TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1832.

AT the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 15th day of March 1832,
By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

IT having been brought to the knowledge of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, that several Masters of Vessels sailing from infected and other ports in the United Kingdom, have evaded the quarantine regulations, by communicating with vessels, ports, and places prior to their being visited by the proper Officer of Customs; it is hereby ordered by their Lordships, that in the event of any person dying, or of any person being affected with symptoms of cholera, on board of any vessel, or boat of any description, sailing from any port of the United Kingdom, at the time of or subsequently to her leaving her port of lading, the master or other person in charge of such vessel shall cause a yellow flag to be kept hoisted, and shall not himself leave his vessel, or permit any other person to do so, or to have any communication with any other vessel, or with the shore, in any port of the United Kingdom, until the said vessel shall have been examined by the proper Officer of Customs, and regularly released, or ordered to a quarantine station, where she will be subject to the rules, regulations, and penalties established by the Act of 6th George Fourth, ch. 78, and His Majesty's Order in Council of the nineteenth July one thousand eight hundred and twenty five.

C. C. Greville.

AT the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 22d day of March 1832,
By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the decease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably or properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of one justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make), commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor, for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose, be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial places; out of the poor's rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease hath extended to different parts of Great Britain, and the parish of Lambeth is at the present time affected with the said disease:

And whereas by an Order made on the sixth day of the present month of March, by the Lords a. d.

others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was amongst other things ordered and directed that every Board of Health constituted by an Order of the Lords of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish or place, for authority and powers to carry into effect the purposes of the Act above recited, and the measures of precaution in the said Order described, and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money of a fixed and declared amount for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof:

And whereas it hath been shewn to the satisfaction of their Lordships, that application for such powers and provisions as aforesaid, together with an estimate of all the necessary expences, amounting in the whole to the sum of two hundred pounds, hath been made by the Board of Health of the parish of Lambeth to the vestry of the said parish, and such vestry hath declined to give any authority or directions to the Board of Health, or to provide for the expences of carrying into effect the purposes of the Act before recited, and of the Order of their Lordships founded thereon:

It is therefore ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the before recited Act, that the said Board of Health for the parish of Lambeth shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to make application, by their chairman or secretary, to some justice of the peace living in or near the parish or division, to make an order, in writing, upon the parish officers or district churchwardens of the said parish of Lambeth, commanding them to pay the sum of two hundred pounds, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied, or next thereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such parish; which order such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the power vested in him by the before recited Act:

And the Lords and others of the Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by any such Board of Health, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, district churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others of His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of the present Order of the Lords and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

C. C. Greville.

AT the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 22d day of March 1832,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably or properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order, in writing, of one justice of the peace dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make) commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor, for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose, be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial places, out of the poor's rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease hath extended to different parts of Great Britain, and other parts thereof may be affected by the same:

And whereas by an Order made on the sixth day of the present month of March, by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed, that every Board of Health, duly constituted by an Order of the Lords of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish or place for authority and powers to carry into effect the purposes of the before recited Act, and the measures of precaution in such Order described, and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof, of which the amount should be declared and fixed by such vestry:

And whereas by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the better management of the poor in the several parishes and hamlets in the city of Norwich, and county of the same city," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that on the Monday fortnight next after the passing of that Act, and on the first Monday in the month of June in each succeeding year, there shall be elected for the several parishes and hamlets in the city and county of the city of Norwich, sixty-three persons to be guardians of the poor of the said city and county; and that the said guardians so elected shall be a corporation, by the name of "the Governor, Deputy-Governor, and Guardians of the Poor of the city and county of Norwich, and liberties of the same;" and that such corporation shall have the care of, and provide for, the maintenance of the poor, with power to appoint the churchwardens and overseers of the several parishes and hamlets, to assess the rates for the relief of the poor thereof:

And whereas it doth appear to the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), necessary and expedient, in order to carry into effect the purposes of the before recited Act, and of the Order of their Lordships before mentioned, in the most convenient manner, within the said city and county of the city of Norwich, that the Board of Health for such city and county should be empowered and authorised to apply for all the necessary powers and expences to the guardians of the poor for such city and county, in lieu and stead of applying to the vestries of the several parishes and townships therein:

It is therefore ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) that the Board of Health constituted for the said city and county of the city of Norwich, shall and may apply to the clerk of the said corporation to convene a general court of the said guardians of the poor for such city and county, (which court the said clerk is hereby commanded and directed forthwith to convene), and the said Board of Health, by their chairman or secretary, shall and may submit proposals, accounts, and estimates to such court, and apply for the necessary powers and authority, and for a certain sum of money to defray the reasonable expences thereof, delivering their proposals to such guardians of the poor of the said city and county, in the place and stead of making any such application to the vestries of the several parishes as in the before recited Order mentioned. And the said guardians of the poor for the said city and county shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered, if they think proper so to do, to confer upon the Board of Health of the said city, all or any of the powers and authorities mentioned in the said Order of their Lordships; and the said guardians of the poor for the said city and county are further ordered and directed to ascertain and fix the amount of the sum to be allowed for carrying into effect the purposes of the before-recited Act, and of the Order of their Lordships before-mentioned, and of any other Order of their Lordships, in the place, and in lieu and stead of the vestries in the before-recited Order mentioned, and to use and exercise all other the functions and powers given by such Order of their Lordships to select or parish vestries; and for all acts and deeds properly done by such guardians of the poor of the said city and county, in execution and furtherance of this, or of any other Order or Orders of the Lords and others in Council, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

Church Commissioners'-Office, Westminster, March 13, 1832.

THE following is a copy of an Order of His Majesty in Council, making the chapels of Morley and Gildersome, in the parish of Batley, churches of districts, under the 21st section of 58 Geo. 3, c. 45:

At the Court at St. James's, the 22d day of February 1832, present, the King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," it is amongst other things enacted, "that in every case in which the Commissioners appointed for carrying into execution the purposes of the said Act, shall be of opinion that it will be expedient to divide any parish into two or more distinct and separate parishes, for all ecclesiastical purposes whatever, it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, with the consent of the Bishop of the diocese in which such parish is locally situated, signified under his hand and seal, to apply to the patron or patrons of the church of such parish for his or their consent to make such divisions, and for such patron or patrons to signify his or their consent thereto, under his or their hand and seal, and the said Commissioners shall, upon the consent of the said patron or patrons so signified, represent the whole matter to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which it is proposed, with such consent as aforesaid; to divide such parish, together with the relative and respective proportions of glebe land, tithes, moduses, or other endowments, which will by such division arise and accrue and remain and be within each of such respective divisions, and also the relative proportions of the estimated amount of the value or produce of fees, oblations, offerings, or other ecclesiastical dues or profits, which may arise and accrue within each of such respective divisions; and if thereupon His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made; such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division; provided always, that no such division of any parish into distinct parishes shall completely take effect until after the death, resignation, or other avoidance of the existing incumbent of the parish to be divided;" and whereas by the said Act it is further enacted, "that in any case in which the said Commissioners shall be of opinion that it is not expedient to divide any populous parish, or extra parochial place, into such complete, separate, and distinct parishes as aforesaid, but that it is expedient to divide the same into such ecclesiastical districts as they, with the consent of the Bishop, signified under his hand and seal, may deem necessary, for the purpose of affording accommodation, for the attending divine service, according to the rites of the United Church of England and Ireland, to persons residing therein, in the churches and parochial chapels already built, or in additional churches or chapels to be built therein, and as may appear to such Commissioners to be convenient for the enabling the spiritual person or persons who may serve such churches or chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such respective churches and chapels, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such districts, and the preservation and improvement of the religious and moral habits of the persons residing therein; the said Commissioners shall represent such opinion to His Majesty in Council, and shall state in such representation the bounds by which such districts are proposed to be described; and if, thereupon, His Majesty in Council shall think fit to direct such division to be made, such Order of His Majesty in Council shall be valid and good in law for the purpose of effecting such division:" and whereas by an Act, passed in the 59th year of the reign of His said late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act to amend and render more effectual an Act, passed in the last session of Parliament, for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," and by another Act, passed in the 7th and 8th years of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, intituled "An Act to amend the Acts for building, and promoting the building, of additional churches in populous parishes," further provisions are made for carrying such divisions into effect: and whereas the said Commissioners have made a representation to His Majesty in Council, stating that, in the year 1821, when the census was taken in the parish of Batley, in the county and diocese of York, the said parish contained a population of 9162 persons, which has since considerably increased; that there are in the said parish, besides the parish church, two chapels, one in the township of Morley, built by His Majesty's said Commissioners, and one in the township of Gildersome; that the said parish church, with the said two chapels, afford accommodation for 1950 persons, including 524 free seats appropriated to the use of the poor; that the said two chapels have been consecrated and divine service is regularly performed therein; that the said Commissioners have further represented to His Majesty that, having taken into consideration all the circumstances attending this parish, it appears to them to be expedient that the said parish should be divided into ecclesiastical districts, under the 21st section of the said Act, passed in the 58th year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, for the purpose of affording accommodation for attending divine service to the persons residing in the same districts respectively, and for enabling the spiritual persons serving such chapels to perform all ecclesiastical duties within the districts attached to such chapels respectively, and for the due ecclesiastical superintendance of such districts, and the preservation and improvement of the moral habits of the persons residing therein; and that such districts should be named respectively, St. Peter's District and Gildersome District, with boundaries as follows:

St. Peter's District.

The boundary to commence on the north west side of Tingley-bar, at a boundary stone there placed, which stone divides the township of Morley from the parish of West Ardsley or Woodkirk; then proceeding westerly on the boundary line of the township of Morley to the boundary stone called

Stump-cross, proceeding west along the centre of the Wakefield and Bradford turnpike road, to comprise the north east or right side of this road, to the boundary stone which divides the townships of Morley and Gildersome, which stone is placed on the west of the Wakefield and Bradford road, in a line with the centre of the lane called Neepshaw-lane; proceeding north east along the boundary line which separates the townships of Morley and Gildersome, to the west end of Dean-wood, to the centre of Dean-wood-beck; proceeding still north easterly along the centre of this beck to Gelderd-dam; proceeding on in a north direction across the Gelderd road to Farnley-wood-beck, which separates the township of Morley from the township of Farnley, in the parish of Leeds; then proceeding in an easterly direction on the centre of Farnley-wood-beck across the Gelderd road; proceeding still on the centre of the beck, which here divides the township of Churwell, in the parish of Batley, from the township of Beeston, in the parish of Leeds, and crosses the Leeds and Elland road, in a south easterly direction to the south side of Milshaw-mill; then proceeding south easterly on the boundary line which separates the township of Churwell from the township of Beeston, and which, crossing the Leeds and Dewsbury road, separates the township of Morley from the township of Middleton, in the parish of Rothwell; proceeding on the boundary line, which here takes a south westerly direction, and again crosses the Leeds and Dewsbury road, separates the township of Morley from the parish of West Ardsley or Woodkirk, and terminates at the boundary stone on the west side of Tingley-bar, where the boundary of the district commenced, which district is more particularly described in the accompanying plan, and is therein coloured blue.

Gildersome District.

The boundary to commence at a boundary stone placed on the west side of the Wakefield and Bradford road, in a line with the centre of Neepshaw-lane; proceeding in a south westerly direction on the boundary line of the township of Gildersome to a point on the centre of Gambler Royd-beck; then proceeding in a north westerly direction along the centre of this beck, which separates the township of Adwalton, in the parish of Birstall, from the township of Gildersome, which passes a place called the Horse Riggs, and crosses the Gelderd and the Wakefield and Bradford road, then pursuing the same direction and assuming the name of Tinkler-wood-beck, passes through Tinkler-wood to a dam; proceeding then along the boundary line, between the township of Farnley, in the parish of Leeds, and the township of Gildersome, in an easterly direction to the east side of a lane which leads from Gildersome to Farnley; then proceeding on the boundary line on the east side of this lane to the centre of a beck called Farnley-wood-beck; then proceeding in an easterly direction along the centre of this beck, which separates the township of Farnley from the township of Gildersome, which passes first through Major Spring's-wood and then afterwards through Farnley-wood until it arrives at the boundary point where the township of Morley commences; then proceeding along the boundary line in a south west direction, between the townships of Morley and Gildersome, to a dam called Geldered-dam; then pursuing the centre of Dean-wood-beck, which forms the boundary between the townships of Morley and Gildersome, in the same direction through Dean-wood to the west end of it; then proceeding on the boundary line, which separates the townships of Morley and Gildersome, to the north west of Neepshaw-lane; then proceeding on in a south westerly direction along the boundary lane, and so across the Wakefield and Bradford road to the boundary stone placed on the west side of this road, in a line with the centre of Neepshaw lane, where the boundary of the district commenced, which district is set forth in the accompanying plan, and is therein coloured brown.

That the consent of his Grace the Archbishop of York has been obtained thereto, as required by the above-mentioned section of the said Act of the 58th year of His Majesty King George the Third; and humbly pray that His Majesty would be graciously pleased to take the premises into His Royal consideration, and to make such order in respect thereto as to His Majesty shall seem meet:—His Majesty, having taken the said representation, together with the map thereunto annexed, into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve thereof, and to order, as it is hereby ordered, that the proposed divisions be accordingly made and effected, agreeably to the provisions of the said Acts. C. C. Greville.
