Church Commissioners'-Office, February 23, 1831.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, for assigning a district, under the 16th section of the Act of the 59 Geo. 3, c. 134, to the chapel of St. Thomas, Monmouth:

At the Court at Brighton, the 31st of December 1830, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is, amongst other things, enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent, to make such division, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal, and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid, to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe lands, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue, and remain, and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, which Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" And whereas by the said Act it is further enacted "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish or extra-parochial place into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary for the purpose of affording accommodation for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the district attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendence of such district, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein; the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" And whereas by another Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, in the same manner and with the like consents as are required in case of division into ecclesiastical districts under the said recited Act or this Act, to assign a particular district to any chapel of ease or parochial chapel already existing, or to any chapel built or which may hereafter be built or acquired under the powers of the said Act or this Act; and such district shall be under the immediate care of the curate appointed to serve such chapel, but subject, nevertheless, to the superintendence and controul of the incumbent of the parish church; and all such curates shall be nominated by the incumbent of the parish to the bishop for his licence, except where the right of nomination shall already be legally vested in any other person or persons, and in every such case by the person or persons possessing such right of nomination, subject to all the laws in force relating to stipendiary curates, except as to the assigning of salaries to such curates;" and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes," further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect; and whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that in the year 1824, when the last census was taken, the parish of Monmouth, in the county of Monmouth, and in the dioceses of Hereford and Llandaff, contained a population of 4164 persons; that there is besides the parish church, one chapel in the said parish, called St. Thomas's Chapel, which chapel contains accommodation for 470 persons, and in which divine service is regularly performed; and whereas the said Commissioners further represented to His Majesty in Council, that having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that a particular district should be assigned to the said last-mentioned chapel, under the provisions of the 16th section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building and promoting the building of additional churches in populous parishes;" and that such district should be named St. Thomas's District, with boundaries as follows; the boundary to commence at Trothy Mouth, where the parish of Monmouth joins the parish of St. Mitchel Troy; then proceeding northward, by the Rivers Wyé and Monnow, to Richard's Ford, where the parish of Monmouth joins the parish of Rockfield; then returning southward, and continuing nearly the same direction to a stone on the turnpike road leading from Monmouth to Rockfield; and from thence turning westward along the boundary which separates the parish of Monmouth and Rockfield, to a cross road where the parish of Monmouth joins the parish of Wonastow; then returning southward along the boundary which separates the parishes of Monmouth and Wonastow, to the River Trothy, where the parish of Monmouth again joins the parish of Mitchel Troy; and from thence returning eastward, by the River Trothy, to Trothy Mouth, where the boundary commenced, which boundaries are more particularly delineated in the map hereunto annexed, and therein coloured yellow: that the consents of the Lord Bishop of Hereford and of the Lord Bishop of Llandaff have been obtained thereto as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said Majesty King George the Third; and humbly praying, that His Majesty would be pleased to take the said premises into consideration, and to make such order in respect thereof as to His Majesty shall seem meet; His Majesty having taken the said representation, together with the plan thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed district be accordingly assigned to the aforesaid chapel, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts.
