Westminster, July 8, 1831.

THIS day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorised by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by His Majesty, for declaring His Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and several other Lords-therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act for repealing so much of an Act, passed in the seventh year of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, for paving, lighting, watching, repairing, and otherwise improving Grosvenor-place, and other streets therein mentioned, as relates to the assessment of the boundary fence or wall of the garden belonging to Buckingham-house.

An Act to revive and continue expired commissions, appointments, patents, and grants, in Ireland, and to indemnify certain persons in relation thereto.

An Act to indemnify persons who have acted as Deputy Lieutenants, in Scotland, without due qualification.

By the KING.

A PROCLAMATION.

WILLIAM, R.

WHEREAS alarming accounts have been received that a malignant and infectious disease has spread and extended itself to parts of the coasts of the Baltic, and to other places; and whereas We feel it to be incumbent upon Us to employ such means as, under the protection and favour of Divine Providence, may be best calculated to guard Our loving subjects against the visitation of so dreadful a calamity, We have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to issue this Our Royal Proclamation; and We do herein, by and with the advice of Our said Council, most strictly enjoin and command all Our loving subjects, and more especially those residing at any of the sea-port towns, or in any other places on the coasts of this kingdom, whether they may themselves be liable to quarantine or otherwise, as they tender the preservation of their own lives, and the safety and welfare of all the inhabitants of this kingdom, most scrupulously to observe all the laws of quarantine which now are or may hereafter be in force, and all Orders made by Us with the advice of Our Privy Council, or by Our Privy Council under the authority thereof, and particularly most carefully to avoid any communication with any ship or vessel, or with any person or persons coming therein from the Baltic, or from any place to which by Our Royal Proclamation, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, or by Our Orders in Council, the laws of quarantine are or may hereafter be extended, or with any boat or person therein coming from or having been on board any such ship, until such ship, vessel, or boat, with the crews and persons on board, and the goods, wares, and merchandize imported therein, shall have performed their quarantine in such places and manner as are or shall hereafter be directed in that behalf, and until they respectively shall have been duly discharged therefrom: and We do further strictly exhort, enjoin, and command all magistrates and persons in authority, and all others Our loving subjects, without loss of time, to give information to Us, through Our Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, or to Our Privy Council, of any person that they may know or believe to
