the Protestant Religion (for Protestant Subjects to Murder a Protestant King) but even upon Humanity it self, to find such Barbarous Misdreams in nature, that under the height of their Enjoyments, had much by this Clemency and Bounty of an Indulgent Prince, had the Cruelty to contrive the Murder of that Prince; We do with united Prayers, and hearts devoted to Your Majesties Interest, return our most fervent acknowledgments to the Great God of Heaven and Earth, for the Preservation of Your Majesty, and Your Royal Brother. And do in the sincerity of our Souls, by this our humble Address declare, that for the future we will endeavor to repair the former Defections of this Your Majesties Town of Namptwich, contracted upon it more by the Iniquity of the late times, than their proper Guilt. And we will ever continue Loyal to Your Majesty and the Crown, and to the due Succession of it in the right Line, according to the Fundamental Laws of Your Majesties Realm. In the Defence whereof we will Sacrifice our Lives and Fortunes with a Zeal becoming the Duty of such Subjects who desire to Fear God and Honor the King. And that Your Majesty may live long and happy, and Triumph over all Your Enemies, Domestick and Foreign, shall be the incessant Prayers of

Your Majesties Loyal and Dutiful
Subjects and Servants,

Gottenburg, October 28. The 23th instant arrived here the Dutch Fleet, consisting in 22 Men of War, under the command of Lieutenant Admiral Bastiaenz, and the next day an Express was sent from hence to Stockholm, to acquaint the King of Sweden therewith. The 25th the Heer Bastiaenz came ashore with his principal Officers, and was entertained at Dinner by the Governour of this place; who was in like manner the day following entertained with the chief Officers of the Garrison, by the Lieutenant Admiral on board his Ship. This day the Heer Bastiaenz is again ashore at the Governours Invitation. The Fleet will return with the first fair wind.

Vienna, October 31. The Letters from the Imperial Army in Hungary tell us, that the Garrison of Newbenzell, which it's said is composed of 12000 Janisaries, had sent to the Duke of Lorraine, and offered to deliver the place to him, upon conditions, to march out with Bag and Baggage, with Cannon, Ammunition, &c. That he had not yet returned them an answer; and that it was believed the terms they demand will not be granted; for that place being blocked up by the taking of Gran, the great Garrison that is there, will not be able to subsist this Winter. We are farther told, that it's believed the Christians will attack Buda and Pest before they go into their Winter-Quarters, the retreat of the Grand Visier, and the great Consideration the Turks are every where in, giving them a fair opportunity to recover Hungary.

Lintz, Nov. 2. Since the taking of Gran, the Imperial Army is marched towards Buda, and its even said, that that place is formally besieged, and if it be, there is great reason to hope it will make no better defence than Gran did; there being a very great terror among the Turks, and the high Hills that lay about it, easily Commanding the Town.

Hague, Nov. 12. The States-General have made choice of the Heer Van Heiren, to go in quality of their Ambassador Extraordinary to the King of Sweden. The Dutch Fleet is returned from Gottenburg, but has not brought any Troops from thence. It's said an Alliance is treating, if not concluded, between the Electors of Brandenburg and Saxony, and the Princes of Lunenburg.

Paris, November 10. Our Letters from Flanders inform us, that the 5th past the Marschal d'Humieres decamped from Lessines, and came before Courtray the second instant, which had been invested five days before by the Marquis de Boufflers. The next day the Marschal sent a Trumpet to the Mar.