Whitehall, April 12, 1832.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that some evil-disposed person or persons unknown did, on the night of Sunday the 8th, or early on the morning of Monday the 9th, day of April instant, wilfully and maliciously set fire to and destroy a plantation of fir trees, containing about thirty acres, on New Moor, in the parish of Molland, immediately adjoining to Knowstone, in the county of Devon, the property and in the occupation of Robert George Throckmorton, Esq.

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felony before mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the person who actually set fire to the said plantation) who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

MELBOURNE.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the said offender or offenders, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted of the said offence.—Such reward to be paid by Messrs. R. Leigh and Warden, Bardon, Somerset.

WHEREAS it hath been humbly represented unto the King, that the bag of letters from Wakefield to London, of Monday the 12th of March last, was stolen from the mail coach on the road, supposed between Nottingham and Melton;

And whereas several of the letters enclosed in such bag contained remittances in bank notes and country notes, which were negotiated in London early on the morning of the 14th of March, by a man who gave the name and address of J. Huggett, No. 5, Portman-square;

His Majesty, for the better apprehending and bringing to justice the persons concerned in the felony before mentioned, is hereby pleased to promise His most gracious pardon to any one of them (except the principal offender or offenders) who shall discover his accomplice or accomplices therein, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

And, as a further encouragement, a reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS is hereby offered to any person (except as aforesaid) who shall discover the said offender or offenders, so that he, she, or they may be apprehended and convicted of the said offence.—Such reward to be paid by the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury.
