Whitehall, March 18, 1831.

THE following Addresses and Petitions, in favour of Parliamentary Reform, have been laid before His Majesty, and graciously received, viz.

From the Convener of the Trades of Edinburgh, of which the following is a copy :

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Convener of the Trades of Edinburgh, have observed with the greatest satisfaction and gratitude, that the question of reform has been brought forward by your Majesty's Ministers, in a shape calculated to give satisfaction to the reasonable wishes of the British nation, and to afford an adequate remedy for these undeniable imperfections in the present system of representation, which have been so much and so justly complained of.

That, entertaining these sentiments, we feel ourselves more especially called upon to express them to your Majesty, because constituting as we do nearly one half of the 33 persons to whom alone is committed, under the present system, the power of choosing the Member for this great and wealthy and intelligent metropolis, and observing that the extension of the franchise from corporations to the householders of the towns in which these exist, has been objected to as injurious to the former, we wish it to be distinctly understood by our fellow citizens and by the public, and at the same time most respectfully to inform your Majesty, that we have no desire to cling to any privileges which are inconsistent with the interests of the people of Edinburgh and with the prosperity of our country.

We beg leave to convey to your Majesty our renewed expression of loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's Person and Government.

Signed and sealed, in name and by appointment of the Convener of the Trades of Edinburgh, at Edinburgh, this 8th day of March 1831,

William Marshall, Convener of the Trades of Edinburgh.
